Such grounds are set out in the section headed "Underwriting – Underwriting arrangements – The Public Offer Underwriting Agreement – Grounds for termination" in this prospectus. OVERVIEW

We are a Hong Kong-based financial services provider founded in July 2001. We are principally engaged in the provision of securities trading services (including brokerage services and margin financing services) and placing and underwriting services. We provide services to our clients through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, which is licensed with the SFC to carry on type 1 (dealing in securities), type 4 (advising on securities) and type 9 (asset management) regulated activities in Hong Kong. Sinomax Securities holds two Stock Exchange Trading Rights, is a participant of the HKSCC, and has been a Trade-through Exchange Participant since September 2018. In terms of our securities brokerage activities, we were ranked 151 among 625 HKEX Participants based on transaction value (with reference to trading fee and transaction levy charged) on trades executed through the Stock Exchange during the period from 1 January 2018 to 31 December 2018.

We generate revenue principally from (i) the provision of brokerage service pursuant to which we charge our brokerage clients brokerage commission for execution and/or facilitating the trading of securities on the Stock Exchange and overseas markets; (ii) the provision of margin financing services pursuant to which we derive interest income from the provision of margin loans to our margin clients; and (iii) the provision of placing and underwriting services to our clients (comprising listed issuers, listing applicants, bookrunners, lead managers, underwriters and placing agents). We also derived an insignificant amount of revenue from the provision of monthly research reports and investment consultancy services to our clients (in return for prescribed monthly fees) as well as default interest which we charge our brokerage clients who fail to settle trades in a timely manner. We do not charge our clients for investment advice which we provide incidental to our securities trading services.

OUR BUSINESS MODEL

(i) Securities trading services

(a) Brokerage services

We provide securities dealing and brokerage services to our clients. We act as an intermediary between buyers and sellers of securities listed on the Main Board and GEM of the Stock Exchange and facilitate our clients' trading of securities listed on overseas stock exchanges in return for brokerage commission income.

Our clients must maintain a trading account (cash or margin) with us before placing any trade order. Trade orders can be placed by clients either (i) through our online trading platform or through our mobile application, both of which are operated by a third-party service provider; (ii) through our staff dealers or designated AEs via recorded telephone lines; or (iii) on-site at our office premises by submitting an order ticket. All trade orders placed by our clients are managed and executed by our AEs or staff dealers, and supervised by our responsible officers. Our staff dealers are entitled to a fixed monthly salary, statutory employee benefits and a portion of the brokerage commission received from clients referred by them; while our AEs are self-employed and are only entitled to a portion of the brokerage commission received from clients referred by them.

As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, clients of Sinomax Securities maintained a total of 1,679, 1,892, 2,013 and 2,050 client accounts for carrying on securities trading, respectively, of which 374, 414, 389 and 245 were active accounts, respectively representing approximately 22%, 22%, 19% and 12% of the total number of client accounts opened with us, respectively.

In addition to brokerage commission we charge our clients for executing and/or arranging the execution of trades (which ranged between 0.075% to 0.25% of the transaction value of trade orders during the Track Record Period, subject to a minimum charge from HK$50 to HK$100 per trade order), we also charge default interest which shall accrue on outstanding amount on a daily basis if our clients fail to settle their securities transactions after T+2.

(b) Margin financing services

We offer margin financing services to our clients to facilitate their purchase of securities on a margin basis, both in respect of subscription to IPOs and secondary offerings. In each case, the relevant underlying securities are pledged as collateral in order to secure clients' repayment obligations. Interest on outstanding loans is charged at a fixed rate ranging from 2% above the prevailing Hong Kong Prime Rate up to 14.4% per annum as at the Latest Practicable Date. As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, a total of 192, 288, 377 and 387 margin accounts were maintained with us, respectively, of which 96, 157, 183 and 125 were active accounts, respectively. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, the average margin ratio is 9.4%, 10.5%, 22.5% and 24.5% respectively. There has been a significant increase in average margin ratio for the year ended 31 March 2019 due to higher quality of collateral posted by clients, which enabled us to lend more money to our clients.

The total balance of margin receivables from our margin clients as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019 were approximately HK$82.0 million, HK$86.2 million, HK$184.9 million and HK$192.1 million, respectively.

SUMMARY

(ii) Placing and underwriting services

We provide placing and underwriting services by acting as (i) bookrunner, lead manager or underwriter of listing applicants in IPOs; and (ii) placing agent of listed companies in connection with their issuance or sale of securities, in return for placing and/or underwriting commission income. Our commissions for placing and underwriting engagements vary on a case-by-case basis, and are typically charged either (i) based on a pre-determined fixed fee; or (ii) based on a fee calculated as a percentage of the total price of the shares underwritten by us. Over the Track Record Period, we undertook 70 placing and underwriting projects. We also charge investors a brokerage commission when they subscribe for securities of issuers who engage us to place shares to prospective investors as part of our placing and underwriting engagements.

For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, our aggregate underwriting commitments for IPOs amounted to approximately HK$176 million, HK$186 million, HK$721 million and HK$163 million, respectively. The value of securities placed by us amounted to approximately HK$50 million and HK$830 million for the year ended 31 March 2017 and 2018 respectively while we did not undertake any placing projects for the year ended 31 March 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019.

(iii) Investment advisory services

We act as investment advisor to our clients, and (i) provide them with investment advice incidental to our securities trading services, which we provide free of charge; and (ii) investment consultancy services (whereby we may be required to meet with clients to discuss investment-related matters upon request) and issue monthly research reports in return for a fee. Our investment advisory fees are determined on a case-by-case basis after arm's length negotiations with each client.

We generally source new clients and expand our business network through the personal networks of our senior management and our AEs as well as through word-of-mouth referrals from our existing clients, which supported the continuous growth of our client base over the Track Record Period. During the Track Record Period, our clients were mainly (i) referred by our senior management; (ii) referred by our existing clients; or (iii) sourced by our AEs.

For further information regarding our business model, please refer to the section headed "Business – Our business model" in this prospectus.

We have no major suppliers due to the nature of our principal business activities. Over the Track Record Period, we engaged various service providers to provide services necessary for our business operations, such as software vendor, overseas brokers, internet service providers and the Stock Exchange, all of which were Independent Third Parties.

SUMMARY

The net cash generated from operating activities for the year ended 31 March 2018 was approximately HK$43.1 million and the net cash used in operating activities for the year ended 31 March 2019 was approximately HK$58.8 million. Such change for the year ended 31 March 2019 was mainly attributable to (i) an increase in accounts receivable, mainly due to an increase in the amount of outstanding margin loans granted to our margin clients as at the reporting date; and (ii) a decrease in accounts payable mainly due to a decrease in deposit balance in our clients' margin accounts and sale of securities which were pending settlement from CCASS from margin client as compared to the corresponding period in 2018.

The net cash used in operating activities for the four months ended 31 July 2018 was approximately HK$53.0 million and the net cash generated from operating activities for the four months ended 31 July 2019 was approximately HK$9.5 million. Such change for the four months ended 31 July 2019 was mainly attributable to operating cash generated from profit before taxation and a decrease during bank balances for trust and segregated accounts mainly due to more trades of securities being placed during in the reporting period. Please refer to the section headed "Financial information – Liquidity and financial resources" in this prospectus for further information.

PRINCIPAL RISK FACTORS

Our business faces risks including those set out in the section headed "Risk factors" in this prospectus. Some of the major risks that we face include:

- revenue from our placing and underwriting business is generated on a project-by-project basis and thus our profitability may be adversely affected if we are unable to secure engagements at levels or on comparable commission rates similar to those during the Track Record Period in the future;
- our business may be affected if we are unable to retain our staff or AEs who have strong relationships with our clients;

SUMMARY

- there is no assurance that the contractual arrangements we have entered with our employees and AEs are sufficient to protect the business interests of our Group;
- any failure in protecting our trading system and/or computer system from external threats or maintaining relationship with our vendor may cause disruptions to our business operation and tarnish our reputation;
- our operations depend on our key management and our business may suffer if we are unable to retain or replace them;
- we may be subject to substantial risks if our clients default on payments or if the value of securities collaterals pledged by them is insufficient to cover outstanding loans due to significant market volatility;
- we may have to bear losses resulting from trading errors;
- we are exposed to business risks arising from our placing and underwriting business in case the securities underwritten by us are undersubscribed or placing exercise fails to complete;
- fluctuations in interest rates may have a significant impact on our interest income; and
- we may be subject to intellectual property infringement claims in connection with the use of the “Sinomax” name or negative publicity arising from third parties’ use of the name.

SHAREHOLDING OF OUR COMPANY

Immediately after completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (without taking into account any Shares which may be allotted and issued by our Company pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme), 75% of the issued share capital of our Company will be owned by Man Chase, which is owned as to 60% by Mr. Keng, a non-executive Director and the chairman of our Board, and 40% by Ms. Yeung, the mother of Mr. Ng, an executive Director. As such, each of Man Chase, Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung is regarded as a Controlling Shareholder. None of our Controlling Shareholders or their respective close associates has any interest in a business (apart from our Group’s business) which competes or is likely to compete, directly or indirectly, with our Group’s business, or would require disclosure pursuant to Rule 8.10 of the Listing Rules. Please refer to the section headed “Relationship with our Controlling Shareholders” in this prospectus for further information.

During the Track Record Period, we entered into certain arrangements with our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) which constituted continuing connected transactions on the part of our Company pursuant to the Listing Rules. Certain transactions have ceased or will cease upon the Listing, while other transactions are expected to continue after the Listing. For details, please refer to the section headed “Connected transactions” of this prospectus.

LEGAL COMPLIANCE AND NON-COMPLIANCE INCIDENTS

Our Directors have confirmed that our Group has obtained all necessary licences and certificates necessary for the carrying on of our business operations, and that such licences and certificates are valid and subsisting, and have not been suspended or revoked.

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we were involved in certain non-compliance incidents, which included the submission of inaccurate financial returns to the SFC and the failure to give written notice of renewals of standing authority to our clients. For further information, please refer to the section headed “Business – Licences and regulatory compliance – Non-compliance and disciplinary actions” in this prospectus. Our Group has taken rectification actions in respect of the relevant non-compliance incidents, and our Directors are satisfied that there are no further material deficiencies in our internal control systems or non-compliance with regulatory requirements.

SUMMARY

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, no fines or penalties were imposed on any member of our Group for any act or event of non-compliance. Our Group had not been and was not a party to any material legal, arbitral or administrative proceedings over the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that the net proceeds from the Share Offer (after deducting the professional fees, underwriting commission and other fees paid and payable by us in connection with the Share Offer), assuming an Offer Price of HK$0.55 per Offer Share, being the mid-point of the indicative Offer Price range between HK$0.5 and HK$0.6 per Offer Share, will be approximately HK$100.6 million (assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised). Our Directors presently intend to apply such net proceeds as follows:

- (a) approximately HK$30.0 million (representing approximately 29.8% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the expansion of our placing and underwriting business;
- (b) approximately HK$11.3 million (representing approximately 11.2% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for providing additional funding to expand our margin book in our margin financing business;
- (c) approximately HK$17.5 million (representing approximately 17.4% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the establishment and renovation of a new office;
- (d) approximately HK$14.3 million (representing approximately 14.2% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the expansion of our placing and underwriting team, establishment of a discretionary account management team, hiring of research analysts and other supporting staff;
- (e) approximately HK$10.0 million (representing approximately 9.9% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the enhancement of IT systems;
- (f) approximately HK$8.0 million (representing approximately 8.0% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for promotion and marketing purposes; and
- (g) the remaining balance of approximately HK$9.5 million (representing approximately 9.5% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for general working capital and other general corporate purposes.

For more details, please refer to the section headed “Future plans and use of proceeds” in this prospectus.

DIVIDENDS AND DIVIDEND POLICY

During the Track Record Period, our Company did not pay or declare any dividend. We have adopted a dividend policy (to take effect from the date of Listing), but such policy does not prescribe any predetermined dividend pay-out ratio. The payment and the amount of any future dividend will be at the discretion of our Board and will depend on, among other things, (i) our Group’s results of operations, financial condition, future prospects, capital commitments, development pipeline, prevailing economic environment, contractual restrictions, capital and other reserve requirements, dividends received from our Company’s subsidiaries and associates; (ii) the provisions governing the declaration and distribution of dividends as contained in our Articles and pursuant to our dividend policy; (iii) compliance with the applicable laws; and (iv) any other conditions or factors which our Board deems relevant and having regard to our Directors’ fiduciary duties. We cannot assure you that we will declare or pay a target amount, or any amount, of dividend in the future. For details of the dividend policy, please refer to the section headed “Financial information – Dividends and dividend policy” in this prospectus.

LISTING EXPENSES

Our Group expects that its total Listing expenses (including underwriting commission, professional fees and other fees incurred in connection with the Listing), which are non-recurring in nature, will amount to approximately HK$36.8 million (based on the Offer Price of HK$0.55 per Offer Share, being the midpoint of our indicative Offer Price range between HK$0.5 and HK$0.6 per Offer Share). For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, we recognised Listing expenses of approximately HK$96,000, HK$1.9 million, HK$1.9 million and HK$5.1 million, respectively, in the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. Our Group expects to recognise approximately HK$14.9 million in the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the eight months ended 31 March 2020 and to deduct the remaining of approximately HK$12.9 million from our Group's reserve account. Accordingly, the financial results of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020 are expected to be adversely affected by the estimated expenses in relation to the Listing. Such Listing expenses are a current estimate for reference only and the final amount to be charged to the profit and loss account of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020 and the amount to be deducted from our Group's reserve account is subject to change.

2. The unaudited pro forma adjusted combined net tangible asset of our Group per Share has been arrived at after making the adjustments referred to in Appendix II to this prospectus and on the basis of 1,000,000,000 Shares expected to be in issue immediately following completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (assuming no exercise of the Over-allotment Option or any options that may be granted under the Share Option Scheme).

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Our Directors believe that the business of our Group is very much affected by clients' and investors' sentiments, perception, confidence and appetite amidst prevailing market conditions globally, especially Hong Kong (as our clients primarily reside in Hong Kong or the PRC). Therefore, any significant changes on their sentiments, perception, confidence and appetite for trading and investments may have an impact on our financial performance following the Track Record Period. Subsequent to the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we have continued to focus on providing quality and reliable financial services to our clients in the ordinary course of business. Set out below is the summary of our recent developments since 1 April 2019 and up to the Latest Practicable Date:

SUMMARY

Securities trading business: 53 new clients have opened a client account with us, and our commission generated from our securities trading business for the eight months ended 30 November 2019 increased by approximately 7.9% as compared to the same corresponding period in 2018; and

Placing and underwriting business: we completed 21 placing and underwriting projects in respect of IPOs (including five IPOs in which we acted as co-lead manager) over the period and our commission income for the eight months ended 30 November 2019 increased by approximately 54.1% as compared to our revenue generated over the same period in 2018.

Despite uncertainties brought about by changes in the economic and political environment and market conditions in Hong Kong and abroad (including turmoil brought about by recent protest movements in Hong Kong), our Directors believe that our securities trading business had not been adversely affected. In particular, the business segment recorded a 7.9% increase in amount of commission generated compared to the same period in 2018. While Hong Kong is expected to remain an important capital raising venue for prospective issuers and there continues to be a pipeline of listing applications made to the Stock Exchange, our Directors believes that our placing and underwriting business may potentially be adversely affected by market uncertainties as prospective issuers may re-evaluate their business strategies, financing options and capital needs during such periods.

Further, for compliance with the Guidelines for Securities Margin Financing Activities which take effect from October 2019, we have:

- (i) made amendments to our margin policy, including the setting of more prudent triggers for margin call (which has been amended from LTV ratio of 80% for a client account as a whole to 110% of margin ratio of relevant client's account and/or where the approved credit limit of relevant client has been exceeded);
- (ii) conducted a detailed review of securities collaterals posted by clients with consideration given to:
 - (a) quality of such securities collateral taking into account factors such as, inter alia, circumstances of the issuer and price volatility and liquidity of relevant securities. On such basis, the margin ratios of securities collateral have been reduced by 10% to 100% based on the individual circumstances of the relevant issuers (for example, the margin ratio of a privatised company has been revised to 0%); and
 - (b) concentration of holdings of securities collateral of listed issuers. In particular, we have established a margin clients concentration benchmark limit of 20% of total liquid capital; and
- (iii) amended our margin policy to include an assessment of our total margin loans-to-capital multiple benchmark to ensure that it would not be more than five.

Due to the above, we have since October 2019 made margin calls for deposit of additional securities collateral in the aggregate amount of approximately HK$6.4 million (the deposits of which has been fully made) due to revised margin ratios for securities collateral as well as caused a decrease in shareholdings of our margin clients in a listed issuer (due to the newly established margin clients concentration benchmark). As Sinomax Securities has been well capitalised by its existing shareholders, the requirements in the New Guidelines regarding total margin loans-to-capital multiple benchmark do not currently have any material impact on its ability to extend margin loans to clients.

Save as disclosed above and the impact of the Listing expenses, our Directors confirm that as at the date of this prospectus, there had been no material adverse change in our financial or trading position or prospects since 31 July 2019, being the date of our latest audited financial information, and there had been no event since 31 July 2019 which would materially and adversely affect the information shown in our consolidated financial information included in the Accountants' Report as set out in the Appendix I to this prospectus.

In the event that any of the possible scenarios described in this section occurs, our business, financial conditions, results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us, or not expressed or implied below, or that we now consider immaterial may also harm us and affect our investment value. The trading prices of our Shares could decline at any moment considerably due to the occurrence of any of such risks uncertainties, and prospective investors may lose part or all of their investments.

RISKS RELATING TO BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS OF OUR GROUP

Revenue from our placing and underwriting business are generated on a project-by-project basis and thus our profitability may be adversely affected if we are unable to secure engagements at levels or on comparable commission rates similar to those during the Track Record Period in the future

The revenue generated from our provision of placing and underwriting services for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019 amounted to approximately HK$7.8 million, HK$12.9 million, HK$28.8 million and HK$12.7 million respectively, representing approximately 22.0%, 22.7%, 44.2% and 49.9% of our total revenue, respectively.

We are engaged to provide placing and underwriting services on a project-by-project basis, and our financial performance in this business segment may be affected by, among other things, demand for our services, our capacity to undertake new projects, the number and size of IPOs and secondary offerings and issuance in the debt and equity capital markets in Hong Kong as well as other external factors which may be outside our control. In particular, demand for placing and underwriting services may be materially affected by prevailing market conditions, as prospective listing applicants and listed issuers may determine to delay, terminate, scale-back or relocate their fund raising plans and/or activities in the event investment sentiment and appetite are stemmed by adverse, unfavorable or uncertain market conditions. Our financial results may be materially and adversely affected if we are unable to secure new placing or underwriting engagements in the future at levels similar to those during the Track Record Period.

Further, the terms of our placing and underwriting engagements are determined between each of our clients and us on a case-by-case basis after arm's length negotiations based on the type of services we provide, nature of transaction, scope of our duties, length of time we expect to spend, complexity of the transactions and our expected workload. As such, the amount of revenue we generate from different engagements may vary on a project-by-project basis and we cannot assure you that we can secure future engagements with fee rates comparable with engagements during the Track Record Period in the future. When we are unable to secure such engagements or on comparable commission rates, our financial results may be materially and adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Our business may be affected if we are unable to retain our staff or AEs who have strong relationships with our clients

We materially rely on our staff to provide reliable and quality financial services to our clients, and believe that our experienced staff and AEs have developed strong relationships with our clients through their ability to provide personalised services through understanding clients' needs. In addition to maintaining relationships with existing clients, we also rely on our staff to generate client referrals.

There is however no guarantee that our staff will or are willing to continue to serve our Group, in particular given that our AEs do not have employment contracts with our Group. Where our staff or AEs, determine to cease their engagements with our Group, or enter into negotiations with us for a material variation of their existing terms of engagement, our operating performance and financial results may be materially and adversely affected.

There is no assurance that the contractual arrangements we have entered with our employees and AEs are sufficient to protect the business interests of our Group

There is no assurance that the contractual arrangements and restrictive covenants (such as non-competition, exclusivity and confidentiality undertakings) we have entered with our employees and AEs will be sufficient to protect the business interests of our Group. If any employee or AE upon his departure leaks proprietary information, trade secrets or know-how of our Group, or successfully solicits clients, employees or AEs from our Group, our business and results of operation may be materially and adversely affected. For example, any leakage of client's information and contacts to our competitors may adversely affect our Group's competitiveness in acting as placing agent or underwriter in our placing and underwriting business. We may need to resort to litigation to enforce the restrictive covenants and undertakings, but there is no guarantee that the courts will rule in favour of our Group and the outcome may be unpredictable. Any litigation may also require significant expenditure and management efforts, and an unfavorable outcome may materially harm our business prospects and reputation.

Any failure in protecting our trading system and/or computer system from external threats or maintaining relationship with our vendor may cause disruptions to our business operation and tarnish our reputation

Our Group relies heavily on the capability and reliability of the BSS developed and operated by an IT vendor to execute our clients' instructions accurately and promptly, and to process a large number of transactions simultaneously during peak periods. The BSS system may be vulnerable to a number of disruptions such as computer viruses and hacking and such disruptions may cause data corruption and interruptions, delay or cessation in executing clients' trading instructions, or unauthorised access to our clients' personal information. Any hacking into our system may also jeopardise the security of confidential information (such as client's data or trading records) stored in our computer systems. In the event of a system failure of our BSS system, all clients' instructions will have to be transacted through a standalone system managed by our staff dealer. This would likely lead to a delay or failure in the execution of our clients' instructions as BSS system can accommodate multiple users while the back-up terminal can only be accessed by one user at a time. The occurrence of any of the above situations may have material adverse effects on our Group's business, results of operations and financial position on our business operation.

RISK FACTORS

Our business operations also rely heavily on our computer systems. Accordingly, the safety and stability of our computer system including our email system, storage system and trading system are of utmost importance to us. While we have adopted various means to safeguard the integrity of our computer systems, we cannot assure you that our computer system is fully protected from human error or external threats (such as computer viruses or malicious programs, hackers, power outages, fire, sabotage, hardware or software malicious of defects, intentional acts of vandalism, unauthorised access, client misuse, lack of proper maintenance or other disruptive actions), which may cause disruption (including data loss or corruption, interruption to our data storage system, delay or cessation in the services provided through our securities dealing and brokerage system and our online trading platform), or that our business contingency plan can fully eliminate our loss arising from such disruptions.

Apart from the above, there is no guarantee that we are able to maintain our existing relationship with the IT vendor of our trading system, computer system or other IT systems. In the event that any vendor is unable or unwilling to continue to provide existing services to our Group, our Group may not be able to replace them with service provider of equivalent expertise in a timely manner and thus resulting in disruption to our business operations.

The occurrence of any disruption to the trading system and computer system may render us unable to meet client requirements in a timely and efficient manner, and/or lead to unauthorised disclosure of personal information or any other unexpected associated losses and damages. As a result, our reputation may be tarnished and we may also face complaints or legal proceedings being brought against our Group (which can be costly and time-consuming to defend and which may significantly divert the efforts and resources of our management personnel away from our usual business operations) and may potentially result in us having to pay damages. This could materially and adversely affect our financial condition, prospects and results of operations.

Our operations depend on our key management and our business may suffer if we are unable to retain or replace them

Our performance and the implementation of our business plans and strategies depend significantly on our key management personnel including Mr. Sy, Mr. Lam and Mr. Ng. Please refer to the section headed “Directors and senior management” in this prospectus for details of the responsibilities of our current executive Directors and senior management. As at the Latest Practicable Date, our placing and underwriting business has been operated under the supervision of Mr. Ng and Mr. Lam, who possesses extensive experience and knowledge and has established relationships with investment banks and financial institutions. Our Group relied on Mr. Lam in identifying and pitching to potential clients for placing and underwriting projects during the Track Record Period. If our executive Directors, senior management or other key management personnels are unable or unwilling to continue their services in our Group, our Group may not be able to replace them with persons of equivalent expertise and experience within a reasonable period of time, or at all.

RISK FACTORS

Our continued success depends, to a large extent, on our ability to retain our senior management team. Given that the competition to recruit key personnel is intense, we may not be able to attract or retain these key personnel for our business in the future. Should our key personnel cease to be involved in our management in the future and we fail to find suitable replacements, our operations, growth prospects and profitability may be materially and adversely affected. Additionally, we may need to incur additional costs in recruiting, training and retaining such replacements.

In addition, we benefit from the extensive personal business networks of our management and client referrals from our staff. In the event of departure of any member business of our management, our business and financial performance may be adversely affected.

We may be subject to substantial risks if our clients default on payments or if the value of securities collaterals pledged by them is insufficient to cover the outstanding loans due to significant market volatility

(i) Brokerage services

Our clients are required to settle their securities transactions executed through us within a T+2 period. If our clients do not have sufficient cash in their cash accounts with us to make settlement within the T+2 period, our Group is required to settle the same with CCASS on behalf of the clients using our own resources. Therefore, our Group needs to maintain sufficient resources for the abovementioned settlements and is exposed to potential default in payment by our clients, in which event, our liquidity position may be adversely affected.

There is no guarantee that our risk management measures could effectively mitigate relevant default risks arising from unexpected events or circumstances. There is no assurance that our clients will continue to meet their obligations to settle their securities transaction on time, or at all, or that they will not default on their obligations to us as a result of bankruptcy, lack of liquidity or other reasons. In the event that our clients fail to meet their payment obligations, our financial conditions and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

(ii) Margin financing services

We provide margin financing services to our clients whereby repayment obligations in respect of margin loans granted to them are secured by securities in the clients margin accounts which are posted as collateral. Interest income from securities margin financing services accounted for approximately 27.7%, 18.1%, 19.6% and 20.6% of our revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, our Group's outstanding margin loan balance amounted to approximately HK$89.5 million, HK$86.4 million, HK$185.7 million and HK$192.2 million, respectively.

RISK FACTORS

Margin loan provided to a client is required to be maintained within the margin value of the client's pledged securities (typically referred to as margin ratio). In the event that a client is unable to meet a margin call, we are entitled to liquidate and dispose of the pledged securities on his behalf and use the proceeds thereof towards the repayment of the outstanding margin loan balance. However, there is a risk that the amount recovered from such liquidation or disposal of the pledged securities may fall short of the outstanding margin loan balance. This may be exacerbated in the event of severe adverse price movements in the relevant securities due to unpredictable factors such as fluctuation in changes in global economic and political situations. We may suffer substantial losses if shortfalls cannot be recovered from our clients and this may have a material adverse effect on our financial conditions and results of operations.

We may have to bear losses resulting from trading errors

During the course of providing our brokerage services, our clients can place their orders through our staff-dealers or AEs, which may involve verbal interaction and manual input. There is no guarantee that our staff dealers or AEs will not inadvertently make trade errors, such as making mistakes when inputting client's instructions (including stock codes or number of shares) or processing incorrect buy/sell orders. Upon discovery of any trading error, we have to take immediate actions to rectify the trading error and the relevant client may be dissatisfied and refuse to settle the relevant trade, in which event, we may suffer losses from such trading error. This may lead us to suffer from material financial losses even if the errors are detected.

During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we had recorded only four incidents of trade errors. After taking remedial actions to correct the trading errors, we recognised an insignificant net loss of approximately HK$4,341.85. Our AEs are generally held liable for any losses that resulted from trading errors that they make pursuant to the terms of their agency agreement, any occurrence of trade error may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations. During the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we were not subject to any regulatory fines or penalties as a result of trade errors.

We are exposed to business risks arising from our placing and underwriting business in case the securities underwritten by us are undersubscribed or placing exercise fails to complete

During the Track Record Period, we participated in 66 underwriting exercises where we acted as lead manager, bookrunner and underwriter for IPOs of listing applicants. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, our aggregate underwriting commitments for IPOs amounted to approximately HK$176 million, HK$186 million, HK$721 million and HK$163 million, respectively, and the value of securities placed amounted to approximately HK$50 million, HK$830 million, nil and nil, respectively.

RISK FACTORS

If the securities underwritten by us are undersubscribed as a result of volatile or unfavourable market conditions or otherwise, our Group may be required to purchase the undersubscribed portion on our own account up to our maximum underwriting commitment, in which case our liquidity may be materially and adversely affected, and our financial position could be adversely affected if the underwritten securities so taken up by our Group become illiquid and/or their market value drops.

During the Track Record Period, we participated as placing agent on best effort basis in four transactions relating to the issuance of new shares by listed issuers. While we are typically engaged in fund-raising exercises of our clients to place securities to investors on a best effort basis, if the securities are undersubscribed (due to deterioration or volatility in market conditions or otherwise), the entire fund-raising exercise may not complete or may be cancelled. As a result, our Group's commission income from such fund-raising exercise may be reduced or we may be entitled to no commission at all.

Fluctuations in interest rates may have a significant impact on our interest income

We provide brokerage services and margin financing services to our clients. During the Track Record Period, we received (i) interest income from cash clients who default in settlement of trades executed through us, which amounted to approximately HK$676,000, HK$958,000, HK$544,000 and HK$136,000 for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively; and (ii) interest income from margin clients from our provision of margin loans as part of our margin financing services, which amounted to approximately HK$9.9 million, HK$10.3 million, HK$12.8 million and HK$5.2 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. During the Track Record Period, we charged interest payment from cash clients and margin clients at a rate generally tied to the Hong Kong Prime Rate. The Hong Kong Prime Rate may fluctuate from time to time and is beyond our control. If there is any significant change to the prevailing market interest rate, our interest income may be significantly affected.

We may be subject to intellectual property infringement claims in connection with the use of the “Sinomax” name or negative publicity arising from third parties’ use of the name

We are still in the process of registering “Sinomax” as a trademark with the Trade Marks Registry of the Intellectual Property Department of Hong Kong but there is no assurance that such registration will be successful or that our intellectual property is adequately protected in the interim period.

Since we have never registered “Sinomax” as one of our trademarks, our use of the name may be challenged and may subject us to litigation, arbitration or other proceedings which may be time-consuming and expensive to resolve, and may divert our management's time and attention regardless of outcome. A successful infringement claim against our Group could, among other things, result in our Group paying substantial damages and being required to cease using the “Sinomax” name if proven to be in breach of a third party's intellectual property rights. Any intellectual property claim or litigation, regardless of whether our Group ultimately wins or loses, could damage our Group's reputation and have a material adverse effect on our Group's business, operation results or financial condition.

RISK FACTORS

We are subject to reputation risks arising from entities unrelated to us, using “Sinomax” as their corporate or trade name. Our reputation and brand image may be materially and adversely affected if these entities damage the “Sinomax” brand name, imitates our brand or there exists any negative publicity associated with any of these entities.

Our business and prospects may be materially and adversely affected if our risk management and internal control systems are ineffective or inadequate

We have established internal control systems for our business. For more details, please refer to the paragraph headed “Risk management and internal control procedures” under the section headed “Business” in this prospectus. Any deficiencies in our internal control systems could (i) adversely affect our ability to timely and accurately record, process, summarise and report financial or other data; and (ii) adversely affect our operational efficiency and increase the potential likelihood of making financial reporting errors and/or lead to non-compliance with rules and regulations. There is no assurance that our internal control policies in place could or would be properly implemented, or be strictly adhered to, or are adequate or effective under the continuously changing business environment in which we operate.

We have established risk management policies and rely on our staff and AEs’ adherence to these policies to identify, monitor and control a variety of risks relating to, without limitation, human errors, client defaults, market movements, fraud and money laundering. Our risk management procedures were established based on a review of risks that arises in our internal control environment and are designed to test those controls on both regular and ad hoc basis. These methods may not adequately prevent losses, particularly under extreme market movements, which may be significantly greater than we anticipate and greater than historical changes in market prices. Our risk management policies may not protect us against all risks or may protect us to an extent less than anticipated, in which event our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially adversely affected.

We may fail to detect illicit or improper activities, including money laundering, on a timely basis

We are required to comply with applicable anti-money laundering laws, regulations and guidelines in Hong Kong (for example, the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing (Financial Institutions) Ordinance and the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Financing of Terrorism (For Licensed Corporations) issued by the SFC). These laws and regulations require our Group to establish internal control policies and procedures to monitor, report and curtail money laundering and terrorist financing activities. Such policies and procedures require us to, among other things, carry out customer due diligence, maintain a good system of record-keeping, and report suspicious transactions to the relevant regulatory authorities. While these policies have been adopted and procedures (aimed at detecting and preventing our business platforms from facilitating money laundering activities and terrorist acts) are in place, in light of the complexity of money-laundering activities and other illegal or improper activities, such policies and procedures may not completely eliminate the possibility of third parties using our business platform to engage in money laundering and/or other illegal or improper activities.

RISK FACTORS

To the extent that our policies and procedures currently in place fail to detect and prevent money-laundering activities, terrorist financing and other illegal or improper activities by our Directors, employees, AEs, agents, clients or other third parties and/or if we fail to fully comply with the applicable laws and regulations, the relevant government authorities may initiate investigation against our Group, and may impose fines and/or other penalties on us, any of which may significantly and adversely affect our reputation, business operations and financial results.

Failure to detect misconduct of our personnel, agents or third parties may impair our reputation

While we have put in place internal control policies and procedures which are designed to prevent and mitigate the risks of fraud, illegal act or misconduct of our Directors, staff, AEs, agents and/or third parties, we cannot assure you that we would be able to effectively prevent the occurrence of misconduct, which may involve, among others, the entering into of unauthorised transactions or the conducting of illicit activities resulting in unknown and/or unmanageable risks or losses, improperly using or disclosing confidential or inside information, recommending transactions that are not suitable for clients or the engaging in fraudulent acts or otherwise not complying with applicable laws or our internal control procedures. There is no assurance that there will not be any misconduct by our Directors, staff, AEs, agents and/or third parties, or that future incidents of misconduct of them will not subject us to serious penalties or limitations on our business activities.

It is not always possible to deter or prevent misconduct of our Directors, staff or agent, and the precautions we take to prevent and to detect such activity may not be effective in all cases. Any misconduct may also result in investigation against our Group by regulatory bodies and such investigation may require us to devote substantial resources in handling such investigation, which may affect our operations. We could also suffer from adverse publicity, reputational damage or litigation losses that may arise from the misconduct of our personnel, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial conditions, growth prospect and results of operations.

We may not be able to implement our business strategies and future plans successfully

Our business strategies and future plans are set out in the paragraph headed “Business strategies” under the section headed “Business” and in the “Future plans and use of proceeds” section in this prospectus. However, the successful implementation of these strategies and plans depend on a number of factors including but not limited to the following:

- our ability to recruit and retain qualified and experienced professional staff; in particular, in the recruitment of qualified staff with relevant experience to support the expected expansion of our placing and underwriting services and our proposed commencement in the provision of discretionary account management services;
- our ability to cope with increased exposure to financial risk, operational risk, market risk and credit risk arising from our expanded scope of business;

RISK FACTORS

- our ability to comply with all regulatory requirements and maintain/obtain the qualifications on the range of financial and securities services we provide or intend to provide to our clients;
- our ability to secure sufficient financial resources;
- clients' acceptance and demand for our products and services and our ability to compete with our competitors; and
- our ability to adapt the changes in the market and government policies.

Many of these factors are beyond the control of our Group and by nature, are subject to uncertainty.

As such, there is no assurance that our business strategies and future plans can be implemented successfully or may be materialised in accordance with our expected timetable, or at all, despite our capital commitments and investments into the same. Any failure or delay in the implementation of any or all of these strategies and plans may have a material adverse effect on the profitability and prospects of our Group.

In addition, our future plans may place substantial demands on our managerial, operational, technological, financial and other resources. To manage and support our growth, we may need to improve our existing operational and administrative systems, improve our financial and management controls, enhance our ability to recruit, train and retain additional qualified personnel and staff. All of these endeavours will require substantial attention and time from management and significant additional expenditures. We cannot assure you that we will be able to manage any future growth effectively and efficiently, and our ability to capitalise on new business opportunities may be materially and adversely affected if we fail to do so, which could in turn materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Where one or more of the regulated activities of our Group has less than two responsible officers, our Group will be in breach of the relevant licensing requirements which could adversely affect our licensing status which may jeopardise our business operation

Under the licensing requirements of the SFO, we must have at all times at least two responsible officers to directly supervise the business of each of our regulated activities. Any resignation, sickness or absence of our responsible officers may expose our Group to operational disruption, and thus may result in a breach of the relevant licensing requirement. This may subsequently result in the suspension of our SFC licences and jeopardise our business operations.

RISK FACTORS

Our future financial performance will be negatively affected by the Listing expenses incurred in connection with the Share Offer

The financial performance of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020 may be materially and adversely affected by capital and other expenditures which are expected to be made or recognised during the year. While it is expected that material capital expenditures will be incurred following the Listing for the purpose of implementing our future plans as set out in the “Future plans and use of proceeds” section in this prospectus, the expected returns and benefits from the relevant investments may not be immediately realised or materialised, or at all, following incurrence of the relevant expenditures.

Further, Listing expenses in the expected amount of approximately HK$20.0 million would be charged and recognised to the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the Company for the year ending 31 March 2020.

The making of the capital expenditure and incurrence of the non-recurring Listing expenses described above are expected to materially and adversely affect the financial performance of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020.

We recorded net operating cash outflows and may have difficulty meeting our payment obligations if we continue to record net operating cash outflow in the future

Our Group recorded net operating cash outflows in the amount of approximately HK$53.0 million for the four months ended 31 July 2018 and HK$58.8 million for the year ended 31 March 2019. See “Liquidity and financial resources” under the section headed “Financial information” in this prospectus for detailed analysis. We cannot guarantee that prospective business activities of our Group and/or other matters beyond our control (such as changes to the macroeconomic environment) will not adversely affect our operating cash flow and lead to net operating cash outflows in the future. If we face a net operating cash outflow in the future, (i) we may need to deplete our margin book, as our liquidity may be adversely affected; and (ii) we may not have sufficient working capital to cover our operating costs and we may have to fund our operating costs by obtaining more bank borrowings. There is however no assurance that we will succeed in obtaining more bank borrowings on terms favourable to us and we may incur significant finance costs for any such bank borrowings. This may materially and adversely affect our business, financial position and results of operations.

RISK FACTORS

RISKS OPERATING TO THE INDUSTRY IN WHICH WE OPERATE

We may not be able to compete successfully in the highly competitive financial service industry in Hong Kong

We operate in the financial services industry in Hong Kong, which has a large number of existing participants, making the industry highly competitive. In 2019, there were 704 HKEX Participants, including 658 trading participants and 46 non-trading participants. On the other hand, as at 30 September 2019, there were 1,417, 1,572 and 1,774 corporations licensed to carry on type 1 (dealing in securities), type 4 (advising on securities) and type 9 (asset management) regulated activities under the SFO, respectively according to market and industry statistics published on the SFC's website. New participants may enter into the industry provided that they obtain the requisite licences and capital. Apart from large multi-national financial institutions such as banks and investment banks with a global network and local presence in Hong Kong, we also face competition from small and medium-sized local financial services firms in relation to pricing, range of services offering and market reputation. Our Group may have to compete against competitors who may have a larger client base, greater brand recognition in the market, more human and financial resources, ability to offer a wider range of services, have more established networks and business relationships and/or have longer operating history than that of our Group. Some firms may also have resources to expand their operational scale, market share as well as geographical coverage through undertaking mergers and acquisitions.

There is no assurance that our Group will be able to maintain our competitive strengths even if we are able to respond rapidly to the changing business environment and/or capture new market opportunities. Our inability to remain competitive could lead to a reduction in our market share (as our clients are not bound to use our services and can freely switch to other service providers and/or decrease their use of our services), and any further intensification of competition in terms of pricing may lead to reduced profit margins. As a result, our operating performance, financial results and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Our business is subject to extensive regulatory requirements, non-compliance with which, or changes in which, may affect our operations or results

The Hong Kong financial services industry is highly regulated and our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, as a corporation licensed by the SFC to carry out regulated activities, is subject to extensive ongoing requirements which are set out under the SFO as well as other regulations, codes and guidelines prescribed by the SFC from time to time including, without limitation, the CSR and the FRR. These requirements require Sinomax Securities and each of its substantial shareholders (as defined in the SFO) and responsible officers to be, and continue to be, fit and proper. Any failure by Sinomax Securities or persons accredited to it to comply with applicable requirements and ongoing obligations may result in, among other things, (i) the commencement of investigations and/or proceedings; (ii) the imposition of additional conditions on existing licence(s); (iii) the imposition of sanctions and penalties as well as other civil and/or criminal consequences; and (iv) the risk of suspension or revocation of licence(s). Any such investigation, additional licence conditions, sanction or penalty, or the suspension of licences will materially and adversely affect our reputation as well as our business prospects and results of operations.

Further, the SFC may amend, supplement and/or modify the requirements on licensed corporations as it considers necessary for the proper regulation of the Hong Kong securities and futures market. Any such change or tightening of regulations and/or requirements on licensed corporations (which may involve an amendment to applicable laws, regulations and guidelines) may (i) require us to incur additional costs for compliance; and (ii) potentially affect our ability to carry on our existing regulated activities.

In addition, the SFC may carry out such regulatory inspections, investigations and/or reviews on licensed corporations as it deems necessary from time to time. Sinomax Securities is required to fully cooperate with, and respond to enquiries from the SFC over any review process which may require our devotion of time and resources and may increase our cost of compliance. For the details of the major findings of the inspections, investigations and/or reviews carried out by the SFC, please refer to the paragraphs headed “Inquiry under section 56 of the Securities Ordinance (Chapter 333 of the Laws of Hong Kong) (repealed and substituted by the SFO) by persons purporting to market securities”, “Findings of SFC inspection visit in October 2006”, “Findings of the SFC follow-up visit in October 2010”, “Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2013”, “Compliance advice letter dated 5 May 2014 from the SFC”, “Findings with respect to the letter dated 18 February 2015 from the SFC”, “Findings of the 2016 assurance report”, “Findings with respect to the letter dated 6 July 2017 from Sinomax Securities”, “Findings of the 2017 assurance report”, “Findings of the 2018 assurance report” and “Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2019” under the section headed “Business” of this prospectus.

RISK FACTORS

With respect to SFC investigations, licensed persons may be subject to secrecy obligations under the SFO whereby they may not be permitted to disclose certain information relating to investigations. Unless we are specifically named as the party that is being investigated under a SFO investigation, we generally do not know whether Sinomax Securities and/or any of its directors, responsible officers, licensed representatives or staff is the subject of any investigation. If the results of inspections or investigations reveal misconduct, the SFC may take disciplinary actions (such as revocation or suspension of licences, public or private reprimand or imposition of pecuniary penalties) against Sinomax Securities and/or the relevant officers or staff. Any sanctions, disciplinary actions taken against or penalties imposed against Sinomax Securities and/or the relevant director or staff personnel will negatively affect our reputation and may materially and adversely impact our business prospects and financial results.

We are required to maintain a high level of funds and liquidity for our business activities and proposed expansions

As a corporation licensed with the SFC to carry on regulated activities, Sinomax Securities, our operating subsidiary is required to maintain a minimum amount of share capital and liquid capital as prescribed under the FRR. Further, the Stock Exchange also imposes similar financial requirements on HKEX Participants. The required liquid capital is the higher of HK$3 million and its variable required liquid capital as stipulated by the FRR. For more details, please refer to the paragraph headed “Securities and Futures (Financial Resources) Rules (Chapter 571N of the Laws of Hong Kong)” under the section headed “Regulatory overview and licensing requirements” in this prospectus.

Our Group must maintain a high level of liquidity at all times to comply with the FRR. Failure to meet the above requirement may cause the SFC to suspend our licences, impose conditions in relation to our regulated activities, or take other appropriate disciplinary actions against our Group, which may adversely affect our Group’s business operations and financial performance. Although we have not breached the statutory capital requirements under the FRR or imposed by the Stock Exchange during the Track Record Period, there is no assurance that such failure will not happen in the future. Our liquid capital may be tightened when there is a significant increase in margin financing activities, increase in underwriting exercises and/or settlement of securities trading transactions on behalf of our securities brokerage clients.

As part of our risk management policy, we maintain a regulatory buffer which is 55% in excess of the regulatory minimum amounts, but such regulatory buffer has been materially depleted due to the incurrence of Listing expenses. Our Directors believe that such regulatory buffer should not be further depleted through the intended increase in expenditure for expanding our placing and underwriting business or through the lending of cash (liquid capital) to our clients from our proposed expansion of margin book, as further depletion may increase the risk of failure in meeting FRR requirements (which may potentially result in a suspension of our SFC licence, or jeopardise our registration as a HKEX Participant). Our Directors believe that the Share Offer would be an appropriate means for raising funds to finance the proposed activities without materially affecting our maintenance of our regulatory buffer.

RISK FACTORS

During the Track Record Period, we mainly financed our business activities by using the cash generated from our business operations and from borrowings from banks. As at the Latest Practicable Date, we had outstanding bank loans in the principal amount of HK$35.0 million. Our Directors believe that the constraint of our financial resources has been a restraining factor in our potential participation in some sizable IPOs. Our Directors consider that we may need additional funding after the Listing in order to respond to unanticipated opportunities, including opportunities to expand, develop new service offerings, enhance existing services, or acquire complementary businesses or technologies. We may raise additional funding through public or private financing, strategic alliance or other arrangements. There can be no assurance that such additional funding, if required, will be available on terms available to us, or at all.

Adverse changes in the economic and other policies of the PRC government could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial position and operations

A portion of our revenue is derived from clients who reside in the PRC. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively, approximately 20%, 21%, 22% and 24% of our clients reside in the PRC according to declarations in their accounts opening documentation. As such, our continued success will depend to a material extent on the ability of our PRC clients to remit funds to Hong Kong and/or source offshore funds primarily for securities trading.

The economy of the PRC differs from the economies of most developed countries in a number of aspects, such as the extent of government intervention, growth rate and control of foreign exchange. In particular, the PRC government exerts substantial control over the growth of the domestic economy by means of, among others, resource allocation as well as setting policy on foreign exchange. There is no assurance that China will not implement reforms or policies which may drastically (i) restrict PRC investors from investing abroad; and/or (ii) restrict the volume and type of securities which may be traded by them. For instance, the SAFE has in recent years reiterated that offshore investments by PRC residents by way of outbound personal remittance are prohibited unless such investments are made via certain permitted channels (such as the QDII scheme) or for certain permitted purposes. Such reforms or policies may potentially affect the attractiveness of Hong Kong as an alternative venue for PRC investors to trade securities, or otherwise restrict their outbound investment opportunities if they are unable to secure offshore funds. If China implements market-oriented reforms involving unprecedented or experimental revision of its economic reform measures, there is no guarantee that adjustments to its policies will not negatively affect our operations and business development. Any policies which reduce the willingness of our PRC clients to trade securities through us or which otherwise restrict their ability to remit funds into Hong Kong and/or source offshore funds for securities trading, will adversely affect our business and results of operations.

RISKS RELATING TO THE SHARE OFFER AND SHARE PERFORMANCE

There has been no prior public market for our Shares and the liquidity, market price and trading volume of our Shares following the Share Offer may be volatile

Prior to the Share Offer, there is no public market for our Shares. The listing of, and the permission to deal in, our Shares on the Stock Exchange do not guarantee the development of an active public trading market for our Shares or the sustainability thereof following completion of the Share Offer.

The market price and trading volume of our Shares may be volatile. Factors such as the following may affect the volume and price at which our Shares will trade:

- our Group's operational and financial performance;
- fluctuations in the market prices of our services;
- changes in earnings estimates or recommendations by financial analysts;
- the history of, and the prospects for, us and the financial and securities service industry;
- changes in our management, our past and present operations and the prospects for our business;
- changes in laws, regulations and policies affecting the financial and securities services industry;
- potential litigation or regulatory investigation; and
- general market sentiment and global and local political and economic environments.

Any such development may result in large and sudden changes in the volume and market price of our Shares. There is no assurance that these developments will or will not occur in the future and it is difficult to quantify the impact on our Group and on the trading volume and market price of our Shares.

In addition, both the market price and liquidity of our Shares could be adversely affected by factors beyond our Group's control and not directly attributable to the financial performance and the performance of our Group's business, especially if the financial market in Hong Kong experiences a significant price and volume fluctuation. In such cases, investors may not be able to sell their Shares at or above the Offer Price.

RISK FACTORS

Termination of the Underwriting Agreements

Prospective investors should note that the Underwriters are entitled to terminate their obligations under the Underwriting Agreements by the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) by giving written notice to our Company upon the occurrence of any of the events stated in the section headed “Underwriting – Underwriting arrangements – The Public offer Underwriting Agreement – Grounds for termination” of this prospectus at any time prior to 8:00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the Listing Date. Such events include, without limitation, any act of God, war, riot, public disorder, civil commotion, fire, flood, tsunami, explosion, epidemic, pandemic and/or outbreak of infectious diseases including, inter alia, the coronavirus (including the 2019-nCoV) and any other related or mutated forms of infectious diseases (or the escalation and/or intensification of any outbreak, epidemic and/or pandemic of the foregoing), act of terrorism, earthquake, strike or lock-out. Should the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) exercise their rights and terminate the Underwriting Agreements, the Share Offer will not proceed and will lapse.

The market price of our Shares could fall during the period before the trading of the Shares begins

The Offer Price will be determined on or about the Price Determination Date, while our Shares are expected to commence trading on the Stock Exchange after the Shares are delivered. As such, investors may not be able to sell or otherwise deal in our Shares during that period. The market price of our shares could fall between the time of sale and the time trading begins as a result of adverse market conditions or other adverse developments.

Potential investors could face dilution as a result of future equity financings

We may need to raise additional funds in the future to finance, among other things, expansion or new developments relating to our existing operations or new acquisitions. If additional funds are raised through the issue of new equity and/or equity-linked securities of our Company other than on a pro-rata basis to the existing Shareholders, the shareholding of such Shareholders may experience further dilution in the net tangible assets book value per Share (if the additional Shares are issued at a price lower than the net tangible assets book value per Share at the time of their issuance) or such new securities may confer rights and privileges that take priority over those conferred by existing Shares, including the Offer Shares.

Exercising options under the Share Option Scheme may dilute or reduce shareholding of the Shareholders

Our Company has conditionally adopted the Share Option Scheme. As at the Latest Practicable Date, no option has been granted under the Share Option Scheme. Following the issuance of new Shares pursuant to any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme, the shareholding of existing Shareholders may be diluted which may also result in a dilution or reduction of the earnings per Share or net asset value per Share. In addition, the fair value of options which may be granted to employees of our Group under the Share Option Scheme will be charged to the combined statements of profit or loss and comprehensive income of our Group over the vesting periods of such options. Accordingly, the financial conditions and results of operations of our Group may be adversely affected.

RISK FACTORS

Future sales by existing Shareholders of a substantial number of the Shares in the public market could materially and adversely affect the prevailing market price of the Shares

Sales of substantial amounts of our Shares in the public market after the completion of the Share Offer, or the perception that these sales could occur, could adversely affect the market price of our Shares and could materially impair our ability to raise capital through offerings of our Shares in the future.

The Shares held by the Controlling Shareholders of our Group are subject to a lock-up period, beginning on the date on which trading in our Shares commences on the Stock Exchange, during which time the Controlling Shareholders are restricted from disposing their Shares. While we are not aware of any intention of our Controlling Shareholders to dispose of significant amounts of their Shares upon expiry of relevant lock-up periods, there is no assurance that they will not dispose of the Shares held by them in the future. We cannot predict the effect, if any, of any future sales of the Shares by any substantial shareholder of our Company or our Controlling Shareholders, that on the market price of the Shares. Sales of substantial amount of Shares by any substantial Shareholder or our Controlling Shareholders or any material issuance of new Shares by our Company, or the market perception that such sales or issuance may occur, could materially and adversely affect the prevailing market price of the Shares.

The interests of our Controlling Shareholders may differ from the interests of other Shareholders

Upon completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised and taking no account of any Shares which may be allotted and issued upon the exercise of any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme), our Controlling Shareholders will collectively beneficially own in total 75% of our Shares. For more details of our Controlling Shareholders, please refer to the section headed “Relationship with our Controlling Shareholders” in this prospectus. If the interests of our Controlling Shareholders conflict with the interests of our other Shareholders, or if our Controlling Shareholders choose to cause our business to pursue strategic objectives that conflict with the interests of our other Shareholders, our Company or those other Shareholders may be adversely affected as a result. Our Controlling Shareholders could have significant influence in determining the outcome of any corporate transaction or other matters which may be submitted to our Shareholders for approval, (including, without limitation, mergers, privatisations, consolidations, the sale of all, or substantially all, of our assets, election of directors, and other significant corporate actions). Our Controlling Shareholders have no obligation to consider the interests of our Company or the interests of other Shareholders, other than pursuant to the Deed of Non-competition. Consequently, our Controlling Shareholders’ interests may not necessarily be in line with the best interests of our Company or the interests of other Shareholders, which may have a material and adverse effect on our Company’s business operations and the market price of our Shares.

RISK FACTORS

Our Group may not declare or pay any dividend on our Shares

Upon Listing, our Shareholders will be entitled to receive dividends only when declared by our Board. The payment and the amount of any future dividend will be at the discretion of the Board and will depend on, among other things, (i) the Group's results of operations, financial condition, future prospects, capital commitments, development pipeline, prevailing economic environment, contractual restrictions, capital and other reserve requirements, dividends received from the Company's subsidiaries and associates; (ii) the provisions governing the declaration and distribution of dividends as contained in our Articles and pursuant to our dividend policy; and (iii) compliance with applicable laws and any other conditions or factors which the Board deems relevant and having regard to the Director's fiduciary duties. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, we did not declare any dividend.

Our Shareholders may experience difficulties in effecting service of legal process, enforcing foreign judgements or bringing actions against us or our management and the laws of the Cayman Islands relating to the protection of the interests of minority shareholders are different from those in Hong Kong

Our Company is incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. During the Track Record Period, our businesses, assets and operations were carried out through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, located in Hong Kong. Since our Company is incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands, our corporate affairs are governed by the laws of the Cayman Islands, and it may not be possible for our Shareholders to bring an action against our Company or against our Directors or officers based on Hong Kong laws in the event that our Shareholders believe that their rights as a shareholder have been infringed. Our corporate affairs are governed by our Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association and by the Companies Law and common law of the Cayman Islands. The laws of the Cayman Islands relating to the protection of the interests of minority shareholders differ in some respects from those established under the statutes or judicial precedents in Hong Kong. This may mean that the remedies available to our Group's minority Shareholders may be different from those available under Hong Kong law or the laws of other jurisdictions. A summary of Cayman Islands company law is set out in Appendix III to this prospectus.

RISK RELATING TO MACROECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS

General macroeconomic conditions, particularly in Hong Kong, may materially and adversely affect our Group's business, prospects, results of operations and financial position

The Hong Kong financial and securities market is directly affected by, among other things, the global and local political and economic environments including macroeconomic and monetary policies, currency and interest rate fluctuations and other socio-political factors.

RISK FACTORS

Any sudden downturn or sudden change in the global, regional or local economic, political, social, legal environment or government policies (for instance, Brexit, the ongoing trade war between China and the U.S. and any local political turmoil or civil disobedience movements) which are beyond our control, may adversely affect investor sentiments in the financial market in general. Severe fluctuation in market and economic sentiments may also lead to a prolonged period of sluggish market activities which would in turn have adverse impact on the securities market and consequently our business and operating performance may be materially and adversely affected.

Risks of acts of God, acts of war and terrorism, natural disasters, political unrest or civil disobedience movements, epidemics and other disasters

Events with adverse impact on investors' confidence and risk appetites, such as acts of God, acts of war and terrorism, natural disasters, political unrest or mass civil disobedience movements, outbreaks, epidemics, and/or pandemics (or the escalation and/or intensification of any outbreak, epidemic and/or pandemic of infectious diseases (including without limitation, the coronavirus (including the 2019-nCoV) disasters which are beyond our control, may impair investment or fundraising activities, and in turn, materially and adversely affect our business performance and results of operations.

Our business operation might be affected by large-scale protests as it might cause disruption to transportation or even force our office to close during our usual operating hours which may affect the order taking process of our securities trading business. The frequency and magnitude of effect brought by the large-scale protests are beyond our control and we could not guarantee that our back-up systems that allow remote access of our trading system and computer system could adequately support our business operation, for example, the order taking from client via telephone, in light of disruption. The occurrence of any large-scale protests may also have negative impact on the market sentiment and cause severe fluctuation to the stock markets.

Our business could be adversely affected by any outbreak, epidemic and/or pandemic of (or the escalation and/or intensification of any outbreak, epidemic and/or pandemic of) infectious or contagious diseases (such as the avian flu, H1N1 flu, SARS or coronavirus (including 2019-nCoV)) and/or other adverse public health developments in Hong Kong. Such events in Hong Kong or any other market in which we operate and conduct business could severely disrupt our business operations by having a negative impact on investor sentiment, the fundraising activities of issuers and proposed listing applicants, the macroeconomic condition as well as the financial conditions of the stock markets. Our business operations, financial condition as well as our fundraising activities as contemplated by this prospectus may be materially and adversely affected as a result.

Any deterioration in financial conditions of the stock market may affect investor sentiment and investment appetite, and may cause issuers to delay or cancel any fundraising plans in Hong Kong, which may stem demand for our placing and underwriting service. The occurrence of any of the above situations, either locally, regionally or globally, may have material adverse effects on our Group's business, results of operations and financial position on our business operation.

RISK FACTORS

Our business may be affected by any changes in tax laws and regulations

Under prevailing Hong Kong laws and regulations, the profits generated by Sinomax Securities, our operating subsidiary, is subject to taxation in Hong Kong. There is no assurance that the prevailing tax laws and regulations in Hong Kong (including profit tax rate) will not be revised or amended in the future. Any revision or amendment in tax laws and regulations may have an adverse impact on our business operations and our financial results.

SOURCE AND RELIABILITY OF THE INFORMATION

We have commissioned Ipsos, an independent market research company, to analyse and report on the industry development, trends and competitive landscape of the licensed securities and futures intermediary services industry in Hong Kong at a fee of HK$400,000. Ipsos is an independent market research company and is one of the largest research companies in the world, employing approximately 16,000 personnel worldwide across 88 countries. Ipsos conducts research on market profiles, market size, share and segmentation, distribution and value analysis, competitor tracking and corporate intelligence.

In compiling the Ipsos Report, Ipsos obtained and gathered data and intelligence by: (a) conducting research covering government and regulatory statistics, industry reports and analyst reports, industry associations, industry journals and other online sources and data from Ipsos' research database; (b) performing client consultations to obtain background information on our Group; and (c) conducting primary research by interviewing key stakeholders and industry experts. Ipsos adopted the following assumptions while making projections for the report: (a) the supply of and demand for products and services in the licensed securities and futures intermediary services industry in Hong Kong are assumed to be stable and without hold-up from 2019 to 2022; and (b) it is assumed that there will be no external shock such as financial crisis or natural disasters in the global market that would affect the demand and supply of the licensed securities and futures intermediary services industry in Hong Kong from 2019 to 2022.

OVERVIEW OF THE SECURITIES AND FUTURES MARKET IN HONG KONG

Since the 1990s, Hong Kong's capital market has experienced rapid development, benefitting from the liberalisation of China's markets as well as the introduction of advanced trading systems which achieve better execution. Hong Kong's capital market has gradually become one of the most favourable investment markets globally. By 2000, approximately 40% of the total market turnover of the Hong Kong securities market was attributable to trading of overseas investors.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect were launched on 17 November 2014 and 5 December 2016, respectively. The two connect programmes provide mutual trading accesses between the Shanghai/Shenzhen and Hong Kong stock markets, allowing mainland and Hong Kong investors to trade on the respective markets in a less restrictive manner. The launch of the China Connect further stimulated trading activities on the securities market in Hong Kong, which subsequently generated demand for brokerage services.

In 2018, the Stock Exchange announced several amendments to the Listing Rules which took effect on 30 April 2018. These amendments (i) permit listings of biotech issuers that do not meet any of the Main Board financial eligibility tests; (ii) permit listings of companies with weighted voting right structures; and (iii) establish a new concessionary secondary listing route for Greater China and international companies that wish to secondary list in Hong Kong. The new listing regime is expected to bring more dynamism to the stock market in Hong Kong in the long term.

As of 31 December 2018, the Stock Exchange was ranked fifth among stock exchanges worldwide in terms of market capitalisation, with a market capitalisation of US$3,819.2 billion. The Stock Exchange recorded the greatest number of IPOs globally in 2019, with 197 IPOs raising approximately HK$312.9 billion in funds. The increase was contributed by two mega-size deals namely Alibaba's US$11 billion secondary listing and the listing of Anheuser-Busch InBev (Budweiser Brewing Company) which raised approximately US$5 billion, as well as other debutants.

The total market capitalisation of securities listed on the Stock Exchange, including the Main Board and GEM, increased from approximately HK$24,042.8 billion in 2013 to approximately HK$38,362.0 billion in 2019, representing a CAGR of approximately 8.1%. The Stock Exchange recorded strong performance in 2019, with total market capitalisation increasing from approximately HK$29,909.4 billion in 2018 to approximately HK$38,362.0 billion in 2019, representing a year-over-year growth rate of 28.3%. The significant growth could be explained by the PRC's strong economic growth, strong corporate earnings and interest from southbound funds.

OVERVIEW OF THE LICENSED SECURITIES AND FUTURES INTERMEDIARY SERVICE INDUSTRY IN HONG KONG

The licensed securities and futures intermediary service industry refers to the industry comprising corporations conducting a business in one or several regulated activities as defined by the SFO. To carry on a business of a regulated activity, corporations are required to obtain a licence from the SFC, and the licensed corporations and registered institutions who provide products and services to principals and investors are referred to as "intermediaries".

The total number of licensed securities and futures intermediaries in Hong Kong increased from 3,857 in 2013 to 5,666 in 2018, representing a CAGR of approximately 8.0%. The increase in the number of licensed securities and futures intermediaries in recent years may be attributed to the launch of the China Connect, stimulating the establishment of intermediaries to deal with expected demand in the securities and futures market in Hong Kong. In addition, the trend for China-funded intermediaries to increasingly set-up securities and brokerage businesses in Hong Kong in recent years may also support the increase in number of intermediaries in Hong Kong.

OVERVIEW OF THE LICENSED SECURITIES DEALING SERVICE INDUSTRY IN HONG KONG

The licensed securities dealing service industry comprises corporations conducting type 1 (dealing in securities) regulated activity, and these corporations are generally referred to as brokerage firms or brokerage service providers. These corporations provide securities dealing and brokerage services to clients (including principals and investors) which may involve (i) trading and brokering securities in respect of trades for clients, (ii) marketing and distributing of securities (including mutual funds and unit trusts) to clients, and (iii) placing and underwriting of securities in respect of fundraisings and secondary offerings and sale. Some brokerage firms may also provide securities margin financing services to facilitate the acquisitions or holdings of securities by their clients if they can meet a more stringent financial resources requirements set out in the SFO.

The main function of brokerage firms is to act as an agent to facilitate securities trading activities for investors in respect of securities listed on the Stock Exchange and/or on overseas markets. The main revenue stream of brokerage firms is commission fee charged to clients, as well as the interest income in the event clients fail to settle trades. A brokerage firm may also generate revenue from commission and fee income through placing and underwriting securities in respect of fundraisings and secondary offerings and sales, and interest income from the provision of securities margin financing services.

The securities market turnover of the Stock Exchange fluctuated over the period between 2013 and 2019, with the overall increase from approximately HK$15,264.6 billion to approximately HK$21,440.0 billion, representing a CAGR of approximately 5.8%, which may be attributable to the launch of China Connect. During the forecast period from 2020 to 2022, the securities market turnover is expected to grow from approximately HK$30,473.8 billion to approximately HK$35,657.7 billion, representing a CAGR of approximately 8.2%, driven by the broader listing regime which came into effect in April 2018. The expected increase in market turnover serves as a positive indicator for future demand for securities dealing and brokerage services in Hong Kong.

The number of HKEX Participants in Hong Kong increased at a CAGR of approximately 4.4%, from 543 participants in 2013 to 704 participants in 2019. HKEX Participants refer to corporations who may trade on or through the Stock Exchange and are licensed under the SFO to carry on securities dealing activities. The increase may be attributable to the opportunities brought by the launch of the China Connect and the increasing trend of China-funded brokerage firms establishing brokerage businesses in Hong Kong.

Commission income of the licensed securities dealing services industry in Hong Kong

The commission income of the licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong fluctuated over the period between 2013 to 2018 and experienced an overall increase from approximately HK$7.6 billion in 2013 to approximately HK$9.2 billion in 2018, representing a CAGR of approximately 3.8%. As commission income is typically calculated as a certain percentage of the transaction value, total commission income of the industry is generally directly correlated with fluctuations in total securities market turnover on the Stock Exchange.

During the forecast period from 2019 to 2022, the commission income of the licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong is expected to increase from approximately HK$9.9 billion in 2019 to approximately HK$12.0 billion in 2022 at a CAGR of approximately 6.6% (higher than the immediately preceding historical period). This is because while vigorous price competition will continue to exert dominated pressure in the commission rate in respect of securities dealing services, the promising future outlook of the securities market turnover is expected to support an overall increase in commission income.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

OVERVIEW OF THE LICENSED SECURITIES MARGIN FINANCING SERVICE INDUSTRY IN HONG KONG

The licensed securities margin financing industry comprises corporations conducting type 8 (securities margin financing) regulated activity, and these corporations are generally referred to as margin financiers. Margin financiers provide financing to margin clients for their purchase of stocks whereby clients' stocks and cash in client accounts are typically posted as collateral to secure the repayment of outstanding amounts on margin loans. Under the SFO, securities margin financing refers to the provision of financial accommodation for facilitating the acquisition and continued holding of listed securities. In 2018, there were approximately 224 margin financiers in Hong Kong. Securities dealing service providers who are already licensed for type 1 regulated activity (dealing in securities) are not required to be licensed for type 8 regulated activity (securities margin financing), but are required to satisfy the minimum paid-up share capital and minimum liquid capital requirements of type 8 regulated activity (securities margin financing).

In order to obtain margin financing, margin clients are required to deposit an initial margin to pay for a portion of the total cost of buying securities, and the purchased securities would be treated as collateral by the margin financiers. The portion of the security which is pledged, known as margin loan-to-value ratio, normally ranges between 5% and 85% in Hong Kong depending on the quality of the designated stocks. Licensed securities margin financiers generate revenue from interest income for providing margin loans to clients for their purchases of securities on the secondary market and IPOs.

The charts below set forth the (i) number of active margin clients, and (ii) amounts receivable from margin clients in Hong Kong over the period from 2013 to 2018:

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

From 2013 to 2018, the total number of active margin clients in Hong Kong grew at a CAGR of approximately 25.2%, and the amounts receivable from margin clients experienced an overall increase at a CAGR of approximately 16.1%. The increase can be explained by the growing stock market in Hong Kong, supported by an increase in number of listings and growing southbound investor interests for trading on securities listed on the Stock Exchange.

COMPETITIVE ANALYSIS OF THE LICENSED SECURITIES DEALING SERVICE AND LICENSED SECURITIES MARGIN FINANCING SERVICE INDUSTRIES IN HONG KONG

According to the SFC, there were approximately 704 HKEX Participants in Hong Kong in 2019. HKEX Participants are divided into 3 categories; “A”, “B” and “C”. Category A consists of the top 14 brokerage firms by transaction size, while Category B refers to the participants ranked from 15 to 65. The remaining participants in the market are grouped in Category C. The licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong is fairly consolidated and dominated by certain large Category A firms, with Category A participants accounting for approximately 55.7% of the total market turnover in 2018, while Category B participants accounted for a share of approximately 35.7% of the total market turnover in the same year. Category B firms generally engage in a range of overseas and local institutional trading as well as retail trading. Category C firms accounted for approximately 8.7% of total market share in terms of turnover in 2018, and capture a majority of the retail trading in Hong Kong. The competition in this category is intense, with the brokerage firms also competing with the firms in Categories A and B. To compete with the firms in Categories A and B, Category C firms usually offer more unique and sophisticated services and develop effective and user-friendly online trading platforms to differentiate themselves from their competitors.

We are classified as a Category C HKEX Participant. In addition to providing securities dealing services, Category C firms also provide similar services to other services which we offer, including securities margin financing services and securities advisory services. The number of Category C firms increased from 478 in 2013 to 639 in 2019, representing a CAGR of 4.1%.

In the year ended 31 March 2018, we generated approximately HK$31.1 million in revenue from the provision of securities dealing and brokerage services, which accounted for approximately 0.3% of the total commission income generated by intermediaries in the licensed securities dealing services industry in Hong Kong in 2018.

Market drivers and opportunities

Strength in index stocks continues to drive demand for securities dealing and securities margin financing services

The demand for securities dealing and securities margin financing services is closely related to the performance of the stock market in Hong Kong. As an important performance indicator of the Hong Kong stock market, the HSI registered solid earnings growth from 2013 to 2019 representing growth at a CAGR of approximately 3.2%. Emerging sectors (including the technology and telecommunications sectors) are expected to lead the HSI higher in the future and thus increase potential investors’ interest and confidence in Hong Kong’s stock market, which will further drive demand for securities dealing and securities margin financing services and support the development of the industries.

Market drivers and opportunities (licensed securities dealing service industry)

Comprehensive and evolving regulatory regime

Supervision of the securities and futures markets by the SFC and the Stock Exchange ensures the regular and normative operation of the market, and strengthens and protects the integrity and soundness of Hong Kong's securities and futures markets for the benefit of investors and the industry. Hong Kong's regulatory regime continues to evolve with an aim of capturing the latest opportunities and market dynamics in the capital market, including through China Connect and the new listing regime for emerging and innovative companies. Hong Kong's comprehensive and evolving regulatory regime has been a key driver for the licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong.

CEPA has strengthened the relationship in securities trading between Hong Kong and the PRC

With the rapid development of the PRC economy, demand for capital raising from PRC enterprises, as well as investors' interest in investing in PRC securities, have increased. The Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement ("CEPA") has fostered trade and investment between Hong Kong and the PRC. For example, pursuant to the Agreement on Economic and Technical Cooperation to CEPA signed in June 2017, the PRC government shall further streamline the relevant requirements for overseas listings of PRC enterprises and create favourable conditions to support qualified PRC enterprises that satisfy Hong Kong's listing requirements to list in Hong Kong. Therefore, it is expected that the number of listed PRC securities will continue to increase in Hong Kong, driving demand for securities dealing services.

Launching of China Connect

The launches of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect in 2014 and the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect in 2016 have enabled mutual trading accessibility between the Hong Kong and Shanghai/Shenzhen stock markets. China Connect offers international investors a mechanism for investing directly into the PRC stock markets via brokerage firms in Hong Kong. At the end of 2018, investors had the option to choose from the 860 eligible stocks for northbound trading under the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and 1,185 eligible stocks under the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect. As the number of stock options are expected to continue to increase, investors will have more trading options and opportunities. The licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong will be benefited from the potential increase in the number of securities trading transactions.

Future trends and developments (licensed securities dealing service industry)

Increase in popularity of online trading

Securities trading transactions processed via the internet have become increasingly popular in the licensed securities dealing service industry. According to the Stock Exchange, approximately 70.4% of brokerage firms offered online trading services to their clients in 2018, an increase from approximately 54.7% in 2012/2013. In addition, online trading represented approximately 60.9% of total retail investor trading in 2018, an increase from approximately 39.2% in 2012/2013. The growth is partly driven by the generally lower cost of online trading for both investors and brokerage firms compared with traditional methods. Further, online trading is more efficient, and the adoption of online trading allows brokerage firms to process a large number of securities transactions for clients in less time due to less manpower involved. The capability of processing a higher order quantity may contribute to a higher revenue.

Decrease in commission charges

Since 1 April 2002, minimum brokerage rates in respect of securities trading in Hong Kong have been deregulated, and thereafter the amount of brokerage fees charged by brokerage firms became subject to market forces and have become susceptible to downward pressure from time to time. Under the more competitive commission regime, a number of brokerage firms have adopted aggressive price strategies and reduced commission rates to seize opportunities to enlarge their client base and expand market size. As a result, lower commissions charged per trade per customer may result in a lower level of profit margin for brokerage firms.

Increase in the number of China-funded brokerage firms established in Hong Kong

With an aim to capture business from potential investors who are interested in PRC stocks, there has been an increase in the number of China-funded securities firms established in Hong Kong in recent years. Together with the launch of China Connect, the number of China-funded brokerage firms is expected to further increase, intensifying the competition in the licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong.

Increasing trend of provision of value-added services

With the increasing activeness of the securities market and a growing number of investors, brokerage firms have turned to the provision of value-added services as they seek to capitalise on future industry growth in Hong Kong, as it was observed that an increasing number of investors, especially retail investors, have driven the demand for value-added services (such as discretionary account management services, securities advisory service and the provision of securities training and investment seminars) from brokerage firms. Given the intensifying level of competition and the increasing presence of new brokerage firms, brokerage firms are expected to take advantage of growth opportunities through increasing the provision of value-added services.

Entry barriers (licensed securities dealing industry)

Unestablished relationship with clients

Securities trading orders are often awarded through established client base or referrals, and clients generally stay with the same broker once a relationship has been established. Changing brokers (i) pose the risk of data loss and system failure; and (ii) requires the client to change his or her user habit. Thus, new entrants without established relationships with client may find it challenging to acquire new clients, resulting in barriers to entering the licensed securities dealing service industry.

Established competitors in a mature market

The licensed securities dealing service industry in Hong Kong is considered mature and consolidated and the industry has been dominated by certain large Category A firms, accounting for more than 50% of the total turnover in the past five years. It would be difficult for new entrants to enter the industry in Hong Kong as competitors are well-established with well-recognised reputations in the industry, and have solid relationships with clients. Further, current market players are more familiar with the industry and business operations, and therefore, new entrants may find it difficult to compete in such mature market.

Entry barrier (licensed securities margin financing service industry)

Substantial capital requirement

The paid-up share capital and liquid capital requirements imposed by the SFC on licensed margin financiers pose a key entry barrier for new entrants to the licensed securities margin financing service market in Hong Kong. Margin financiers should satisfy the minimum paid-up share capital (HK$10 million) and minimum liquid capital (HK$3 million) requirements in order to obtain the required license. New entrants may also face difficulties in obtaining borrowings and loans from corporate banks given the absence of a proven track record. Hence, the cost for new entrants to enter the securities margin financing service market is comparatively high due to the capital-intensive nature of the market.

OVERVIEW OF THE PLACING AND UNDERWRITING SERVICES INDUSTRY IN HONG KONG

Placing and underwriting services are essential for fundraising activities in the capital market, and relevant service providers in Hong Kong are required to obtain a SFC licence to carry on type 1 (dealing in securities) regulated activity. Such placing and underwriting services providers are generally referred to as underwriters and placing agents. The main responsibility of both underwriters and placing agents is to act as an agent to identify potential investors to subscribe for securities of issuers and to acquire securities from selling shareholders, while underwriters are also involved in carrying out and organising roadshows and other marketing activities during the book building process as well as involved in the pricing process of IPOs. The main revenue stream of placing and underwriting service providers is the commission charged to clients from the provision of placing and underwriting services which is calculated according to a predetermined commission rate which varies on a case-by-case basis and usually ranges from less than 1% to up to 20% of the value of securities being placed or underwritten.

In 2018, there were approximately 248 type 1 financial institutions that provide placing and underwriting services in Hong Kong. The placing and underwriting services market in Hong Kong is consolidated and dominated by the top market players who provide a wide range of investment banking services in addition to placing and underwriting services. The other players in the market, being Category B and C participants, operate on a boutique scale and focus on the provision of several services.

Total revenue generated in the placing and underwriting market in Hong Kong is positively correlated with equity funds raised on the Stock Exchange. The total equity funds raised in Hong Kong increased from approximately HK$378.9 billion in 2013 to approximately HK$541.7 billion in 2018, representing a CAGR of approximately 7.4%. Over the same period, the total revenue of placing and underwriting services in Hong Kong grew from approximately HK$6.4 billion to approximately HK$10.2 billion, representing a CAGR of approximately 9.9%. The total revenue increased during the period from 2013 to 2014 and hit a high in 2015 of approximately HK$14.5 billion, attributable to the active fundraising activities in both the primary and secondary markets under a bullish market sentiment and favourable policies. However, revenue generated in the placing and underwriting market decreased from 2015 to approximately HK$7.6 billion in 2017, as a result of the notable decrease in equity funds raised on the Stock Exchange from approximately HK$1,115.6 billion in 2015 to approximately HK$581.4 billion in 2017. In 2018, total revenue generated in the placing and underwriting market increased with a year-over-year growth rate of approximately 33.7%, which was mainly attributable to (i) the increase in the number of PRC enterprises listing on the Stock Exchange in 2018, and (ii) the new listing rules that allow companies with dual-class share structures and pre-profit biotech firms to list in Hong Kong.

During the forecast period from 2019 to 2022, the amount of total equity funds raised in Hong Kong is expected to increase from HK$593.7 billion in 2019 to HK$710.7 billion in 2022, at a CAGR of approximately 6.2%, while the total revenue generated in the placing and underwriting market is expected to continue to increase, from approximately HK$11.0 billion in 2019 to approximately HK$13.2 billion in 2022, at a CAGR of approximately 6.5%. In light of favourable policies yet increasingly strict regulations, the equity market is expected to grow healthily, thus steadily drive the demand for placing and underwriting services. However, the risk of market correction should not be under-estimated in the view of global economic and political uncertainties such as interest rate hikes, geopolitical tensions and the threat of trade war among certain developed economies. As an open economy, the Hong Kong stock market is susceptible to the volatility in the PRC stock markets as well as in major overseas stock markets.

Market drivers and opportunities

New listing regime is expected to bring greater securities transactions in emerging and innovative sectors

The Stock Exchange's new rules to broaden Hong Kong's listing regime became effective on 30 April 2018. Under the new listing regime, companies from emerging and innovative sectors, including biotech companies, are encouraged to seek listing in Hong Kong. The new listing rules offer domestic and international investors greater access to fast-growing companies from emerging and innovative sectors, and hence may generate an increase in equity issues and investments. Therefore, the new regime is expected to provide a growth opportunity for placing and underwriting services providers in Hong Kong.

Future trends and developments

Increase in the number of PRC enterprises listing on the Stock Exchange

The number of PRC companies listed on the Stock Exchange increased from 797 in 2013 to 1,241 in 2019, representing a CAGR of approximately 7.7%. Over the same period, PRC companies' contribution to the total market capitalisation of the Hong Kong securities market increased from approximately 56.9% to approximately 72.9%. The increase in the number of PRC enterprises listed in Hong Kong may support the growth of funds raised through the Hong Kong stock market, facilitating the development of the placing and underwriting services market.

Increasing number of small and medium-sized companies to list in Hong Kong

The ongoing resilience of the placing and underwriting services market in Hong Kong in attracting small and medium-sized companies with sufficient liquidity to comply with the listing requirements will help maintain the competitiveness of Hong Kong, regardless of the lingering macro-economic and political uncertainties between the world's two largest economies, the U.S. and the PRC, which have established close economic ties with Hong Kong. Despite a decrease in large and prominent deals such as China Tower Corporation Limited (HKEX stock code: 788) and Xiaomi Corporation (HKEX stock code: 1810) which both listed in 2018, small and medium-sized enterprises from the media, entertainment and telecommunications, biotechnology, education, consumer products and health care sectors are expected to be listed in Hong Kong in the future. With a general expectation of Hong Kong as the preferred listing destination due to the positive impacts brought by the recent regulatory reforms, an increasing number of small and medium-sized listing applicants will continue to present opportunities for the placing and underwriting services market in Hong Kong.

Entry barrier

Unestablished client and investor bases, and limited industry network

The main responsibility of placing and underwriting services providers in a placing/underwriting deal is to sell equities issued by the company to suitable investors, which requires leveraging the service provider's wide industry network and diversified investor base. New entrants with unestablished client and investor bases and limited industry connections will find it difficult to compete with existing industry players. In addition, placing and underwriting deals are often awarded through current or previous clients or investors or referrals. Limited industry networks and unestablished client and investor bases may, therefore, hinder a new entrant's exposure to business opportunities in the placing and underwriting services market in Hong Kong, posing a barrier to entering the market.

OVERVIEW OF THE LICENSED ASSET MANAGEMENT INDUSTRY IN HONG KONG

The licensed asset management service industry comprises corporations conducting type 9 (asset management) regulated activity. Asset management service providers provide asset management services to principals and investors, such as (i) managing a portfolio of securities or futures contracts for clients; and (ii) managing properties funds. Some investors may also authorise asset managers to manage the dealing and investments of securities in their securities trading account(s), and this is commonly referred to as discretionary account management. The main stream of revenue of licensed asset managers is the management fee, which is paid to the asset manager on an ongoing basis and is deducted from the net asset value of managed funds.

Discretionary asset management refers to a form of asset management service in which investment decisions are made by a professional portfolio or fund manager on behalf of clients. Services and transactions under discretionary asset management are often tailored for professional, high-net-worth individuals or institutional investors, while products such as pension funds possess a relatively higher minimum investment requirement for investors.

The key drivers of demand for discretionary asset management services are: (i) the unwillingness of investors to devote substantial time and effort in connection with making day-to-day investment decisions; (ii) through engaging of asset managers time-constrained locals and PRC high-net-worth or institutional clients are able to delegate the investment process to qualified and competent asset manager who is able to spontaneously and efficiently act on available real-time information; (iii) the comfort of access to better investment opportunities through professional portfolio or fund managers; and (iv) discretionary account managers are generally more proactive in seizing investment opportunities at better offers, as they are incentivised through the performance-driven compensation mechanism of a percentage fee of the assets under management.

The number of licensed asset management service providers in Hong Kong increased from 995 in 2013 to 1,678 in 2018, at a CAGR of approximately 11.0%. Over the same period, the number of licensed corporations who obtained type 9 license increased from 950 to 1,643, respectively, representing a CAGR of approximately 11.6%, while the number of registered institutions who registered for type 9 license slightly decreased from 45 to 35, respectively, representing a CAGR of approximately -4.9%. Recently, there has been an increase in the number of PRC asset management service firms. Asset management is expected to continue to grow due to the government's promotion of the industry and as institutional pensions grow.

SECURITIES AND FUTURES COMMISSION

Regulation of securities and futures market

Founded in May 1989, the SFC is an independent statutory body responsible for regulating the securities and futures market in Hong Kong. The SFC strives to strengthen and protect the integrity and soundness of Hong Kong's securities and futures markets for the benefit of investors and the industry.

The SFC's regulatory objectives as set out in the SFO are:

- to maintain and promote the fairness, efficiency, competitiveness, transparency and orderliness of the securities and futures industry;
- to promote understanding by the public of financial services including the operation and functioning of the securities and futures industry;
- to provide protection for members of the public investing in or holding financial products;
- to minimise crime and misconduct in the securities and futures industry;
- to reduce systemic risks in the securities and futures industry; and
- to assist the Financial Secretary in maintaining the financial stability of Hong Kong by taking appropriate steps in relation to the securities and futures industry.

Parties and products regulated by the SFC include, but are not limited to, licensed corporations and individuals carrying on type 1 to type 12 regulated activities under the SFO, investment products offered to the public, listed companies, the HKEX, automated trading service providers, approved share registrars, Investor Compensation Company Limited, and all market participants (including investors).

Overview of licensing requirements under the SFO

Under the SFO, any person who:

- (a) carries on a business in a regulated activity; or
- (b) holds itself out as carrying on a business in a regulated activity, must be licensed under the relevant provisions of the SFO for carrying on such regulated activity, unless one of the exceptions under the SFO applies. It is a serious offence for a person to conduct any regulated activity without the appropriate licence.

If a person actively markets, whether by himself or another person on his behalf and whether in Hong Kong or from a place outside Hong Kong, to the public any services that he provides, and such services, if provided in Hong Kong, would constitute a regulated activity, then that person is also subject to the licensing requirements under the SFO.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

In addition to the licensing requirements on corporations that carry on regulated activities, any individual who:

- (a) performs any regulated function in relation to a regulated activity carried on as a business; or
- (b) holds himself out as performing such regulated activity, must be licensed separately under the SFO as a licensed representative accredited to his principal.

Types of regulated activities

The SFO promulgates a single licensing regime where a person only needs one licence or registration to carry on different types of regulated activity as defined in Schedule 5 to the SFO provided that he is fit and proper to do so. There are 12 types of regulated activities, namely:

Type 1	Dealing in securities
Type 2	Dealing in futures contracts
Type 3	Leveraged foreign exchange trading
Type 4	Advising on securities
Type 5	Advising on futures contracts
Type 6	Advising on corporate finance
Type 7	Providing automated trading services
Type 8	Securities margin financing
Type 9	Asset management
Type 10	Providing credit rating services
Type 11	Dealing in OTC derivative products or advising on OTC derivative products
Type 12	Providing client clearing services for OTC derivative transactions

Note: Type 11 regulated activity is not yet in operation

As at the Latest Practicable Date, Sinomax Securities, our operating subsidiary, is licensed under the SFO to carry on the following regulated activities:

Type 1	Dealing in securities
Type 4	Advising on securities
Type 9	Asset management

Responsible officer

For each regulated activity conducted by a licensed corporation, it must appoint not less than two responsible officers, at least one of whom must be an executive director, to supervise the business of such regulated activity. A responsible officer is an individual approved by the SFC to supervise the regulated activity or activities of the licensed corporation to which he is accredited. The same individual may be appointed to be a responsible officer for more than one regulated activity provided that he/she is fit and proper to be so appointed and there is no conflict in the roles assumed. An “executive director” of a licensed corporation is defined as a director of the corporation who (a) actively participates in; or (b) is responsible for directly supervising, any business of the regulated activities for which the corporation is licensed. Every executive director of the licensed corporation must apply to the SFC to become a responsible officer.

A person who intends to apply to be a responsible officer must demonstrate that he fulfills the requirements on both competence and fit and properness and must have been delegated sufficient authority to effectively supervise the regulated activity he/she is responsible for. An applicant should possess appropriate ability, skills, knowledge and experience to properly manage and supervise the corporation’s regulated activities to which he/she is accredited. Accordingly, the applicant should fulfill certain requirements as to academic/industry qualification, industry experience, management experience and regulatory knowledge as stipulated by the SFC. If the responsible officer intends to conduct regulated activities in relation to matters falling within the ambit of a particular code issued by the SFC, e.g. the Takeovers Code or the Code on Real Estate Investment Trusts, additional competence requirements specific to that field would apply.

Managers-in-charge of Core Function (“MICs”)

Senior management is defined by the SFC to include directors, responsible officers and managers-in-charge of core functions of a licensed corporation. Pursuant to the Circular to Licensed Corporations Regarding Measures for Augmenting the Accountability of Senior Management (the “Circular”) published by the SFC on 16 December 2016, with effect from 18 April 2017, a licensed corporation is required to designate certain individuals as MICs and provide to the SFC information about its MICs and their reporting lines. MICs are individuals appointed by a licensed corporation to be principally responsible, either alone or with others, for managing each of the following eight core functions of the licensed corporation (“Core Function(s)”):

- (i) overall management oversight;
- (ii) key business line;
- (iii) operational control and review;
- (iv) risk management;
- (v) finance and accounting;
- (vi) information technology;
- (vii) compliance; and
- (viii) anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the Circular, each licensed corporation should have at least one fit and proper person who is qualified to act in the capacity so employed or appointed as the MIC for each of its Core Functions. In a licensed corporation, one individual can be appointed as the MIC for more than one Core Function, or several individuals can be appointed as the MIC for one particular Core Function.

To determine whether an individual is a MIC of a particular Core Function, a licensed corporation should take into account the following:

- (i) whether he or she has apparent or actual authority in relation to the particular Core Function

An individual is a MIC if he/she:

- (a) occupies a position within the corporation which is of sufficient authority to enable the individual to exert a significant influence on the conduct of that Core Function;
- (b) has authority to make decisions (e.g., assume business risks within pre-set parameters or limits) for that Core Function;
- (c) has authority to allocate resources or incur expenditures in connection with the particular department, division or functional unit carrying on that Core Function; and
- (d) has authority to represent the particular department, division or functional unit carrying on that Core Function, e.g., in senior management meetings or in meetings with outside parties.

- (ii) his/her seniority within the licensed corporation

The SFC generally expects that a MIC to:

- (a) report directly to the board of the licensed corporation, or to the manager-in-charge who assumes the overall management oversight function of the licensed corporation; and
- (b) be accountable for the performance or achievement of business objectives set by the board of the licensed corporation, or by the manager-in-charge who assumes the overall management oversight function.

MIC shall be responsible for, among other things, the following:

- (i) ensuring the maintenance of appropriate standards of conduct and adherence to proper procedures by the licensed corporation;
- (ii) properly managing the risks associated with the business of the licensed corporation, including performing periodic evaluation of its risk management processes;
- (iii) understanding the nature of the business of the licensed corporation, its internal control procedures and its policies on the assumption of risk;
- (iv) understanding the extent of their own authority and responsibilities;

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

- (v) managing the anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing function;
- (vi) the adequacy and effectiveness of the licensed corporation's internal control systems, including information management compliance, audit or related reviews, operational controls and risk management; and
- (vii) examining the appropriateness of internal control systems and making any necessary amendments or changes so that they are appropriate for the operations of the licensed corporation's regulated business activities in Hong Kong.

The management structure of a licensed corporation (including its appointment of MICs) should be approved by the board of directors of the corporation. Furthermore, the board of directors should ensure that each of the licensed corporation's MICs has acknowledged his or her appointment as MIC and the particular Core Function(s) for which he or she is principally responsible.

Licensed representative

An individual is required to be a licensed representative if he/she performs a regulated function for his/her principal which is a licensed corporation in relation to a regulated activity carried on as a business, or he/she holds out as performing such function.

A person who intends to apply to be a licensed representative must fulfill the competence requirements as prescribed by the SFC (including in the Guidelines on Competence). An applicant needs to establish that he/she has the requisite basic understanding of the market in which he/she is to work as well as the laws and regulatory requirements applicable to the industry. In assessing his/her competence to be licensed as a representative, the SFC will have regard to academic and industry qualification as well as regulatory knowledge.

Fit and proper requirement

Persons applying for licences under the SFO, including licensed representations and responsible officers, must satisfy and continue to satisfy after the grant of such licences by the SFC that they are fit and proper persons to be so licensed. In simple terms, a fit and proper person means one who is financially sound, competent, honest, reputable and reliable.

Pursuant to section 129(1) of the SFO, in considering whether a person is fit and proper for the purposes of licensing or registration, the SFC shall, in addition to any other matter that the SFC may consider relevant, have regard to the following:

- the financial status or solvency;
- the educational or other qualifications or experience of the person having regard to the nature of the functions to be performed;
- the ability of the person to carry on the regulated activity concerned competently, honestly and fairly; and
- the reputation, character, reliability and financial integrity of the person and where the person is a corporation, any officer of the corporation.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

The above fit and proper criteria serve as the fundamental basis when the SFC considers each licence or registration application. Detailed guidelines are contained in the Fit and Proper Guidelines, the Licensing Handbook and the Guidelines on Competence published by the SFC.

The Fit and Proper Guidelines apply to a number of persons including the following:

- (a) an individual who applies for licence or is licensed under Part V of the SFO;
- (b) a licensed representative who applies for approval or is approved as a responsible officer under Part V of the SFO;

- (d) an authorised financial institution which applies for registration or is registered under Part V of the SFO;
- (e) an individual whose name is to be or is entered in the register maintained by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority under section 20 of the Banking Ordinance; and
- (f) an individual who applies to be or has been given consent to act as an executive officer of a registered institution under section 71C of the Banking Ordinance.

Furthermore, section 129(2) of the SFO empowers the SFC to take into consideration any of the following matters in considering whether a person is fit and proper:

- (a) decisions made by such relevant authorities as stated in section 129(2)(a) of the SFO or any other authority or regulatory organisation, whether in Hong Kong or elsewhere, in respect of that person;
- (b) in the case of a corporation, any information relating to:
 - (i) any other corporation within the group of companies; or
 - (ii) any substantial shareholder or officer of the corporation or of any of its group companies;
- (c) in the case of a corporation licensed under section 116 or 117 of the SFO or registered under section 119 of the SFO or an application for such licence or registration:
 - (i) any information relating to any other person who will be acting for or on its behalf in relation to the regulated activity; and
 - (ii) whether the person has established effective internal control procedures and risk management systems to ensure its compliance with all applicable regulatory requirements under any of the relevant provisions;
- (d) in the case of a corporation licensed under section 116 or section 117 of the SFO or an application for the licence, any information relating to any person who is or to be employed by, or associated with, the person for the purposes of the regulated activity; and
- (e) the state of affairs of any other business which the person carries on or proposes to carry on.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

The SFC is obliged to refuse to grant a licence or registration if the applicant fails to satisfy the SFC that the applicant is a fit and proper person to be licensed. The onus is on the applicant to prove to the SFC that the applicant is fit and proper to be licensed for the regulated activity.

Anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing

Licensed corporations are required to comply with the applicable anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing laws and regulations in Hong Kong as well as the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Financing of Terrorism issued by the SFC on 1 November 2018.

The guideline provides practical guidance to assist licensed corporations and their senior management in designing and implementing their own anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing policies, procedures and controls in order to meet the relevant legal and regulatory requirements in Hong Kong. Under the guideline, licensed corporations should, among other things:

- (a) assess the risks of any new products and services before they are introduced and ensure that appropriate additional measures and controls are implemented to mitigate and manage the associated money laundering and terrorist financing risks;
- (b) identify the client and verify the client's identity using reliable, independent source documents, data or information, and review from time to time documents, data and information relating to the client obtained to ensure that the client's information is up-to-date and relevant;
- (c) conduct ongoing monitoring of transactions of the clients to (i) ensure that they are consistent with the client's business, risk profile and source of funds, and (ii) identify transactions that are complex, unusually large in amount or of an unusual pattern and have no apparent economic or lawful purpose, and examine the background and purposes of those transactions and set out its findings in writing;
- (d) maintain a database of names and particulars of terrorist suspects and designated parties which consolidates the various lists that have been made known to the licensed corporation or, alternatively, make arrangements to access to such a database maintained by third party service providers; and

- (e) conduct ongoing monitoring for identification of suspicious transactions and ensure compliance with their legal obligations of reporting funds or property known or suspected to be proceeds of crime or terrorist property to the Joint Financial Intelligence Unit, a unit jointly run by the Hong Kong Police Force and the Hong Kong Customs and Excise Department to monitor and investigate suspected money laundering.

We set out below a brief summary of the principal legislation in Hong Kong that is concerned with money laundering and terrorist financing.

(1) Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing (Financial Institutions) Ordinance (Chapter 615 of the Laws of Hong Kong)

Among other things, the ordinance imposes requirements relating to client due diligence and record-keeping and provides regulatory authorities with the powers to supervise compliance with the requirements under the ordinance. In addition, the regulatory authorities are empowered to (i) ensure that proper safeguards exist to prevent contravention of specified provisions in the ordinance; and (ii) mitigate money laundering and terrorist financing risks.

(2) Drug Trafficking (Recovery of Proceeds) Ordinance (Chapter 405 of the Laws of Hong Kong)

Among other things, the ordinance empowers competent authorities to investigate assets suspected to be derived from drug trafficking activities, and contains provisions for the freezing of assets on arrest and the confiscation of the proceeds from drug trafficking activities. It is an offence under the ordinance if a person deals with any property knowing or having reasonable grounds to believe it to be the proceeds from drug trafficking. The ordinance requires a person to report to an authorised officer if he/she knows or suspects that any property (directly or indirectly) is the proceeds from drug trafficking or is intended to be used or was used in connection with drug trafficking, and failure to make such disclosure constitutes an offence under the ordinance.

(3) Organised and Serious Crimes Ordinance (Chapter 455 of the Laws of Hong Kong)

Among other things, the ordinance empowers officers of the Hong Kong Police Force and the Hong Kong Customs & Excise Department to investigate organised crime and triad activities, and gives the courts jurisdiction to confiscate the proceeds of organised and serious crimes, to issue restraint orders and charging orders in relation to the property of defendants of specified offences. The ordinance extends the money laundering offence to cover the proceeds from all indictable offences in addition to drug trafficking.

(4) United Nations (Anti-terrorism Measures) Ordinance (Chapter 575 of the Laws of Hong Kong)

Among other things, the ordinance provides that it would be a criminal offence to: (i) provide or collect funds (by any means, directly or indirectly) with the intention or knowledge that the funds will be used to commit, in whole or in part, one or more terrorist acts; or (ii) make any funds or financial (or related) services available, directly or indirectly, to or for the benefit of a person knowing that, or being reckless as to whether, such person is a terrorist or terrorist associate. The ordinance also requires a person to report his knowledge or suspicion of terrorist property to an authorised officer, and failure to make such disclosure constitutes an offence under the ordinance.

Know your client obligations of a licensed corporation

Under the Code of Conduct, a licensed corporation should take all reasonable steps to establish the true and full identity of each of its clients, and of each client's financial situation, investment experience, and investment objectives. In particular, pursuant to the Code of Conduct, where an account opening procedure other than a face-to-face approach is used, it should take satisfactorily steps to ensure the identity of the client is properly ascertained.

Where the account opening documents are not executed in the presence of an employee of the licensed or registered person, the signing of the client agreement and sighting of related identity documents should be certified by any other licensed or registered person, an affiliate of a licensed or registered person, a Justice of the Peace, or a professional person such as a branch manager of a bank, certified public accountant, lawyer or notary public.

The Code of Conduct provides that alternatively, the identity of a client (other than corporate entities) may be properly verified if the licensed or registered person complies with the following procedural steps:

- (i) the new client sends to the licensed or registered person a signed physical copy of the client agreement together with a copy of his or her identity document (identity card or relevant sections of passport) for verification of his or her signature and identity;
- (ii) the licensed or registered person should obtain and encash a cheque (in an amount not less than HK$10,000 and bearing the client's name as shown in his or her identity document) issued by the new client and drawn on the client's account with a licensed bank in Hong Kong;
- (iii) the licensed or registered person checks that the signature on the cheque issued by the client and the signature on the client agreement are the same;
- (iv) the client has been informed (in the client agreement or by way of a notice) of this account opening procedure and the conditions imposed, in particular the condition that the new account will not be activated until the cheque has been cleared; and

- (v) proper records are kept by the licensed or registered person to demonstrate that the client identification procedures have been followed satisfactorily.

Alternatively, the relevant account opening documentation should be certified using the certification services recognised by the Electronic Transactions Ordinance (Chapter 553 of the Laws of Hong Kong), such as certification services available from the Hongkong Post, or the identity of the client must be verified pursuant to the alternate prescribed procedural steps set out in the Code of Conduct.

Suitability obligations expected of a licensed corporation

Pursuant to paragraph 5.2 of the Code of Conduct, the licensed or registered person should, when making a recommendation or solicitation, ensure the suitability of the recommendation or solicitation for that client is reasonable in all the circumstances based on the information about the client of which the licensed or registered person is or should be aware through the exercise of due diligence.

The licensed or registered person should, among other things, observe the following procedural steps:

- (i) know their clients;
- (ii) understand the investment products they recommend to clients;
- (iii) provide reasonably suitable recommendations by matching the risk return profile of each investment product with the personal circumstances of each client to whom it is recommended;
- (iv) provide all relevant material information to clients and help them make informed investment decisions;
- (v) employ competent staff and provide appropriate training; and
- (vi) document and retain the reasons for each investment recommendation made to each client.

Guidelines for securities margin financing activities

In April 2019, the SFC issued its conclusions to its consultation from August 2018 which proposed new Guidelines for Securities Margin Financing Activities. The New Guidelines will take effect on 4 October 2019 and apply to (i) persons licensed for type 1 (dealing in securities) regulated activity who provide financial accommodation to any of their clients in order to facilitate acquisitions or holdings of listed securities by the persons for their clients; and (ii) persons licensed for type 8 (securities margin financing) regulated activity (collectively, “SMF brokers”). The New Guidelines do not apply to IPO loans.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

The New Guidelines provide guidance for margin lending policies and risk controls on SMF activities. The control measures specified in the New Guidelines are the minimum standards expected of SMF brokers and are not meant to be exhaustive. Some of the key aspects of the New Guidelines are as follows:

- total margin loans controls – an SMF broker may adopt a total margin loans to-capital multiple benchmark up to five only if it has high quality margin loan portfolio and complies with all other applicable provisions in the New Guidelines. An SMF broker with lower quality margin loan portfolio or weak SMF risk controls should adopt a lower total margin loans-to-capital multiple benchmark.
- margin client credit limit control – an SMF broker should set prudent credit limits for individual margin clients or groups of connected margin clients to ensure the obligations of margin clients arising from the financing provided by it are commensurate with the financial capability of the margin clients. In setting the credit limits, an SMF broker should consider, among other things, the financial situation of the client, any credit reference information, the quality of the underlying collateral and any other credit support, the investment objectives, risk appetite and trading patterns of the client.
- securities collateral concentration controls – an SMF broker should set prudent concentration limits to avoid building up excessive exposure to individual securities collateral or groups of highly correlated connected major securities collateral. It should assess if any two or more of its major securities collateral are connected regularly (at least monthly).
- margin client concentration controls – an SMF broker should set prudent concentration limits to avoid building up excessive exposure to individual margin clients or groups of connected margin clients. In setting these limits, SMF brokers should consider, among other things, its liquidity profile and capital, the financial situation of the clients, the quality of the underlying collateral, the potential financial impact on it of client defaults, the credit history of the clients, the risk profile of its margin loan portfolio, and the prevailing market conditions.
- haircuts for securities collateral – an SMF broker should maintain a list of securities acceptable by it as collateral for margin lending purpose and should apply prudent haircuts percentages to such securities collateral. In reviewing the securities, an SMF broker should consider, among other things, the financial situation of the issuer, historical price volatility of the securities concerned and any adverse news about the issuer or its senior management.
- margin calls, stopping further advances and further purchases of securities, and forced liquidation – an SMF broker should prudently set the triggers for margin call, for stopping further advances to, and further purchases of securities by, margin clients, and for forced liquidation of margin clients' securities collateral. These policies should generally be strictly applied.

REGULATORY OVERVIEW AND LICENSING REQUIREMENTS

- stress testing – an SMF broker should conduct stress tests on its excess liquid capital and liquidity regularly (at least monthly) and upon the occurrence of any material adverse market event or securities-specific event. In addition, stress tests should be conducted regularly (at least monthly) for the hypothetical stress scenario of a significant group of connected securities collateral losing all its value.

The New Guidelines require immediate notification to the SFC upon becoming aware of certain instances of non-compliance.

A failure by any SMF broker to comply with any applicable provision of the New Guidelines (a) shall not by itself render it liable to any judicial or other proceedings, but in any proceedings under the SFO before any court, the New Guidelines shall be admissible in evidence, and if any provision set out in the New Guidelines appears to the court to be relevant to any question arising in the proceedings, it shall be taken into account in determining the question; and (b) may cause the SFC to consider whether such failure adversely reflects on the SMF broker's fitness and properness and the need for regulatory action.

HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT

Introduction

Sinomax Securities, the principal operating subsidiary of our Group, was incorporated in Hong Kong with limited liability on 6 July 2001.

The founders of our business, Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung, have been the shareholders and directors of Sinomax Securities for over 18 years. As Hong Kong is one of the leading international financial centers in the world, Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung considered that there would be a high demand for brokerage services and margin financing services in Hong Kong and co-founded Sinomax Securities in July 2001 to take advantage of the business opportunities in the securities industry.

Since the incorporation of Sinomax Securities, Ms. Yeung had been involved in the business of Sinomax Securities and was mainly responsible for business development and overseeing the treasury function of Sinomax Securities. In particular, she had introduced a number of clients to Sinomax Securities through her personal business network and had contributed to the working capital of Sinomax Securities through equity subscriptions and provision of shareholders' loans to support business expansions of Sinomax Securities. Ms. Yeung also oversaw the treasury functions of Sinomax Securities. Since Mr. Ng, the son of Ms. Yeung, joined Sinomax Securities in November 2012, Ms. Yeung had intended as part of her family arrangement that Mr. Ng will succeed her while she takes a less active role in the business. Save as disclosed above, Ms. Yeung will continue to remain as a director of Sinomax Securities upon Listing and her involvement in the business operations of Sinomax Securities will remain unchanged. Ms. Yeung is not in any way prohibited from acting as a director of a listed company in Hong Kong and she has not been the subject of any regulatory concern on her integrity or competence.

At the date of its incorporation, Sinomax Securities had an issued share capital of HK$10,000,000 divided into 10,000 shares of HK$1,000 each. Since its incorporation, Sinomax Securities has expanded and gradually increased its issued share capital. As at the Latest Practicable Date, the issued and paid up share capital of Sinomax Securities was HK$80,000,000 divided into 80,000 shares, of which 48,000 Shares were owned by Mr. Keng and 32,000 Shares were owned by Ms. Yeung, representing 60% and 40 % of the issued share capital of Sinomax Securities, respectively. Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung financed the capital injections into Sinomax Securities using their personal financial resources.

HISTORY, REORGANISATION AND GROUP STRUCTURE

On 18 February 2002, Sinomax Securities became a HKEX Participant and was registered as a dealer under the then Securities Ordinance. On 18 November 2004, Sinomax Securities obtained a licence to carry out type 1 (dealing in securities) regulated activity under the SFO. On 19 August 2016, Sinomax Securities further obtained licences to carry out type 4 (advising on securities) and type 9 (asset management) regulated activities under the SFO. On 12 March 2019, Sinomax Securities obtained a Hong Kong service supplier certificate under Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement (CEPA) in connection with its securities and futures services. For further details relating to the business of Sinomax Securities, please refer to the section headed “Business” in this prospectus.

In December 2015, Sinomax Securities was granted the licence to carry on business as a money lender in Hong Kong under the Money Lenders Ordinance. However, as our Directors intend to focus our resources on developing and expanding our core services of brokerage services, margin financing services and placing and underwriting services, we have not commenced any money lending business and our Directors confirm that we have no plans to develop the money lending business in the future. As a result, Sinomax Securities did not renew the said money lender licence after the said licence expired in December 2016.

Our Group comprises three members, namely our Company, Smart Domain and Sinomax Securities.

OVERVIEW

We are a provider of financial services in Hong Kong principally engaged in the provision of securities trading services (including brokerage services and margin financing services) and placing and underwriting services.

We provide services to our clients through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, which is licensed with the SFC to carry on type 1 (dealing in securities), type 4 (advising on securities) and type 9 (asset management) regulated activities in Hong Kong. Sinomax Securities holds two Stock Exchange Trading Rights, is a participant of HKSCC and has been a Trade-through Exchange Participant since September 2018.

We mainly provide the following services to our clients through Sinomax Securities:

Securities trading services

- (a) brokerage services: we provide securities dealing and brokerage services to our clients. We act as an intermediary between buyers and sellers of securities listed on the Main Board and GEM of the Stock Exchange and facilitate our clients' trading of securities listed on overseas stock exchanges in return for brokerage commission income.
- (b) margin financing services: we offer margin financing services to our clients who wish to purchase securities on a margin basis. We provide margin financing to clients for the purchase of securities on the secondary market as well as IPO financing to clients for the subscription of shares offered under IPOs, and derive interest income from the provision of margin loans.

Placing and underwriting services

We provide placing and underwriting services by acting as (i) bookrunner, lead manager or underwriter of listing applicants in IPOs; and (ii) placing agent of listed companies in connection with their issuance or sale of securities, in return for underwriting and/or placing commission income. We also charge investors a brokerage commission when they subscribe for or acquire securities in respect of offerings of listed issuers who engaged us to provide placing and underwriting services in respect of the relevant securities.

Investment advisory services

We act as investment advisor to our clients, and provide them with (i) investment advice incidental to our securities trading services, which we provide free of charge; and (ii) investment consultancy services (whereby we may be required to meet with clients to discuss investment-related matters upon request) and issue monthly research reports in return for a fee.

Our clients in respect of our brokerage and margin financing services are mainly retail clients who reside in Hong Kong or the PRC according to the declarations in their accounts opening documentation. Our clients in respect of our placing and underwriting services are mainly companies listed or to be listed on the Stock Exchange, bookrunners, lead managers, underwriters or placing agents in respect of IPOs and secondary offerings.

We have been actively seeking growth opportunities through the expansion of our service offerings to align with the diversifying needs of our clients. As part of such strategy, we intend to allocate a portion of the net proceeds from the Share Offer to (i) establish a discretionary account management team comprising professionals qualified to offer discretionary account management services to our clients; and (ii) develop our China Connect business by applying to the HKEX for registration as a China Connect Exchange Participant.

Our revenue amounted to approximately HK$35.7 million, HK$56.7 million, HK$65.3 million and HK$25.5 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively, of which (i) approximately 46.7%, 54.9%, 32.7% and 27.5% were derived from our provision of brokerage services, respectively; (ii) approximately 29.6%, 19.8%, 20.5% and 21.1% were derived from our provision of margin financing services, respectively; (iii) approximately 22.0%, 22.7%, 44.2% and 49.9% were derived from our provision of placing and underwriting services, respectively; and (iv) approximately 1.7%, 2.6%, 2.7% and 1.5% were derived from investment advisory and other ancillary services (including nominee and scrip handling), respectively.

COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

Our Directors believe that the following competitive strengths contributed to our continued success and potential for growth as a financial service provider:

Our reputation as a reliable and quality financial and securities service provider in Hong Kong

Sinomax Securities, our operating subsidiary, has an operating history of over ten years during which time it has established a reputation as a reliable and quality financial service provider in Hong Kong.

Over the years, we have continued to develop and refine our business model (including the development and maintenance of an online trading platform and mobile application through an external service provider for easier access to the securities market) as well as diversifying our service offerings in order to better serve the needs of our clients. Our Directors believe that over the years, Sinomax Securities has become a recognised brand within the securities industry and this is largely attributable to a number of factors including, but not limited to, (i) our ability to provide personalised services through our understanding of our clients' needs in the constantly evolving financial landscape; (ii) the reasonableness and competitiveness of fees and commissions that we charge for our services; and (iii) the reliability of our operating systems and qualified staff capable of satisfying our clients' needs. Our Directors believe that these attributes will continue to assist us in growing our client base.

Established strong relationships with our clients and a stable client base

We benefit from our extensive business networks and client contacts which have over the years assisted us in gaining visibility with and access to our target clients. Through such networks and contacts, we have established a solid and stable client base which has continued to grow.

Our Directors believe that the growth of our client base is not materially attributable to the use of price competition measures (through the offering of monthly-fixed charge plans, commission ceiling plans or similar measures) or the undertaking of aggressive advertising or marketing campaigns, but through fostering and maintaining relationships with our clients (developed through the provision of reliable, quality and personalised services by our experienced AEs and staff over the years), building our brand's reputation and understanding our clients' needs and requirements. Our Directors believe that, through maintaining good relationships with our existing clients, we have, to a material extent, benefited from client referrals through the word-of-mouth of our clients who were satisfied with our services.

Experienced and competent management team and professional staff

We have a team of experienced and competent professionals with substantial expertise in formulating business strategies, monitoring and supervising compliance matters, overseeing financial condition and performance, and managing and supervising the daily operations of our Group with an aim to provide services to our clients in a reliable, efficient and professional manner.

In particular, one of our executive Directors, Mr. Sy, has over ten years experience in the financial services industry including, but not limited to, experience in the provision of brokerage services, compliance and risk management. Mr. Lam, a member of our senior management and our responsible officer, also possesses over ten years of experience in the financial services industry. Leveraging on their experience and networks in the financial industry, we believe that we are able to respond promptly and appropriately to the ever-changing market conditions and environment as well as continue to expand our client base. For details of the biographies of our management team, please refer to the section headed "Directors and senior management" in this prospectus.

Further, we have an experienced team of licensed representatives who are responsible for carrying out our regulated activities, together with our professional staff who carry out requisite business functions (including compliance, risk management, finance, accounting and settlement). Over two-thirds of our licensed representatives have been licensed with the SFC to carry on relevant regulated activities for over eight years, and over one-third of them have been accredited to Sinomax Securities for over five years. Together with our senior management team, our staff enables us to implement our business strategies, provide quality services to our clients, manage our compliance and risks, identify and capture business opportunities, maintain relationships with existing clients, and procure prospective clients.

The complementary nature of our services allows us to create synergies among our different lines of services and generate diversified and stable sources of revenue

We believe that the complementary nature of our different lines of businesses creates synergy and enables us to generate diversified and stable source of income. For example:

- (i) we are able to leverage on our existing pool of securities trading clients when acting as bookrunner, lead manager, underwriter or placing agent in placing and underwriting engagements in that our securities trading services act as a channel for procuring suitable investors to subscribe for securities offered under placing and underwriting projects undertaken by us. As such, our placing and underwriting business recorded significant growth over the Track Record Period;
- (ii) with the growth of our placing and underwriting business, we believe that there will be growing demand for our securities trading services from clients who would like to benefit from trading opportunities gained through access to allocations granted to us (for subscriptions and acquisitions of securities) under placing and underwriting projects undertaken by us; and
- (iii) the margin financing services we provide to our clients by their very nature stimulate securities brokerage activities as margin clients are required to trade through their margin accounts with us when utilising margin facilities granted to them to purchase securities on a margin basis. Also, clients who are satisfied with our securities brokerage services are generally more inclined to apply for our margin loans to fund their trading activities.

Streamlined and efficient organisational structure

Our Group has a streamlined organisational structure whereby all decisions in relation to the execution and settlement of client orders in respect of our brokerage and margin financing services will be supervised by our responsible officers. We believe that this facilitates efficient execution and settlement of client orders. Our Directors consider that our competitive edge lies in our simple and efficient organisational structure, which is ideal for our scale of operations. We believe that such a lean and streamlined structure also promotes a closer working relationship among our staff and enhances our ability to maintain a good relationship with our AEs.

Furthermore, all of our AEs in respect of our brokerage and margin financing services are self-employed; they are engaged on a commission basis (i.e. entitled to commissions from the trades of those clients referred by them to our Group and managed by them) and are not entitled to contractual fixed remuneration, such as fixed monthly salary or statutory employee benefits. Our Directors believe that this allows us to control our staff costs, which is especially important during periods of market downturn. Further, our Directors believe that, as our AEs are remunerated on the basis of the volume of trades carried out by the clients referred and managed by them, they are naturally incentivised to maintain good business relationships with their clients and to expand their client base by soliciting new clients through referrals or their networks.

BUSINESS STRATEGIESOpportunities for growth

Our Directors believe that our business is currently presented with the following opportunities which are important to our growth:

- (i) the GDP and average disposable income per capita in Hong Kong and the PRC have continued to grow, and coupled with the financial integration between the key capital market in the Guangdong – Hong Kong – Macau Greater Bay Area (the “GBA”), demand for the financial services (including equity investment and financing) in the financial service sectors in Hong Kong, Macau and the nine municipalities in the Pearl River Delta (the “PRD”) region, is expected to grow;
- (ii) the GBA Plan (formerly known as PRD Action Plan) has led to greater connections between Hong Kong and other cities in the GBA, which has in turn driven the demand for banking, financing, placing and underwriting services and asset management services in Hong Kong;
- (iii) the further integration of economics and bilateral opening of capital market between Hong Kong and the PRC (such as the launch of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect in November 2014 and December 2016, respectively) have promoted cross-boundary investments between Hong Kong and the PRC, and in particular, they have increased the amount of southbound investments into Hong Kong as the PRC investors continue to seek access to offshore investment opportunities and wealth diversification;

- (iv) several amendments to the Listing Rules which took effect in 2018, are expected to attract (a) listings of pre-revenue biotech issuers that do not meet financial eligibility tests under the Listing Rules; (b) listings of companies with weighted voting right structures; and (c) more PRC and international companies that wish to pursue secondary listing in Hong Kong. With the new listing regime in effect, the Stock Exchange recorded the largest number of IPOs globally in 2018, with prominent companies such as China Tower Corporation Limited (HKEX stock code: 788) and Xiaomi Corporation (HKEX stock code: 1810) listing in Hong Kong; and
- (v) the increasing use of mobile technology, big data, cloud computing and artificial intelligence by licensed securities intermediaries will provide more innovative products with enhanced service capabilities.

Due to the above factors, according to the Ipsos Report:

- (i) there has been an increase in demand for placing and underwriting services in Hong Kong and total revenue generated from the provision of such services increased from approximately HK$6.4 billion in 2013 to approximately HK$10.2 billion in 2018 (representing a CAGR of approximately 9.9%, with particularly strong year-on-year growth of approximately 33.7% growth in 2018 driven by favourable policies);
- (ii) the equity market is expected to grow steadily and this should give rise to sustainable demand for placing and underwriting services; with total revenues generated from such services expected to continue to increase from approximately HK$11.0 billion in 2019 to approximately HK$13.2 billion in 2022 (representing a CAGR of approximately 6.5%);
- (iii) due to promising future outlook of the securities market which is driven by favourable policies and emerging sectors (including technology, telecommunications and biotechnology), there should be a sustained increase in securities trading and margin financing activities, whereby turnover from securities trading is expected to increase at a CAGR of approximately 8.2% from 2019 to 2022;
- (iv) the demand for margin financing services is closely linked to the performance of the equity market, and has experienced a substantive increase in terms of active margin client numbers (which has grown at a CAGR of approximately 25.2% from 2013 to 2018 supported by a growing stock market), and the amounts receivable from margin clients in Hong Kong also increased by a CAGR of approximately 16.1%, supported by increasing number of listed companies and growing southbound investor interest in the Hong Kong stock market;
- (v) as securities trading continues to be active, there would be increasing demand for more value-added services (including discretionary account management and securities advisory services) from brokerage service providers that would assist investors in making investment decisions towards better investment opportunities, and the provision of such value-added services is important for brokerage service providers to seize growth opportunities; and

- (vi) whilst demand for securities trading services has gradually increased, competition among securities brokerage firms remain intense, and to remain competitive, some brokerage firms have invested in IT infrastructure as well as related human resources (including IT, compliance and risk controls) given the increased popularity and preference of using electronic and online means for executing trade orders over the years.

Our business strategies to capitalise on opportunities

We intend to capitalise on the opportunities described above as our business objective is to become one of the leading financial service providers in Hong Kong through the following means:

Strengthening our placing and underwriting business

Over the Track Record Period, our placing and underwriting business became one of our core business segments, with revenue generated from this segment experiencing significant growth, driven by strong demand from clients who our Directors believe were satisfied with our services.

Our Directors believe that our Group is well-positioned to capitalise on opportunities arising from sustainable growth in the equity market by (i) extending our industry networks; in particular with underwriters and placing agents; (ii) exploring business opportunities for acting as underwriter and placing agent in respect of IPOs and secondary offerings; in particular, to take up more significant values or to participate in a more significant manner (in terms of underwriting and placing amounts) in respect of project engagements; and (iii) expanding our placing and underwriting team through the recruitment of experienced AEs. As such, we intend to recruit more AEs to procure and solicit new clients and provide customer services to them.

Expanding our securities margin financing business

Over the Track Record Period, there has been an increase in demand from our clients for our margin financing business, which is in line with the observations in the Ipsos Report regarding demand for such services in Hong Kong. However, the SFC has recently issued the Guidelines for Securities Margin Financing Activities (to take effect from October 2019) pursuant to which licensed brokers are required not to over-leverage itself in conducting margin financing activities. In particular, the margin loans-to-capital multiple benchmark should be restricted to five or less, depending on the quality of the margin loan portfolio (meaning that a licensed broker may not provide margin loans exceeding five times its capital (including shareholders' funds and any outstanding subordinated loans approved by the SFC)). During the Track Record Period, the range of the highest and lowest margin loans-to-capital ratio for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, were 36%-81%, 43%-73%, 41%-91% and 62%-91%, respectively, since the margin loans-to-capital ratios were all under 500%, our Group's margin loans-to-capital ratio was in compliance with such SFC guidelines.

As income derived from our margin financing business has continued to contribute materially to our revenue and demand for our margin financing services has continued to grow, in light of the more stringent rules on margin loans-to-capital ratio as described above, our Directors consider that it would be commercially sensible for us to expand our margin book (i.e. increase the amount of share capital which may be utilised for the purpose of granting margin loans) to support and finance the securities trading activities of our clients on a leverage basis. Our Directors believe that such expansion of our margin book could enhance our capability on a leveraged basis in terms of size and volume of margin loans we may be able to extend to our clients, and boost our profitability.

As such, it is expected that part of the net proceeds of the Share Offer will be used to facilitate our provision of margin loans to our clients, which will be secured by pledged securities. Despite an expansion of liquidity, we will regularly review the quality of securities pledged by our clients, update margin ratios and communicate margin requirements to our clients accordingly as well as adopt prudent risk management policy to manage related risks.

Enhance our service offerings

We aim to sustain our existing client base by maintaining our clients' confidence in our services and achieving growth through our marketing efforts and client referrals. To achieve these objectives in the face of keen competition, our Directors believe that it is important to continue to improve the services which we provide to our clients. In this regard, we intend to:

- (i) develop our asset management business by establishing our discretionary account management team (comprising initially of a team head and two account executives) to provide discretionary account management services for our clients. Our Directors believe that the provision of such value-added services would assist our brokerage clients and prospective investors to gain access to better investment opportunities through professional and experienced investment managers, without having to exert significant time and efforts in carrying out investment analysis and making investment decisions. The demand for such services is also substantiated by the Ipsos Report.

Our Directors believe that the development of our discretionary account management business will not only enhance our service offering to our clients, but will also broaden our sources of income in the long term (through the generation of monthly management fees and performance-based incentives and income).

- (ii) recruit qualified research analysts to support the investment decision making processes of the discretionary account management team and support the expected growth in our placing and underwriting business.

Our Directors believe that the provision of the above value-added services would enable us to better serve existing clients as well as to potentially attract new clients.

Develop our China Connect business

According to the Ipsos Report, the launch of the China Connect was able to cater the increasing demand for offshore investments of PRC investors, and drive the demand for intermediary services of the securities and futures industry in Hong Kong and the PRC. In particular, the monthly market turnover of the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect experienced an overall increase since their official launch, and reached RMB109,219 million and RMB58,761 million in May 2019, respectively. We intend to seize the opportunity arising from such growing market turnover and increasing southbound trading and apply to the HKEX for registration as a China Connect Exchange Participant. Our Directors consider that this will in turn expand our service offerings to our brokerage clients, which will provide us with an additional source of revenue, and is expected to further generate demand from clients for margin loans for securities trading purposes.

Further enhance our IT systems

The Company has been maintaining and developing an online trading system named “i-Trade” and its related mobile application. According to the Ipsos Report, the establishment and consistent upgrading of the “i-Trade” system have granted our Company a competitive edge over the other brokerage service providers. The “i-Trade” online trading system provides a package of user-friendly, high-speed and secured solutions, including but not limited to (i) securities account management; and (ii) real-time quotes, mainly to facilitate our clients in acquiring real-time stock market information and placing investment orders in an efficient and secured way.

With our ongoing objective to remain competitive and to facilitate our proposed commencement of our China Connect services, we intend to (i) upgrade and enhance both our front office and back office trading systems (including our online trading platform and mobile application); (ii) subscribe to a new integrated system comprising both portfolio management and risk management functions, including but not limited to features such as managing security, redundancy, disaster recovery and database administration as well as providing market data (such as corporate actions, massive correlation, dividend tables and volatility datasets); (iii) subscribe to a new clients’ relationship management system with the aim of enhancing client satisfaction; (iv) subscribe to a new business continuity planning service (which includes data management and cloud storage archiving) and co-location service as a back-up workplace in case there is any disruption to our office; and (v) subscribe to the Bloomberg Terminal to enhance our analytical and research capabilities to support our asset management and placing and underwriting services.

Our Directors believe that the continued enhancement of our IT systems and infrastructure and the optimising of IT resources are important for fostering our business growth.

Client survey to rationalise our business strategies

In May 2019, our Group distributed a client survey questionnaire to all its existing clients with a view of gaining an understanding as to whether our business strategies to capitalise on perceived opportunities and related expected expenditures could be properly supported by client feedback. The findings of the survey from respondents (169 in total) ^(note) were:

- (i) approximately 72.5% of the respondents indicated that they would be supportive of plans of our Group to expand its margin book for the purpose of bolstering its margin financing services;
- (ii) approximately 45.3% of the respondents would potentially be interested in procuring discretionary account management services from our Group if such services were to be provided and related fees were reasonable;
- (iii) approximately 46.2% and 32.0% of the respondents indicated that reliability and security and speed of trade execution were important attributes of an online securities trading platform respectively, and approximately 89.6% of the respondents would support an upgrade or further customisation of our online trading platform and IT infrastructure or capability; and
- (iv) approximately 40.4% of the respondents would be interested in receiving research reports and periodical updates and/or attending investment seminars, trainings and/or events if these were to be made available to them.

Note: Surveys which were considered defective, such as those lacking client signatures, or where the relevant client signatures did not match the signature in corresponding client opening documentation, were excluded. The results below refer to responses received in respect of respondents who provided a response to the relevant questions raised only.

Our Directors believe that the client survey substantiates our belief that the pursuit of our current business strategies in capitalising opportunities (which are apparent to our clients) would assist us to better serve our existing clients, potentially attract new clients and would be beneficial to our business as a whole.

OUR BUSINESS MODELOverview

We are a provider of financial services in Hong Kong principally engaged in the provision of securities trading services (including brokerage services and margin financing services), placing and underwriting services to our clients. We also provide, to a considerably lesser extent in terms of revenue, investment advisory services to our clients.

BUSINESS

Over the Track Record Period, we generated revenue principally from (i) the provision of brokerage service pursuant to which we charged our brokerage clients for execution and/or facilitating the trading of securities on the Stock Exchange and overseas markets, which attributed to approximately 46.7%, 54.9%, 32.7% and 27.5% of our total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively; (ii) the provision of margin financing services pursuant to which we derived interest income from the provision of margin loans to our margin clients, which attributed to approximately 29.6%, 19.8%, 20.5% and 21.1% of our total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively; and (iii) the provision of placing and underwriting services whereby we charged placing and underwriting commission, which attributed to approximately 22.0%, 22.7%, 44.2% and 49.9% of our total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. We also derived an insignificant amount of revenue from the provision of monthly research reports and investment consultancy services to our clients (in return for prescribed monthly fees) as well as default interest, which we charge our brokerage clients who fail to settle trades in a timely manner. We did not charge our clients for investment advice which we provide incidental to our securities trading services.

(i) Brokerage services

We conduct our brokerage services through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, which is licensed under the SFO to carry on type 1 (dealing in securities) regulated activity as defined under the SFO.

Our product range

The types of securities which may be traded through our brokerage services include listed securities which we consider suitable for our clients based on their investment experience and/or preference. These include:

- (a) listed shares, derivative warrants, callable bull/bear contracts and other derivative products listed on the Stock Exchange; and
- (b) listed shares and bonds listed on overseas stock exchanges.

We also facilitate subscriptions to IPOs and secondary placings of Hong Kong issuers who engage our placing and underwriting services.

We are a HKEX Participant with requisite trading rights which allow us to execute trades, as an intermediary, of securities listed on the Stock Exchange.

In order to facilitate the trading by our clients of securities listed on overseas stock exchanges, we have established arrangements with various overseas brokers (being Independent Third Parties) who possess requisite trading rights with the relevant overseas stock exchanges which enable us to arrange relevant trades through them.

Methods for placing of trading orders

Our clients must maintain a securities trading account with us before they may place any securities trading orders with us. Our client accounts are divided into two main types: cash accounts and margin accounts. Cash accounts allow our clients to purchase securities with available funds or credit in his account and margin accounts allow our clients to carry out margin trading.

Trade orders can be placed by clients either (i) through our online trading platform or through our mobile application which we make available to them, both of which are serviced by a service provider who is an Independent Third Party; (ii) through our staff dealers or designated AEs via recorded telephone lines; or (iii) on-site at our office premises by submitting an order ticket. Please refer to the paragraph headed “Our operations – A. Securities trading services – (b) Brokerage business – Order taking process” in this section for further details.

Our brokerage clients

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, we had 1,493, 1,622, 1,743 and 1,778 securities brokerage clients, respectively, of which 374, 414, 389 and 243 were active clients, respectively.

BUSINESS

During the Track Record Period, our active clients mainly comprised retail clients and corporate clients (including local enterprises and corporations). The following table sets out the breakdown of securities brokerage revenue contributed by the type of client during the Track Record Period:

Although our inactive clients have not recorded any trading activity in the immediate preceding twelve months period, we are still able to generate revenue from them by charging them interests (including default interests arising from cash clients who fail to settle trades on a timely manner and interests arising from outstanding margin loans of margin clients), scrip fees, dividend collection fees and other handling fees for various “non trade-related” services.

Our staff structure

All trade orders placed by our clients are managed and executed by our AEs or staff dealers and supervised by our responsible officers directly responsible for overseeing our securities brokerage services.

Our responsible officers and staff dealers are responsible for handling the opening of securities accounts of Sinomax Securities including House Accounts and Referred Accounts.

Our staff dealers are full-time employees of Sinomax Securities and are entitled to a fixed monthly salary, statutory employee benefits as well as a portion of the brokerage commission generated from trades in Referred Accounts of clients referred by them.

Our AEs are mainly responsible for serving and handling the Referred Accounts under their own portfolio. Our AEs are self-employed rather than employees of Sinomax Securities, and are engaged on a commission basis (i.e. entitled to a portion of commissions generated from Referred Accounts of clients sourced and referred to us exclusively by them), and are not entitled to contractual fixed remuneration such as fixed monthly salary or statutory employee benefits. Our Directors believe that the engagement of AEs on a self-employed basis is in line with industry practice, and enables us to broaden our business network, reach out to more potential clients whilst minimising staff costs in a relatively lean staff structure. Since their remuneration is directly correlated to the volume of transactions carried out in the Referred Accounts managed by them, our Directors consider that they are naturally incentivised to sustain and grow their client base in line with the business interests of our Group.

Brokerage commission we charge for executing and/or arranging the execution of trades

We act as an intermediary between buyers and sellers of securities listed on the Main Board and GEM of the Stock Exchange and charge a brokerage commission for executing trade orders on behalf of our clients. We also charge brokerage commission in connection with dealing in securities (namely, subscriptions to IPOs and secondary placing of listed issuers) which we facilitated through our placing and underwriting services.

In order to gain access to securities trading on overseas stock exchanges in which we do not have any trading right, we have entered into arrangements with various brokerage firms, each being an Independent Third Party, who have requisite trading rights and/or being a trading participant of overseas stock exchanges. We maintain a client trading account with each of these overseas brokers, and when our clients place trade orders in respect of securities on those overseas stock exchanges, we will, on behalf of our clients, place back-to-back orders through our trading account maintained with the overseas broker concerned, subject to the client account having sufficient funds for executing the trade orders. For trades carried out through overseas brokers, the overseas brokers will charge brokerage fees and disbursements including trade fees charged by the relevant stock exchanges for executing the trade orders. The brokerage commission we charge our clients for an executed trade will include the total fees charged by the overseas brokers, together with a brokerage commission which we will charge for arranging the trade through the overseas brokers. The income derived from brokerage of trades in overseas markets was insignificant over the Track Record Period, representing approximately 0.1%, 0.7%, 0.1%, and 0.1% respectively, of our total revenue in the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively while the total revenue we derived from brokerage of trades on the Stock Exchange for the same period was approximately 46.6%, 54.2%, 32.6% and 27.4% of our total revenue in the respective periods.

In addition to brokerage commissions we charge our clients for trades executed through us, we also charge default interest (which accrues on a daily basis) on amounts owed to us by clients who have executed a trade but failed to settle the trade within the T+2 period for securities settlement as prescribed by the rules of the HKSCC (or such period within which trades on overseas stock exchange(s) are required to be settled in respect of trades arranged through overseas broker(s)).

Our pricing philosophy and policy

Since 1 April 2003, minimum brokerage rates in respect of securities trading in Hong Kong have been deregulated. Therefore, the amount of brokerage fees charged by brokerage firms are subject to market forces and have become susceptible to downward pressure from time to time. Under this more competitive commission regime, competition in the securities brokerage industry has been vigorous and some securities brokerage firms have adopted aggressive pricing strategies to seize opportunities to enlarge their client base and expand their market coverage. It was observed that price competition among brokerage firms has resulted in a decrease in brokerage commission rates in Hong Kong in recent years.

The major reason for further competition in the securities industry was mainly due to market saturation as there have been an increasing number of brokerage firms entering into the market (including large multinational financial institutions such as banks and investment banks with a global network and local presence in Hong Kong, as well as from small and medium-sized local financial services firms). We would therefore need to compete against our competitors who may have a larger client base, greater brand recognition in the market, more human and financial resources, ability to offer a wider range of services, more advanced technology and lean structures to squeeze pricing, have more established networks and business relationships and/or have longer operating history than that of our Group. The risks arising from such competition (rather than direct price competition) have already been included in the section headed “Risk Factors” of this prospectus.

While we make every effort to compete effectively with other market players, we generally do not, and do not intend to, participate in price competition or offer plans (such as monthly-fixed-charge plans or commission ceiling plans) to remain competitive. Given that we do not generally engage in direct price competition (including the adoption of aggressive pricing strategies such as providing price ceiling plans etc.), our Directors are of the view that direct price competition is not a material risk to our brokerage business and profitability but rather differentiates ourselves from our competitors through our proven track record, strong relationships with clients, experienced management team and competent team of licensed representatives, diverse lines of services and streamlined and efficient organisational structure. Therefore, we make efforts to compete effectively through, inter alia, understanding our clients’ needs, delivering quality services to clients through suitably qualified and experienced staff, and maintaining an efficient and lean cost structure.

Due to the aforesaid reasons, we do not necessarily set the lowest price offered in the market in determining the brokerage commission we charge in respect of House Accounts. Rather, the brokerage commission we charge is based on inter alia, (i) the brokerage commission charged by securities brokerage firms we consider as competitors who provide a similar quality of services as we provide; and (ii) arm's length negotiation with our clients with reference to their background and profile (including their trading history, volume and frequency of trades, financial credibility and the length of client relationship). For example, our senior management may agree to offer clients who are active traders a more favourable commission rate if their trading volume reach or are expected to reach a certain prescribed amount. Such offers are made and approved on a case-by-case basis.

As the amount of brokerage commission we charge on securities traded through the Referred Accounts will have a direct bearing on the amount of commissions which are payable to our staff dealers or AEs responsible for the relevant accounts, we generally permit our staff dealers and AEs to negotiate with our clients in respect of the amount of brokerage commission chargeable on Referred Accounts. We believe that while staff dealers and AEs may be incentivised to negotiate higher brokerage commissions with clients, this is balanced against their ability to acquire or retain clients with such higher brokerage commissions. In respect of Referred Accounts, out of the commission rate we charge our clients for executing and/or arranging execution of trades ranged from 0.075% to 0.25% of the transaction value of the relevant trade order, we retain a range of brokerage commission ranging from 0.075% to 0.125% of the transaction value (as agreed with our staff dealers and AEs).

In respect of subscription to IPOs and secondary placing transactions procured through our placing and underwriting services, we charge a commission of 1.0% of the subscription price of relevant securities, which is equivalent to the amount set for IPO transactions pursuant to paragraph 7 of Appendix 8 to the Main Board Listing Rules and paragraph 6 of Appendix 9 to the GEM Listing Rules or other applicable requirements.

The default interest rate we charge our clients who default in their settlement of trades is determined by our responsible staff dealer or AE who take into account factors such as the client's financial condition and credibility, prevailing market conditions and interest rates. The default interest rate requires the final approval of our responsible officers, and may be adjusted from time to time subject to prevailing circumstances.

On the basis of the above pricing policies, over the Track Record Period:

- (i) the commission rate we charged our clients for executing and/or arranging the execution of trades ranged from 0.075% to 0.25% of the transaction value of relevant trade order;
- (ii) we generally charged our clients a brokerage commission of 1.0% of the subscription price of securities in connection with subscriptions to IPOs and secondary placing transactions procured through our placing and underwriting services; and
- (iii) the default interest rate we charged our cash clients in respect of defaults in settlement of trades executed through us is generally 7.0% above the prevailing Hong Kong Prime Rate per annum.

For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, we generated (i) total brokerage commission of approximately HK$16.7 million, HK$31.1 million, HK$21.3 million and HK$7.0 million, respectively, of which approximately HK$330,000, HK$400,000, HK$246,000 and HK$83,000 were paid to our staff dealers and AEs for the respective periods; and (ii) total default interest income of approximately HK$680,000, HK$960,000, HK$544,000 and HK$136,000, respectively.

(ii) Margin financing services

We offer margin financing services to our clients to facilitate their purchases of securities on a margin basis, both for IPOs and in the secondary market. In each case, the relevant underlying securities are pledged as collateral in order to secure clients' repayment obligations.

Method of obtaining a margin loan

Each of our clients who wishes to obtain margin financing from us is required to open and maintain a margin account (being a margin account) with Sinomax Securities and sign a margin agreement before the commencement of any margin trading. The credit limit which may be approved for a client would depend on their background (including employment status and investment experience), financial standing as well as trading behaviour (including portfolio concentration and liquidity and/or price volatility of the stocks traded).

As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, a total of 192, 288, 377 and 387 margin accounts, respectively, were opened for our clients, of which 96, 157, 183 and 125 were active accounts, respectively.

BUSINESS

Interest income

We generate income from charging interest on the outstanding principal amount of margin loans which we provide to our margin clients.

Pricing policy

The interest rate we charged our margin clients during the Track Record Period ranged from 2.0% above the prevailing Hong Kong Prime Rate up to 21.6% per annum. The interest rate we charged is determined with reference to the relevant client's trading record, creditworthiness and trading behaviour, the quality of securities pledged and/or other collateral given to secure the margin loan. We may charge higher interest rates to clients we consider as being of higher credit risk.

Margin limits and collateral arrangements

Margin clients are required to maintain cash and/or acceptable securities as collateral to secure their repayment obligations in respect of margin loans they borrow for trading. To minimise our credit risk exposure, the maximum margin loan which we may extend to a client (i.e. the margin limit) for margin trading is limited by the amount and quality of the collateral maintained by the client in its margin account.

We accept cash and securities listed on the Stock Exchange as eligible collateral, but warrants, securities listed on GEM, suspended or unlisted securities or securities listed on other stock exchanges are not eligible to be posted as collateral for the purpose of securing repayment of margin loans.

The table below sets forth the breakdown of the nature of securities pledged by our clients as collateral under our margin financing business:

Notes:

- Blue chip securities mean listed securities that are constituent stocks of the HSI.

2. For illustrative purpose, we also take security over securities of GEM listed companies, but the margin ratio of the securities of GEM listed companies was 0% during the Track Record Period because they are not eligible to be posted as collateral for the purpose of securing repayment of margin loans.
3. Warrants are not accepted as eligible collateral in determining the margin limit we impose on a margin client, although they are pledged as collateral to secure repayment obligations, we are nevertheless entitled to dispose these securities in the event of default.
4. Since October 2019, we no longer accept bonds as eligible collateral in determining the margin limit we impose on a margin client.

Our responsible officers and risk management team maintain a list of stocks eligible to be posted as collateral, together with corresponding margin ratios (being the maximum percentage of financing our margin clients may borrow against the market value of eligible stocks in their margin accounts).

We determine the margin ratio of individual securities in respect of our margin financing business with reference to LTV ratio for eligible securities adopted by the retail banks in Hong Kong for securing overdraft facilities. On such basis, we generally designate a margin ratio of (i) 60% to HSI constituent stocks; (ii) between 30-50% for constituent stocks of other Hang Seng indices (such as the Hang Seng China Enterprises Index or the Hang Seng Composite Index) which are not constituent stocks of HSI; and (iii) less than 30% for other listed shares with reference to the market capitalisation of the relevant issuer as well as the historic price volatility and liquidity of the relevant shares. Further, as a general policy as of October 2019, we designate a margin ratio of 0% for shares of issuers listed on GEM, bonds and derivatives, including warrants and callable bull/bear contracts (i.e. such securities are not eligible for securing margin loans) although we nevertheless take collateral over such securities for securing repayment obligations of relevant clients.

Upon request, we may reassess the margin limit of a client based on trading volume in his/her margin amount, types and quality of securities collateral posted, as well as his/her settlement history.

IPO financing

We provide IPO financing to clients for subscriptions to shares offered under IPOs. The interest rate we offer to our clients for IPO financing is generally determined on the same basis as the interest rate we offer for margin financing for other securities dealing purposes.

For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, we generated approximately HK$9.9 million, HK$10.3 million, HK$12.8 million and HK$5.2 million, in interest income from our provision of margin financing services respectively.

We have adopted a credit control policy and implemented various measures in order to control our exposure to credit risks arising from our provision of margin financing to our clients, including, inter alia:

- (i) approval of a responsible officer and/or our credit control committee for certain matters (including, inter alia, the designation of a credit limit to each client, the interest rates which shall be chargeable on margin loans of each client, client's request for withdrawal or transfer of funds or stock collateral, or the exercise of discretion for approving further dealing in securities for clients who are subject to a margin call);
- (ii) maintenance of a list of acceptable securities which may be posted as collateral for securing margin loans as well as respective margin ratios in respect of such securities;
- (iii) regular review of the quality of securities pledged as collateral by our clients, updating margin ratios (as necessary) and communicating margin requirements and making margin calls to clients as appropriate. In particular:
 - (a) margin call reports are generated by our trading system on a daily basis and are reviewed by a responsible officer and/or our credit control committee; and
 - (b) in determining whether to cause a forced liquidation of pledged collateral to limit our risk exposure, we would consider factors including the creditworthiness and settlement history of the relevant client, the prevailing market conditions leading to the margin call and the quality of pledged collateral etc;
- (iv) regular review of our exposure to concentration risks arising from taking of a single stock as collateral or the provision of a material amount of margin loans to a single client;
- (v) assessments conducted by our credit control committee of credit risks arising from overdue repayments from clients or the failure of clients in posting requisite collateral;
- (vi) regular review of the implementation, sufficiency and efficacy of the credit risk management systems and measures adopted by us from time to time; and

(vii) stringent compliance with relevant statutory and SFC requirements, including:

- (a) ensuring that the amount of outstanding bank borrowings, overdrafts and advances drawn down by us (using bank facilities and credit lines made available to us) do not exceed 120% of the value of outstanding margin loans we make to our clients;
- (b) ensuring the aggregate market value of securities collateral pledged to us which we repledge to our lenders does not exceed 140% of the aggregate amount of margin loans; and
- (c) notifying the SFC when the aggregated outstanding balance of borrowings drawn under our bank credit facilities is equal to or exceeds 80% of the total credit limit granted to us, if we repledge securities collateral for borrowing from authorised institutions.

Our credit control policies (including our margin call policy) are set out in margin client agreements which our margin clients are required to enter with us before margin or IPO financing may be provided to them. Such margin client agreements would include risk disclosure statements in a prominent position that our margin clients have, pursuant to the terms of the margin client agreement, authorised us, by way of a standing authority, to pledge securities in their securities account as collateral to secure their margin loans, and that such pledged securities may be further repledged by us to secure debt financing that may be undertaken by us.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, our credit control committee consists of two members, including (i) Mr. Sy, the chief executive officer of our Group and a responsible officer of securities trading activities of Sinomax Securities; and (ii) Mr. Ng, the head of the risk management department and a responsible officer of securities trading activities of Sinomax Securities.

Our Directors believe that Sinomax Securities has adopted a prudent credit risk policy, and as such, no loss had resulted from any default of repayment of margin loans by our clients during the Track Record Period.

BUSINESS

The following table sets forth a summary of the key operating and financial information of our margin financing business over the Track Record Period:

	For the year ended 31 March			For the four months ended

Lowest month-end balance of all margin loans	40,173.0	54,767.4	68,202.6	135,343.3
Range of month-end-LTV ratio (%) on an individual basis ^(Note 4)	0.4%- 745.7% (Note 5)	0.4%- 108.3%	0.4%- 127.9%	2.2%- 97.6%

Notes:

- These refer to collateral pledged for security margin loans drawn down by clients to support securities trading.
- Average LTV ratio is calculated based on the balance of the margin loan as at 31 March 2017, 31 March 2018, 31 March 2019 and 31 July 2019 divided by the market value of the collateral held as at the corresponding dates.

BUSINESS

3. Such ratio is calculated as the aggregated amount of margin loan receivables divided by the total market value of the collateral held for margin loans drawn down by clients to support the securities trading as at month-end of the relevant financial year.
4. Such ratio is calculated based on the highest and lowest LTV ratio of individual margin account recorded as at month-end of the relevant financial year, with collateral pledged for security margin loans. These exclude all margin loans for IPO subscription.
5. Saved for one incident where the shares purchased by a client experienced more than 16.24% drop in price within six Business Days period, the range of month-end-LTV ratio on an individual basis for the year ended 31 March 2017 was 0.4% to 119.9%. As we have not recorded any other month-end-LTV ratio of more than 130% on an individual basis during the Track Record Period, our Directors consider that it was an isolated one-off incident which do not have a material impact on the operations, and financial position of our Group.

Further, it should be noted that prior to August 2019, we would make margin calls where the LTV ratio exceeded 80% rather than based on triggering levels for making first and successive margin calls taking into account relevant factors, including, quality, volatility and liquidity of securities collateral provided by clients. Such use of a more lax benchmark has led to less incidents which would warrant the consideration of margin call waivers than the use of prescribed margin ratio. For further details, please refer to the paragraph headed “Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2019 – (2) Securities Margin Financing – Lax margin call triggers and documentation standard” in the section headed “Business” in this prospectus.

(iii) Services ancillary to the provision of securities trading services

Our staff dealers and AEs may provide our securities brokerage clients with various advice in respect of securities traded through us. Such advice is provided typically to guide the investment decisions of our clients and may include advice relating to the latest buy/sell prices. We do not charge our clients any separate or additional fee for providing such advisory services to them.

In addition, we provide other ancillary services related to our securities trading business, including the provision of nominee services (to assist clients with the collection of share certificates or dividends) and scrip handling services. For such services, we charge our clients a scrip fee, dividend collection fee and/or handling service fee (as applicable), which are recognised when the agreed services have been provided. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, the total income generated from such ancillary services amounted to approximately HK$0.6 million, HK$0.9 million, HK$1.5 million and HK$0.4 million, respectively, representing approximately 1.6%, 1.7%, 2.3% and 1.5% of our total revenue, respectively.

Our clients and client accounts

As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, clients of Sinomax Securities maintained a total of 1,679, 1,892, 2,013 and 2,050 client accounts for carrying on of securities trading, of which approximately 22%, 22%, 19% and 12% were active accounts, respectively.

In general, each client of our securities trading business is required to hold either a cash account or a margin account. We maintain margin accounts for clients who carry out margin trading and cash accounts for clients who do not.

From a client administration perspective, we have two categories of securities trading accounts, namely:

- (i) House Accounts: these are accounts held by walk-in clients or clients introduced by our management without direct involvement or referral of staff dealers or AEs. All the brokerage commissions generated in such accounts will be recognised as income of our Group and will not be shared with staff dealers or AEs; and
- (ii) Referred Accounts: these are accounts held by clients which were referred to us by staff dealers or AEs who will be responsible for serving them (including their execution of trade orders). Brokerage commissions generated in such accounts will be shared with the relevant staff dealers or AEs who referred the client to us.

We did not carry out material proprietary trading activities over the Track Record Period and therefore we closed our proprietary trading account on 17 June 2019. Over the Track Record Period, the amount of commission income generated from trading in our proprietary trading account amounted to approximately HK$1,000.

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, we had 984, 1,192, 1,300 and 1,336 House Accounts, and 695, 700, 713 and 714 Referred Accounts, respectively.

Notes:

1. A number of our clients have opened both cash and margin accounts depending on their securities trading activities.
2. Accounts which recorded at least one trading activity (purchase and/or sale of securities) within the immediately preceding 12 months are regarded as active accounts.

For the purpose of carrying out securities trading, clients are required to deposit funds in their client accounts opened with us. We generally only accept deposits from clients through bank accounts which they maintain with an Authorised Institution in Hong Kong.

To mitigate anti-money laundering risks, we may require our clients to provide evidence of their source of funding (for example, requiring the provision of a copy of a personal cheque bearing the client's name) in respect of large deposits or when suspicious fund transfers are detected.

(B) Placing and underwriting services

We provide placing and underwriting services by acting as (i) bookrunner, lead manager or underwriter in respect of listing applicants in IPOs; and (ii) placing agent of listed companies in connection with the issuance or sale of securities, in return for placing and underwriting commission income. We also charge investors a brokerage commission when they subscribe for securities of issuers through our placing and underwriting services.

Acting as bookrunner, lead manager or underwriter in relation to IPOs

Our clients comprised companies listed or to be listed on the Stock Exchange, lead underwriters or placing agents in respect of IPOs and secondary offerings.

Where we act as an underwriter in an IPO, we are obliged to take up or procure the applications of any unsubscribed shares offered by the issuer in the IPO up to our maximum underwriting commitment, as agreed with the lead bookrunner or manager and the issuer in the relevant underwriting agreement, in the event of any undersubscription of shares in the relevant share offer. We charge our clients underwriting commissions which are typically either a pre-determined fixed fee or a fixed percentage of the aggregate offer price of the number of securities underwritten by us. The rate of underwriting commission payable to us for IPOs is negotiated with the bookrunners or lead managers on an arm's length basis.

BUSINESS

For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, our aggregate underwriting commitments for IPOs amounted to approximately HK$176 million, HK$186 million, HK$721 million and HK$163 million, respectively, and the value of securities placed amounted to approximately HK$50 million, HK$830 million, nil and nil, respectively. During the Track Record Period, we did not subscribe, as principal on our own account, for any securities under the underwriting or placing exercises as a result of undersubscription in respect of our underwriting commitments.

Acting as placing agent in IPOs and secondary offering

We may be engaged to place securities on an agreed price on a best effort basis within a period of time when we acted as placing agent for the issue of new securities by listing applicants or listed issuers. We charge our clients placing commissions for acting as placing agent in respect of the issue of securities based on the aggregate placing price of the securities successfully placed by us.

During the course of providing our placing and underwriting services, we may engage sub-placing agents or sub-underwriters, to form placing and/or underwriting syndicates. We aim to leverage on these parties' distribution capabilities for the completion of the placing and underwriting exercise, in order to share the risks of undersubscriptions, and/or to lessen the extent of depletion of our liquid capital in meeting capital requirements under the FRR. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, the amount of expenses which we have incurred for engaging in such syndication activities as part of our placing and underwriting services amounted to approximately HK$1.0 million, HK$3.9 million, HK$4.6 million and HK$1.2 million, respectively.

The following table sets out a summary of the placing and underwriting projects undertaken by our Group during the Track Record Period:

BUSINESS

Our placing and underwriting business has grown significantly since we commenced the business in 2016. Our revenue generated from our placing and underwriting business amounted to approximately HK$7.8 million, HK$12.9 million, HK$28.8 million, HK$6.3 million and HK$12.7 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019, the four months ended 31 July 2018 and 31 July 2019, respectively, representing an increase of approximately 102.5% from the four months ended 31 July 2018 to the four months ended 31 July 2019.

We attribute the success of our placing and underwriting business to the synergy which is created by the complementary nature of our securities trading business. In particular, our brokerage business offers a channel for us to procure investors to subscribe for securities under IPOs or secondary offerings (i.e. we are able to effectively market securities which we have undertaken to place or underwrite to our brokerage clients).

BUSINESS

We are undertook a total of 70 placing or underwriting projects over the Track Record Period in which we acted as bookrunner, lead manager, underwriter and/or placing agent. Of these projects, 61 related to placing and/or underwriting of share offers of Main Board listing applicants or listed issuers, and 9 related to the placing and/or underwriting of share offers of GEM listing applicants or listed issuers.

Our underwriting commitment of the underwriting projects undertaken over the Track Record Period ranged from approximately 0.0002% to 99.9950%, with the mean and median of the underwriting commitment are approximately 9.51% and 0.96% respectively. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, our underwriting commitment accounted for an average of 8.01%, 10.86%, 11.88%, and 5.20% of the total funds raised by the relevant underwriting projects. Of these projects, our underwriting commitment accounted for less than 10% of the total funds raised in respect of 14, 9, 20 and 10 underwriting projects in the respective periods.

During the Track Record Period, our Group relied on Mr. Lam, the executive director of the equity capital markets department of Sinomax Securities, in identifying and pitching to potential clients for placing and underwriting projects. Such reliance has decreased over the last two years, whereby the amount of fees of our Group attributable to projects referred by Mr. Lam decreased from 94.9% for the year ended 31 March 2018 to approximately 51.5% for the year ended 31 March 2019, to approximately 30.6% for the four months ended 31 July 2019. With a view to further developing and ensuring the sustainability of our placing and underwriting business, our Group plans to hire an additional responsible officer with industry networks as well as a proven track record and experience in supervising placing and underwriting activities as part of our business plan. For further details, please refer to the section headed “Future plans and use of proceeds” of this prospectus.

Commissions and fees

During the Track Record Period, commissions and fees generated by our placing and underwriting services contributed to approximately 22.0%, 22.7%, 44.2% and 49.9% of our total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. Our pricing policy

The commission we charge for placing and underwriting engagements varies on a case-by-case basis and is agreed with our client (which may be the listing applicant or the lead manager(s), bookrunner(s) or underwriter(s) (as applicable) in respect of IPOs, or the listed issuer or the lead underwriter(s) in respect of secondary offers and placings) based on arm's length negotiations. The factors that would be considered in such negotiations include, among other things, the size, nature, structure and complexity of the relevant fund raising or offering, the proposed pricing and valuation of the offering, the expected amount of time and resources required for performing our roles and duties in the book building process, the number of underwriters and placing agents expected to be involved, the number of shares to be placed or underwritten by us, the business and financial performance of the relevant listing applicant or listed issuer, as well as the then market conditions and investor sentiment.

Our commissions in respect of placing and underwriting engagements are typically (i) based on a pre-determined fixed fee; or (ii) based on a fee calculated with reference to a percentage of the total price of the shares underwritten or placed by us.

Components of remuneration forming our commissions may include, without limitation, (i) underwriting commissions which is typically shared among underwriters involved in syndication; (ii) selling concessions, which is calculated as a discount from the price of an offering in respect of placed or sold securities; (iii) a praecipium, which is typically paid to the lead manager in connection with management of the offering which is not shared among underwriters involved in syndication; (iv) an incentive fee which is typically paid by the issuer to the lead manager on a discretionary basis upon completion of the offering, and shared among underwriters involved in the syndication at the discretion of the lead manager; and (v) such other fees or commissions as may be agreed with the client.

The lead manager may be entitled to deduct, from the commissions payable to underwriters involved in syndication in respect of any offering, (i) the underwriters' share of costs and expenses incurred by the lead manager in connection with the offering which are not paid or reimbursed to the lead manager by the issuer; (ii) costs and expenses arising from stabilisation activities or other transactions effected pursuant thereto; or (iii) such other costs and expenses which the underwriters may agree to be liable for in respect of the syndication.

BUSINESS

The following table summarises the effective placing and underwriting commission rates which were charged by us over the Track Record Period (including any underwriting commission, selling concessions, praecipium or other fees (as applicable) charged by us, but without taking into account any discretionary incentive fee that may be paid to us or shared costs and expenses that may be incurred by us in respect of relevant engagements):

(C) Investment advisory services

We provide investment advisory services to our clients through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, a corporation which has been licensed with the SFC to carry on type 4 (advising on securities) regulated activity since 19 August 2016.

We act as investment advisor to our clients, and provide them with (i) investment advice incidental to our securities trading services which we provide free of charge; and (ii) investment consultancy services (whereby we may be required to meet with clients to discuss investment-related matters upon request and issue monthly research reports) in return for a fee. For the years ended 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, the revenue contributed by our investment advisory business amounted to approximately HK$514,000, HK$242,000 and nil, respectively, representing approximately 0.9%, 0.4% and nil of our total revenue, respectively. We did not generate any revenue from providing investments advisory for the year ended 31 March 2017.

Our investment advisory fees were determined on a case-by-case basis after arm's length negotiations with each client. During the Track Record Period, we charged our clients a fixed advisory fee which was determined with reference to, among others, the scope of our duties, the length of time we expected to spend on the transaction, the complexity of the topics of research and our expected workload.

OUR OPERATIONS

A. Securities trading services

The key processes involved in our securities trading business include (i) account opening; (ii) order taking (in respect of our brokerage services); (iii) loan application, approval and monitoring (in respect of our margin financing services); and (iv) account closing. These processes are summarised below:

(a) Our account opening procedures

As a corporation licensed with the SFC, Sinomax Securities is required to comply with the requirements of the Code of Conduct and other requirements of the SFC when opening a cash account or margin account for a client. To comply with these requirements:

- (i) our staff dealer or AE will take reasonable steps including: (a) verifying the identity of the applicant through examination of identity documents; (b) requiring the identification documentation provided to be dated and the application form to be signed by the applicant in the presence of our staff dealer or AE (or countersigned by the applicable certifying person where non-face-to-face approach is adopted); (c) having the completion of the account opening form attended and witnessed by a staff dealer or AE; (d) reviewing all completed account opening documentation by a staff member of our compliance department or the responsible AE; (e) explaining the risk disclosure statements to the applicant following confirmation of his/her name and identity document details; and (f) sending the login details of the trading account by mail or email to the address provided by our client.

In taking these steps, we are able to establish the true and full identity of each of our clients (or the person or entity ultimately responsible for the originating trade instructions, and the person(s) and entity(ies) that stands to gain the commercial or economic benefit and/or bear the commercial or economic risk of transactions) and their financial situation, investment experience and knowledge in trading securities products and investment objectives prior to opening a cash account or margin account for them. Our staff dealers or AEs will follow a checklist to ensure that all required documents are obtained prior to opening an account;

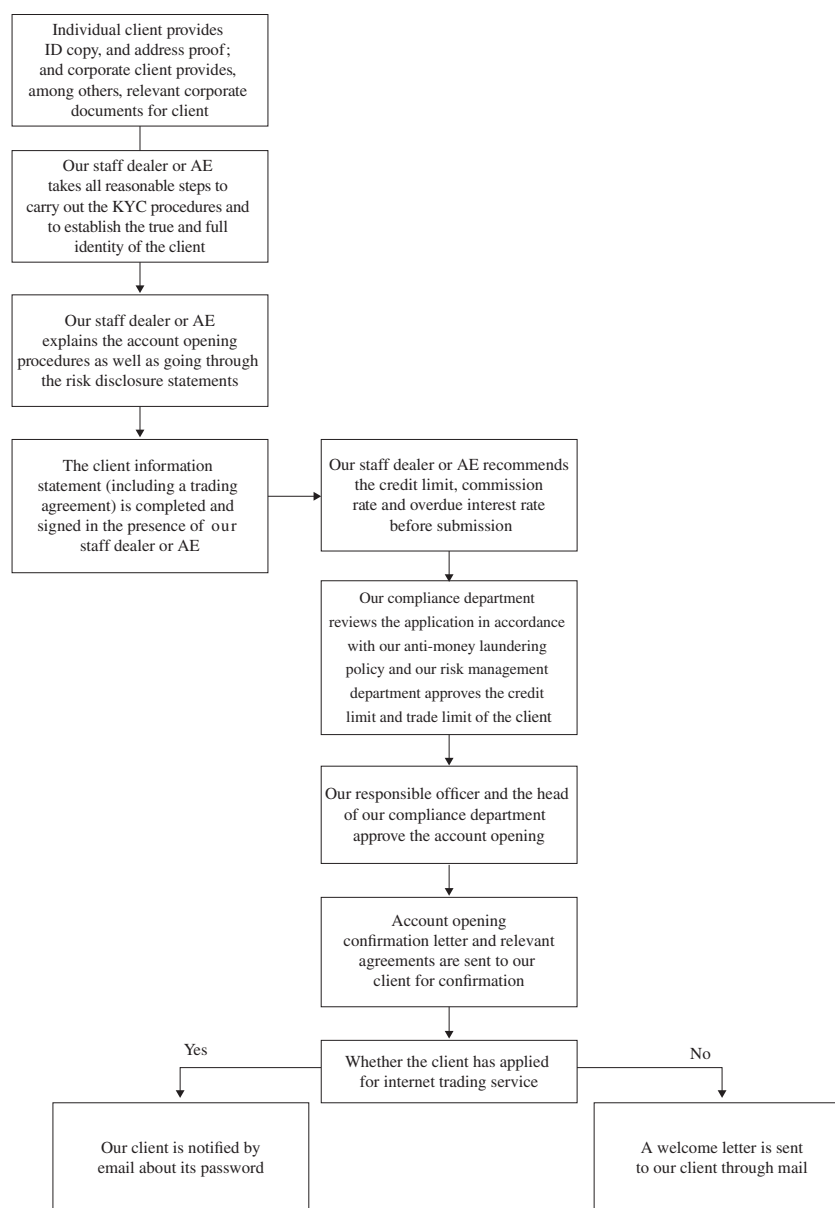

- (ii) all documentation will be submitted to our compliance department which will perform a due diligence review (including online background check) on the potential client and determine if any additional documentation may be required;

- (iii) during the account opening process for a client:
 - (a) a risk assessment is carried out based on our internal guidelines relating to anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing; and
 - (b) a credit assessment is carried out (based on factors such as net assets and source of income) and each client will be designated a credit limit or be made subject to other conditions based on their credit rating; such credit limit will be monitored by our dealing staff during trading hours and our clients will not be able to execute trades in excess of their credit limit except with the approval of the responsible officer of Sinomax Securities;
- (iv) each of our clients is required to enter into a written client agreement (in compliance with the content requirements of the Code of Conduct) and complete all the account opening documentation with us before services are provided to them;
- (v) the execution of the client agreement and account opening documentation by our client and the signing and certification of his/her identity documents (such as identity cards, passports, address proofs or corporate documents) are normally carried out in the presence of our staff dealer or AE in Hong Kong. Alternatively, we also accept certification by a Justice of the Peace, a solicitor, a notary public or a certified public accountant and any such certification will be checked by a responsible officer of Sinomax Securities;
- (vi) our staff dealer or AE will explain the terms and conditions stated in the client agreement to our client as well as read to him/her the risk disclosure statements prescribed under the Code of Conduct. Our client will be advised to obtain independent advice in respect of any uncertainty he/she has prior to the opening the account;
- (vii) all account documentation and information provided by a client will be reviewed and approved by the head of the compliance department and a responsible officer of Sinomax Securities in order to complete the account opening procedure. Based on the financial ability of a potential client, further conditions on trading may be imposed on a particular client which will be recorded by the dealing staff of our operations department;
- (viii) where the account opening is approved, our settlement department will enter all required client information into our system, allot our client with an account number, create an account on our online trading platform with an assigned login and initial password, and notify the operations department which will be responsible for ensuring the account is fully functional. Our client will then be informed in writing that the account is in operation and be provided with detailed procedures to download and install the software for accessing our online trading platform or our mobile application together with the relevant account login details and initial password; and

- (ix) if a potential client's application is declined, the relevant applicant will be informed and the relevant client agreement, account opening documentation and information will be kept for record purposes.

We keep all client records and information, including copies of client agreement and account opening documentation securely at our premises in accordance with the requirements of the Securities and Futures (Keeping of Records) Rules (Chapter 571O of the Laws of Hong Kong). We require our clients to provide updated supporting documents when there are changes in any of their personal particulars supplied to us. All account documentation and information are approved by one of our responsible officers.

The following flowchart illustrates our procedures for account opening of both margin and cash accounts:

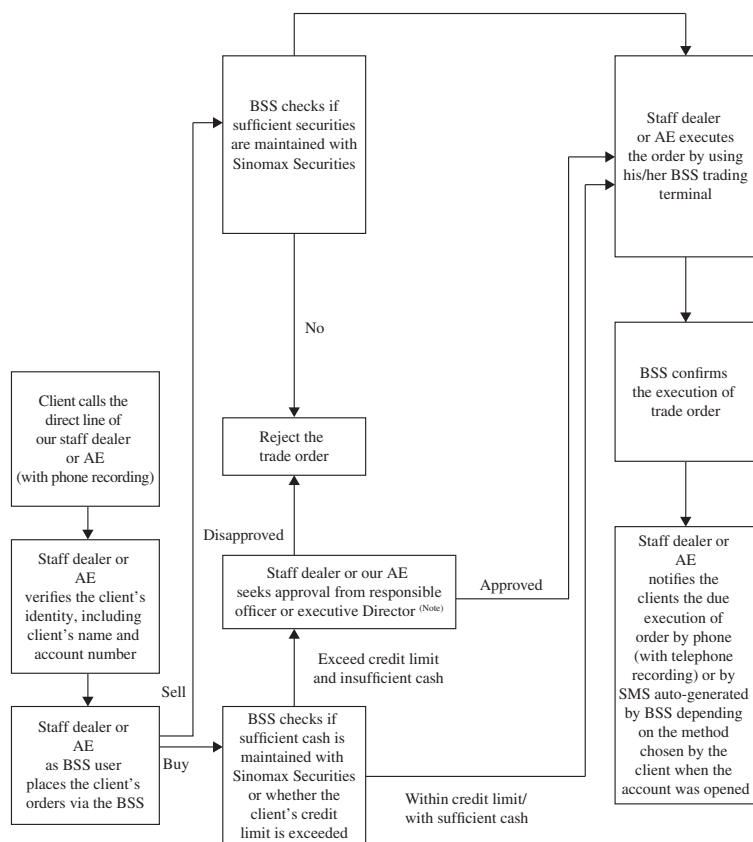

(b) Brokerage business – order taking process

Clients may place trade orders with us for securities trading (i) through telephone; (ii) through our online trading platform accessible at our website or through our mobile application; or (iii) on-site at our office premises by submitting an order ticket. These processes are summarised below:

(i) through telephone

Our Group has authorised our staff dealers and AEs to take telephone orders from our clients. All phone communications between our clients and our staff dealers or AEs are recorded by our tape recording system with immediate time stamp records of our client's instructions as an internal control measure. All staff dealers or AEs should maintain these telephone recordings for at least six months. Our staff dealers or AEs are prohibited from receiving trading orders through mobile phones. No trading order is placed unless the identity of our client can be verified to the satisfaction of the responsible staff dealer or AE. The responsible staff dealer or AE can place order with details through the BSS. Upon execution of a trade order in respect securities listed on the Stock Exchange through the BSS, the responsible staff dealer or AE would confirm the executed order with our client by phone through our telephone recording system or by trade which is automatically generated by the BSS.

The following flowchart illustrates our order taking and securities dealing procedures for our clients who place orders via telephone:

Note: If our client's buy order exceeds his credit limit, our staff dealer or AE may seek approval from a responsible officer as to whether he/she may proceed with the client's buy order. Our responsible officer may override the credit limit after assessing the client's past trading and settlement record, the overall portfolio of the client, and the prevailing market conditions. However, we have in place a policy which governs the maximum amount of exceeded credit limit which can be approved by a responsible officer. If the turnover of the trade order exceeds the approval authority of our responsible officers, then prior approval from our chief executive officer or an executive Director would need to be obtained.

In respect to our cash clients, if the relevant client fails to settle his transactions within T+2 period, our responsible officer or executive Director may exercise discretion whether or not he/she should be allowed to place trade orders when he/she does not have sufficient cash in his/her account. In exercising such discretion, the following factors relating to the relevant client will be considered: (i) background and financial status, such as employment details; (ii) financial wealth and net assets; and (iii) investment experiences and trading behaviours. Even if a discretion is exercised, the relevant cash client will have to trade within his/her credit limit and our responsible officer will monitor his/her credit risks by the LTV ratio (which has to be less than 30%). Meanwhile, our margin clients are allowed to place trade orders even if they fail to settle their transactions within T+2 period.

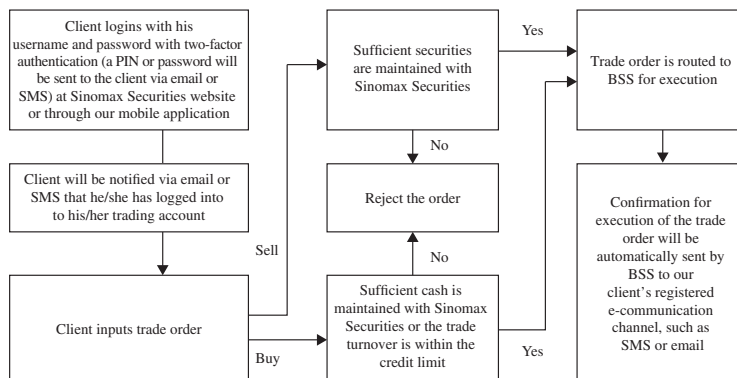

Our back-up terminal shall only be used for emergency purposes such as when an order cannot be executed through the BSS. Only our staff dealers or responsible officers are allowed to access and operate the back-up terminal. In order to access the back-up terminal, the user is required to sign into the access log book for record and audit trail purposes. Our AEs should prepare an order ticket for the back-up terminal user to sign with time stamp for each placed order.

All transactions executed through the back-up terminal are reviewed by our responsible officer or our executive Director and input into the BSS by our operation officer or operation assistant after trading hours.

(ii) through our online trading platform or mobile application

If our clients opt for trading orders online, they must sign an electronic trading agreement with us. Clients are provided with unique usernames and passwords for logging into the online trading platform on our website or through our mobile application for carrying out trading activities, and they may change their passwords from time to time. Other than placing securities trading orders, our clients can also check their available funds and trace their transaction status through our online trading platform on a real time basis. When our clients place trade orders through our online trading platform or mobile application, the BSS will check if they have sufficient cash and/or securities to be posted as collateral in their accounts to cover the transactions. Our clients can only place trade orders through our online trading platform or mobile application when they have sufficient cash and/or securities in their accounts and/or the trade turnover is within their credit limit. Any trade order involving amounts in excess of their credit limits will be rejected and our clients will be alerted simultaneously. In the event a client wishes to trade in excess of their designated credit limit, the client must contact our staff dealers or AEs by telephone, who must seek the prior approval of our responsible officer or executive Director (depending on the extend the buy order exceeds his credit limit) prior to permitting the relevant trade.

The following flowchart illustrates our online trading platform's order taking and securities dealing procedures:

As online trading is a quicker and more efficient way for placing orders than through telephone, the usage of our online trading platform has increased during the Track Record Period. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, commission income generated from online trading accounted for approximately 40%, 64%, 71% and 62% of our total brokerage commission from our brokerage services, respectively, while the trading turnover generated from online trading accounted for approximately 43%, 70%, 80% and 80% of our total trading turnover in respect of our brokerage business in the respective financial years. We do not separately charge for the use of our online trading platform.

(iii) On-site at our office premises by submitting an order ticket

Our clients may also opt for placing their trading orders by way of submitting an order ticket at our office premises. Our client shall first inform his responsible staff dealer or AE whether he/she intends to sell or purchase shares so that the applicable order ticket (i.e. a buy ticket or a sell ticket) may be used. Once the appropriate order ticket is duly completed and signed by our client, the responsible staff dealer or AE shall immediately put a time stamp on the order ticket and place our client's order via the BSS pursuant to the instructions given in the order ticket.

Our staff dealer or AE will properly record all trading details from our client, including any cancellation or amendment instruction from him/her. The order ticket will be documented by our settlement department for record and audit trail purposes.

The responsible staff dealer or AE will verify our client's identity, including such client's name and account number with his/her identification document if he/she does not know the client personally. Upon execution of the trade order in respect of securities listed on the Stock Exchange through the BSS, the responsible staff dealer or AE would confirm the executed trade order with our client by phone through the telephone recording system, or by SMS (which is automatically generated by the BSS).

For detailed information on our internal control policies regarding online trading, please refer to the paragraph headed “Risk management and internal control procedures” in this section.

Currently, we have not commenced the provision of discretionary account management services, and our clients take full responsibility for all trading decisions in their trading accounts and we are responsible only for the execution and clearing of transactions in such accounts. Daily transaction statements will be sent to our clients on the next Business Day following the transaction day and monthly statements will be sent to our clients within seven Business Days following the end of each month by mail or email, depending on the method that our clients have chosen when they opened their accounts.

The commission rate we charge for the use of our brokerage services is not affected by the means by which our clients choose to place their trade order.

(c) Margin financing services

The key processes involved in our margin financing business include (i) loan application; (ii) loan approval; and (iii) post-loan monitoring. These processes are summarised below:

(i) loan application

Clients who wish to obtain margin financing from our Group must maintain a margin account with us. All margin clients must provide our staff dealer or AE with necessary information (including details relating to his/her financial profile, investment experience and investment objective), as part of the account opening procedures for the purpose of assessment as to his/her creditworthiness.

Margin clients also have to sign a margin client agreement before the commencement of any margin trading, and a margin policy letter will be sent to our clients which inform them of the general margin policy of Sinomax Securities. The margin agreement contains terms such as the credit limit of our client (i.e. the expected maximum amount that the client could borrow and/or trade), securities collateral arrangements, margin call policy and risk disclosure statements.

(ii) loan approval

Our staff dealers or AEs would assist our clients to complete credit application forms which shall be approved by a responsible officer (who is not interested in, and has no conflict of interests in respect of the relevant margin accounts) prior to any grant of margin loans to the client.

The credit limit (being the maximum amount our client may borrow from us for the purpose of securities trading) that we set on a margin account is determined on a case-by-case basis, based on consideration of various factors, including but not limited to (i) the client's background and financial standing (including his/her employment details and net worth supported by reliable evidence of assets and properties owned by the client); (ii) the client's investment experience in securities trading and trading behavior; (iii) prevailing market conditions; and (iv) financial resources available to our Group for provision of margin financing.

For approving a credit limit of HK$100,000 or below, the approval from our responsible officer would need to be sought, whereas for a credit limit of HK$100,000 or above, the joint approval of our responsible officer and the head of our risk department would need to be sought.

The margin limit of each client will be reviewed from time to time.

Securities margin financing services will only be granted to clients in respect of trading of securities listed on the Stock Exchange. The debit balance of our client's margin account can be secured by the marginable value of collateral acceptable to us. In respect of securities collaterals, we assign a margin ratio for each individual listed security, which ranged from 20% to 60% during the Track Record Period. In general, blue chip securities will be granted a margin ratio of up to 60% and other securities which are considered riskier than blue chip securities will be granted a margin ratio between 20% and 30%. No margin financing will be granted in respect of acquisition of securities of GEM listed issuers, warrants or other derivative securities. The marginable value of any securities which has been suspended from trading on the Stock Exchange for three days or more will be reduced to zero. In order to control Sinomax Securities' risk exposure especially in adverse market situations, we review the list of margin ratio of our securities collateral from time to time.

When deciding whether to offer financing for an IPO subscription, we take into consideration the overall market sentiment, the quality of relevant shares being listed (to be provided as collateral to secure the IPO financing) and investors' reaction. Should we decide to finance a client's subscription to an IPO, we will determine the funding scale with reference to the client's financial status and the market sentiment in respect of the relevant shares being listed. The maximum amount of loan that an individual client may obtain in respect of subscription to an IPO is 90% of the total subscription amount. Clients who apply for IPO financing must maintain a margin account with us and deposit no less than 10% of the total subscription amount. For each IPO financing deal, the list of all clients requesting IPO financing shall be submitted to our responsible officer and our risk management department for approval of relevant financing. We adopt a similar policy in determining whether to grant other margin loans under our margin financing business to our clients.

The list of margin ratios will be changed from time to time at the discretion of our responsible officers and subject to the approval of our risk management committee.

(iii) post-loan monitoring

Post-loan monitoring procedures: Further to the grant of margin loans to our clients, we have implemented the following measures to monitor the credit position of our margin clients, and to ensure the appropriate steps are taken as part of our credit policy:

- (i) all margin accounts are monitored by our staff dealers, AEs, responsible officers and settlement staff on an ongoing basis. In particular, our credit control committee (comprising of our responsible officers supervising our securities trading services and our credit officer) would review daily margin call reports (which includes information including, among other things, outstanding balances owed by margin clients, margin call status and margin position) of which are generated by our settlement system on a daily basis. Such close monitoring aims to assess whether any appropriate actions need to be taken, which may include:
 - (a) reducing the credit limit of a particular client;
 - (b) making a margin call against a client to request the deposit of additional funds (where the margin loan amount extended to the client exceeds 110% of the amount of cash collateral and marginable value of securities collateral pledged by the client). Please refer to the paragraph “margin call procedures” below for further details; and/or
 - (c) liquidating securities in a client’s account to cover any shortfall (where a client fails to satisfy a margin call). Please refer to the paragraph “Forced sale procedures” below for further details;
- (ii) our staff dealers and AEs would be responsible for following-up with margin clients referred to the Group by them to ensure timely trade settlements and satisfaction of margin calls;
- (iii) establishing margin limit (being the maximum amount of margin facility that may be granted to a client with reference to amount of collateral posted) to each margin client; the initial margin limit that may be granted to a margin client is initially HK$100,000, and higher margin limits up to a maximum of HK$15,000,000 may be set for a particular client subject to obtaining the prior approval of our credit control committee;

- (iv) our responsible officers and risk management team in respect of our securities trading services would monitor the economic situation in the equity market, and in particular, pay close attention to any material adverse changes or deterioration of financial markets that may lead to material adverse movement in price of securities collateral, for the purpose of evaluating whether such changes may impact the exposure to our margin clients as well as risk exposure to our Group;

Margin call procedures: Upon reviewing the daily margin call reports generated by our settlement department, our responsible officers will determine whether the position of a client's account requires a margin call to be made.

The triggering level for making the first margin call is when our client's outstanding loan balance is (i) greater than the approved credit limit; or (ii) 110% of the marginable value of the client's portfolio (the "margin call triggers").

When the first margin call is triggered, the responsible staff dealer or AE shall take the following actions:

- (i) promptly call to advise the client of his/her account's status;
- (ii) notify the client to settle the margin call position no later than 24 hours and confirm with the client on how the margin call would be satisfied (either by depositing cash or securities into his/her margin account or sale of all or any portion of his/her securities collateral); and
- (iii) advise our credit officer of the client's response to the said telephone margin notice and continued monitoring of the status of payment on each outstanding margin call on a daily basis until the margin call has been satisfied.

Approval from our responsible officer and the head of the risk management department must be obtained for a waiver of any margin calls with justification properly documented. No further purchase will be allowed for these clients except with the approval of our responsible officer and the head of the risk management department. When determining whether or not to exercise discretion to approve a waiver of a margin call, the factors which our responsible officer will consider include (i) our relationship with the relevant client (in particular, whether the client has maintained at least three years of relationship with us); (ii) his/her financial situation and creditworthiness (in particular, whether the client is a high net worth client with personal assets of at least HK$5 million); (iii) his/her past trading records; (iv) the quality and value of collateral posted to secure repayment obligations; and (v) whether the client has previously materially delayed and/or failed to restore equity in his/her client account upon request. With reference to the above factors based on evaluation of actual circumstances of the relevant clients, our responsible officer and the head of the risk management department will determine whether to exercise its discretion to approval a waiver of a margin loans on a case-to-case basis and will continue to monitor those accounts until the margin shortfalls have been rectified. Such margin call waiver policies is adopted as part of the risk management measures of the Group. Our Directors confirm that during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, there is no material departure from such standard policies (noting however that we amended the margin call trigger as well as our margin call policy to require the documentation of reasons for approving margin call waiver from August 2019) and we did not incur any impairment loss on accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities and there is no material adverse effect on our results of operations as a result of the exercise of such discretion.

If our client does not make the requested top-up deposit within 24 hours of the first margin call, a second margin call shall be made to him/her with a deadline of another 24 hours clearly stated. Details of such second margin call should be properly documented. If the client still fails to take action to satisfy the margin call, a margin call warning notice shall be sent to him/her via SMS, telephone call, fax or email. The said margin call warning notice is to inform and remind the client that, with immediate effect, we have the discretion to liquidate the securities collateral pledged in his/her margin client account at our discretion so as to settle his/her debt and/or charges owed to us. Clients with outstanding margin call will generally not be allowed to trade through their client account except to sell their securities to settle the margin call. If any unauthorised trade occurs before the margin call is settled, disciplinary or legal actions may be taken against the staff dealer or AE pursuant to the terms of our agreements with them for losses resulting from the unauthorised trade.

If any security pledged as collateral has experienced more than 10% intraday drop in its share price, our responsible officers shall be consulted to consider the need for an intraday margin call to the relevant client, depending on the quality of securities held and the credit worthiness of that client. For an intraday margin call, the responsible staff dealer or AE shall immediately make a margin call with telephone recording and take other follow up actions. In such circumstances, the relevant client shall top up the margin as soon as possible and in any event before commencement of the next trading session.

Further to waiver of margin calls, there are also instances where our clients would be permitted to place trade orders even though margin call of relevant margin loans have been triggered upon the obtaining of approval of our responsible officers. In exercising its discretion to approve the execution of such trade orders, our responsible officers will take into account similar factors which they consider when determining whether to grant a margin call waiver. Further, our responsible officers will monitor the LTV ratio of client accounts to ensure that it is less than 80% under prevailing market conditions.

BUSINESS

Based on daily margin call reports of our Group over the Track Record Period, below is a summary of frequency and materiality of transactions involved for instances whereby our Group has departed from its standard practices under its previous margin policy described in the paragraph headed “Our Operations – (c) Margin financing services – (iii) post-loan monitoring” under the section headed “Business” in this prospectus (except that, during the Track Record Period and prior to amendment to our margin call policy in August 2019, the margin call trigger was a LTV ratio of 80%. For further details regarding our change in margin call policy, please refer to the paragraph headed “Non-compliance and disciplinary actions – Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2019 – (2) Securities Margin Financing – Lax margin call triggers and documentation standard” under the section headed “Business” in this prospectus):

	2017	2018	2019	31 July 2019
Number of client accounts with margin shortfalls	33	83	97	65
Average number of client accounts with margin shortfall per trading day	2.90	6.61	9.85	15.26
Average amount of margin call deposit waived in respect of margin shortfalls in client accounts at day-end of trading days	908,123	1,264,849	1,430,124	2,359,006
Number of further purchases permitted during periods where client account had margin shortfall	190	1,750	3,054	1,123
Average transaction amount of further purchases permitted during periods when client account had margin shortfall (in HK$)	270,283	140,363	362,114	522,817

Forced sale procedures: If rectification (i.e. deposit of top-up funds or sales of securities) is not made by our client within the prescribed time limit (usually within 24 hours or such shorter time frame in case of any adverse market condition) after making the second margin call, the management of Sinomax Securities may arrange the forced sale of all outstanding positions in securities held by that client immediately without any further margin call notice or issuance of a warning letter. A daily statement of account will be issued to that client accordingly.

If the balance of a client's account is still outstanding after the abovementioned forced sale, we may initiate legal proceedings to recover any outstanding debt against that client.

Should any outstanding balance remain outstanding following a forced sale and further recovery efforts have been exhausted, after considering the relevant circumstances, we would then make full provisions in our financial accounts against any amounts due. Where we are of the view that the chance of debt recovery is remote, the outstanding debt may, on a case-by-case basis, be written off. In accordance with indemnity provisions contained in contracts entered between Sinomax Securities and our AEs, our AEs shall be responsible for any liability or loss that may be suffered by Sinomax Securities in respect of any unrecoverable debt arising from Referred Accounts managed by the relevant AEs.

When a client's margin position has been rectified, the responsible staff dealer or AE should confirm with our responsible officers as to whether the account could resume trading.

During the Track Record Period, we liquidated the collateral of some of our client accounts in the market due to failure of clients to satisfy margin calls, but no further loaned amounts remained outstanding after such forced sale and no impairment loss were recorded in our financial accounts. As such, we did not initiate any legal proceedings for the recovery of any outstanding debt against our clients during the Track Record Period.

(d) Account closing

We will perform procedures for the closing of a client's account under the following circumstances:

- (1) the client applies for closing of his/her account in writing;
- (2) the client violates or is suspected to or has violated the regulations issued by regulatory bodies;
- (3) the client's account has become dormant (i.e. there has been no trading activity in the relevant client account and there were no client assets maintained in the account for two years or more) and Sinomax Securities has made a determination to close such client account in accordance with the terms of the relevant client agreement;
- (4) the client breaches the terms and conditions of his/her client agreement; or
- (5) the compliance department of Sinomax Securities forms the assessment that the continuance of facilitation of trading or maintenance of the client account would have implication on Sinomax Securities' compliance with applicable law and regulations (including anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing laws).

In addition to the above circumstances, we may consider closing a client's account upon the request of the AE responsible for managing the relevant client, subject to obtaining the approval of our responsible officer. The closing of all client accounts is subject to the approval of one of our responsible officers. Upon obtaining such approval, the book of the relevant client account shall be revoked and the closed account status will be updated in the BSS system accordingly.

All of our top five clients in these respective segments during the Track Record Period are Independent Third Parties.

Staff and AEs dealing

In respect of securities brokerage services we provide to our staff or AEs, we charge a commission fee equivalent to 0.1% of the transaction amount, subject to a minimum charge of HK$50 per transaction. For the provision of securities margin financing services to our staff or AEs, we generally charge an interest rate of 2% above the prevailing Hong Kong Prime Rate per annum on the principal amount borrowed. The total revenue generated from proprietary trading of our staff and AEs (excluding our related persons) accounted for approximately 5.4%, 3.7%, 4.0% and 4.5% of our Group's total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively.

The table below sets out the breakdown of revenue derived from the dealings of our staff and AEs (excluding our related persons) for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019:

The above amounts of commission generated by our staff, AEs or related persons are not indicative of the future trading volume of related persons which may be transacted through Sinomax Securities. Their prospective trading volumes would be determined by factors such as their investment preference and strategies (which may be influenced by prevailing market conditions), and whether they will continue to use our brokerage services.

Subject to applicable exemptions, we will comply with all applicable requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules in respect of any connected transactions proposed to be entered into between our Group and any of our related persons who fall under the definition of "connected persons" in the Listing Rules. Our Company has also undertaken to the Stock Exchange that we will disclose all transactions of our Group with our related persons, if any, in each of our annual reports following the Listing.

OUR SUPPLIERS

We have no major suppliers due to the nature of our business activities. Over the Track Record Period, we engaged various service providers to provide services necessary for our business operations, such as software vendor, overseas brokers, internet service providers and the Stock Exchange, all of which are Independent Third Parties.

To the best knowledge of our Directors, none of our Directors, chief executives, or any person who owns more than 5% of the issued share capital of our Company or any of its subsidiaries, or any of their respective close associates, has or had any interest in any of our service providers during the Track Record Period. All of our service providers during the Track Record Period are Independent Third Parties.

SALES AND MARKETING

Our staff dealers, AEs and responsible officers are responsible for performing sales and marketing activities of our brokerage business, margin financing business and placing and underwriting business, in particular, referring new clients to our Group, maintaining clients' relationship with us, promoting our services to new and existing clients and handling clients' enquiries. We generally source new clients and expand our business network through the personal networks of our management and our AEs as well as referrals from our existing clients through the word-of-mouth. Approximately 96% of the respondents to the 2019 client survey indicated that they learnt about us through referrals from others.

For our placing and underwriting business, our responsible officers are involved in pitching and liaising with our placing and underwriting clients; and our staff dealers and AEs are responsible for sales and marketing activities, including maintaining regular communication and good relationships with clients, other business partners and professional parties involved in placing and underwriting transactions.

OUR COMPETITION

The financial services industry in Hong Kong is highly competitive. Details of the competition that our Group currently faces and will continue to face are set out in the section headed "Industry overview" in this prospectus.

Securities brokerage business

In 2019, there were 704 HKEX Participants in Hong Kong, which were divided into Categories "A", "B" and "C" HKEX Participants. Categories A and B HKEX Participants (including multinational financial services corporations and investment and retail banks) have a consolidated position in the market typically serving both institutional trading and retail trading, and they accounted for in aggregate approximately 91.4% of total market turnover in 2018. Category C HKEX Participants, which we are categorised under, are mainly local brokerage service providers focusing on retail trading and which typically also provides margin financing and investment advisory services.

The number of HKEX Participants under Category C recorded an overall increase from 478 in 2013 to 639 in 2019, representing a CAGR of 4.1%. Competition in this category is intense, and service providers in this category is often required to offer unique services as well as develop effective and user-friendly trading platforms to differentiate themselves from their counterparts.

Some securities brokerage firms have also adopted aggressive marketing strategies to take advantage of the opportunities to grow their client base and expand their market share; in particular, price competition among brokerage firms has resulted in a decrease in rate of commission paid in the overall market in recent years.

Such price competition however did not have a material adverse impact on our Group over the Track Record Period, as we do not, and do not intend to, participate in price competition nor do we offer plans (such as monthly-fixed-charge plans or commission ceiling plans) to remain competitive. Rather, we make every effort to compete effectively with other market players by: (i) staying in touch with the market to understand clients' needs and competitors' tactics; (ii) seeking to capture new clients through marketing efforts and capitalising on opportunities presented to our Group through implementation of our business strategies; (iii) satisfying existing clients by delivery services up to their expectations with a view of increasing client referrals; (iv) recruiting suitably qualified and experienced staff with sound relationships with clients in order to provide quality and personalised services to clients; (v) improving our service offerings and capabilities to cater for changes in market conditions; (vi) maintaining an efficient and lean cost structure through the employment of AEs; and (vii) building on our brand recognition and reputation that has been developed over the years.

Our Directors believe that the Listing will have a positive impact on the brand, public awareness and visibility of our Group, increase our financial and operational transparency, and increase our accountability with the public. Our Directors believe that this should enhance our competitiveness against other financial service providers providing similar services as us.

Ranking

Based on annual rankings issued by the Stock Exchange, our securities brokerage business was ranked 151 as at 31 December 2018 among active HKEX Participants (based on transaction volume with reference to trading fee and transaction levy charged on trades executed through the Stock Exchange). The ranking of our brokerage business improved significantly from our ranking of 277 as at 31 December 2013, and our Directors believe that this was attributable to the synergy driven by the development of our placing and underwriting services. Please refer to the paragraph "Competitive strengths" for further details.

Securities margin financing business

According to the Ipsos Report, a number of securities brokerage firms also provide margin financing services, and the total number of securities dealers and securities margin financiers has experienced an increase from 927 in 2013 to 1,312 in 2018. This corresponds to an increase in active margin clients from 150,545 in 2013 to 463,970 in 2018 (representing a CAGR of approximately 25.2%) as well as increase in margin loan receivables from approximately HK$85.8 billion in 2013 to HK$180.8 billion in 2018 (representing a CAGR of approximately 16.1%), evidencing a strong growth in demand for margin financing services.

According to the Ipsos Report, margin financiers mainly compete in terms of administrative costs, commission rates and margin interest rates, and given the capital-intensive nature of the business, maintaining a sufficient stream of capital and liquidity is critical for margin financiers to remain competitive. In particular, margin financiers capable of obtaining multiple sources of funding as well as generate internal capital resources would possess a competitive edge in capturing margin financing demand. As such, our Directors intend to use part of the net proceeds from the Share Offer to increase our margin book to remain competitive in the market.

Placing and underwriting business

According to the Ipsos Report, the placing and underwriting services market in Hong Kong is considered a consolidated and mature market dominated by few top market players who provide a wide range of investment banking services. The scale of our placing and underwriting business is considered boutique in comparison, and our revenue generated from providing placing and underwriting services only accounted for approximately 0.03%, 0.11% and 0.13% of the total revenue generated by this business sector in Hong Kong in 2016, 2017 and 2018 respectively, but we consider this an opportunity for growth in the future.

As a placing and underwriting service provider, it is vital for us to maintain good relationships with our clients and investors and have a proven track record of fundraising supported by deep understanding of the market or industry and sufficient experience in advising on execution strategies, market timing, placing and allocation. As we continue to develop our placing and underwriting business, we intend to leverage on our loyal and expanding retail client and investor base and devote further resources (including engaging research analysts to provide reports to support our equity capital markets department) to enhance our execution capability in providing placing and underwriting services.

We have to compete with other market players, who may have more resources, offer a wider range of services and have a longer operating history than that of our Group. Such firms may leverage on their existing relationship with other companies, expertise, financial strength and established reputation to compete in the market. Our Directors believe that competition in this market is primarily based on the quality and scope of services offered, market reputation, business network, pricing, and human and financial resources.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND INTERNAL CONTROL PROCEDURES

Risk management objectives

We recognise the need for risk management in our strategic and operational planning, day-to-day management and decision making process and are committed to managing and minimising such risks by identifying, analysing, evaluating and mitigating risk exposure that may impact on the continued efficiency and effectiveness of our operations or the risks which prevent us from achieving our business objectives.

Our risk management objectives are to (i) identify and effectively manage risks which our Group may face from time to time; (ii) establish strong review and rectification processes and contingency procedures in order to prevent material financial and reputational losses; and (iii) ensure our ongoing business continuity and performance.

Our risk management department is responsible for periodic review, and reports to our credit committee and/or senior management on, among other things, the status of securities accounts of clients, analysis of securities financing or margin loan portfolio of our Group, credit limits granted by us, stock marginable ratios, and our credit control policy.

Our principal risks

The risks identified by our Group are broadly categorised into the following risks, all of which may arise from time to time in connection with the operations of our Group:

- (i) regulatory risk: as Sinomax Securities is a licensed corporation registered with the SFC, it is required to comply with ongoing obligations prescribed by the SFO, its subsidiary legislations as well as the codes and guidelines published by the SFC from time to time (including, without limitation, the Code of Conduct, the Internal Control Guidelines, the FRR and rules relating to handling of client monies and securities and maintenance of proper records) and to satisfy the SFC that it continues to be fit and proper under the requirements of the Fit and Proper Guidelines. Any failure to comply with the relevant SFC laws and regulations may expose us and our responsible officers and licensed representatives to potential fines, penalties, proceedings, and may potentially lead to the suspension or revocation of our SFC licences. In addition to the SFO, its subsidiary legislations, codes and guidelines published by the SFC from time to time, we are also required to comply with other laws and regulations of Hong Kong and, in respect of our marketing activities, those of the PRC;

- (ii) operational risk: we are subject to operational risks during the course of our business which may result from matters such as failure of, disruption to, or inadequacies of our online trading platform and/or IT system, failure of our overseas brokers to provide required trading services, unidentified limit excesses, unauthorised or fraudulent trading, failure in keeping requisite books and records, inexperienced personnel or lack of understanding of internal controls by our personnel. The failure to manage these risks may potentially lead to a financial loss to our clients or cause us to be in breach of the SFO, its subsidiary legislations, codes and/or guidelines published by the SFC from time to time;
- (iii) liquidity risk: Sinomax Securities is required at all times to maintain liquid capital (being the amount which our liquid assets exceeds our ranking liabilities, taking into adjustments to cater for market risks and contingency), which is not less than the specified amounts under the FRR. Sinomax Securities also has an obligation to notify the SFC in certain circumstances where there has been a material change to the liquid capital position and to prepare periodic financial returns for submission to the SFC. If Sinomax Securities fails to meet the FRR requirement, it is required to immediately cease its licensed operations and the SFC may suspend its licence. In addition, the failure to maintain sufficient liquidity may result in the instigation of legal proceedings by clients if they are unable to withdraw funds on time; and
- (iv) trading risk: our staff dealers and AEs review the balance and margin status of our client accounts on a daily basis. Where a client fails to maintain the maintenance margin in respect of securities which are held by him/her, the responsible staff dealer and AE will contact the relevant client to cover the shortfall, and where the client fails to meet the shortfall within the required timeframe, the responsible staff dealer and AE will exercise discretion as to whether or not to liquidate the relevant securities. When the loss which a client may suffer exceeds the money deposited by that client as initial margin, Sinomax Securities may be exposed to risks from (i) deficits in the client account if it does not liquidate the securities in time; or (ii) the failure or refusal of such client to pay for deficits he/she is liable for in his/her client accounts. This may also affect our liquid capital in meeting FRR requirements.

Risk management committee

We have established a risk management committee to identify, evaluate and manage risks arising from our operations. Our risk management committee comprises Mr. Ng, the head of our risk management department and the head of our risk management committee, and Mr. Sy and Ms. Sze Suk Ling, who has over 30 years of experience in the financial services industry including, but not limited to, experience in the provision of brokerage services, compliance and risk management. Both Mr. Sy and Ms. Sze Suk Ling are our responsible officers. Our risk management committee is responsible for establishing policies, limits and operational guidelines for (i) monitoring and reporting processes undertaken to ensure compliance with applicable laws, rules, regulations and the Code of Conduct; (ii) evaluating the need for enhancing our policies and operational guidelines and making proposals for effective risk management; and (iii) preparing and carrying out our plans relating to risk management. Our risk management committee will also meet from time to time to discuss, assess, review, analyse and rank different risks that different business divisions of Sinomax Securities face, and rank the level of risk of our monthly top ten clients of each business activity. We have adopted credit control procedures in our ordinary course of business to minimise our exposure to credit risks.

Our Directors have confirmed that during the Track Record Period, we did not experience any material operational failure and they believe that our risk management system is sufficient and effective.

Internal control procedures

As Sinomax Securities is a licensed corporation registered with the SFC, it is required to comply with its ongoing obligations prescribed by the SFO, its subsidiary legislations as well as the codes and guidelines published by the SFC from time to time. In particular: (i) the Code of Conduct requires that a licensed corporation should have internal control procedures and financial and operational capabilities which can be reasonably expected to protect its operations, clients and other licensed or registered persons from financial loss arising from theft, fraud and other dishonest acts, professional misconduct or omission; and (ii) the Internal Control Guidelines sets out the manner in which licensed corporations should structure, manage and operate the regulated activities for which they are licensed and in particular, the existence of satisfactory internal control and internal management systems, and states that the failure to substantially follow the guidance tends to reflect adversely on the licensed corporation's fitness and properness.

In order to ensure that Sinomax Securities is compliant with these requirements in relation to internal controls and management systems, we have adopted certain internal controls and procedures (including operational controls, controls on dealing practices as well as internal controls to manage risks) which are implemented as part of our operations, and regularly review regulatory updates and enforcement news from the SFC.

Our compliance department is responsible for conducting periodic reviews of internal control policies and procedures, including but not limited to corporate governance, KYC, risk management and anti-money laundering. Such internal control policies and procedures are implemented by each operation department. Our responsible officers are responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations of these departments and ensuring that the internal policies are adhered to. Our compliance department is led and supervised by Mr. Sy, our responsible officer, an executive Director and the chief executive officer of our Group. Please refer to the section headed "Directors and senior management" of this prospectus for details of Mr. Sy's qualifications and experience.

All of our operational staff are responsible for implementing our internal control measures based on our established policies and procedures, and our responsible officers are responsible for supervising the day-to-day activities of our operational staff in order to ensure that these policies and procedures are duly followed.

All our staff are provided with written operational and procedural manuals covering all our guidelines which must be followed by each of them in the course of their work. These manuals have taken into account of the Internal Control Guidelines and are designed to ensure that: (i) our business is conducted in an orderly, efficient and compliant manner; (ii) the assets of our Group and our clients are secured; (iii) proper records are maintained and financial information is properly documented; and (iv) the risk of potential fraud is detected and prevented.

Below are some key internal control procedures which are outlined in our operational and procedural manuals:

1. Controls for managing regulatory risks

(i) Dealing on behalf of clients

While most of our clients effect trades through our online trading platform, some of our clients place orders through our staff dealers and AEs. Our staff dealers and AEs are required to take all reasonable steps in handling clients' orders promptly and fairly according to our clients' instructions. Orders of clients should have priority over orders in our staff dealers and AEs' own trading account or trading account of another staff dealer or AE.

Our staff dealers and AEs are required to immediately record instructions of all client orders with sufficient particulars. The identity of our client must be verified before any order is taken. A full audit trail for every order placed on behalf of our clients and any amendments thereto are fully maintained.

(ii) Phone trading

When order instructions are received from our clients via telephone, our staff dealers and AEs are required to record our client's order instructions through our telephone recording system in our office. The telephone recordings must be kept for at least six months.

(iii) Trading errors

Trading errors may occur due to system or human error. It is our policy that any trading errors which are detected by our staff dealers and AEs must be immediately reported to the supervising responsible officer present during the relevant time. In a case where our staff dealers or AEs mistakenly execute our client's order, the responsible staff dealers or AEs shall complete a form for documenting such trading mistake, which shall be checked and approved by our responsible officers. Such trading error should be booked into our House Accounts. The responsible staff dealer or AE should submit the trading error report (which records details of and explanations for the error) immediately to our responsible officer for verification of the error or mistake. The daily order book and report generated from the BSS will be kept by our back office department for back up and audit trail purposes.

In order to reduce market risks, our responsible officers will take immediate actions to close out the error trade positions and recognise gains or losses from any error trades at the market value as soon as possible. An order amendment report in relation to trading error should be prepared by the responsible staff dealer or AE, verified by our responsible officers, and passed to our settlement department and accounts department for record purposes. The order amendment report shall include the following particulars, as applicable: (i) the date and time of the trading error; (ii) the name of responsible staff dealer or AE; (iii) the client name and account number; (iv) the unit price of the relevant securities; and (v) the stock code and quantity.

Our responsible officers and the directors of Sinomax Securities will perform periodic review on the statement of the House Account for the purpose of internal control. All order amendment reports are subject to regular compliance review by our compliance department and independent review by our auditors at the end of each financial year.

(iv) Staff dealings

We require our staff and AEs to obtain our prior approval for opening trading accounts with other brokerage firms and they are required to report to us on their trading activities in those outside trading accounts.

Pursuant to the Code of Conduct, employees of a licensed corporation are generally required to deal through their employer licensed corporation, unless otherwise permitted by their employer. Our policy provides that our staff and AEs are not encouraged to open accounts with other brokerage firms except for the sole purpose of dealing in securities which are not offered by our Group. Before our staff dealers and AEs open any outside account with other licensed corporations, they must obtain prior written approval from our responsible officers.

When approval has been granted, a letter of consent signed by our responsible officer with a request for a duplicated statement to be provided to us shall be sent to the concerned brokerage firm. Our staff dealers and AEs must report details of their dealings in securities to our responsible officers, if they have not traded through our Group. They must provide copies of statements for their trading transactions through such accounts to our compliance department for our management to review. Moreover, our staff members are personally responsible for promptly declaring their securities transactions and any changes in their personal trading accounts with other brokerage firms and maintaining trading records and statements for audit trail purposes. The documentation will be kept by our compliance department separately pursuant to our internal policy.

We have maintained a list of trading accounts of our staff and AEs with other brokerage firms. We also send periodic emails or reminders to our staff dealers and AEs to remind them of their responsibilities of declaring securities transactions and changes of personal trading accounts with other brokerage firms.

For details of the revenue generated from our staff and AEs, please refer to the paragraph headed “Staff and AEs dealing” in this section.

(v) Handling of complaints from clients

We have established procedures for handling complaints from our clients. All complaints whether written or verbal have to be reported to Mr. Sy, our complaints officer as recorded in the public register of licensed persons and registered institutions, and a register must be kept for all complaints including details such as the name of the complainant, the date of receiving the complaint, a brief description of the complaint and the date of the response.

Mr. Sy shall assign the complaint received to an independent designated staff member for handling. The designated staff member shall investigate and analyse the complaint in a just and fair manner, identify possible solutions and report to Mr. Sy from time to time. The independent designated staff member must ensure that the complainant's perspective is given appropriate consideration in the decision making of Sinomax Securities. Mr. Sy will propose appropriate remedial steps to be taken following investigation and consultation with relevant staff and to ensure that the matter can be dealt with on a timely basis. This may involve attempting to provide alternative solutions for our client.

Where it can be ascertained that the matter does not involve any fault of Sinomax Securities or its staff and we are not prepared to offer alternative solutions, the complainant will be advised to contact the relevant regulatory bodies such as the Financial Dispute Resolution Centre or lodge a complaint with the SFC directly.

If the matter is of material importance (for example, relate to a regulatory or contractual breach), the matter may be elevated to our senior management for further discussion as to what further actions are to be taken (for example, reporting the incident to the SFC in respect of a regulatory breach or preparation of defence of a potential claim).

Mr. Sy will record all relevant details and investigation results in the complaint log (attaching all relevant documentation) and the complete file will be kept in our records for future retrieval if necessary.

During the Track Record Period, we did not receive any complaint with the SFC, the Financial Dispute Resolution Centre or the Hong Kong Consumer Council. Our Directors confirm that our Group did not receive any pending or threatened claims or proceedings in respect of any complaint during the Track Record Period up to the Latest Practicable Date.

(vi) “Chinese wall” and segregation of duties and functions

We have implemented a “Chinese wall” policy to avoid conflicts of interest. We assign duties and functions to different departments and maintain “Chinese walls” between our different departments. Under the policy, all confidential information must not be disclosed to other staff who are not members of our senior management except where it is considered necessary in the course of business, provided always that any disclosure is made with the prior confirmation of the senior management of Sinomax Securities on a need-to-know basis. Commercial and/or price sensitive information shall only be passed to the staff of Sinomax Securities when there is a legitimate “need to know” on the part of the recipient and the transfer of information is in the best interests of our client.

In particular, each staff member is assigned with a unique username and password, and the access to computer drives and certain files located in certain computer drives can be and is restricted by usernames and passwords. Moreover, all staff dealers and AEs are also provided with unique usernames and passwords to log into their own computers in our office and to carry out trading activities on behalf of their responsible clients. No AE can act on behalf of other AEs, and our staff dealers only have authority to place trade orders on behalf of specific clients when the relevant AEs are on leave. Our trading system traces all orders placed in all of our clients’ accounts to ensure that there is no unauthorised trading activity and all trading activities are properly documented.

(vii) Segregation of client money and securities

Pursuant to Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules, Sinomax Securities shall maintain and keep one or more segregated accounts at one or more designated licensed banks. Our finance and accounting department shall deposit all monies received from or on behalf of our clients into a segregated account within one Business Day after such client monies are received and verified.

When an inflow deposit is detected in our bank account, our operation staff generate and verify the deposit proof provided by the responsible staff dealer, AE and/or our client. Once the client deposit is identified, our accounting staff verify the identity of the depositing client and prepare corresponding accounting entries and vouchers for recognising such client deposit in the ledger account and fund reallocation to the designated bank account, which is a segregated trust bank account. Relevant account entries and vouchers will be reviewed and approved by our chief financial officer or our responsible officer on a daily basis.

Pursuant to the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules, after the market closes daily, our accounting staff will verify with our settlement department and our AFE G3 back office system, the net cash flow required for settlement of our client transactions and prepare corresponding fund reallocation from our segregated bank accounts.

Our accounting staff conduct bank reconciliation to ensure that our trust account and House Account are correctly separated and match our ledger balance on a daily basis. If any discrepancies are discovered, (other than the time difference of fund allocation which is within one Business Day), the reason for the discrepancy and remedial actions undertaken should be promptly identified and recorded in the daily reconciliation report, which should subsequently be reviewed and approved by our chief financial officer and our responsible officer.

(viii) Segregated stock accounts

We are also required to maintain a proper record of all deposits and withdrawals of our clients' stocks. In order to protect our clients' assets effectively, segregated accounts shall be maintained in CCASS by a designated code to identify the position of a specified client. Securities received in our CCASS clearing account should also be re-allocated to CCASS designated segregated client accounts within one trading day from the relevant transaction day. The transfer of securities from one client's account to another client's account without proper monitoring and approval is prohibited. All stock certificates of our clients shall be kept in the safe of Sinomax Securities, pending their disposal, collection by clients or deposit with CCASS.

(ix) Anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing

Our staff are required to comply with the anti-money laundering guidelines adopted by us which are designed to detect and prevent money laundering and counter-terrorist financing activities. These guidelines involve:

- (a) client due diligence: to satisfy our due diligence requirements, our staff dealers or AEs are required to identify and verify the identities of beneficial owners of a client account with reference to data and/or information provided by reliable and independent sources. For individual clients, our AEs will request identification documents to verify their name, date of birth and residential address. For corporate clients, we will request corporate documents to verify their incorporation and existence, the authority of persons instructing us to open the account, as well as the identity of directors and shareholders. For clients who reside in the PRC, we rely on persons accredited to licensed or registered entities affiliated to our Group to sign and certify identification documents;

We will screen the client for any politically exposed person (“PEP”) by undertaking a search on a database that we subscribe to. It is our policy to require our staff to take reasonable steps to determine whether a client is a “higher-risk client”, such as senior government official or political figure or his/her immediate family member. We generally do not permit the opening of client accounts by persons from countries listed on the Financial Action Task Force (“FATF”) website: <http://www.fatf.gafi.org>. The results of the screening of our clients must be fully investigated and documented. Our employees must report any transactions or relationships they have or have had with any named individuals or entities to our senior management who would then report the same to the JFIU;

- (b) ongoing monitoring: our responsible officers, compliance officers, staff dealers and AEs are responsible for reviewing documents, data and information relating to our clients at least every two years. They are also responsible for monitoring the activities of our clients and identifying those transactions that are complex, large or unusual;
- (c) monitoring business relationships continuously: we are required to monitor on an ongoing basis, our business relationships with each client and observe the transactions he/she/it undertakes to ensure that the transactions are consistent with our knowledge of his/her/its information, including business background and risk profile, and where appropriate, source of funds. Where transactions are complex, large or unusual, or patterns of transactions have no apparent business rationale, we should examine the background and purpose, including, where appropriate, the circumstances, of the transactions. The findings and outcomes of these investigations should be properly documented in writing and be available so as to assist the SFC and other competent authorities as required. Proper records of decisions made, by whom, and the rationale for them will help us demonstrate that we are handling unusual or suspicious activities appropriately. All high-risk clients must be reviewed at least on an annual basis.

If the securities trading account does not carry out any trading for more than two years, we are entitled to suspend the account and the specific client should provide updated identification documents to verify his/her/its identity;

- (d) reporting knowledge or suspicion of money laundering: we have an obligation to report to the JFIU where there is knowledge or suspicion of money laundering or terrorist financing activities. Our compliance department acts as our money laundering reporting officer, who is responsible for reporting suspicious transactions to the JFIU under our money laundering or terrorist financing reporting obligation;
- (e) keeping adequate records: the JFIU needs to ensure a satisfactory audit trail for suspected laundered money and we must establish a financial profile of the suspect account. All records on transactions, both domestic and international, should be maintained for at least seven years after the completion of a transaction, regardless of whether the business relationship ends during such period. Such records must be sufficient to permit reconstruction of individual transactions (including the amounts and types of currencies involved, if any) so as to provide, if necessary, evidence for a criminal prosecution;
- (f) suspicious activity reporting and recording: our AEs are required to notify our responsible officers and compliance officers of any suspicious activity. Where after an assessment, it is determined that such activities are indeed suspicious, a suspicious activity report will need to be prepared and submitted to the JFIU as soon as possible (in any case no longer than 30 days from the date of detection of the suspicious activity). All related information will be recorded and all relevant documentation must be properly kept, so that we are in a position to assist in any potential investigations that may be launched by any government authority; and
- (g) training for our staff and AEs: training on anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing will be provided to our new employees, such as staff dealing directly with our clients, back-office staff, managerial staff, including internal audit officers, compliance officers and the money laundering reporting officer, to ensure that they are aware of the updated rules and regulations and their personal obligations under the relevant legislation and guidelines and that they may be personally liable should they fail to report as required. Refresher training will also be provided regularly to generate and maintain a level of awareness and vigilance to enable suspicious transactions to be recognised and reported.

During the Track Record Period, we did not become aware of any clients or transactions suspicious of money laundering or terrorist financing activities.

(x) Handling of physical cash

Our Company ensures that all cash held physically are properly secured so as to avoid loss or misuse. In addition, to prevent the risk of being involved in money-laundering or terrorist financing activities unintentionally, we have implemented the following procedures:

- (i) we do not encourage our clients to perform cash deposits and, our clients are required to confirm their deposit with their signature on the bank advice slip if there is no record identifying the depositor;
- (ii) if the depositor is not an account holder with us, the name of the depositor will be recorded in the settlement system and shown in fund movement history, and the relationship between the depositor and the account holder must be properly recorded;
- (iii) for fund withdrawal made by a third-party, original written instructions should be obtained from client before processing the fund withdrawal, and the relationship between the third-party and the client as well as the reason for such transaction should be properly recorded; and
- (iv) for accounts which have more than five times of third party deposits or withdrawals within the past 6 months and the amount of each transaction is over HK$5,000,000, all the funds deposited and withdrawn in such accounts would be monitored by our risk management team every 6 months.

No third party deposit or suspected deposit from a third party is allowed, except from the close family members of our clients provided that our clients remain as beneficial owners and we have received sufficient documentary proof. We may refuse any deposits from a third party and reverse the fund deposit to the depositor or payer. For any unavoidable circumstances, such as legal order or repayment of called outstanding amount, further steps have to be taken to verify the relationship between the depositor and such client and identify the reason for the deposit on behalf of such client. The approval from our responsible officer should be obtained before we accept such deposits. Our compliance department should be notified of any approved third party deposit for review purposes. In cases of transactions involving the risks of money laundering or terrorist financing, our staff dealers or AEs are required to promptly report to our compliance department for a follow up;

(xi) Conflict of interest

Being a financial services firm, we recognise the importance of managing conflicts of interest in protecting our clients' and our own interests. We have put in place policies prohibiting our staff from engaging in any transaction in which they have an actual or potential conflict of interest. Where a conflict of interest arises, our staff must promptly make a report to the management. Our staff should neither advise, nor deal, in relation to the transaction unless such conflict of interest has been properly disclosed to our client and all reasonable steps have been taken by our staff to ensure that our client is being treated fairly. Our staff members are required to take all reasonable steps to avoid situations that are likely to involve conflicts of interest. Our staff must not place his/her interest above our clients' interest and must withdraw from or decline to accept entering into the transaction where he/she has a material conflict of interest in the transaction. Conflicts of interest must be disclosed to our client before proceeding with the transaction and such disclosure must include sufficient details to enable our client to make an informed decision with respect to granting permission to proceed with the transaction. If our staff fails to declare a case of conflict of interest pursuant to the Code of Conduct, he/she shall be liable to account to our Company for any profit made or benefit received from or in respect of such failure or violation; and

(xii) Restricted list

Our compliance department is responsible for maintaining the restricted list and monitoring clients' trading and staff dealings. The restricted list is a confidential list of stocks of public listed companies maintained by the compliance department which our Group has received a mandate or has worked and/or is currently working with. The maintenance of the restricted list enables our responsible executive Directors and the compliance department to supervise the activities within Sinomax Securities and monitor the possession of inside information obtained by our staff in the course of undertaking their duties. When we have obtained such price-sensitive information, we have a duty to keep such information confidential.

2. Controls for managing operational risks

(i) Responsible officers

Under section 125 of the SFO, we, as a licensed corporation, are required to appoint at least two responsible officers for each type of regulated activity, at least one of whom must be an executive director who: (i) actively participates in; or (ii) is responsible for directly supervising, the business of a regulated activity for which the corporation is licensed.

The responsible officers of Sinomax Securities are either the executive Directors or senior management of our Group and they are mainly responsible for: (i) supervising the daily operations of our staff; (ii) formulating, reviewing and updating our operations procedures to ensure our Group's compliance with regulatory requirements; (iii) reviewing and improving the current workflow and operation procedures; and (iv) monitoring compliance issues in relation to the FRR requirement.

(ii) IT related controls and contingency plans

We have in place an IT security policy and rules to safeguard the security and integrity of our online trading system and IT infrastructure. Under such policy and rules:

- (a) access controls are in place so that the use of our IT system by users (including our staff, clients, independent software vendors and back-office staff) are restricted based on authorisation levels prescribed by our senior management, and password policies and standards are formalised to facilitate user authentication and access control;
- (b) our computer system and information processing facilities are protected by firewalls and anti-virus software to prevent and detect any potential threats by computer viruses and other malicious software;
- (c) we closely monitor the stability and performance of our online trading system and IT infrastructure as well as any intrusions or access by unauthorised persons. We liaise with our external service providers to rectify any irregularities detected by our online trading platform or IT system if such irregularities are attributable to services provided by them. Further, we monitor the usage of our bandwidth capacity or our network connections regularly to ensure that it would be sufficient to meet the trading demands of our clients. Generally, we set an adequate buffer for our bandwidth capacity to cater for any unexpected high volume of trading resulting from market volatility;
- (d) any software or hardware changes or upgrades of our online trading system or IT infrastructure are thoroughly tested in our user acceptance system during market rehearsal sessions and/or before being used for actual client trading; and
- (e) we have devised IT related controls and contingency plans with backup procedures in place to ensure the continuity of our operations without disruption due to the breakdown of our IT system. In particular, our IT vendor maintains a back-up data storage centre, and all trading data and records processed through our online trading platform are simultaneously replicated in our main server storage as well as in our backup data storage centre. All of our clients' trading records can be retrieved from the backup data storage centre promptly in the event of any disruption to our main server storage. In the event where our software vendor goes out of business, our IT staff will coordinate with alternative software vendors and retrieve all trading data physically for migration into the new platform, which is estimated to take up to five Business Days. In the event of a system failure of our BSS system, all clients' instructions will have to be transacted through NSTD terminals, which we use as a back up trading channel in such circumstances.

3. Controls relating to liquidity and trading risks

(i) Managing liquidity risks

Liquidity risk refers to the risk of us not having sufficient funds to meet our liabilities as they fall due. We are required to maintain at all times a liquid capital which is not less than the minimum requirement as set out in the FRR. Our accounting department is responsible for preparing financial returns and computing liquid capital in accordance with the requirements of the FRR. Our monthly financial returns are submitted to our responsible officers for review and approval before being submitted to the SFC no later than three weeks after each calendar month.

Our risk management committee monitors and manages our market liquidity risk, while our accounting department monitors and manages our cash flow liquidity. Our risk management committee and our accounting department report to the board of directors of Sinomax Securities so as to take appropriate action when necessary. During the Track Record Period, our Group did not have any material non-compliance with the minimum liquid capital requirement as set out in the FRR.

(ii) Managing credit risks

Credit risk refers to our risk of suffering from losses due to the default of clients when they fail to perform their respective obligations when due. We manage our credit risk through credit assessment, credit limit approval and continuous management of credit exposure.

Our securities brokerage services and securities margin financing services are both susceptible to credit risks should our clients fail to fulfill their payment obligations. As a result, we have adopted a set of credit policies for the credit risk management of our Group, for our credit control committee to oversee the overall credit risk exposure of our Group. Meanwhile, our risk management committee is responsible for, among others:

- (i) approving and monitoring the credit limits and other matters related to the credit risk of our Group, including margin financing, repayment schedules and the interest rates applicable in cases of any overdue debit balances of our clients' securities trading accounts; and
- (ii) setting up, approving and reviewing effective credit risk management measures and systems of our Group from time to time, to ensure such measures and systems are duly implemented and enforced, and adjust those measures when appropriate.

Our executive Directors and senior management believe that our credit policies are effective in minimising our Group's exposure to credit risks in our securities dealing and brokerage services and margin financing services when clients fail to fulfill their payment obligations.

For our securities dealing and brokerage services, our clients settle their securities transactions in Hong Kong within two Business Days after the transaction date (on a T+2 basis). For securities transactions carried out in overseas markets, we will comply with the relevant overseas laws and regulations. Our Group is exposed to credit risk if a client is unable to pay for the said transactions in the intervening period between trade execution and settlement. As a result, a credit limit is initially assigned to each client to mitigate the abovementioned credit risk. A credit limit is the amount of credit exposure which our Group can accept for a particular client for the duration of the T+2 period. Clients are not allowed to execute further securities purchases once their credit limit has been reached. The credit limit can be increased by approval of our credit control committee.

In respect of our margin financing business, we have implemented margin call procedures and daily margin control. For details, please refer to the paragraph headed "Our business model – (A) Securities trading services – (c) Margin financing services" in this section.

(iii) Managing trading risks with overseas brokers

We have implemented the following procedures to ensure that trades are properly placed and traded with overseas brokers:

- (i) Only our responsible officers are allowed to handle our clients' orders for trading overseas securities, who will place the order through the account maintained with the overseas brokerage firm;
- (ii) The contents of an overseas securities transaction shall be manually inputted by the settlement staff, and the contents of the overseas securities trading order shall be checked and approved by our responsible officers; and
- (iii) Our settlement staff will cross check the transaction details upon the receipt of the daily trading contract or statement from the overseas brokerage firm before issuing the transaction statement to our client.

As a statutory regulator, the SFC has the power to carry out inspections and reviews on licensed corporations at any time to ensure their compliance with relevant laws and regulations as well as codes and guidelines prescribed by the SFC. As a licensed corporation, Sinomax Securities may be subject to such inspections and reviews from time to time. Save for the matters disclosed below, our Directors confirm that our Group has complied with all applicable laws and regulations in Hong Kong (being the principal jurisdiction in which we operate) in all material respects and no disciplinary action was taken against any members of our Group and/or our employees during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date.

Inquiry under section 56 of the Securities Ordinance (Chapter 333 of the Laws of Hong Kong) (repealed and substituted by the SFO) by persons purporting to market securities

In January 2003, the SFC conducted a routine inspection on Sinomax Securities. During the inspection and the follow-up review in April 2004, unlicensed dealing activities at Sinomax Securities and a number of internal control failings were identified as follows:

(1) Unlicensed dealing activities

In April 2002 and February 2003, Chan Siu Tung, a former marketing assistant of Sinomax Securities, took and executed client orders, and confirmed trades with clients of Sinomax Securities without a license granted to him to do such activities. On 4 February 2004, Chan Siu Tung pleaded guilty to a summons of acting as a dealer's representative in Hong Kong without registration and was duly convicted.

Such conviction reflected Sinomax Securities had not implemented sufficient measures to prevent unlicensed dealing activities. In this incident, even though Chan Siu Tung was unlicensed, his computer was installed with full broker supplied system features. Although such installation was for training purposes, the SFC considered that, allowing Chan Siu Tung to have full broker supplied system access was unnecessary and premature and assisted his unlicensed dealing activities. Hence, Sinomax Securities failed to detect Chan Siu Tung's unlicensed dealing activities and failed to implement sufficient measures to prevent unlicensed dealing in breach of general principle 7 of the Code of Conduct and paragraph 12.1 of the Code of Conduct.

(2) Failure to establish client identity

Sinomax Securities required its staff dealers or AEs to verify the client's name, account number, identity card number and address before executing the client's orders. However, Sinomax Securities allowed its clients to bypass their staff dealers or AEs and to place orders directly to through licensed representatives who have not met such clients before.

According to paragraph 5.4 of the Code of Conduct, a licensed person should be satisfied on reasonable grounds about the identity, address and contact details of the person or entity (legal or otherwise) ultimately responsible for originating the instruction in relation to a transaction. Sinomax Securities failed to communicate to its staff as to such verification requirements and also did not have sufficient measures to enforce compliance with them.

(3) Improper segregation of client money

On 11 December 2003, and 12 and 15 January 2004, Sinomax Securities transferred client monies from its clients' segregated bank accounts to its house clearing bank account resulting in insufficient money being maintained in its clients' segregated bank account. In addition, Sinomax Securities did not give written notice to the SFC within one Business Day after it became aware of that incident of non-compliance as required by section 11 of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules (Chapter 571I of the Laws of Hong Kong).

(4) Failure to obtain written direction to dispose of client money

On 12 February 2004, Sinomax Securities transferred money from one of its clients to another client without obtaining prior written direction which was in breach of section 5(1)(b) of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules. It exposed both Sinomax Securities and its clients to unnecessary financial risk had the transfer instructions later been denied by the client from whose account the money was transferred. General principle 8 and paragraph 11.1 of the Code of Conduct both require a registered person to ensure that client positions or assets are adequately safeguarded.

(5) Inadequate audit trails

Prior to 26 March 2004, Sinomax Securities repeatedly failed to implement an adequate recording system to ensure that client telephone orders were properly recorded and that such recordings were kept for at least three months as required by paragraph 3.9 of the Code of Conduct.

In addition, Sinomax Securities allowed clients who placed orders in person to stamp their dealing tickets with a signature chop only, without requiring these clients to sign or initial their dealing tickets.

A comprehensive audit trail is important to ensure client orders are handled fairly and in accordance with the best execution rule and observation of client priority as required under the Code of Conduct.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiencies.

After the inquiry, the SFC's preliminary findings on Sinomax Securities were:

- (i) failing to prevent and detect unregistered dealing in securities;
- (ii) failing to properly communicate to its staff its requirement to verify client identity;
- (iii) failing to maintain adequate funds in clients' segregated accounts;
- (iv) failing to obtain written directions for transferring client monies; and
- (v) failing to implement an effective tape recording system.

After taking into account (i) the co-operation of Sinomax Securities and its responsible officer, Mr. Luk Kam, including the settlements of the SFC's disciplinary actions, and their admission of the failings, in particular, Mr. Luk Kam's remorse for his failure; (ii) Sinomax Securities' clients did not appear to have suffered pecuniary loss as a result of Sinomax Securities' failures; and (iii) Sinomax Securities has since strengthened its internal controls, the SFC settled its disciplinary actions against Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam under the following terms:

- (A) Sinomax Securities agreed with and undertook to the SFC that it:
 - (i) admitted in full the failings found by the SFC;
 - (ii) accepted a public reprimand;
 - (iii) accepted a notice of decision, which was issued after Sinomax Securities' execution of the terms of settlement; and

- (iv) accepted that, the SFC, pursuant to section 201(4)(b) of the SFO was not obliged to comply with section 198(1) of the SFO by giving it a reasonable opportunity of being heard before issuing its decision under section 194 of the SFO;
- (B) Mr. Luk Kam agreed with and undertook to that the SFC that he:
 - (i) admitted in full his failing found by the SFC;
 - (ii) would pay HK$40,000 to the SFC within seven (7) days from the date of last execution of the terms of settlement;
 - (iii) would pay the sum of HK$40,000 from his own means and would not directly or indirectly seek reimbursement or indemnification of all or part of the said payment from Sinomax Securities or any other person including any insurer; and
 - (iv) accepted a notice of decision, which was issued after Mr. Luk Kam's execution of the terms of settlement;
- (C) the SFC would publish, on a date to be decided by the SFC but with one Business Day advance notice to Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam, a press release regarding the public reprimand of Sinomax Securities and the voluntary payment of Mr. Luk Kam. Such press release was published on 22 August 2005;
- (D) Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam each agreed and undertook that they would not, jointly or separately:
 - (i) publicly or otherwise dispute or comment inconsistently with the terms of settlement, the content of the press release, the notices of decision, and/or any event surrounding the disciplinary action against them; or
 - (ii) challenge the terms of settlement, press release and notices of decision, through application for review to the securities and appeals tribunal, judicial review or other means;
- (E) Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam each agreed that a breach of any or all of their respective agreements or undertakings in the terms of settlement would constitute a breach of the terms of settlement by the person or persons and would entitle the SFC to take further disciplinary action against that person or those persons who had committed the breach as appropriate;

- (F) subject to paragraph (D) above, in consideration of the agreements and undertakings given by Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam, the SFC agreed that so long as Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam respectively complied with their undertakings and obligations in the terms of settlement, the SFC would not take any further steps or disciplinary actions against them under section 56 of the SFO and/or section 194 of the SFO in respect of the matters found by the SFC; and
- (G) The SFC considered it appropriate in the interest of the investing public or the public interest to enter into the terms of settlement with Sinomax Securities and Mr. Luk Kam.

Findings of SFC inspection visit in October 2006

In October 2006, the SFC conducted a routine inspection on Sinomax Securities. During the inspection, the following breaches and deficiencies in the internal control procedures of Sinomax Securities were identified:

(1) Reporting of financial returns

The SFC noted from the review of Sinomax Securities' financial returns for August 2006 that Sinomax Securities had set-off against each purchase and sale by the same cash clients^(Note) of securities of different description due to be settled, which should be treated on a gross basis pursuant to section 11 of the FRR.

In respect of those receivables from cash clients^(Note) that were outstanding for settlement, Sinomax Securities had included in the liquid assets of account receivables from cash clients^(Note) which did not arise from the purchase of securities on a cash-against-delivery basis i.e. the securities being the subject of the purchase had been sold or withdrawn, which was not in compliance with section 21(1)(a) of the FRR. As a result, the amount of liquid capital was overstated by HK$4,394.

Sinomax Securities rectified the relevant financial returns by treating purchase and sale of the same cash client^(Note) of securities of different description on a gross basis. Sinomax Securities also informed the SFC that the calculation of receivables includes only two trade days, rather than five as allowed by the rules. Therefore, receivables which were not arising from purchase of securities on a cash-against-delivery basis were excluded in the liquid assets by following the aforesaid practice. The amended financial returns were sent to the SFC. Since then, Sinomax Securities has adopted the gross basis for two trade days' period for preparing its financial returns.

Note: Before the SFC's inspection of Sinomax Securities' financial returns in 2010, Sinomax Securities had no margin client. Our then cash clients were not rolling balance cash clients, which means that they did not authorise us to dispose of securities in their securities accounts for settlement of outstanding debts and/or to set-off trade receivables and trade payables.

(2) Order recording

During the SFC's review of Sinomax Securities' dealing records, the SFC noted that all selected sample orders placed via telephone with one of the AEs of Sinomax Securities during trading hours could not be traced to telephone recordings. Sinomax Securities then explained that due to software errors of the centralised telephone recording system, all orders received via the telephone of the said AE could not be retrieved. The SFC was further advised that the telephone records of one of the responsible officers of Sinomax Securities were subject to similar retrieving problems though the said responsible officer seldom received orders himself. This was in breach of paragraph 3.9 of the Code of Conduct.

Sinomax Securities had a complete recording system in place. The relevant responsible officer generally did not receive client orders over the telephone, and orders placed to him were generally from clients who were on-site. As such, the relevant responsible officer expressed clearly that there was no need to connect his phone to the recording system. Hence, Sinomax Securities has since disconnected his line from the recording system and since then there have been no instances of retrieving problems. As for the relevant AE, Sinomax Securities immediately purchased a new telephone with recording machine for him and informed the system vendor to fix the recording system and have since notified the SFC accordingly. Since then, Sinomax Securities' staff have reviewed the system in accordance with the guidelines set by the system vendor on a weekly basis.

(3) Prevention of money laundering

During the SFC's inspection, the SFC was advised that Sinomax Securities had no written policy aimed at preventing and impeding money laundering and terrorist financing. Sinomax Securities subsequently provided a one-page written policy on prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing. However, the policy failed to cover, among others, the following points:

- (a) the controls over receipt of cash/cash cheques, if any;
- (b) the controls over issuance of cash cheques/payment of cash, if any;
- (c) client due diligence policies, such as the documents required for account opening;
- (d) the name of and the monitoring work to be done by the designated compliance officer for prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing;
- (e) the on-going monitoring for identification of suspicious transactions;
- (f) the internal suspicious transactions reporting procedures and a sample of the reporting form; and

- (g) details of training programmes for new employees and refresher trainings to relevant staff members.

Sinomax Securities has since established appropriate policies and procedures for the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing with reference to paragraphs 4.2 and 9 of the Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Guidance Note (superseded by the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Financing of Terrorism and the Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Guideline), and have taken steps to ensure the effectiveness and compliance with relevant requirements. In particular, Sinomax Securities has since adopted a systematic approach to identify suspicious or unusual financial activities for reporting to the JFIU.

Sinomax Securities has since adopted and submitted to the SFC a revised written policy on prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing which covers the areas specified by the SFC.

(4) Controls over remote vendor support

The SFC was advised that Sinomax Securities' system vendor was able to access Sinomax Securities' systems (including iTrader, iBroker and the Oracle Database) at anytime via the Internet though it would normally obtain Sinomax Securities' consent before accessing such systems.

To better safeguard the integrity of Sinomax Securities' systems and clients' data, Sinomax Securities was advised to enhance the controls over remote vendor support arrangement by only allowing the vendor access on a request and need-basis. Sinomax has since reversed its remote vendor connection so as to ensure proper access control and data protection.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiency by shutting down the relevant server, so that the system vendor has not been able to access Sinomax Securities' systems as the server is power off. In order to access Sinomax Securities' Systems, the said system vendor needs to inform Sinomax Securities in advance, and access is only possible after Sinomax Securities turns on the server.

Findings of the SFC follow-up visit in October 2010

By a letter dated 30 July 2010 from Sinomax Securities to the SFC, Sinomax Securities reported to the SFC that the auditor had stated in the compliance report of Sinomax Securities for the year ended 31 March 2010 that Sinomax Securities did not have sufficient liquid capital during the month of April 2010. In October 2010, the SFC conducted a follow-up inspection on Sinomax Securities. During the inspection, the following breaches and deficiencies in the internal control procedures of Sinomax Securities were identified:

(1) Breaches of Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules

The SFC was advised in the compliance report of Sinomax Securities that there were discrepancies between the required balances and the actual balances of client money maintained in the segregated bank account of Sinomax Securities during September 2009. Subsequently, Sinomax Securities advised in its letter that the discrepancies were caused by an ex-accounting officer, who resigned from Sinomax Securities in March 2010, failing to pay the required amounts of money received from clients into and out of the segregated bank account within one Business Day after receiving the clients' money or becoming aware the relevant portion was no longer client's money. During the follow-up review, the SFC identified similar discrepancies also occurring in August and October 2009. Accordingly, Sinomax Securities breached sections 4(4) and 10 of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules. Furthermore, Sinomax Securities was informed about the breaches by its auditor in August 2010 but had failed to, within one Business Day thereafter, give written notice of that fact to the SFC and hence has further breached section 11 of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules.

The SFC was informed that a new accounting officer, who had been assigned to conduct the reconciliation of segregated bank account, was employed in April 2010. In addition, the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules compliance controls have since been strengthened so that the accounting officer has been required to submit the confirmation of bank account transfer together with the reconciliation of client money to the responsible director for review on a daily basis.

Sinomax Securities has since segregated client money according to the requirements stipulated under the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules and made sure that adequate and effective control procedures are put in place to ensure the full compliance of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules, including the notification requirement under section 11 of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules, at all times. Moreover, Sinomax Securities has since ensured that its staff who are responsible for performing the reconciliation and segregation of client money are conversant with the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules.

(2) Errors in client aging report produced by the new computer system

During SFC's visit, the SFC noted that Sinomax Securities had implemented a new computer system in April 2010. Sinomax Securities used the new system to produce its management reports for daily operation usage. Moreover, Sinomax Securities had used the client aging report generated by the new system to prepare monthly financial returns since September 2010. However, the SFC found that the client aging report produced by the new computer system failed to classify the client receivables based on the settlement date in accordance with section 21 of the FRR. The SFC also found that the total client receivables shown in the client aging report did not match with the total client receivables shown in the balance sheet. Although the client aging report had been modified to refer to the settlement date, the management of Sinomax Securities had yet to resolve the remaining errors in the client aging report generated by the new system.

General Principle 3 of the Code of Conduct requires that a licensed person should have and employ effectively the resources and procedures which are needed for proper performance of its business activities. Sinomax Securities has since taken action to fix the errors of the client aging report generated by the new system and ensure that the computer system Sinomax Securities enables the proper performance of Sinomax Securities' business activities at all times.

(3) Breaches of the FRR

During the SFC's review of Sinomax Securities' financial returns as at 31 August 2010, the SFC noted that Sinomax Securities had failed to account for its assets and liabilities in its August 2010 financial returns in accordance with the requirements under the FRR. For instance, the SFC noted from Sinomax Securities' financial return for August 2010 that Sinomax Securities had set-off against each purchase and sale by the same cash clients^(Note) of securities of different description due to be settled, which should be treated on a gross basis pursuant to section 11 of the FRR. The error had led to incorrect balances reported under "other amounts receivable from clients arising from dealing in securities" and "amounts payable to clients". The same error was identified in Sinomax Securities' financial returns for August 2006 during the SFC's inspection in 2006. Sinomax Securities failed to deduct cash client^(Note) receivables overdue more than one month after the settlement date from the liquid assets of its financial returns in accordance with section 21 of the FRR. The error had caused an overstatement of the liquid capital of Sinomax Securities as of 31 August 2010.

Sinomax Securities agreed to engage an auditor to review the latest financial returns calculation and provide recommendations for improvement accordingly.

Note: Before the SFC's inspection of Sinomax Securities' financial returns in 2010, Sinomax Securities had no margin client. Our then cash clients were not rolling balance cash clients, which means that they did not authorise us to dispose of securities in their securities accounts for settlement of outstanding debts and/or to set-off trade receivables and trade payables.

Sinomax Securities has since taken all reasonable steps immediately to ensure the accuracy of submitted financial returns and compliance with all requirements of the financial returns at all times. Moreover, Sinomax Securities has since ensured that its staff responsible for preparing the financial returns thoroughly understand and are conversant with the requirements of the FRR.

(4) Inadequate management supervision

The SFC noted that the management of Sinomax Securities relied on the accounting officer to perform daily reconciliation of client money, adjustment of segregated bank account balance and preparation of the financial returns. However, the management of Sinomax Securities failed to identify the errors made by its accounting officer and the breaches of the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules, the FRR and the Code of Conduct until they were uncovered. The occurrence of repeated errors without management's notice indicated that there was inadequate management supervision in the daily operation of Sinomax Securities.

According to General Principle 9 and paragraph 4.2 of the Code of Conduct, the senior management of a licensed person should bear primary responsibility for ensuring the maintenance of appropriate standards of conduct and adherence to proper procedures by the firm. The licensed person should also ensure that it has adequate resources to supervise diligently and does supervise diligently persons employed or appointed by it to conduct business on its behalf.

Sinomax Securities has since conducted a thorough review of all critical operation procedures so as to identify and rectify any undetected problems immediately. Sinomax Securities has since ensured adequate management resources are deployed to supervise its staff conducting business on its behalf.

(5) Long outstanding overdue client receivables

During the SFC's sample review of Sinomax Securities' cash clients' ^(Note) monthly statements of September 2010, the SFC noted that some cash clients ^(Note) had long outstanding overdue balances. For example, two clients had about $3.9 million and $2.4 million respectively overdue more than one month. The SFC was advised that these two clients had long relationships with Sinomax Securities and were friends of the shareholders. The SFC also noted that the said clients were holding securities portfolio (mainly GEM and non-index stocks) with market values of $15.5 million and $14 million respectively as at 30 September 2010. Nevertheless, the existence of long overdue client receivables indicated that Sinomax Securities had not exercised tight credit controls over its clients and had not followed up on the overdue cash client ^(Note) receivables timely.

Note: Before the SFC's inspection of Sinomax Securities' financial returns in 2010, Sinomax Securities had no margin client. Our then cash clients were not rolling balance cash clients, which means that they did not authorise us to dispose of securities in their securities accounts for settlement of outstanding debts and/or to set-off trade receivables and trade payables.

Sinomax Securities' attention was particularly drawn to the SFC's circular dated 25 February 2008 "Implementation of prudent risk management policies and procedures", which indicated that allowing cash clients^(Note) long credit periods to settle their trades were unacceptable risk management practices. Sinomax Securities has since tightened its credit controls and taken actions to follow up with the cash clients^(Note) having long outstanding overdue balances.

The credit controls has since been properly implemented by Sinomax Securities following the SFC's inspection in 2010 as our then existing cash clients^(Note) were required to change their account status to either margin client or cash client. Our cash clients have authorised Sinomax Securities in writing disposal of his/her securities for settlement of outstanding debts and to set-off trade receivables and trade payables. In respect of our cash clients, a credit limit has been granted by our responsible officer or executive Director at their discretion to the relevant client taking into account the following factors: (i) background and financial status, such as employment details; (ii) financial wealth and net assets; and (iii) investment experiences and trading behaviours. Our responsible officer who is responsible for implementing the credit controls will be monitoring the relevant cash client to ensure that he/she is trading is within his/her credit limit.

(6) Delivery of trading documents to clients

During the SFC's visit, the SFC found that:

- (i) eight hold-mail clients had given Sinomax Securities written authority to keep their daily trading document at Sinomax Securities' office while their monthly account statements had been sent to them. However, the SFC also noted that these clients had never collected their daily trading documents. The management of Sinomax Securities had not maintained proper records for hold mail clients' collection of trading document and had not followed up with the clients for the uncollected document;
- (ii) Sinomax Securities had delivered the trading document of one of the hold-mail clients through its AE to the client without proper written authorisation and instruction;
- (iii) the trading documents mailed to the four dormant client accounts with insignificant balances had been returned by post office and their contacts had been changed without notifying Sinomax Securities. However, the SFC noted their securities trading accounts had not been suspended by Sinomax Securities; and

- (iv) Sinomax Securities had accepted the authorisation and instruction from four clients to deliver the trading documents to the AEs of Sinomax Securities for passing onto them.

Sinomax Securities attention was drawn to:

- (i) paragraph 3.10 of Code of Conduct which requires a licensed person to act in the best interests of its clients in providing services to its clients; and
- (ii) section 17 of the Securities and Futures (Contract Notes, Statements of Account and Receipts) Rules which states that any contract note, statement of account or receipt required to be provided to a client shall be regarded as duly provided to the client if it is served on any person (except an officer or employee of the intermediary) designated by the client by notice in writing to the intermediary that is required to provide the documents to the client.

In light of the above, Sinomax Securities was required to:

- (i) follow up with its clients to ensure their trading documents kept in Sinomax Securities' office would be collected timely. Sinomax Securities should maintain a log book to keep track of the collection of trading document by its hold mail clients.
- (ii) stop delivering the trading document to the relevant client through any third party without a proper written authorisation from the client;
- (iii) suspend the dormant securities accounts from trading immediately and follow up with Sinomax Securities' clients for their updated addresses and contacts; and
- (iv) Stop delivering the trading document to Sinomax Securities' clients through its AEs and seek other appropriate means to deliver the trading document to them.

The SFC was informed that Sinomax Securities would deliver all uncollected trading documents to the hold mail clients if they have not collected them for more than one week after issuance. Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiencies.

Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2013

In May 2013, the SFC conducted a routine inspection of Sinomax Securities. During the inspection, the following breaches and deficiencies in the internal control procedures of Sinomax Securities were identified:

(1) Margin call records

The SFC was informed that Sinomax Securities would make margin calls to the relevant clients on the next Business Day after the issuance of the margin client report, which would be reviewed by the management of Sinomax Securities on a daily basis. However, Sinomax Securities did not maintain any audit trails of the margin calls made, as well as the rationale of waiving margin calls as required by Sinomax Securities' internal policy. During the SFC's sampled review, the SFC noted two of the margin clients' accounts had outstanding margin call and were allowed to make further purchases. The SFC was advised that the management had reviewed and approved those further purchases. However, no documentation was maintained in respect of such management decision and the rationale behind thereof. Sinomax Securities was required to institute necessary controls to ensure compliance with the relevant requirements.

The SFC drew Sinomax Securities' attention to the requirements under section 7(2)(d)(iv) of the Securities and Futures (Keeping of Records) Rules and paragraph 12(h) of Schedule 5 to the Code of Conduct, which stipulate a licensed corporation should maintain details of margin calls made and such record should ensure case history of margin calls for each individual client can be readily established. Sinomax Securities has since instituted necessary controls to ensure compliance with the relevant requirements.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiencies and instructed its staff to maintain margin call records.

(2) Handling of unrepresented cheques

During the SFC's sampled review of the bank reconciliations of Sinomax Securities' house bank account, the SFC noted that there were some stale unrepresented cheques in the reconciling items (i.e. cheques which had been issued by Sinomax Securities for more than 6 months and remained unrepresented for payment by clients). It appeared that Sinomax Securities had failed to implement proper procedures to ensure that unrepresented cheques were properly followed up and closely monitored.

Paragraph 24 of Appendix C to the Suggested Control Techniques and Procedures for Enhancing a Firm's Ability to Comply with the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules and the Securities and Futures (Client Money) Rules recommends that as soon as the bank statements are received, a firm should reconcile them with its ledger accounts and promptly follow up on all discrepancies and closely monitor those that are material or long overdue. Sinomax Securities has since instituted all necessary measures to follow up promptly with the clients on any long unrepresented cheques especially stale cheques and where appropriate, transfer the amount into a segregated account to ensure that it is adequately safeguarded.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiencies. The amount of the unrepresented cheques more than six months had been transferred into segregated accounts. Sinomax Securities' staff monitor the unrepresented cheques daily and properly follow up.

(3) Designation of client securities accounts

The SFC noted that a trading account opened with Sinomax Securities' execution broker for trade execution on behalf of Sinomax Securities' clients was not designated as a trust account or client account.

To enhance client protection, Sinomax Securities has since properly designated such trading accounts to ensure client assets are properly safeguarded as required under paragraph 11.1(a) of the Code of Conduct.

Sinomax Securities has since renamed the trading account opened with its execution broker for trade execution on behalf of its clients as "Sinomax Securities Limited-Client A/C".

(4) Statements of account issued to clients

The SFC noted from its sampled review of Sinomax Securities' statements of account issued to clients that the date of stock withdrawal by a client shown in Sinomax Securities' statement of account was not the actual date when the stock was collected by the client. It was only the date when Sinomax Securities withdrew the stock from its account held with CCASS.

This was not in compliance with section 11(3)(e) of the Securities and Futures (Contract Notes, Statements of Account and Receipts) Rules. Sinomax Securities should have since instituted all necessary measures to ensure that all information provided to clients are accurate and not misleading, and are sufficient to comply with the applicable requirements.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified its statements of account issued to clients. Sinomax holds the stocks withdrawn from clients' accounts held with CCASS in clients' accounts held with Sinomax Securities until such stocks are actually collected by our clients.

(5) Receipts issued to clients

The SFC was advised that Sinomax Securities would not provide receipts to clients for physical securities scrip received from the clients. In addition, the daily statements did not expressly state that they also serve as receipts for the client assets received from clients.

This was not in compliance with section 13 of the Securities and Futures (Contract Notes, Statements of Account and Receipts) Rules. Sinomax Securities has since prepared and provided receipts to clients to ensure full compliance with the applicable requirements.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the above and provides receipts to clients upon receiving physical securities scrip. The following statement has been added to the daily statement: “This statement also serves as a receipt required by S13 Securities and Futures (Contract Notes, Statements of Account and Receipts) Rules”.

(6) Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing

(a) Documentation of risk assessment

The SFC was advised that Sinomax Securities had performed clients risk assessment based on the money laundering risk factors such as country risk, client risk, product/service risk and delivery/distribution channel risk. However, no records or relevant documents had been kept on the risk assessments conducted.

The SFC drew Sinomax Securities’ attention to paragraph 3.8 of the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing which stipulates that Sinomax Securities should keep records and relevant documents on (i) how Sinomax Securities assess the clients’ money laundering and/or terrorist financing risk; and (ii) the extent of client due diligence and on-going monitoring is appropriate based on that clients’ money laundering and/or terrorist financing risk. Sinomax Securities has since instituted all necessary measures to ensure that proper documentation of such risk assessment is maintained.

(b) Identification of Politically Exposed Persons

The SFC was advised that Sinomax Securities only relied on the background information provided by their clients to determine whether the clients or their beneficial owners are politically exposed persons, without making references to any publicly available information or commercially available database.

Section 19(1), Schedule 2 of the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing (Financial Institutions) Ordinance and paragraph 4.13.9 of the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing require Sinomax Securities to establish and maintain effective procedures (for example making reference to publicly available information and/or screening against commercially available databases) for determining whether a client or a beneficial owner of a client is a politically exposed person. Sinomax Securities has since instituted all necessary measures to ensure compliance with these requirements.

(c) Third-party payments

The SFC noted that a “Request for Fund Withdrawal or Fund Transfer to Another Account Form” would be completed by clients for request of third-party payment. However, the reason for third-party payment was not documented.

Given that third-party payments pose high money laundering risk, the compliance officer has since stepped up his monitoring in this area. In particular, Sinomax Securities has since taken into account frequent funds transfers or cheque payments to unverified or difficult to verify third-parties along with other information to identify transactions that could be a cause for scrutiny in accordance with section 5.12 of the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing.

Compliance advice letter dated 5 May 2014 from the SFC

On 5 May 2014, the SFC issued a compliance advice letter (the “Compliance Advice Letter”) to Sinomax Securities. The purpose of the Compliance Advice Letter was, among others, to set out areas of regulatory concern to assist Sinomax Securities in carrying out its future business activities in compliance with the requirements of the SFO and the Code of Conduct.

The SFC’s concerns

In relation to the SFC’s concerns as to the adequacy of Sinomax Securities’ controls and procedures relating to the use of the AMS terminal and the keeping of order records for orders placed via the AMS and BSS systems, Sinomax Securities’ submitted that:

- (a) it has clear procedures in place to guide users of the AMS terminal on how to maintain and keep records placed via the AMS terminal. Specifically, the procedures were detailed in a rulebook (“Rulebook”) and displayed on Sinomax Securities’ notice board. Sinomax Securities also explained the Rulebook to all new employees. A copy of the Rulebook was provided to the SFC to support Sinomax Securities’ submission;
- (b) it has in place a policy where the AMS terminal can only be used by Sinomax Securities’ two responsible officers and a dealing clerk (with the responsible officer’s consent) when the BSS system breaks down. This policy was communicated by Sinomax Securities responsible officer, Mr. Sy, to all staff members;

BUSINESS

- (c) its failure to keep order records for a client's transactions in a company's shares on 26 and 28 April 2011 were isolated incidents and were caused solely by the said dealing clerk's failure to follow Sinomax Securities' procedures. The said dealing clerk had since resigned from Sinomax Securities; and
- (d) it has obtained copies of the missing orders records placed via its BSS system in April 2010 to October 2011 from its third party service provider.

Sinomax Securities also submitted it has implemented a number of remedial measures to address the SFC's concerns:

- (a) the AMS terminal at Sinomax Securities is switched off until needed;
- (b) it keeps copies of the Order Activity Detail Report which details all orders placed via its AMS terminal including details of cancelled and amended orders;
- (c) it makes a daily back up of all orders placed via its BSS system and has done so since the discovery by Mr. Sy in October 2011 that the said service provider only retained records for 3 months; and
- (d) it has since retrieved the missing order records for the client's dealings in a company's shares on 26 and 28 April 2011 from the Stock Exchange.

As a licensed corporation, Sinomax Securities has a duty to ensure that it maintains adequate measures to ensure order records are properly kept. The SFC was concerned that Sinomax Securities did not exercise sufficient care and diligence and did not maintain adequate measures to ensure that all order records concerning securities that it receives or initiates were properly kept in compliance with all applicable regulatory requirements. Although Sinomax Securities has since retrieved the missing BSS and AMS records from the Stock Exchange and the relevant service provider, it appears to have made no serious attempts to retrieve the missing records until after the commencement of the SFC's disciplinary proceedings.

General Principle 2 (diligence) of the Code of Conduct requires a licensed person to act with due skill care and diligence in the conduct of its business activities. General Principle 7 (compliance) and paragraph 12.1 of the Code of Conduct require a licensed person to comply with and maintain measures appropriate to ensuring compliance with the law and all regulatory requirements applicable to the conduct of its business activities.

Compliance advice

On balance, the SFC does not consider the formal disciplinary action against Sinomax Securities is necessary or an efficient use of its resources. Instead, the SFC believes that issuing the Compliance Advice Letter is a better alternative and will enable Sinomax Securities to benefit from the opportunity to review and improve its compliance awareness to ensure the SFC's concerns did not arise again. In arriving its decision, the SFC has also taken into account the merits of Sinomax Securities' representations including the procedures in its Rulebook and its production of the missing AMS and BSS records.

Sinomax Securities is reminded that record keeping is a fundamental regulatory obligation and helps to safeguard the interests of both Sinomax Securities and its clients in the event where a dispute arises over the execution of trade orders. Sinomax Securities is further reminded that, although it may outsource the function of keeping records to a third party service provider, the duty to keep proper records and comply with regulatory requirements cannot be delegated and remains with Sinomax Securities. To avoid similar concerns in future, Sinomax Securities is advised to periodically review its procedures to ensure all order records are kept in accordance with the regulatory requirements.

Findings with respect to the letter dated 18 February 2015 from the SFC*Failure of telephone recording system*

The SFC was advised that the telephone recording system of Sinomax Securities ceased to operate during the period from 10 November 2014 to 20 November 2014 because of a hardware problem. The management of Sinomax Securities discovered the problem during the regular checking on 19 November 2014 and immediately requested the vendor to fix the problem. A new telephone recording system was implemented on 20 November 2014 to rectify the problem. Nevertheless, Sinomax Securities had failed to record the clients' telephone orders during the relevant period and hence breached paragraph 3.9 of the Code of Conduct. The SFC was advised that 161 orders from 46 clients had been executed during the relevant period but were not recorded by the telephone recording system. However, all of the executed transactions were duly recorded in the relevant client's daily statements. The management of Sinomax Securities had also called the relevant clients to confirm their transactions respectively. No client complaint has been received by Sinomax Securities in relation to the aforesaid problem. Moreover, regular checking of the telephone recording system has been conducted twice a day so as to ensure the availability of the said telephone recording system.

The SFC takes a serious view on compliance with the Code of Conduct. Sinomax Securities has since put adequate and effective measures in place to ensure the availability of the telephone recording system and full compliance with the Code of Conduct at all times.

Findings of the 2016 assurance report

Based on the 2016 assurance report on compliance with the SFO issued by the auditor of Sinomax Securities, the auditor noted that:

- (1) there were inaccuracies contained in the financial returns of Sinomax Securities as follows:
 - (a) the liquid capital and balance sheet amounts arising from accounts receivable from cash clients of Sinomax Securities as stated in its financial returns were inaccurately calculated, as it had extracted incorrect balances from its system reports;
 - (b) the liquid capital and balance sheet amounts arising from accounts receivable from margin clients of Sinomax Securities as stated in its financial returns were also inaccurately calculated, as it failed to consider the effect of illiquid collateral provided by margin clients; and
 - (c) the liquid capital and balance sheet amounts arising from accounts receivable and payable from HKSCC were also inaccurately calculated as it did not set off accounts receivable against accounts payable in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, as required under section 3(1) of the FRR.
- (2) Sinomax Securities has failed to send written confirmation to clients regarding the deemed renewal of standing authority.

Under section 4 of the CSR, where a licensed corporation relies on the standing authority of clients when dealing with client securities and/or securities collateral from time to time received, it is required, prior to expiry of existing standing authority, to seek renewal of the standing authority. Such renewal shall be deemed to have been renewed if the licensed corporation gives written notice of such renewal at least 14 days prior to the expiry of the standing authority and the licensed corporation gives written confirmation of such renewal within one week after the date of expiry. While Sinomax Securities had given written notice of such renewal of standing authority to clients prior to its expiry, it had failed to provide written confirmation of such deemed renewal to the relevant clients in breach of section 4 of the CSR.

On 30 August 2016, Sinomax Securities notified the SFC of the above matters, and have (i) subsequently submitted corrected financial returns to the SFC for the affected period from March to June 2016; and (ii) taken various measures to prevent similar mistakes from occurring in the future. These include, inter alia, (a) adopting a policy of providing written confirmations of deemed renewal of standing authority within 7 days of expiry; and (b) updated its back office system such that accounts receivable calculations from margin clients would be generated by its system rather than manually to mitigate incidents of human errors).

Findings with respect to the letter dated 6 July 2017 from Sinomax Securities

Inaccurate financial returns

Sinomax Securities reported to the SFC that the financial returns submitted for the period from April 2015 to March 2017 were inaccurate. A majority of the identified errors in the financial returns were repeated errors due to the usage of improper accounting schedules and system capacity over the relevant period. The major findings are highlighted below:

(1) Amounts receivable from cash clients

Due to the capacity of accounting system (G2BS), amounts receivable from cash clients may not have been reflected accurately. The system has since been upgraded and tested by the vendor, the most updated market data has been extracted from reliable sources and the true amounts of amounts receivable from cash clients has been recorded.

(2) Proprietary positions in securities and specified investments

Inappropriate haircut amount was applied on beneficially owned positions. New haircut percentage has since been used with reference to section 27 of the FRR.

(3) Other payables and liabilities accruals, amounts payable and other liabilities other than approved subordinated loan

Inaccurate classification of accruals was noted in the previously submitted financial returns. Tailor made accruals schedules has since been applied according to section 53(1)(a)-(e)&(h) of the FRR.

(4) Ranking liabilities relating to concentrated proprietary positions

Inappropriate formula was used to calculate concentrated proprietary positions which could not consider all the requirements of section 44 of the FRR in the previously submitted financial returns. The correct formula has since been applied based on section 44 of the FRR.

Sinomax Securities has submitted the revised financial returns for the period from April 2015 to March 2017 to the SFC. In addition to consulting the independent accountant who was appointed to perform reviews on financial returns, Sinomax Securities has since also relied on more experienced staff to maintain more comprehensive and precise accounting schedules and breakdowns and to take note of updates to the FRR.

Findings of the 2017 assurance reportWritten notice of renewals of standing authority

Based on the 2017 assurance report on compliance with the SFO issued by the auditor of Sinomax Securities, the auditor noted that Sinomax Securities gave a written notice to clients to remind them of the impending expiry of standing authority 14 days before the expiry of the standing authority. However, during the year ended 31 March 2017, Sinomax Securities did not give a written notice of renewals of standing authority to those clients who had not replied to Sinomax Securities on or before the date of expiry or gave a written notice of renewals of standing authority after one week of the date of expiry to those clients who had not replied to Sinomax Securities on or before the date of expiry in Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu's selected samples.

Hence, Sinomax Securities was in non-compliance with the requirement under section 4(4) of the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules. This non-compliance matter was rectified on 5 January 2017 by implementing the remediation procedures to renew the client's standing authority in accordance with section 4(4) of the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules.

Sinomax Securities did not comply with the requirements under section 4(4) of the Securities and Futures (Client Securities) Rules and, if without reasonable excuse contravenes the said section, may be liable to a fine at level 3 (HK$10,000).

Findings of the 2018 assurance report

Based on the 2018 assurance report on compliance with the SFO issued by the auditor of Sinomax Securities, the auditor noted that Sinomax Securities understated its liquid capital on the monthly financial returns during the year ended 31 March 2018 in the amount ranging from HK$41,000 to HK$49,000 in its calculation of the provision for concentrated proprietary positions of the listed shares held for its own account as Sinomax Securities used the aggregate net market value of all listed shares held for its own account in the calculation, instead of using the net market value of individual listed shares which are of the same description.

This was not in accordance with section 44 of the FRR. Sinomax Securities has since reported the above instances and resubmitted the revised monthly financial returns to the SFC.

Our Directors confirm that all of the above non-compliance incidents have been rectified. As at the Latest Practicable Date, there was no penalty or sanction imposed by the SFC nor pending action in relation to the non-compliances. For information on our risk management and internal control procedures, please refer to the section headed "Business – Risk management and internal control procedures" in this prospectus.

Findings of SFC inspection visit in May 2019

In May 2019, the SFC conducted a routine inspection of Sinomax Securities. During the inspection, the following breaches and deficiencies in the internal control procedures of Sinomax Securities were identified:

(1) Discretionary accounts and third party operated accounts

Sinomax Securities reported that, as of 30 April 2019, 13 clients had granted authorisations to its licensed representatives to operate their securities trading account on a discretionary basis. In addition, 94 clients had granted authorisations to third parties to operate their trading accounts maintained with Sinomax Securities. The SFC noted the following deficiencies in their sample review:

(a) Operation and monitoring of discretionary account

One of Sinomax Securities' account executive was granted the authority to trade for the accounts of two discretionary clients. During the SFC's review period for the three months ended 30 April 2019, the SFC noted instances where the relevant account executive had placed orders to trade for the two discretionary accounts on the same stock within a short interval. The relevant account executive advised that the investment decisions for trading the same stock for both accounts were generally made at the same time. In executing these investment decisions, the relevant account executive placed separate trade orders and sometimes due to market condition split the trade order for each client into a few orders of smaller quantity at different order prices.

The SFC noted that Sinomax Securities has not established any policy and procedure in ensuring that its staff, when executing the same investment decision made at the same time for more than one client, uses the same execution plan and allocates the same average price to their trades.

GP.1 of the Code of Conduct specifies that a licensed persons should, among others, act fairly of its clients in conducting its business activities. In this connection, Sinomax Securities should establish policy and procedure in ensuring that its staff, when executing the same investment decision made at the same time for more than one discretionary client, uses the same execution plan and allocates the same average prices to their trades.

In addition, Sinomax Securities should put in place appropriate monitoring procedure for supervising the operation of discretionary amounts to ensure that the aforesaid policy and procedure are properly followed by its staff (paragraph 7.1(e) of the Code of Conduct).

The Group has since rectified the said deficiencies.

(b) Compliance with discretionary account agreement

According to the discretionary account agreement (the “Discretionary Account Agreement”) signed with clients, staff of Sinomax Securities is required to conduct trades on clients’ accounts in accordance with the investment guideline as set forth in the Discretionary Account Agreement. However, the SFC noted that Sinomax Securities did not implement any monitoring procedures or regular review by an independent staff to ensure the investment guideline in the Discretionary Account Agreement has been adhered to.

Furthermore, under clause 4 of the Discretionary Account Agreement, Sinomax Securities was required to notify the clients in writing and ceased conducting any trades in the accounts in case the net asset value of the discretionary accounts dropped to an agreed net asset value level specified by clients in the Discretionary Account Agreement (the “Notification Requirement”). In practice, the SFC was advised that no checking procedure was done to ensure the Notification Requirement was complied with from time to time.

This is not in compliance with paragraph 2(b) and 2(c) in Appendix to the Internal Control Guidelines. Sinomax Securities should put in place monitoring procedures to ensure the trades executed on the discretionary accounts are in accordance with the terms, and such review should be conducted by designated staff member(s) independent of the staff handling the accounts. In addition, Sinomax Securities should put in place procedures to ensure any reporting/Notification Requirement as set forth in the Discretionary Account Agreement entered with clients is complied with.

The Group has since rectified the said deficiencies.

(c) Controls over third party operated accounts

The SFC noted that the relationship between the third party operators and the clients in a number of cases were “friends” and such relationship did not seem to provide self-evident reason why the clients have granted the trading authority to these third parties.

Furthermore, the SFC noted that a former responsible officer of Sinomax Securities was allowed to operate 8 client accounts. The authorisations were given by the clients when the relevant responsible officer was still accredited as a licensed representative of Sinomax Securities. These accounts were then reclassified as third party operated accounts in Sinomax Securities' internal record, but Sinomax Securities had not taken any action to follow up with the clients to ascertain whether they would continue the authorisation of the relevant responsible officer after his departure. The SFC noted that 6 of these clients account did not have any trading activities for the 12 months ended 30 April 2019 (the "Inactive Clients"). Separately, the SFC also noted that 55 clients out of 94 third party operated accounts were also Inactive Clients.

It is important to note that third party operated accounts may expose their account holders and the licensed corporation to undue risks. Sinomax Securities should implement and maintain appropriate policy and procedure to:

- (i) critically evaluate the relationship and reasons and need for the authorisation before the approval of third party operated accounts; and
- (ii) conduct regular review to determine whether the third party authorisation remain necessary and appropriate.

(2) Securities Margin Financing

Lax margin call triggers and documentation standard

The triggering level for making first and successive margin call was not clearly set out in Sinomax Securities' margin lending policies. The policy only sets out a list of factors, including the client's existing loan balance, the quality and value of existing collateral, the client past credit history etc. to be considered in deciding whether it is necessary to issue margin calls.

The SFC noted that a responsible officer of Sinomax Securities would review a "Margin Call Report" which listed out all client account with margin shortfall (such client accounts are referred to "Under-margin Clients" hereafter) on a daily basis. Margin shortfall refers to the amount by which the outstanding loan balance exceeds the marginable value of underlying collateral, which is the market value of individual stock in the underlying collateral x their applicable margin ratio. However, in practice, the SFC noted that margin calls would not be issued to all Under-margin Clients. The relevant responsible officer would consider the "actual ratio" i.e. the ratio of outstanding loan balances to market value of underlying collateral as the key parameter for margin call triggers. The SFC was advised by the relevant responsible officer that clients account with "actual ratio" of over 80% would be subject to margin calls.

From the SFC's review of the Margin Call Report on 2 April 2019, the SFC noted that there were 46 Under-margin Client accounts and 8 of them were noted with "actual ratio" of over 80%. However, no margin calls were issued to the 8 clients with "actual ratio" of over 80%. The relevant responsible officer explained that he had exercised his judgement to waive the margin calls on the 8 clients. However, the SFC noted that the decision for the aforesaid waiver of margin call to the 8 clients was made by the relevant responsible officer alone, and no check and balance has been put in place e.g. sample review by compliance team or by another responsible officer against any objective criteria on whether such waiver is appropriate. Furthermore, no documentation was maintained on the approval of the waiver and the justification for waiver of the margin calls to these 8 clients with "actual ratio" over 80%. Such practice was not in compliance with Sinomax Securities margin lending policy, which stipulated that any waiver of margin calls must be approved by a responsible officer with proper documentation of the justification.

For compliance with paragraph 12(h) of Schedule 5 to the Code of Conduct, Sinomax Securities should set the triggering level for making the first and successive margin calls, including intra-day calls in its margin lending policy.

When determining the triggering level for making margin calls, Sinomax Securities should refrain from adopting a fixed loan-to-collateral ratio and should take into consideration all relevant factors, including the quality, volatility and liquidity of the securities collateral provided by the client, prevailing market conditions and the client's credit worthiness.

Any deviation from the firm's margin call policy and procedure, including the waiver of margin calls when the trigger level is reached, should be approved by senior management in writing and supported by documented justification, and a suitable check and balance mechanism should be put in place to ensure that any such deviation is approved only when prudent approval criteria are met.

The Group has since rectified the said deficiencies.

(3) Controls over CCASS operations

The SFC noted that a senior management of Sinomax Securities would act as the backup of a responsible officer by using his CCASS access card and password to approve transactions in the CCASS terminal during his leave of absence.

The operation of CCASS functions for the transactions is a high risk area. Effective controls and safeguards such as ensuring stringent access controls are essential to protect client assets.

Sinomax Securities should also implement controls to disallow sharing of CCASS user accounts, access cards and passwords as this would undermine the effectiveness of any controls implemented and make unauthorised transaction difficult to detect.

The Group has since rectified the said deficiencies.

(4) Anti-money laundering and counter-financing of terrorism measures

(a) Suspicious transaction monitoring and reporting

Sinomax Securities' Money Laundering Reporting Officer would perform review of clients' trades for identification of unusual and potentially suspicious transactions based on a list of red flag indicators set out in Sinomax Securities' policies. The SFC noted that transactions that are not consistent with the firm's knowledge of the client, the client's business, risk profile or source of funds were not included in the list of red flag indicators set out in Sinomax Securities' policies.

In the SFC's sample review, the SFC noted that a client of Sinomax Securities had deposited physical scrip of shares with value of over HK$100 million to Sinomax Securities in September 2018. The transaction amount did not appear to be consistent with Sinomax Securities' knowledge of the relevant client's financial profile and her source of funds as the amount was significantly higher than her reported total net assets of below HK$4 million, and could not be reasonably explained by her reported source of income i.e. annual salary of less than HK$600,000 provided by her for the account opening 9 months ago in January 2018. No follow up enquiries was made by Sinomax Securities about the source of funds for purchasing the shares deposited by the relevant client.

Under section 5(1) of Schedule 2 to Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing (Financial Institutions) Ordinance (Chapter 615 of the Laws of Hong Kong) and paragraph 5.1 of the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Financing of Terrorism (For Licensed Corporations), a financial institution must continuously monitor its business relationship with a customer by, among other things, conducting appropriate scrutiny of transactions carried out for the customer to ensure that they are consistent with the firm's knowledge of the customer, the customer's business, risk profile and source of funds.

Sinomax Securities should critically review and enhance its systems and procedures to identify transactions that are not commensurate with the firm's knowledge of the client and the client's financial profile for follow up enquiries. Sinomax Securities should also establish and maintain a record of its further enquiries and investigations as well as assessment of these potentially suspicious transactions, and whether they result in a disclosure to the Joint Financial Intelligence Unit (the "JFIU").

Upon their enquiry during the inspection, the SFC noted that Sinomax Securities had subsequently performed a review on the relevant client's account and considered that there were grounds for suspicion. Sinomax Securities consequently filed a suspicious transaction report on the relevant client's account to the JFIU. Notwithstanding the above, Sinomax Securities is required to implement proper controls to comply with the aforesaid requirements.

Sinomax Securities has since rectified the said deficiency and has strengthen its policy and procedures with regards to the monitoring and reporting of suspicious transactions.

(b) Sanction screening

The SFC noted that Sinomax Securities would perform sanction screening on clients against a commercially available database only at the establishment of business relationship and in its periodic review of customer information, but not whenever there are any relevant new and updated designations.

This was not in compliance with paragraph 6.16 of the Guideline on Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Financing of Terrorism (For Licensed Corporations). Sinomax Securities is required to establish and maintain effective procedures for sanction screening.

The Group has since rectified the said deficiencies.

Given that the non-compliance incidents have been fully rectified, and no further action has been taken by the SFC regarding the non-compliance incidents, our Directors believe that the risk of any further action to be taken by the SFC relating to the abovementioned non-compliance incidents is remote.

Our Directors confirm that the non-compliances disclosed in the Prospectus were not systemic non-compliances pursuant to the Guidance Letter HKEX-GL63-13 given that they were not of a recurring nature. The said non-compliances and/or deficiencies in the internal control procedures involved different aspects of the operations of Sinomax Securities.

Our Directors consider that the abovementioned non-compliance incidents would not affect the suitability of our Directors under Rules 3.08 and 3.09 of the Listing Rules or the suitability of listing our Company under Rule 8.04 of the Listing Rules and that the various internal control measures adopted by our Group are adequate and effective having taken into account that:

- (a) the non-compliance incidents did not involve any dishonesty or fraudulent act on the part of our Directors, and did not raise any question as to the integrity of our Directors;
- (b) we have implemented and will continue to implement internal control measures to avoid the recurrence of the non-compliance incidents;
- (c) we have carried out remedial actions and fully rectified the non-compliance incidents; and
- (d) as far as our Directors are aware, there has been no recurring of similar non-compliance incidents since the implementation of the relevant remedial measures.

Internal control measures to mitigate risks of further non-compliance incidents and to enhance our internal controls

Our Group engaged an independent consulting firm (the “Internal Control Consultant”) in May 2019 to perform an assessment of internal controls by identifying internal control weaknesses in relevant financial procedures, systems and internal controls, including amongst others, corporate controls, financial reporting and disclosure controls, insurance management and general IT controls, key processes relevant to previous non-compliance and where appropriate, providing recommendations for improvement.

Based on the Internal Control Consultant’s review and recommendations, our Group implemented enhanced measures and adopted/updated policies, procedures and manuals to improve our internal control systems, mitigate risks of future non-compliances and deficiencies incidents as well as to ensure our compliance with the Listing Rules and relevant Hong Kong laws. All the relevant deficiencies that were noted following Internal Control Consultant’s review have since been rectified in full or have been remedied to the extent the risk exposure to the Group is not material.

Further, in order to continuously improve our Group’s corporate governance and to mitigate risks of non-compliance or incidents of deficiencies in the future, our Group has adopted the following measures:

- (i) all previous practices of Sinomax Securities which were questionable under applicable laws and regulations have ceased and/or been rectified;
- (ii) following the internal control review by the Internal Control Consultant, certain of our internal control procedural manuals and policies have been updated;

BUSINESS

- (iii) our senior management and staff have been provided with our updated manuals and policies as well as adequate training, and going forward, we will continue to provide them with adequate training and/or updates regarding applicable legal and regulatory requirements from time to time;
- (iv) we have designated a compliance manager to assist our senior management and our Board identify, assess and manage the risks associated with compliance of laws and regulations applicable to our Group;
- (v) we will retain qualified legal counsel where necessary to advise our Group from time to time on legal and regulatory compliance matters;
- (vi) we have established an audit committee comprising all of our independent non-executive Directors, whose primary duties are to assist our Board in providing an independent view on the effectiveness of our Group's financial reporting process, internal control and risk management systems, to oversee the audit process, and to perform other duties and responsibilities as assigned by our Board; and
- (vii) we have implemented risk management policies and procedures, and also established a risk management committee to identify, evaluate and manage risks arising from our operations.

Having considered the rectification action taken and the enhanced internal control measures adopted by us based on recommendations and discussion with our Internal Control Consultant (who confirmed that such actions and measures have been implemented), our Directors are of the view that the risk management restructures and policies and internal control measures adopted by our Group are adequate and effective and will enable our Group to ensure ongoing compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

BUSINESS

All of our employees (other than our AEs) are employed under employment contracts which set out fully, among other things, the employees' responsibilities, remuneration and grounds for termination of employment. The remuneration packages of our employees (other than our AEs) include fixed monthly salary, commission and bonus. Apart from a fixed salary, our staff dealers are entitled to share a proportion of the brokerage commission for the trading on the Referred Accounts referred by them. However, they are not entitled to receive any brokerage commission for trading in the House Accounts.

Generally, the salaries of our employees are determined based on the employee's qualification, experience, position and seniority. We assess our employee's remuneration on an annual basis to determine whether any bonuses or salary adjustments are required to be made. We have not experienced any strikes, labour disputes or other labour disturbances which have materially and adversely interfered with our business operations.

Contributions are made to the mandatory provident fund for each of our employees in accordance with the Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme Ordinance (Cap. 485 of the Laws of Hong Kong), and each of them are entitled to all social benefits and entitlements afforded to them under the Employment Ordinance (Cap. 57 of the Laws of Hong Kong). We do not maintain any occupational retirement schemes pursuant to the Occupational Retirement Schemes Ordinance (Cap. 426 of the Laws of Hong Kong).

As at 31 July 2019, the employee compositions (in numbers of employees) by employment type were as follows:

AEs

As at the Latest Practicable Date, we had a total of 6 AEs, and as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, we had 8, 6, 7 and 8 AEs, respectively. Our AEs are not full-time employees of Sinomax Securities and do not have continuous contracts of employment with us, and as such they are not required to work in our offices at designated times and are not entitled to statutory benefits and entitlements as an employee under the Employment Ordinance (Cap. 57 of the Laws of Hong Kong). Instead, they are engaged on a commission basis and are only entitled to commission at an agreed sharing ratio from the commission generated from the clients they referred to our Group.

The major terms of agreements entered between our AEs and Sinomax Securities are summarised below:

- it is expressly declared that the agreement and the relationships between Sinomax Securities and our AEs do not constitute a contract of employment;
- both parties agree that all commissions received from clients referred by our AEs will be shared between us and our AEs at an agreed percentage;
- our AEs will be fully and personally responsible for the collection of all amounts due from his/her clients and in any case be wholly and fully responsible for all amounts due by his/her clients, if any;
- our AEs shall indemnify Sinomax Securities and keep it indemnified against all loss and/or damage which may be suffered by Sinomax Securities in connection with or arising from the business transactions dealt by or through him/her;
- our AEs must comply with the SFO, and all codes and guidelines laid down by the SFC and HKEX; and
- either party may terminate the agreement by providing one month written notice to the other party. There are exclusivity clauses and non-competition undertakings restricting various activities of AEs following the termination of their engagement.

Our Directors consider that by engaging AEs, we can easily gain access to more potential clients without bearing extra fixed staff costs. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, commission and brokerage income generated from the Referred Accounts was approximately HK$1.24 million, HK$1.41 million, HK$0.64 million and HK$0.4 million, respectively, accounting for approximately 7.5%, 4.5%, 3.0% and 5.7% of our total commission and brokerage income, respectively.

Notwithstanding that our AEs are not our employees, they are licensed representatives of Sinomax Securities and their business activities are bound by the Code of Conduct. According to the Code of Conduct and our internal control policy, licensed employees and our AEs are generally required to deal in securities through their securities trading accounts maintained with us. All our internal control policies including the staff dealing monitoring procedures are extended to our AEs and we have not experienced any difficulties in monitoring our AEs during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date. The term of the appointment shall commence on the Listing Date and end on the date on which we distribute our annual report in respect of our financial results for the first full financial year commencing after the Listing Date and such appointment may be subject to extension by mutual agreement.

CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

During the Track Record Period, we entered into certain transactions with parties who will, upon completion of the Listing, become our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) pursuant to the Listing Rules. Some of these transactions are expected to continue after the Listing, thereby constituting connected transactions under the Listing Rules. Our Directors confirm that they are of the view that these continuing connected transactions were and will be conducted in our normal course of business and based on normal commercial terms. Save as disclosed in this prospectus, our Directors have confirmed that no other expenses have been paid by the connected person on behalf of or for the benefit of our Group during the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date.

Each of the persons stated below, who will become connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) upon the Listing, had and will continue to have transactions with our Company.

EXEMPTED CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

Commissions, fees and interest income from our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) in relation to our provision of brokerage services and margin financing services

During the Track Record Period, Mr. Sy, Mr. Ng, Mr. Keng, Ms. Yeung and Dr. Yu (where applicable, including their associates) received brokerage services, margin financing services and/or investment advisory services from Sinomax Securities from time to time on normal commercial terms and at rates no more favourable than those offered to (i) our staff and/or (ii) other clients of Sinomax Securities who were Independent Third Parties with similar background and/or nature. Dr. Yu closed his accounts with Sinomax Securities on 28 July 2018. After the Listing, Sinomax Securities intends to continue to conduct transactions with each of these connected persons (where applicable, including their associates). Following our Directors' deliberation, it was noted that pursuant to paragraph 12.2 of the Code of Conduct, employees should generally be required to deal through the licensed or registered person or its affiliates, and for the purposes of paragraph 12.2 of the Code of Conduct, the term "employees" includes directors of a licensed or registered person. For compliance with this paragraph of the Code of Conduct, our Directors considered it appropriate to require Mr. Sy, Mr. Ng, Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung to conduct their personal securities dealing activities (being the aforesaid, brokerage services and margin financing services) through Sinomax Securities after the Listing.

Historical transactions amount with our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates)

Period:	From the Listing Date up to 31 March 2022

CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

The annual caps for each of the years ending 31 March 2020, 2021 and 2022 respectively are proposed as follows:

	2020	2021	2022
	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000
Brokerage services income	1,100	1,100	1,100
Interest income from margin financing services	500	500	500

In determining the above annual caps under the Brokerage Services Agreement, our Directors have taken into consideration the following principal factors:

- the actual revenue generated from the provision of brokerage services and margin financing services to our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) during the Track Record Period;
- the expected increase in our Group's commission and brokerage income from executing or facilitating the execution of trades of connected persons and/or their associates, assuming there will be improvement in the capital market in the forthcoming years; and
- the expected increase in our interest income, assuming our connected persons (where applicable, including their associates) will increase their utilisation of margin loan facilities we may make available to them on the basis that the capital market will improve in the forthcoming years.

Listing Rules implications

The Brokerage Services Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereunder will constitute continuing connected transactions of our Company upon the Listing under the Listing Rules. As the relevant applicable percentage ratios in respect of the proposed annual caps on an annual basis are less than 5%, and the annual consideration is less than HK$3 million, the continuing connected transactions are fully exempt from shareholders' approval, annual review and all disclosure requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules.

Confirmation from our Directors

Our Directors (including our independent non-executive Directors) consider that (i) the exempt continuing connected transactions as set out under the Brokerage Services Agreement have been and will be entered into in the ordinary and usual course of our business, on normal commercial terms or on terms better to us, and are fair and reasonable and in the interests of our Company and Shareholders as a whole; and (ii) the annual caps under the Brokerage Services Agreement for our connected persons as set out above are on normal commercial terms which are fair and reasonable and in the interests of our Company and Shareholders as a whole.

Details of the continuing connected transactions will be disclosed in our annual reports after Listing.

CONTROLLING SHAREHOLDERS

Immediately after completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (without taking into account any Shares which may be allotted and issued by our Company pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme), 75% of the issued share capital of our Company will be owned by Man Chase, which is owned as to 60% by Mr. Keng and 40% by Ms. Yeung. As such, each of Man Chase, Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung is a controlling shareholder of our Company within the meaning of the Listing Rules.

Save as disclosed above, there is no other person who will, immediately following the completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue, be directly or indirectly interested in 30% or more of the Shares then in issue or have a direct or indirect equity interest in any member of our Group representing 30% or more of the equity in such entity.

INDEPENDENCE FROM OUR CONTROLLING SHAREHOLDERS

Having considered the following factors, we believe that our Group is capable of carrying on our business independently of our Controlling Shareholders and their respective associates (other than our Group) after the Listing.

(i) Management independence

The day-to-day management and operation of the business of our Group will be the responsibilities of all of our executive Directors and senior management of our Company. Our Board consists of six Directors comprising two executive Directors, one non-executive Director and three independent non-executive Directors. Mr. Keng, our non-executive Director, is also one of our Controlling Shareholders. Save for Mr. Keng, none of the other Directors nor any of the members of our senior management is a Controlling Shareholder.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, no Director has overlapping roles or responsibilities in any business other than our business nor has any business which competes or is likely to compete, either directly or indirectly, with our business. Each of our Directors is aware of his fiduciary duties as a director which require, among other things, that he acts for the benefit and in the best interests of our Company and does not allow any conflict between his duties as a Director and his interest to exist. In the event that there is a potential conflict of interest arising out of any transaction to be entered into between our Group and our Directors or their respective associates, the interested Director(s) shall abstain from voting at the relevant meeting of our Board in respect of such transaction and shall not be counted in the quorum.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OUR CONTROLLING SHAREHOLDERS

Further, we consider that our Board and senior management will function independently from our Controlling Shareholders because: (i) the independent non-executive Directors will bring independent judgement to the decision making process of our Board; (ii) all our Directors are sufficiently experienced and capable of monitoring the operations of our Group independently of our Controlling Shareholders or any interested Director(s); and (iii) our senior management is independent and possesses in-depth experience and understanding of the industry in which our Group is engaged. Based on the above, our Directors are satisfied that our Board as a whole together with our senior management team are able to perform the managerial role in our Group independently.

(ii) Operational independence

Our operations are independent of and not connected with any of our Controlling Shareholders. Having considered that (i) we have an independent management team to handle our day-to-day operations and have established our own organisational structure comprising individual departments, each with specific areas of responsibilities; (ii) our Group has our own independent access to resources required for our operation and has not shared our operational resources, such as marketing, sale and general administration resources with our Controlling Shareholders and/or their associates; (iii) our Group has also established a set of internal controls to facilitate the effective operation of our business; (iv) as at the Latest Practicable Date, our Controlling Shareholders have no interest in any of our client, supplier or other business partners; (v) as at the Latest Practicable Date, our Group had independent access to suppliers or clients of our Group; (vi) all of our operating subsidiaries hold the licences necessary for the operation of our Group's business in their own names; and (vii) the registered trademarks and other intellectual property necessary or desirable for our business are registered in the name of our Group, our Directors consider that our Group can operate independently from our Controlling Shareholders from an operational perspective.

Taking into account the above, our Directors are satisfied that our Group's business operation does not rely on our Controlling Shareholders. Our Group has been operating independently from our Controlling Shareholders during the Track Record Period and will continue to operate independently upon Listing.

(iii) Administrative independence

Our Group has our own resources and personnel to perform all essential administrative functions, including internal control, financial and accounting management, invoicing and billing, human resources and information technology.

Accordingly, our Directors are of the view that our Company has been administratively independent from our Controlling Shareholders during the Track Record Period and will continue to be independent from an administrative perspective upon Listing.

(iv) Financial independence

During the Track Record Period, each of Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung provided an interest free loan to Sinomax Securities in the principal amount of HK$9,000,000 and HK$6,000,000, respectively. The loans were repaid in full by Sinomax Securities to Mr. Keng and Ms. Yeung in April 2016. Excluding these loans, during the Track Record Period our Group did not rely on any financial assistance of any form from our Controlling Shareholders. Our Directors consider that our Group is generally able to obtain external financing on market terms and conditions for our business operations as and when required independently and without material financial or collateral support from our Controlling Shareholders and that such financing capability will likely be materially enhanced following the Listing. In addition, our Company has established its own internal control, accounting and financial systems that operate independently from our Controlling Shareholders.

Furthermore, our Directors are of the opinion that the financing needs of our Group will be satisfied by income generated from our ordinary course of business, the proceeds from the Listing, and where necessary, from capital raising activities on a stand-alone basis without reliance on our Controlling Shareholders.

For the reasons above, our Directors are of the view that our Group is not financially dependent on our Controlling Shareholders or their respective close associates in our business operations, and is capable of operating independently from our Controlling Shareholders from a financial perspective upon and after the Listing.

RULE 8.10 OF THE LISTING RULES

None of our Controlling Shareholders, our Directors and their respective close associates has any interest in a business apart from our Group's business which competes or is likely to compete, directly or indirectly, with our Group's business, and would require disclosure pursuant to Rule 8.10 of the Listing Rules.

DEED OF NON-COMPETITION

Our Controlling Shareholders have entered into the Deed of Non-competition in favour of our Company (for ourselves and as trustee of our subsidiaries), pursuant to which our Controlling Shareholders have jointly and severally, irrevocably and unconditionally undertaken to and covenanted with our Company (for ourselves and for the benefit of our subsidiaries) that during the continuation of the Deed of Non-competition, each of our Controlling Shareholders would not, and would procure that its or his close associates (other than any member of our Group) would not, whether on its or his own account or in conjunction with or on behalf of any person, firm or company, whether directly or indirectly, carry on a business which is, or be interested or involved or engaged in or acquire or hold any right or interest or otherwise involved in (in each case whether as a shareholder, partner, principal, agent, director, employee or otherwise and whether for profit, reward or otherwise) any business which competes or is likely to compete directly or indirectly with the business currently and from time to time engaged by our Group (including but not limited to the provision of (i) brokerage services; (ii) margin financing services; (iii) placing and underwriting services; (iv) investment advisory; and (v) such other business of our Group, in each case, as described in this prospectus), in Hong Kong and any other country or jurisdiction to which our Group provides such services and/or in which any member of our Group carries on such businesses from time to time (the “Restricted Business”). Such non-competition undertaking does not apply to:

- (i) any interests in the shares of any member of our Group; or
- (ii) interests in the shares of a company other than our Company whose shares are listed on a recognised stock exchange provided that:
 - (a) any Restricted Business conducted or engaged in by such company (and assets relating thereto) accounts for less than 5% of that company’s consolidated revenue or assets, as shown in that company’s latest audited accounts; or
 - (b) the total number of the shares held by our Controlling Shareholders and/or their respective close associates in aggregate does not exceed 5% of the issued shares of that class of the company in question and such Controlling Shareholders and/or their respective close associates are not entitled to appoint a majority of the directors of that company and at any time there should exist at least another shareholder of that company whose shareholdings in that company should be more than the total number of shares held by our Controlling Shareholders and their respective close associates in aggregate; or
 - (c) our Controlling Shareholders and/or their respective close associates do not have the control over the board of such company.

The Deed of Non-competition shall take effect upon Listing and shall expire on the earlier of:

- (a) the day on which the Shares cease to be listed on the Stock Exchange or other recognised stock exchange; or
- (b) the day on which our Controlling Shareholders and his/its close associates, individually or taken as a whole, cease to own, in aggregate, 30% or more of the then issued share capital of our Company directly or indirectly or cease to be deemed as Controlling Shareholders and do not have power to control our Board or there is at least one other independent shareholder other than our Controlling Shareholders and his/its close associates holding more shares than our Controlling Shareholders and his/its close associates taken together.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OUR CONTROLLING SHAREHOLDERS

Pursuant to the Deed of Non-competition, each of our Controlling Shareholders has undertaken that if each of our Controlling Shareholders and/or any of his/its close associates is offered or becomes aware of any project or new business opportunity (“New Business Opportunity”) that relates to the Restricted Business, whether directly or indirectly, he/it shall (i) promptly within ten Business Days notify our Company in writing of such opportunity and provide such information as is reasonably required by our Company in order to enable our Company to come to an informed assessment of such New Business Opportunity; and (ii) use his/its best endeavours to procure that such opportunity is offered to our Company on terms no less favourable than the terms on which such New Business Opportunity is offered to him/it and/or his/its close associates.

If our Group has not given written notice of its desire to invest in such New Business Opportunity or has given written notice denying the New Business Opportunity within thirty (30) Business Days (the “30-day Offering Period”) of receipt of notice from our Controlling Shareholders, our Controlling Shareholders and/or his/its close associates shall be permitted to invest in or participate in the New Business Opportunity on his/its own accord. With respect to the 30-day Offering Period, our Directors consider that such period is adequate for our Company to assess any New Business Opportunity. In the event that our Company requires additional time to assess a New Business Opportunity, our Company may give a written notice to our Controlling Shareholders during the 30-day Offering Period and our Controlling Shareholders may agree to extend the period to a maximum of 60 Business Days.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE MEASURES

Our Company will adopt the following measures to manage the conflict of interests arising from potential competing business between our Controlling Shareholders and our Group and to safeguard the interests of our Shareholders:

- our independent non-executive Directors will review, on an annual basis, the compliance with the non-competition undertaking by our Controlling Shareholders under the Deed of Non-competition;
- our Controlling Shareholders undertake to provide all information requested by our Company which is necessary for the annual review by our independent non-executive Directors and the enforcement of the Deed of Non-competition;
- our Company will disclose decisions on matters reviewed by our independent non-executive Directors relating to compliance and enforcement of the Deed of Non-competition in the annual report of our Company;
- our Controlling Shareholders will make an annual declaration on compliance with their undertaking under the Deed of Non-competition in the annual report of our Company;

RELATIONSHIP WITH OUR CONTROLLING SHAREHOLDERS

- in the event that connected transactions, if any, between our Group and other business in which any of our Directors or their respective close associates has any interest are submitted to our Board for consideration, the relevant interested Director shall abstain from voting on the resolutions at the meeting of our Board approving such matters and shall not be counted in the quorum of such meeting, and such connected transactions shall be approved by a majority of votes of the non-interested Directors; and
- our independent non-executive Directors may appoint independent financial advisers and other professional advisers as they consider appropriate to advise them on any matter relating to the Deed of Non-competition or connected transaction(s) at the cost of our Company.

Further, any transaction that is proposed between our Group and/or our Controlling Shareholders and their respective close associates will be required to comply with the requirements of the Listing Rules, including, where appropriate, the reporting, annual review, announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements.

None of the members of our Group has experienced any dispute with its shareholders or among its shareholders themselves and our Directors believe that each member of our Group has maintained positive relationship with its shareholders. With the corporate governance measures including the measures set out above in place, our Directors believe that the interests of our Shareholders will be protected.

Our revenue increased by approximately HK$9.5 million or 59.7% from approximately HK$15.9 million for the four months ended 31 July 2018 to approximately HK$25.5 million for the four months ended 31 July 2019. BASIS OF PREPARATION

Our Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Law on 7 June 2016 and became the holding company of the companies now comprising our Group upon completion of the Reorganisation, details of which are set out in the section headed “History, Reorganisation and group structure” in this prospectus.

We have prepared our combined financial information for the Track Record Period in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA, on the basis of presentation as set out in note 2 of the Accountants’ Report contained in Appendix I to this prospectus.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Our Group’s financial information have been prepared in accordance with the HKFRSs. Significant accounting policies adopted by our Group are set forth in details in note 3 and 4 of the Accountants’ Report in Appendix I to this prospectus. Some of the accounting policies involve subjective judgements, estimates and assumptions made by our management, all of which are inherently subject to uncertainties.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following paragraphs summarise the critical accounting policies applied in the preparation of our Group's combined financial statements.

Revenue recognition

Our Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when "control" of the services underlying in particular performance obligation is transferred to customers. A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control of the goods or services may be transferred over time or at a point in time. If control of the goods or services transfers over time, revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation. Otherwise revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service. A description of the revenue recognition policies of our key services is as follows.

- (i) Brokerage services: commission income from brokerage services is recognised at a point in time on the execution date of the trades at a certain percentage of the transaction value of the trades executed;
- (ii) Placing and underwriting services: commission income from placing and underwriting services is recognised at a point in time when the relevant placing and underwriting activities are completed;
- (iii) Investment advisory services: income from investment advisory services is recognised over time because customer simultaneously receive and consume the investment advisory services provide by the Group.

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired. For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.

Intangible assetsTrading rights

Intangible assets represent eligibility rights to trade through a recognised stock exchange in Hong Kong. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, intangible asset represents a trading right in the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “SEHK”). Previously, the trading right was considered to have a definite estimated useful life and was amortised over its estimated useful life. Subsequently, the Directors performed a review of the accounting estimates and considered that such trading right has no foreseeable limit to the period over which our Group can use to generate net cash flows. As a result, prior to the Track Record Period, the trading rights was reconsidered by the management of our Group as having an indefinite useful life because it was expected to contribute to net cash inflows indefinitely. Therefore, the trading right ceased to be amortised, instead, it is tested for impairment annually and whenever there is an indication that it may be impaired.

As the trading right is not transferable, the recoverable amounts of the trading right held by our Group has been determined with reference to the recoverable amounts based on a value-in-use calculation. That calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a 5-year period and at a pre-tax discount rate of 13.84%, 13.34%, 12.19% and 11.54% and growth rate are 0%, 9%, 9% and 9% for the years ended 2017, 2018, 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019 respectively. The cash flows projections beyond the 5-year period are extrapolated using a steady 1% growth rate. A key assumption for the value-in-use calculation is the growth rate as 0%, 9%, 9% and 9% for the years ended 2017, 2018, 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019 respectively, which is determined based on management’s expectations for the market development.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The table below sets out the sensitivity analysis of the impact of variations in each of the key assumptions, namely the discount rate and the growth rate, on the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit, where the headroom represents the excess of the recoverable amount over the carrying amount of the trading right.

Headroom

	As at 31 March			As at 31 July
	2017	2018	2019	2019

10%	101,039	380,452	212,110	205,032

Management believes that any reasonably possible change in any of the assumptions would not cause the aggregate recoverable amount of the trading right to fall below the aggregate carrying amount of the trading right.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Impairment of financial assets

At the date of initial application, our financial assets previously classified as loans and receivables including bank balances, deposits and accounts receivables continued to be measured at amortised cost. There is no change in measurement basis of the financial assets.

The Group recognises a loss allowance for expected credit loss (“ECL”) on financial assets which are subject to impairment, including accounts receivable, deposits, bank balances. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL (“12m ECL”) represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for accounts receivable arising from placing and underwriting and investment advisory services. To measure the ECL, accounts receivable are assessed individually based on the Group’s historical default rates or default rates by reference to the Probability of Default (“PP”), Loss Given Default (“LGD”) over the expected life and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

Leases

Definition of a lease

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

As a lessee

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Group also applies practical expedient not to separate non-lease components from lease component, and instead account for the lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the recognition exemption for lease of low-value assets. Lease payments on leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Right-of-use assets

Except for leases of low value assets, the Group recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e. the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term is depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use asset is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets in “property and equipment”, the same line item as that within which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognises lease liability measured at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group; and
- payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate.

After the commencement date, the amount of lease liability is adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group remeasures the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review in which cases the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

APPLICATIONS OF HKFRS 9 AND HKFRS 15

Our historical consolidated financial information has been prepared based on our underlying financial statements, in which HKFRS 15 “Revenue from Contracts with Customers” was applied to recognise revenue of our brokerage services, placing and underwriting services, investment advisory services and handling and other services and HKFRS 9 “Financial instruments” was applied to recognise interest income from our margin financing services. We have adopted HKFRS 9 since 1 April 2018. The Group has not restated financial information from 1 April 2016 to 31 March 2018 for financial instruments in the scope of HKFRS 9. The financial information from 1 April 2016 to 31 March 2018 related to the financial instruments is reported under HKAS 39 and is not comparable to the information presented for the year ended 31 March 2019 and for the four months ended 31 July 2019. Our Directors consider that the adoption of HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 15 did not have a material impact on financial position and performance of our Group when compared to that of HKAS 39 “Financial instruments: Recognition and measurement” and HKAS 18 “Revenue”.

ADOPTION OF HKFRS 16

Our Group has adopted HKFRS “Leases” since the beginning of, and throughout, the Track Record Period.

Pursuant to HKFRS 16, our Group recognised lease liabilities of HK$1,377,000 and right-of-use assets of HK$1,377,000 at 1 April 2016.

Since the Group has consistently applied HKFRS 16 throughout the Track Record Period since the date of initial application, 1 April 2016, our Directors consider that there were no impact on key ratios or financial position and performance when compared to HKAS 17.

KEY FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITIONS

Our financial conditions and results of operation have been and will continue to be affected by a number of factors including in particular the following:

The financial performance of our placing and underwriting services business segment is affected by prevailing market conditions as well as our ability to secure relevant engagements

For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, we derived approximately 22.0%, 22.7%, 44.2% and 49.9% of our total revenues respectively from the provision of placing and underwriting services, respectively. Such services are provided on a project-by-project basis pursuant to engagements with issuers and lead managers or bookrunners (who may be willing to engage us to participate in capital raising and secondary offering projects from time to time).

We have however not entered into or secured, nor is it customary in our industry for the entering of, any binding agreement or commitments with issuers or lead managers or bookrunners in respect of future engagements, and our ability to secure relevant engagements may be affected by a variety of factors including, without limitation:

- (i) demand for our services which is dependent, to an extent, on the activeness of capital raising in the debt and equity capital markets in Hong Kong, which is in turn affected by various commercial consideration of issuers in light of prevailing market, economic, political and other conditions in Hong Kong (as well as in comparison with other major developed economies) which may affect investor sentiment and appetite. For example, prospective listing applicants and listed issuers may determine to delay, terminate, scale-back or relocate their fund raising plans and/or activities where it is perceived that investment sentiment and appetite has been stemmed by adverse, unfavorable or uncertain market conditions or that the terms of capital raising during such times may not be favorable. The market outlook and business strategies or capital needs of prospective listing applicants and listed issuers may however vary, and they may be subject to different factors of considerations based on their circumstances. Such factors are generally beyond our control;

- (ii) our capability to undertake new projects, and this is largely affected by our financial ability to underwrite securities offerings of prospective listing applicants and listed issuers whilst at the same time complying with capital requirements set out in the FRR. For example, a lead manager or bookrunner engaged by a prospective listing applicant or listed issuer to raise substantive amount capital may wish to seek the participation of underwriters who are capable of covering a meaningful portion of the bookbuilding rather than engage in unnecessarily extensive syndication with large number of underwriters with limited ability to underwrite;
- (iii) our relationship with lead managers and bookrunners, and this is materially affected by our ability to execute engagements in a proficient and professional manner as well as our ability to place securities to investors. In particular, the lead managers and bookrunners of an IPO would be seeking to ensure that the listing applicant would have an adequate spread of shareholders at the time of listing, and as such, would be seeking to engage underwriters who are capable of placing out the securities the subject of the share offering to potential investors as well as assist in their marketing and bookbuilding process in a professional manner.

Our margin financing business is affected by fluctuations in interest rates

Fluctuation in the prevailing interest rates may affect our results of operations in the following ways:

- (i) in respect of our margin and IPO financing business, we charge our clients interest on margin loans on rates which reference the Hong Kong Prime Rate, as such, movements in the Hong Kong Prime Rate may affect our revenue derived from our provision of margin loans. The Hong Kong Prime Rate, which are generally affected by the base rate set by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (“HKMA”), may be affected by various economic factors including, without limitation, the level of default of borrowings and mortgages in the market; control and effect over inflation; demand and supply in the credit market as well as strengthen of financial institutions;
- (ii) we draw down bank borrowings, overdrafts and advances using bank facilities and credit lines available to us from time to time for the purpose of supporting our margin financing business. As such, the interest rate charged on these facilities and credit lines would directly affect our level of interest expenses, and therefore our interest rate spread and hence profitability; and
- (iii) fluctuations in interest rate may affect the demand in the credit market for borrowing under prevailing market conditions, and which may in turn impact investors’ appetite to borrow for investment into financial markets, including for the purpose of dealing in securities, on a margin basis or otherwise. Our profitability may be affected where our clients become reluctant to borrow to deal in securities at times of unfavorable interest rates, or where they are more willing to borrow to invest at times of favorable interest rates, in each case, against their personal outlook against prevailing market conditions.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

In addition, if the HKMA or other relevant authority to which the banks in Hong Kong are subject may adopt policies or measures that affect banks' ability to make available loans or facilities, which may affect our access to financing for the purpose of on-lending to clients.

Our securities trading services is materially affected by investor sentiment which is in turn affected by prevailing market conditions in Hong Kong and the PRC

The performance of our securities trading services is directly affected by the level of disposal income of our clients and their investment sentiment and appetite which, as our clients are predominantly residents in Hong Kong and the PRC, are indirectly influenced by the prevailing market, economic, political and other conditions in Hong Kong and the PRC. In recent months in particular, it is perceived that investment sentiment has been generally affected by the ongoing trade war between China and the U.S. as well as local political turmoil and civil disobedience movements, although this has not particularly affected the trading volumes of our clients.

Further, as Hong Kong is an international financial center and an open economy, its domestic economy is also affected by other unpredictable changes, such as sudden downturn or sudden change in the global, regional or local economic, political, social, legal environment or government policies, such as fluctuations in global interest rates and Brexit.

In addition, as Hong Kong continues to act as an important offshore RMB center and continues to have a “super connector” role and a key channel for foreign inbound and Chinese outbound investments, our revenue generated from trading of securities by our PRC clients are not only affected by investment sentiment and appetite, level of disposal income as well as sophistication and investment strategies of our PRC clients, but are also affected by political, economic, social, legal conditions and government policies of the PRC, including those policies with Hong Kong which permits “mutual access” of investors of the respective markets. For example, China's policies to liberalize the securities and financial markets (including recent changes permitting full foreign ownership of security brokerages and fund managers) may affect investors' preference in the use of services offered by us, and China's policies on capital controls may affect our PRC clients' transfer of or access to funds for securities trading purposes.

Our financial performance may be affected by our ability to compete in the highly competitive financial and securities services industry in Hong Kong

The financial and securities services industry in Hong Kong is highly competitive due to the vast number of market players in providing securities brokerage services, margin financing services, placing and underwriting services, investment advisory services and asset management services. For details relating to the competitive landscape of our industry, please refer to the section headed “Industry overview” in this prospectus.

Our success in face of intensive competition from our peers would depend on our ability to effectively compete in terms of, among other things, pricing, resources, technological innovation, quality of services and variety of value-added services, which may be enhanced by such factors as brand recognition and reputation, client loyalty, established networks and business relationships, strong corporate governance as well as reliability, accountability and operational transparency as a publicly listed entity. For example, whilst we generally do not engage in price competition nor do we offer plans (such as commission ceiling plans) to remain competitive, our financial performance and profit margins may potentially be affected if our clients are swayed by aggressive pricing policies and marketing strategies of our competitors seeking to grow their client base or expand their market share and discontinue the use of our services.

Our compliance costs and operations may be affected by changes in the regulatory requirements in Hong Kong

The Hong Kong financial services industry is highly regulated and we are subject to and are required to ensure our, and our staff’s, ongoing compliance with different laws, rules, regulations, codes and guidelines (including but not limited to the SFO, the Code of Conduct, the Companies Ordinance, the Predecessor Companies Ordinance, the FRR, the Listing Rules, the GEM Listing Rules and the Takeovers Code) failing which (i) our or relevant staff’s regulatory licenses may be suspended; and (ii) the SFC may take disciplinary action (such as revocation or suspension of licences, public or private reprimand or imposition of pecuniary penalties), impose sanctions and penalties or commence civil or criminal instigations against us, which may materially affect our Group’s reputation, results of operations and financial performance. In order to ensure compliance, we may be required to make material efforts and resources (including staff training, review of internal controls and procedures, reporting lines and corporate governance practices), especially in light of changes in the regulatory landscape and requirements.

Commission and brokerage income derived from securities dealing

During the Track Record Period, we generated commission and brokerage income from the provision of brokerage services to our clients in respect of securities listed on the Stock Exchange as well as facilitating our clients' trading of securities listed on overseas stock exchanges, which accounted for approximately 46.7%, 54.9%, 32.7% and 27.5% of our total revenue for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The majority of commission and brokerage income generated from the provision of brokerage services during the Track Record Period was generated from trading of securities listed on the Stock Exchange. We charge brokerage commission for the execution of a trade based on a brokerage commission rate (being a percentage of the transaction amount of trade executed) agreed with our clients, subject to charge of a minimum commission which ranged from HK$50 to HK$100 per trade order. During the Track Record Period, the brokerage commission rate we charged for the execution of trade orders ranged from 0.075% to 0.25%, and the corresponding trading turnover (i.e. transaction amounts executed through us) amounted to approximately HK$7.3 billion, HK$12.7 billion, HK$10.7 billion and HK$3.8 billion respectively for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The brokerage commission rate we charge clients is generally determined on an arm's length basis based on clients' background and profile (such as their trading history including frequency, type and volume of trades, and length of client relationship with us etc.). The average commission rates we charged in connection with our brokerage services were approximately 0.21%, 0.21%, 0.19% and 0.18% for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The relatively lower average commission amounts generated for the year ended 31 March 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019 were mainly due to increase in trading activities of certain clients who were offered lower commission rate based on our pricing policy.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Interest income from margin financing services

During the Track Record Period, we generated interest income from the provision of margin financing services whereby we offer margin loans to our margin clients to facilitate their purchase of securities on a margin basis. We provide margin loans to our clients for the purchase of securities on the secondary market as well as provide IPO financing to clients for their subscription to shares offered under IPOs. For the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, our interest income generated from the provision of margin financing services to our margin clients amounted to approximately HK$9.9 million, HK$10.3 million, HK$12.8 million and HK$5.2 million, respectively, which accounted for approximately 27.7%, 18.1%, 19.6% and 20.6% of our total revenue during the respective periods. The interest rates we charged our clients from the provision of margin financing services ranged from Hong Kong Prime Rate +2% to 21.6% per annum. The interest rates we charge a client is determined with reference to, without limitation, the relevant client's trading record, creditworthiness and trading behaviour, as well as, the quality of securities pledged and/or other collateral given to secure the margin loan. We may charge higher interest rates to clients we consider as being of higher credit risk.

Interest income from cash clients

We execute trade orders for our cash clients notwithstanding a shortfall of funds in their client accounts, provided that the amount of shortfall do not exceed the credit limit designated in the relevant client accounts (unless the prior approval of our credit control committee is granted). Such outstanding amounts would be taken as a debt owed by the cash client to us up to the date of settlement, and where the cash client fail to settle the relevant trades within the T+2 period, we would charge default interest on the outstanding amount owed to us from that date.

During the Track Record Period, we generally charged a default interest rate of Hong Kong Prime Rate +7% per annum, and the amount of default interest income generated from cash clients amounted to approximately HK$676,000, HK$958,000, HK$544,000 and HK$136,000 for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively, which accounted for approximately 1.9%, 1.7%, 0.8% and 0.5% of our total revenue, respectively.

Placing and underwriting services income

During the Track Record Period, we acted as (i) bookrunner, lead manager and underwriter in relation to IPOs on the Stock Exchange; and (ii) placing agent in relation to placings of new securities of listing applicants and listed issuers on the Stock Exchange, in return for placing and underwriting services income.

Investment advisory services fee income

We provide investment advisory services to our clients through our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, a corporation which has been licensed with the SFC to carry out type 4 (advising on securities) regulated activity since 19 August 2016. We act as investment advisor to our clients and provide them with monthly research reports and investment consultancy services (whereby we may be required to meet with them to discuss investment-related matters upon request) in return for a service fee. We also provide investment advisory services incidental to our provision of securities trading services in respect of securities traded by our clients through us, which we provide free of charge.

For the years ended 31 March 2018 and 2019, our service fee income generated in connection with our provision of investment advisory services amounted to approximately HK$514,000 and HK$242,000 respectively, which accounted for approximately 0.9% and 0.4% of our total revenue for the respective periods. We did not generate any service fee income from the investment advisory business for the year ended 31 March 2017 as we only commenced the provision of investment consultancy services and issuance of research reports to clients from July 2017. For the four months ended 31 July 2019, there was no service fee generated due to the termination of investment advisory contracts with clients during the year ended 31 March 2019.

Handling and other fee income

We provided various other ancillary services related to our securities trading business including the provision of nominee services (to assist clients with the collection of share certificates or dividends), custodian services, scrip handling services and handling services for other corporate actions. SUMMARY SEGMENT RESULTS

We have four business segments, namely, the provision of: (i) brokerage services; (ii) margin financing services; (iii) placing and underwriting services; and (iv) investment advisory services.

The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as our Group's accounting policies described in note 4 of the Accountants' Report contained in Appendix I to this prospectus. Segment profit represents the profit earned by each segment without allocation of other income, other gains and losses, certain staff costs, certain finance costs, depreciation, listing expenses, other expenses and certain other operating expenses. Those unallocated expenses relate primarily to office and corporate expenses that are not directly attributable to our operations of particular segments. No inter-segment revenues are charged among segments.

The following table sets forth our segment revenue, segment profit or loss and segment margin (calculated as the segment results divided by the segment revenue) for the periods indicated:

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Brokerage services

Segment revenue from our brokerage services comprised of commission and brokerage income as well as handling and other fee income for ancillary services related to our brokerage service. We incurred the following main expenses in connection with the provision of brokerage services: (i) commission expenses we paid to our staff dealers and AEs (in respect of Referred Accounts) as well as overseas brokers; (ii) remuneration of responsible officers, staff dealers and AEs who provide brokerage services; and (iii) CCASS settlement and brokerage trading expenses.

The segment profit from our provision of brokerage services were approximately HK$15.9 million, HK$30.0 million, HK$19.7 million and HK$6.6 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The fluctuation of the segment profit was mainly due to the fluctuation in the amount of revenue derived from commission and brokerage income generated from securities dealing of clients which were affected by, among others, investment sentiment and outlook under prevailing market conditions.

The segment margin from our provision of brokerage services were approximately 92.5%, 93.4%, 86.2% and 89.7% for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The fluctuation of the segment margin was primarily affected by the fluctuations in the amount of commission expenses paid to third-party brokers which is influenced by investment preference for trading in securities listed in overseas stock exchange.

Margin financing services

Segment revenue from our provision of margin financing services consisted of interest income from our margin clients and cash clients. The major expense we incurred for generating segment revenue in connection with our provision of margin financing services included financing charges and costs resulting from the utilisation of bank facilities available to us for funding margin loans we extend to our clients.

Segment profits of our margin financing services amounted to approximately HK$10.6 million, HK$11.3 million, HK$13.1 million and HK$4.9 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The growth in segment profits from our provision of margin financing services was mainly due to an increase in interest income derived from our margin clients as the demand for our margin financing services increased over the years.

The segment margin from our provision of margin financing services remained at a high level of approximately 100%, 100%, 98.1% and 91.9% for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The fluctuation of segment margin of our margin financing services was primarily due to the incurrence of interest expenses for bank borrowings for providing margin loans to clients. We did not incur any financial expenses from bank borrowings (for extending loans to clients) other than in the year ended 31 March 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Placing and underwriting services

Segment revenue from our provision of placing and underwriting services consisted of placing and underwriting services income. In generating revenue from the provision of our placing and underwriting services, we incurred (i) commission expenses payable to staff of our equity capital markets department; (ii) salary payable to staff of our equity capital markets department; and (iii) impairment loss due to an account receivable of our placing and underwriting clients (which was subsequently reversed).

Segment profits from our provision of placing and underwriting services amounted to approximately HK$6.7 million, HK$8.3 million, HK$24.3 million and HK$11.4 million for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The growth in segment profits was mainly due to an increase in placing and underwriting services income. In particular, our segment revenue increased significantly in the year ended 31 March 2019 as we were engaged in more fund raising or placing projects (which were also generally more sizeable) in line with the activeness of the equity capital market during the relevant period.

The segment margin from our provision of placing and underwriting were approximately 85.5%, 64.4%, 84.2% and 89.9% for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. The fluctuation in the segment margin was primarily affected by the amount of commission expenses we paid to our staff of our equity capital markets department.

Investment advisory services

Segment revenue from our investment advisory services consisted of investment advisory services fee income and the main expenses incurred for generating the relevant income were payment of salaries to the relevant staff.

We recorded a loss in connection with our investment advisory services which amounted to approximately HK$267,000, HK$43,000 and HK$4,000 for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019, respectively. This was because the revenue derived from our provision of investment advisory services could not cover the salaries paid to the relevant staff. We did not generate any service fee income for the four months ended 31 July 2019 due to the termination of investment advisory contracts with clients for the year ended 31 March 2019 as we recorded a net loss from the performance of this segment.

Due to the loss in connection with our investment advisory services, we recorded negative segment margin of approximately -8.4% and -1.7% for the years ended 31 March 2018 and 2019, respectively. Since we did not generate revenue from our investment advisory services for the year ended 31 March 2017 and four months ended 31 July 2019, segment margin is not applicable for the relevant period.

Our accounts payable represent deposit balances of clients accounts and pending settlements for sales of securities listed on the Stock Exchange from cash and margin clients, and the HKSCC. Our accounts payable amounted to approximately HK$152.3 million, HK$186.1 million, HK$154.2 million and HK$159.7 million as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, respectively. The increase in accounts payable from 31 March 2017 to 31 March 2018 was attributable to an increase in deposit balance in our clients' margin accounts from approximately HK$18.4 million as at 31 March 2017 to approximately HK$57.7 million as at 31 March 2018, while the decrease in accounts payable from 31 March 2018 to 31 March 2019 was mainly due to a decrease in (i) deposit balance in our clients' margin accounts from approximately HK$57.7 million as at 31 March 2018 to approximately HK$27.5 million as at 31 March 2019; and (ii) sales of securities which were pending settlement from CCASS on behalf of our margin clients from approximately HK$29.9 million as at 31 March 2018 to approximately HK$7.0 million as at 31 March 2019. The slightly increase in accounts payable from 31 March 2019 to 31 July 2019 was mainly due to an increase in sales of securities executed by us on behalf of our margin clients which were pending settlement from CCASS from approximately HK$7.0 million as at 31 March 2019 to approximately HK$38.3 million as at 31 July 2019.

Accounts payable to cash clients amounted to approximately HK$117.5 million, HK$98.5 million, HK$119.6 million and HK$103.5 million as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, respectively. Accounts payable to margin clients amounted to approximately HK$30.2 million, HK$87.6 million, HK$34.5 million and HK$56.2 million as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, respectively. The movements in accounts payable to cash and margin clients were mainly due to fluctuations in securities trading volume of clients, which were affected by stock market conditions and trading appetite of our clients during the Track Record Period.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Balances with the HKSCC as at year-end represent the amount payable for purchase transactions executed by our clients but not yet settled due to the T+2 settlement basis. Accounts payable to the HKSCC amounted to approximately HK$4.6 million, nil, nil and nil as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, respectively.

The table below sets out the amounts of accounts payables due from certain related parties who were either cash clients or margin clients of our securities trading business:

	As at 31 March			As at 31 July
	2017	2018	2019	2019
	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000
Director of the Company
Mr. Sy and his close members of the family	16	26	164	421
Shareholders of the Company
Mr. Keng and his close members of the family	1,214	64	64	174
Ms. Yeung and her close members of the family	3,694	558	–	5,308

The above balances are unsecured, non-interest bearing and repayable on demand.

Accounts payable turnover days is calculated by dividing the average balance of accounts payable by the cost of sales for the period, multiplied by the number of days in the respective period. Due to the nature of our business, we do not have any cost of sales. Hence, we consider that it is not appropriate to calculate accounts payable turnover days for the purposes of evaluating the liquidity of our Group.

Other payables and accrued charges

As at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019, we recorded other payables and accrued charges of approximately HK$2.0 million, HK$3.3 million, HK$4.0 million and HK$7.0 million, respectively. The increase in other payables and accrued charges from 31 March 2017 to 31 March 2018 was primarily due to the accrual of expenses related to the Listing, while the increase in other payables and accrued charges from 31 March 2018 to 31 March 2019 was mainly due to an increase in accrual of audit fees for annual accounting reporting purposes. The increase in other payable and accrued charges from 31 March 2019 to 31 July 2019 was mainly due to the accrual of expenses related to the Listing.

Our Directors confirmed that during the Track Record Period up to the Latest Practicable Date, there was no material default in payment of accounts payable.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Current ratio

The current ratio of our Group remained fairly stable at approximately 1.7, 1.7, 2.0 and 2.0 as at 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and 31 July 2019 respectively. The slight increase in current ratio from 31 March 2018 to 31 March 2019 was mainly attributable to an increase in accounts receivable from margin clients.

Gearing ratio

Our Group's gearing ratio was approximately 0.2 as at 31 March 2019 and 31 July 2019. We did not have any third party debt as at 31 March 2017 and 2018. We utilised bank facilities of HK$30 million to fulfil the demand in margin loans from our clients.

Return on total assets

Our Group's return on total assets increased from approximately 4.9% for the year ended 31 March 2017 to approximately 9.6% for the year ended 31 March 2018. This increase was mainly due to an increase in net profit.

Our Group's return on total assets increased from approximately 9.6% as at 31 March 2018 to approximately 10.0% as at 31 March 2019, mainly due to an increase in net profit because of the significant increase in revenue derived from our placing and underwriting services.

Return on equity

Our Group's return on equity increased from approximately 11.6% for the year ended 31 March 2017 to approximately 22.0% for the year ended 31 March 2018, primarily due to an increase in net profit.

Our Group's return on equity slightly decreased from approximately 22.0% as at 31 March 2018 to approximately 20.1% as at 31 March 2019, primarily due to the increase in accounts receivable from margin clients. We loaned more to our clients in the year.

Net profit margin

Our Group's net profit margin increased from 38.2% for the year ended 31 March 2017 to 58.2% for the year ended 31 March 2018. Such material increase was attributable to the non-recurring nature of expenses (including fees and costs) which we incurred in connection with preparation and efforts to apply for a listing on GEM during the year ended 31 March 2017, and such expenses were not incurred for the year ended 31 March 2018.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Our Group's net profit margin remained stable for the year ended 31 March 2019 as compared to that for the year ended 31 March 2018. Our Group's net profit margin slightly decreased by approximately 0.3% from approximately 58.2% for the year ended 31 March 2018 to approximately 57.9% for the years ended 31 March 2019. Our Group's revenue and net profit before interest & tax increased at nearly the same pace over the respective years. The slight decrease in our Group's net profit margin was mainly due to an increase in finance costs.

Our Group's net profit margin increased from approximately 38.4% for the four months ended 31 July 2018 to approximately 45.1% for the four months ended 31 July 2019. Such increase was mainly attributable to the increase in revenue generated from placing and underwriting service with higher segment margin for the four months ended 31 July 2019.

DIVIDENDS AND DIVIDEND POLICY

During the Track Record Period, our Company did not pay or declare any dividend. We have adopted a dividend policy (to take effect from the date of Listing), but such policy does not prescribe any pre-determined dividend pay-out ratio. The payment and the amount of any future dividend will be at the discretion of the Board and will depend on, among others, (i) the Group's results of operations, financial condition, future prospects, capital commitments, development pipeline, prevailing economic environment, contractual restrictions, capital and other reserve requirements, dividends received from the Company's subsidiaries and associates; (ii) the provisions governing the declaration and distribution of dividends as contained in our Articles and pursuant to our dividend policy; (iii) compliance with applicable laws; and any other conditions or factors which the Board deems relevant and having regard to the Directors fiduciary duties. Any final dividend for a financial year will be subject to Shareholders' approval. Our Company may declare and pay dividends by way of cash or scrip or by other means as our Board considers appropriate. Any dividend unclaimed shall be forfeited and shall revert to our Company according to the Articles. Our Board will review the dividend policy from time to time.

CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

At the end of each of the reporting period, our Group and our Company did not have any significant contingent liabilities.

LISTING EXPENSE

Our Group expects that its total Listing expenses, which are non-recurring in nature, will amount to approximately HK$36.8 million (based on the Offer Price of HK$0.55 per Share) being the midpoint of our indicative Offer Price range before HK$0.5 and HK$0.6 per Offer Share. Approximately HK$96,000, HK$1.9 million, HK$1.9 million and HK$5.1 million of the total Listing expenses has been charged to our combined statements of profit and loss and other comprehensive income for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019, respectively. Our Group expects to recognise approximately HK$14.9 million of Listing expenses in the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the eight months ending 31 March 2020 and to deduct the remaining approximately HK$12.9 million of Listing expenses from our Group's reserve account. Accordingly, the financial results of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020 are expected to be adversely affected by the estimated expenses in relation to the Listing. Such Listing expenses are a current estimate for reference only and the final amount to be charged to the profit and loss account of our Group for the year ending 31 March 2020 and the amount to be deducted from our Group's reserves account is subject to change.

DISCLOSURE REQUIRED UNDER THE LISTING RULES

Our Directors have confirmed that as at the Latest Practicable Date, they were not aware of any circumstances which could give rise to a disclosure obligation pursuant to Rules 13.13 to 13.19 of the Listing Rules.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Our Directors believe that the business of our Group is very much affected by clients' and investors' sentiments, perception, confidence and appetite amidst prevailing market conditions globally, especially Hong Kong (as our clients primarily reside in Hong Kong or the PRC). Therefore, any significant changes on their sentiments, perception, confidence and appetite for trading and investments may have an impact on our financial performance following the Track Record Period. Subsequent to the Track Record Period and up to the Latest Practicable Date, we have continued to focus on providing quality and reliable financial services to our clients in the ordinary course of business. Set out below is the summary of our recent developments since 1 April 2019 and up to the Latest Practicable Date:

Securities trading business: 53 new clients have each opened a client account with us, and we recorded an increase of our commission generated from our securities trading business for the eight months ended 30 November 2019, representing an increase of approximately 7.9% as compared to our commission income generated over the same period ended 30 November 2018); and

Placing and underwriting business: we completed 21 placing and underwriting projects in respect of IPOs (including five IPOs in which we acted as co-lead manager) over the period and revenue derived from such engagements and we recorded an increase of our commission income for the eight months ended 30 November 2019, representing an increase of approximately 54.1% as compared to our revenue generated over the same period in 2018.

Despite uncertainties brought about by changes in the economic and political environment and market conditions in Hong Kong and abroad (including turmoil brought about by recent protest movements in Hong Kong), our Directors believe that our securities trading business had not been adversely affected. In particular, the business segment recorded a 7.9% increase in amount of commission generated compared to the same period in 2018. While Hong Kong is expected to remain an important capital raising venue for prospective issuers and there continues to be a pipeline of listing applications made to the Stock Exchange, our Directors believes that our placing and underwriting business may potentially be adversely affected by market uncertainties as prospective issuers may re-evaluate their business strategies, financing options and capital needs during such periods.

Save as disclosed above and the impact of the Listing expenses, our Directors confirm that as at the date of this prospectus, there had been no material adverse change in our financial or trading position or prospects since 31 July 2019, being the date of our latest audited financial information, and there had been no event since 31 July 2019 which would materially and adversely affect the information shown in our consolidated financial information included in the Accountants' Report as set out in the Appendix I to this prospectus.

FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT AND FAIR VALUE

Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to our Group. The major classes of financial assets of our Group are cash and short term deposits and trade and other receivables.

In order to minimise the credit risk on accounts receivable, the management of the Group compiles the credit and risk management policies, to approve credit limits and to determine any debt recovery action on those delinquent receivables. In addition, the management of the Group review the recoverable amount of accounts receivable and the receivables from margin clients are secured by client’s pledged securities which are equity and debt securities listed in Hong Kong and overseas.

Margin calls are made when the trades of margin clients exceed their credit limits or a shortfall existed after taking into the account the securities collateral. Any such excess is required to be made good within the next trading day. Failure to meet margin calls may result in the liquidation of the client’s position.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

We seek to maintain strict control over our outstanding receivables. The credit risk on bank balances is limited because the counterparties are with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies. The credit risk for accounts receivable from clearing house and brokers is considered as not high taking into account the good market reputations and high credit ratings of the counterparties.

Liquidity risk management

In the management of the liquidity risk, we monitor and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance our operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows.

Capital risk management

We manage our capital to ensure that we will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. Our overall strategy remains unchanged through the Track Record Period.

The capital structure of our Group consists of debt, which includes bank borrowings, and equity attributable to owners of the Group, comprising issued share capital, other reserve and retained earnings.

Our Directors review the capital structure annually. As part of this review, our Directors assess the annual budget prepared by management of the Group. Based on the proposed annual budget, our Directors consider the cost of capital and the risks associated with each class of capital. Our Directors also balance its overall capital structure through new share issues and the issue of new debt. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged throughout the Track Record Periods.

Our operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities, is licensed to carry out regulated activities in Hong Kong and is regulated by the SFC. It is required to comply with the minimum capital requirements according to the FRR. Management monitors, on a daily basis, the group entity liquid capital to ensure it meets the minimum liquid capital requirement in accordance with the FRR. The group entity has been in compliance with the capital requirement imposed by the FRR throughout the Track Record Period.

REASONS FOR THE LISTING AND THE SHARE OFFER

Our Directors believe which is also supported by the Ipsos Report, that there would be an overall upward trend in the financial services market in Hong Kong, despite cyclical fluctuations in light of the macroeconomic and political conditions, such as the China-United States trade war and local political instability in Hong Kong. In particular, the latest industry data shows that the Stock Exchange remains as one of the most popular stock exchanges for capital raising in the world and was ranked first again globally in terms of IPO equity funds raised in 2019. According to the Ipsos Report, the total number of new listings for the year ended 31 December 2019 is 197, with a historical high of 181 new Main Board listings, raising a total of approximately HK$312.9 billion. Such prominent results were driven by strong performance in the second half of the year (despite the postpone of a number of IPOs in the third quarter of 2019), contributed by two mega-size deals namely Alibaba's US$11 billion secondary listing and the listing of Anheuser-Busch InBev (Budweiser Brewing Company) which raised approximately US$5 billion, as well as other debutants. Further, it is observed that there continues to be a strong pipeline of listing applications being processed and a number of various recent IPOs were highly over-subscribed or performed strongly on debut. Our Directors believe that this demonstrates that, during such uncertain times, businesses continue to navigate and structure their business strategies as well as capitalize on potential opportunities from raising capital in Hong Kong, which is one of the most active capital markets in the world.

The Ipsos Report observed that, historically, financial and political crisis in Hong Kong tend to have a negative impact on the financial markets which are often short-term and the market, being a resilient one, will eventually recover and move upwards. As such, it is Ipsos's view that, despite market sentiment in Hong Kong for 2020 may possibly be affected by political, social and economic uncertainties, the Hong Kong IPO market is expected to remain competitive, which may be driven by the following favorable factors:

- (i) inspired by the successful secondary listing of Alibaba, more PRC-based and U.S.-listed technology companies may be spurred to consider a second listing in Hong Kong and thus, a number of mega-sized listings of overseas issuers and secondary listings are expected in 2020;
- (ii) the listings of new economy companies are expected to be a key driver of the Hong Kong IPO market due to the recent reform in the listing regime by the Stock Exchange, which is expected to result in an increasing number of listings from prominent Chinese new economy companies, including those with weighted voting rights structures, biotech businesses and international companies; and
- (iii) Hong Kong is still regarded as one of the most liquid and developed capital markets in the world and will continue to be an important financial hub and continue to develop under favorable PRC policies and domestic policy initiatives. Potential issuers continue to recognise the Stock Exchange as a stable fund-raising platform due to the well-established infrastructure and investor base.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

On the basis of the above, our Directors still hold a positive market outlook despite the current economic situations and uncertainties caused by macroeconomic and political conditions such as China-United States trade war and local political instability in Hong Kong. Our Directors also consider that the entering of the “phase one” trade deal between the United States and China which is also expected to suspend or defuse a tit-for-tat dispute between the two sides, will be positive for the market. With this in mind, we intend to continue to capitalize on valuable opportunities, leverage on our competitive strengths and enhance our market position, notwithstanding temporal effects of current market conditions.

Our Directors believe the Listing will (a) enhance our corporate profile and brand image; (b) enable our Group to access capital markets to finance our future business development and growth; (c) enhance our overall market exposure and strengthen our competitiveness; (d) enhance our corporate governance and the financial and operational transparency of our business, and hence increase the confidence of our existing and potential clients; and (e) help our Group to attract and retain employees by providing incentive or rewards through our Share Option Scheme.

Our Directors believe that the net proceeds from the Share Offer will provide us with additional capital to help us achieve our business strategies and objectives, as follows:

(1) Enhancing our capital resources for expansion of our placing and underwriting business

As supported by the Ipsos Report, our Directors believe that there will be increasing business opportunities for placing and underwriting services for both IPOs and non-IPO fundraising activities. In pursuing our business objectives, we intend to take more leading roles when acting as underwriter for IPOs and other major fundraising activities, such as rights issues and open offers of companies listed on the Stock Exchange.

The amount of underwriting commitment that we may undertake depends on the availability of our capital resources and is constrained by the minimum liquid capital requirement prescribed under the FRR. According to the FRR, the amount of any net underwriting commitment is included in the calculation of ranking liabilities, and the percentage of net underwriting commitment that should be included in our Company’s ranking liabilities is 50% of the haircut percentage stipulated in Table 1, Schedule 2 of the FRR.

$$\text{Underwriting commitment} = \frac{(\text{Liquid capital} - \text{Required liquid capital})}{(50\% \times \text{Haircut percentage})}$$

where:

“underwriting commitment” means the total cost of subscribing for or purchasing securities underwritten or sub-underwritten (or further sub-underwritten) by Sinomax Securities;

“liquid capital” means the amount by which its liquid assets exceeds its ranking liabilities. In this regard, “ranking liabilities” include, inter alia, up to 50% of the Haircut Percentage (as defined under section 2C of the FRR) in relation to securities multiplied by its net underwriting commitment; and “liquid capital” constituted by account receivable arising from margin loans must be discounted by, inter alia, haircut amounts or prescribed percentages under the FRR in respect of liquid and illiquid collateral posted as security to secure repayment of the margin loan;

“required liquid capital” means the minimum amount of required liquid capital stipulated in Table 2, Schedule 1 of the FRR; and

The Group’s maximum underwriting commitment was HK$1,131,780,000 during the Track Record Period.

During the Track Record Period, our Group’s ability to underwrite was limited by the amount of liquid capital maintained by us and as such, we were not capable of undertaking a high percentage of underwriting commitment and generally did not take leading roles in various underwriting syndicates.

The net proceeds from the Share Offer will increase our Group’s liquid capital so that we will be able to (a) take up a higher percentage of underwriting commitment and more leading roles, such as lead co-ordinator and/or bookrunner, within an underwriting syndicate including some more prominent and sizable IPOs; (b) take up underwriting commitments of projects with a larger fundraising scale; (c) expand our placing and underwriting business by taking up more placing and underwriting opportunities at the same time; and (d) take up the role as a sole underwriter of a fundraising project without reliance on sub-underwriters in the syndication process. To capture such business opportunities from time to time, our Group needs to earmark sufficient financial resources before committing to any underwriting obligations under these transactions. The expansion of our placing and underwriting business depends on the availability of our capital resources and is limited by our liquid capital and our level of bank borrowings from time to time, in view of the minimum liquid capital requirement under the FRR.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

The table below illustrates how the use of net proceeds will impact on our Group's Liquid Capital and the maximum size of underwriting commitment our Company will be able to undertake at a time:

		HK$'000
Use of proceeds	A	100,600
Liquid capital as at 31 July 2019	B	172,767
Total liquid capital after listing	C=A+B	273,367
Minimum required liquid capital	D	3,000
Excess liquid capital	E=C-D	270,367
Maximum underwriting commitment on a one-off basis	E/(50% x 30%) ^(Note)	1,802,447

Note: 50% refers to the regulatory buffer and 30% refers to the haircut for FRR purpose.

(2) Enhancing our capital resources for margin financing services

Our Directors believe, as supported by the Ipsos Report, that there will be increasing demand for margin financing services in Hong Kong. In recent years, there has been robust growth in the number of active margin clients in Hong Kong which grew at a CAGR of approximately 25.2%, and in the amounts receivable from margin clients in Hong Kong grew at a CAGR of approximately 16.1%. Such robust growth is driven by a number of factors including, without limitation, the following:

- (a) Hong Kong's central role in the PRC government's plan to promote the development of the Greater Bay Area has driven, and is expected to continue to drive, demand for financial services, including equity investments and financing, which will likely lead to an active equity market;
- (b) growing interests from southbound investors in the Hong Kong stock market because of the development of the China Connect;
- (c) increasing level of disposable income in the PRC and Hong Kong, coupled with an increasing number of PRC investors seeking to diversify their investments offshore;
- (d) the leading position of the Stock Exchange as one of the most active stock exchanges globally for the listing of securities. According to the Ipsos Report,
 - (i) the Stock Exchange recorded the greatest number of IPOs globally and attracted large and prominent deals such as China Tower Corporation Limited (HKEX stock code: 788) and Xiaomi Corporation (HKEX stock code: 1810). This indicates that there may likely be a corresponding demand for IPO financing; and

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

- (ii) the total securities market turnover of the Stock Exchange is expected to continue to grow in the near future. The expected increase in total securities market turnover may lead to an increase in the demand for brokerage services, which could in turn stimulate the demand for margin financing services to support securities trading on a leveraged basis.
- (e) the Stock Exchange's new listing regime also broadened the types of companies eligible for listing to include pre-revenue biotech companies, companies with weighted voting right structures as well as PRC and international companies that wish to undergo secondary listing in Hong Kong. It is expected that this may broaden investment opportunities for equity subscription to a wider range of issuers who may determine to raise funds in Hong Kong, which in result will stimulate demand for IPO and margin financing services.

In May 2019, our Group conducted a customer survey (“2019 Customer Survey”) and received over 160 responses from our active clients. Approximately 72.5% of the respondents indicated that they would support a proposed plan to increase our financial resources or improve liquidity position to expand our margin financing services.

$$\text{Allowable margin financing} = \frac{\text{Amount receivable from margin clients}}{\text{+ Bank balance}}$$

where:

“allowable margin financing” means the amount of margin loans which Sinomax Securities may make to margin clients subject to the restraints imposed by the FRR;

“amount receivable from margin clients” represents the total amount of margin loans granted to margin clients during the relevant period; and

The Group's maximum allowable margin financing was HK$213,430,000 during the Track Record Period.

The expansion of our margin financing business depends on the availability of our capital resources and is limited by the amount of liquid and equity capital maintained by us from time to time. Our liquidity level is subject to the restraints imposed by the FRR and margin loans-to-capital ratio requirements prescribed by the SFC.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

The table below illustrates how the use of net proceeds will impact on our Group's maximum allowable margin financing:

		HK$'000
Allowable margin financing as at 31 July 2019	F	198,024
Use of proceeds – use of margin financing portion	G	41,288
Maximum margin financing on a one-off basis	F + G	239,312

For these reasons, our Directors believe that the Share Offer would enable our Group to have a higher level of funds and liquid capital for offering more margin financing services to our existing clients, including financing their purchase of securities in IPOs and secondary offering which is complementary to our fast-growing placing and underwriting business, as well as to new clients, such as China Connect clients and frequent traders, without materially affecting our ability to satisfy statutory capital requirements. The expansion of our financial resources is expected to enhance our capability in terms of size and volume of margin loans we may extend to our clients. As such, more interest income is expected to be generated for the benefit of our Group.

(3) Development of China Connect business

The China Connect offers a significant opportunity for the growth of the Hong Kong securities market. It provides a feasible, controllable and expandable channel for investors to gain mutual market access to the recognised stock markets in Hong Kong and the PRC. It is expected that the China Connect will structurally uplift Hong Kong's market liquidity by attracting both PRC and overseas investors. With a view to developing the China Connect business, we intend to register Sinomax Securities as a China Connect Exchange Participant. To be eligible, in addition to being a HKEX Participant, we must satisfy certain IT capability, risk management and other requirements as may be specified by the HKEX from time to time. For this purpose, we intend to use the net proceeds of the Share Offer to:

- (a) install and upgrade our front/back office systems to cater for the China Connect business;
- (b) upgrade our line/throttle to cater for additional trading volume;
- (c) enhance our risk management systems in relation to the China Connect business; and
- (d) promote the offer of our China Connect business by advertising.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

We believe that the China Connect business would be beneficial to us as it would:

- (a) raise our profile;
 - (b) expand our service offerings to our clients;
 - (c) expand our client base;
 - (d) bring us additional brokerage income; and
 - (e) provide a channel for procuring clients for our margin financing business.
- (4) Establishment and renovation of a new office, expansion of our placing and underwriting team, establishment of a discretionary account management team, and recruitment of research analysts and other supporting staff

According to the Ipsos Report, competition in the licensed securities and futures intermediaries industry in Hong Kong will remain vigorous in the near future. The China Connect has triggered a sudden surge in demand in securities trading services in Hong Kong. The robust equity market has also attracted more participants in the market. To stay competitive in the market and capitalise on future opportunities, we intend to further strengthen our position in the financial services industry in Hong Kong by expanding and enhancing our service capabilities and diversity. For further details, please refer to the section headed “Business – Business strategies” of this prospectus.

According to the 2019 Customer Survey:

- (a) approximately 40% of the respondents indicated that they would be supportive of broadening of our investment advisory services, to include the issuance of research reports and periodic updates (covering, among others, macroeconomic analysis, investment strategies and products across industry sectors) and/or attending investment seminars, training or events if these were to be made available to them by us; and
- (b) approximately 45% of the respondents indicated that they would be interested in learning more about and/or using discretionary account management services if such services were to be made available.

Further, our placing and underwriting business has experienced robust growth during the Track Record Period, which was driven by the strong performance in the equity market in Hong Kong in recent years and an increase in total equity funds raised in Hong Kong.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

In order to better serve our clients and capture more business opportunities, our Group plans to expand our placing and underwriting team, establish a discretionary account management team, and recruit research analysts and other supporting staff. The current office, which our Group has occupied since February 2017 without undergoing any material renovations since, has an area of approximately 2,818 square feet and as at the Latest Practicable Date housed 16 staff and our Group's equipment and facilities. To cope with the proposed increase in headcount and bearing in mind the SFC's requirements regarding suitable office premises for a licensed corporation to conduct its regulated activities, our Directors decided to establish a new office with a view to pursuing its business expansion strategy. The new office, capable of housing up to 30 staff, will initially house 12 newly recruited staff (comprising responsible officers, research analysts and AEs for the new placing and underwriting team and new discretionary account management team as well as additional back office staff (including a compliance manager, accounts manager, accountant, IT manager, risk management officer and settlement officer)) to support the expanded operations. It is expected that all the 12 new staff would be recruited by April 2020, and would be funded from the net proceeds of the Share Offer.

While the new office has the capacity to house up to an additional 18 staff, we do not currently have plans to recruit such additional staff for present purposes. To make effective use of the remaining office space, part of the new office would be used to provide for (i) conference rooms for client meetings; (ii) space for clients to carry out securities trading; and (iii) space for other back office functions, with a view of enhancing client perception and experience. The new office will also serve as a temporary back-up workplace in the event of any unpredicted disruptions affecting the use of our current office.

Our Directors consider that the establishment of a new office with designed layout of furniture, equipment and facilities will (a) help to recruit and retain employees and talent; (b) enhance the reputation and presence of our Group as well as improve client perception and experience; (c) support our Group's proposed business expansions (including increasing headcount for equity desks and research teams, which will enable our Group to provide more quality and value-added services to end-clients); and (d) provide a temporary back-up workplace in case there is any disruption to our Group's current office. Having considered its costs and benefits, our Directors are of the view that the establishment of a new office is beneficial to our Group and our Shareholders as a whole.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

The table below sets forth the quantitative cost and benefit analysis of establishment of a new office for the five years ending 31 March 2025 based on our Group's current expansion plan:

	For the year ending 31 March
	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025
	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000

Profit (loss) before taxation
Total:	(11,511)	1,911	2,573	5,248	6,339

Notes:

- (1) It is expected that our Group's revenue will increase by 150% in the financial year ended 31 March 2022 due to the new business that is expected to be brought by the expansion of the placing and underwriting team. In this regard, our Group has identified a responsible officer candidate who brought more than HK$20 million of revenue to his employer in each of the immediately preceding two years. For the sake of prudence, our Group used the revenue amount contributed by the existing responsible officer in his initial year (i.e. financial year ended 2017) of joining our Group in the above analysis in respect of the revenue expected to be generated for the Group for the financial year ended 31 March 2021.

From the financial year ended 31 March 2023 to the financial year ended 31 March 2025, the increase in revenue is calculated based on the expected growth rate of Hong Kong's placing and underwriting services (i.e. CAGR 6.5%) according to Ipsos.

- (2) Our Group has identified a responsible officer candidate with a team of licensed representatives who have two existing clients which are expected to allocate approximately HK$300 million for discretionary accounts management by the team. While our Group is expected to charge an initial set-up fee as well as a performance fee based on increase in net asset value agreed with our client, for the sake of prudence, the relevant revenue represented only includes a 2% management fee to be charged. Further, our Group applied a 90% discount for the initial year to account for, without limitation, the time required for team's clients to transfer to our Group, conducting KYC procedures by our compliance department and internal training.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

- (3) Commission refers to commission paid to staff who introduce equity capital market projects to us (similar to existing practice with executive Director of equity capital market department).
- (4) Staff costs include the costs of headcount for new equity capital market team (comprising a responsible officer and two research analysts), costs of headcount for new discretionary account management team (comprising a responsible officer and two assistant AEs) as well as additional back office staff (including a compliance director, accounts manager, accountant, IT manager, risk management officer and settlement officer) for the enlarged group. Other than the responsible officer of the equity capital market team (who would be remunerated largely from commissions), the staff costs are calculated at an expected growth rate of 5% per annum over the relevant period.
- (5) Costs on office rental include depreciation of lease (with a monthly rental payment of approximately HK$396,000 per month), together with interest expenses on leased liabilities (office rental). Subject to our implementation plan, for office rental, approximately HK$1,584,000, HK$4,356,000 and HK$2,376,000 from the net proceeds of the Share Offer will be used for the years ended 31 March 2020, 2021 and 2022, respectively; for renovation of the new office, approximately HK$3,500,000 and HK$1,500,000 from the net proceeds of the Share Offer will be used for the years ended 31 March 2020 and 2021, respectively.
- (6) Depreciation includes depreciation on leasehold improvements, computer, office equipment, fixtures and furniture. Approximately HK$2.8 million from the net proceeds of the Share Offer will be used for purchasing computers, which will be fully depreciated after three years based on our Group's accounting policies for depreciation, and approximately HK$1.4 million of the use of proceeds will be used for purchasing furniture, fixtures and office equipment for the new office, which will be depreciated over five years based on our Group's accounting policies for depreciation.

On the basis of the above analysis, it is expected that despite initial set up costs, the new office will become sustainable and profitable in the mid-to-longer term whilst at the same time enabling our Group to provide further intangible benefits (including the ability to provide more diversified and value-added services, such as research support). In light of the foregoing, our Directors confirm that the expansion plans are determined following due consideration of the costs and benefits involved, based on the current information available to our Directors, as well as the prevailing market conditions and possible levels of demand for our Group's services.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

For the above reasons, we intend to use the net proceeds from the Share Offer for:

- (a) the establishment of a new office, which will incur expenditures such as rental deposit, rental costs, renovation costs, costs relating to the purchase of office equipment, IT equipment, fixtures and furniture, and other on-going maintenance costs; and
- (b) the increase in headcount to better serve our clients and expand our service offerings to include the offering of China Connect services and discretionary account management service. This would involve:
 - (i) the hiring of a responsible officer with type 1 (dealing in securities) licence under the SFO and who has experience in supervising placing and underwriting activities, as well as industry networks, so as to effectively handle the development of our China Connect business and the growing demand for our placing and underwriting services;
 - (ii) the establishment of a discretionary account management team to be headed by a responsible officer with over ten years of experience in equity markets and type 1 (dealing in securities) and type 9 (asset management) licences under the SFO. This team head will be assisted by two assistant AEs with over five years of experience in equity markets and type 1 (dealing in securities) and type 9 (asset management) licences under the SFO. It is proposed that this new team will be responsible for offering discretionary account management services (including making investment decisions, conducting valuation on managed portfolio, reporting, and other services typically provided in respect of such services) to our clients;
 - (iii) the hiring of two research analysts with type 1 (dealing in securities) and type 4 (advising on securities) licences under the SFO, so as to conduct equity research to support the investment decision-making process of the discretionary account management team and support expected growth in the placing and underwriting business; and
 - (iv) the hiring of additional supporting staff, including a compliance director, account manager, accountant, IT manager, risk management officer and settlement officer, to support the expansion of our business activities.

(5) Enhancement of IT systems

According to the Ipsos Report, an increasing number of licensed brokerage firms are offering online trading platforms and these firms compete in terms of features, speed of trade execution and security of such trading platforms. As such, brokerage firms that offer online trading systems with better user experiences as well as a higher level of cyber security are usually more competitive in the market.

Approximately 89.6% of the respondents to the 2019 Customer Survey indicated that they would support the Group's proposed plans to upgrade or further customise our trading platform and IT infrastructure and/or capability in the future in order to enhance our efficiency, security, functionality and/or user-friendliness.

In order to keep ourselves competitive in the market and to facilitate our proposed commencement of our China Connect services, we intend to (i) upgrade and enhance both of our front office and back office trading systems (including our online trading platform and mobile application); (ii) adopt a new integrated system comprising both portfolio management and risk management functions, with features including managing security, redundancy, disaster recovery and database administration as well as providing market data (such as corporate actions, dividend tables and volatility datasets); (iii) adopt a new clients' relationship management system with the aim of enhancing client satisfaction; (iv) adopt a new business continuity planning service (which includes data management and cloud storage archiving) and co-location service as a back-up workplace in case there is any disruption to our office; and (v) subscribe to the Bloomberg Terminal to enhance our analytical and research capabilities to support our asset management and placing and underwriting services.

(6) Promotion and marketing

The number of HKEX Participants increased at a CAGR of approximately 4.4% from 2013 to 2019, intensifying the level of competition in the industry. With the presence of a large number of brokerage service providers in the market and the absence of definitive features for prospective clients to compare their offerings, investors usually select service providers based on their reputation and level of reliability. It is crucial for brokerage service providers to maintain a high level of creditability and to have an easily recognisable brand in order to keep our existing clients and to attract new clients. During their course of widening the client base, brokerage service providers utilise various marketing strategies, which include holding investment seminars and placing advertisements through various media channels to increase brand awareness.

Leveraging on our established reputation within the financial services industry, our Directors believe that further promotion and marketing through engaging in marketing activities (including advertising through various media and channels) and the Listing could help us promote our services (in particular our proposed new China Connect services), and attract new clients, which as a result broadens our client base.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

USE OF PROCEEDS

We estimate that the aggregate net proceeds from the Share Offer (after deducting the underwriting commission and other estimated expenses payable by us in connection to the Share Offer), assuming an Offer Price of HK$0.55 per Offer Share, being the mid-point of the indicative Offer Price range between HK$0.5 and HK$0.6 per Offer Share, will be approximately HK$100.6 million, assuming that the Over-allotment Option is not exercised.

We intend to apply the net proceeds from the Share Offer in the following manner:

- (a) approximately HK$30.0 million (representing approximately 29.8% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the expansion of our placing and underwriting business;
- (b) approximately HK$11.3 million (representing approximately 11.2% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for providing additional funding to expand our margin book in our margin financing business;
- (c) approximately HK$17.5 million (representing approximately 17.4% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for the establishment and renovation of a new office;
- (d) approximately HK$14.3 million (representing approximately 14.2% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for expansion of our placing and underwriting team, establishment of a discretionary account management team, and hiring of research analysts and other supporting staff;
- (e) approximately HK$10.0 million (representing approximately 9.9% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for enhancement of IT systems;
- (f) approximately HK$8.0 million (representing approximately 8.0% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for promotion and marketing purposes; and
- (g) the remaining balance of approximately HK$9.5 million (representing approximately 9.5% of the net proceeds from the Share Offer) will be used for general working capital and other general corporate purposes.

If the Offer Price is fixed at the high-end of the indicative Offer Price range, being HK$0.6 per Share, the net proceeds we receive from the Share Offer will increase by approximately HK$11.9 million, assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised. We intend to apply the additional net proceeds for the above purposes on a pro-rata basis.

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

If the Offer Price is set at the low-end of the indicative Offer Price range, being HK$0.5 per Share, the net proceeds we receive from the Share Offer will decrease by approximately HK$11.9 million, assuming the Over-allotment Option is not exercised. We intend to reduce the net proceeds for the above purposes on a pro-rata basis.

To the extent that the net proceeds are not immediately applied to the above purposes and to the extent permitted by the applicable laws and regulations, we intend to deposit the net proceeds into short-term deposits with authorised financial institutions and/or licensed banks in Hong Kong so long as it is deemed to be in the best interests of the Group.

The possible use of proceeds outlined in this section may change in light of our evolving business needs and conditions and regulatory requirements. In the event of any material modification to the use of proceeds as described above, we will issue an announcement and make appropriate disclosure as required under the Listing Rules.

BASES AND KEY ASSUMPTIONS

We have adopted the following principal assumptions in the preparation of our future plans up to 30 September 2021:

- (i) the Listing and Share Offer will be completed in accordance with the terms as described in the section headed “Structure and conditions of the Share Offer” in this prospectus;
- (ii) our Group will be able to maintain and renew/obtain all relevant licences, permits and qualifications required for our businesses activities, including the China Connect services;
- (iii) there will be no material adverse change in the business development requirements during the period resulting in changes in the political, legal, fiscal or economic conditions and environment in Hong Kong or in any other places in which any member of our Group carries on its business or will carry on its business;
- (iv) our Group will have sufficient financial resources to meet our planned capital expenditure and business development requirements during the period to which our business objectives relate;
- (v) there will be no disasters, natural, political or otherwise, which would materially disrupt the business or operations of our Group or cause substantial loss, damage or destruction to our properties or facilities;
- (vi) there will be no material adverse changes in the bases or rates of taxation and duties in Hong Kong;
- (vii) our Group is able to maintain our relationships with our existing major clients, with the level of business received from such clients broadly maintained, and expand our client portfolio as planned;

FUTURE PLANS AND USE OF PROCEEDS

Our Company and our Controlling Shareholders have agreed to indemnify the Sole Sponsor, the Joint Bookrunners, the Joint Lead Managers, the Co-Managers and the Underwriters for certain losses which it may suffer, including losses arising from its performance of its obligations under the Underwriting Agreements and any breach by our Company pursuant to the terms of the Underwriting Agreement.

COMPLIANCE ADVISER'S AGREEMENT

The Sole Sponsor has been appointed as the compliance adviser of the Company with effect from the Listing Date until the despatch of the audited consolidated financial results for the full financial year after the Listing Date as required under the Listing Rules, and our Company will pay to the Sole Sponsor an agreed fee for its provision of services as its compliance adviser.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

THE SHARE OFFER

This prospectus is published in connection with the Share Offer. Vinco Capital is the Sole Sponsor, BOCOM International Securities Limited, China Everbright Securities (HK) Limited, China Investment Securities International Brokerage Limited, Haitong International Securities Company Limited, Kingsway and Vinco Capital are the Joint Bookrunners and Joint Lead Managers of the Share Offer, and Livermore Holdings Limited, Valuable Capital Limited, Sinomax Securities and China Tonghai Securities Limited are the Co-Managers of the Share Offer.

The Share Offer comprises:

- (i) the Public Offer of 25,000,000 Public Offer Shares (subject to reallocation as mentioned below) representing 10% of the Offer Shares, which will be offered to members of the public in Hong Kong as further described under the paragraph headed “The Public Offer” below; and
- (ii) the Placing of an aggregate of 225,000,000 Placing Shares which will be conditionally placed with professional, institutional and other investors (subject to reallocation as mentioned below and the Over-allotment Option), representing 90% of the Offer Shares, as further described under the paragraph headed “The Placing” below.

Investors may apply for Offer Shares under the Public Offer or, if qualified to do so, apply for or indicate an interest for Offer Shares under the Placing, but may only receive shares under the Public Offer or the Placing.

The Public Offer is open to members of the public in Hong Kong as well as to institutional, professional and other investors in Hong Kong. The Placing will involve selective marketing of the Offer Shares to institutional, professional and other investors. The Placing Underwriters will solicit from prospective investors indications of interest in acquiring the Offer Shares in the Placing.

The Offer Shares will represent 25% of the enlarged issued share capital of our Company immediately after completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (without taking into account of Shares which may be allotted and issued by the Company upon the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and/or options that may be granted under the Share Option Scheme). The number of Offer Shares to be offered under the Public Offer and the Placing respectively may be subject to reallocation as described in the paragraph headed “Reallocation of the Offer Shares between the Placing and the Public Offer” below.

References in this prospectus to applications, Application Forms, application monies or the procedure for application relate solely to the Public Offer.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

THE PUBLIC OFFER

Number of Offer Shares initially offered

Our Company is initially offering 25,000,000 Public Offer Shares for subscription (subject to reallocation) at the Offer Price by members of the public in Hong Kong under the Public Offer, representing 10% of the total number of Offer Shares offered under the Share Offer. The Public Offer Shares initially offered under the Public Offer, subject to any reallocation of Offer Shares between the Placing and the Public Offer, will represent 2.5% of our Company's enlarged issued share capital after completion of the Capitalisation Issue and Share Offer (without taking into account of Shares which may be allotted and issued by the Company upon the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and options that may be granted under the Share Option Scheme). The Public offer is fully underwritten by the Public Offer Underwriters (subject to satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions provided in the Public Offer Underwriting Agreement).

The Public Offer is open to all members of the public in Hong Kong as well as to institutional, professional and other investors. Professional and institutional investors generally include brokers, dealers, companies (including fund managers) whose ordinary business involves dealing in shares and other securities and corporate entities which regularly invest in shares and other securities.

Completion of the Public Offer is subject to the conditions as set out in the paragraph headed "Conditions of the Share Offer" below in this section.

Allocation

Allocation of the Public Offer Shares to investors under the Public Offer will be based solely on the level of valid applications received under the Public Offer. The basis of allocation may vary, depending on the number of Public Offer Shares validly applied for by applicants. When there is oversubscription under the Public Offer, allocation of the Public Offer Shares may, where appropriate, consist of balloting, which could mean that some applicants may be allotted more Public Offer Shares than others who have applied for the same number of Public Offer Shares, and those applicants who are not successful in the ballot may not receive any Public Offer Shares.

The total number of Public Offer Shares available under the Public Offer (after taking into account any reallocation as referred to below) is to be divided equally (to the nearest board lot) into two pools for allocation purposes: pool A and pool B. The Public Offer Shares in pool A will be allocated on an equitable basis to applicants who have applied for the Public Offer Shares with an aggregate subscription price of HK$5 million (excluding the brokerage, the Stock Exchange trading fee and the SFC transaction levy payable thereon) or less. The Public Offer Shares in pool B will be allocated on an equitable basis to applicants who have applied for Public Offer Shares with an aggregate subscription price of more than HK$5 million (excluding the brokerage, the Stock Exchange trading fee and the SFC transaction levy payable thereon) and up to the total value in pool B.

Investors should be aware that the allocation ratios for applications in the two pools, as well as the allocation ratios for applications in the same pool, are likely to be different. Where one of the pools is undersubscribed, the surplus Public Offer Shares will be transferred to satisfy demand in the other pool and be allocated accordingly.

Applicants can only receive an allocation of Public Offer Shares from either pool A or pool B and not from both pools. Multiple or suspected multiple applications under the Public Offer and any application for more than 50% of the Public Offer Shares initially available under the Public Offer (i.e. 12,500,000 Public Offer Shares) will be rejected.

Applications

The Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) may require any investor who has been offered Offer Shares under the Placing, and who has made an application under the Public Offer, to provide sufficient information to the Joint Lead Managers so as to allow them to identify the relevant applications under the Public Offer and to ensure that they are excluded from any application of Offer Shares under the Public Offer.

Each applicant under the Public Offer will also be required to give an undertaking and confirmation in the application submitted by him or her that he or she and any person(s) for whose benefit he or she is making the application have not applied for or taken up, or indicated an interest for, and will not apply for or take up, or indicate an interest for, any Placing Shares under the Placing. Such applicant's application is liable to be rejected if the said undertaking and/or confirmation is breached and/or untrue (as the case may be) or if he or she has been or will be placed or allocated Placing Shares under the Placing. Multiple applications or suspected multiple applications and any application made for more than 50% of the Shares initially comprised in the Public Offer (i.e. 12,500,000 Public Offer Shares) are liable to be rejected.

The listing of the Offer Shares on the Stock Exchange is sponsored by the Sole Sponsor. Applicants under the Public Offer are required to pay, on application, the maximum Offer Price of HK$0.60 per Offer Share plus 1% brokerage, 0.0027% SFC transaction levy and 0.005% Stock Exchange trading fee payable on each Offer Share. If the Offer Price, as finally determined in the manner described in the paragraph headed "Pricing and allocation" of this section below, is less than the maximum Offer Price of HK$0.60 per Offer Share, appropriate refund payments (including the brokerage, SFC transaction levy and the Stock Exchange trading fee attributable to the surplus application monies) will be made to wholly or partially successful applicants, without interest. For details, please refer to the section headed "How to apply for Public Offer Shares" of this prospectus.

THE PLACING

Number of Placing Shares initially offered

The number of the Offer Shares to be initially offered for subscription at the Offer Price under the Placing will be 225,000,000 Placing Shares (subject to reallocation and the Over-allotment Option as described below), representing 90% of the total number of Offer Shares initially offered under the Share Offer.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

The Placing is expected to be fully underwritten by the Placing Underwriters on a several basis upon and subject to the terms and conditions of the Placing Underwriting Agreement (including the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions provided in thereunder). Subject to the reallocation of the Offer Shares between the Placing and the Public Offer, the number of Offer Shares initially offered under the Placing will represent 22.5% of our Company's enlarged issued share capital immediately after the completion of the Capitalisation Issue and Share Offer (without taking into account any Shares which may be allotted and issued by the Company pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme).

The Placing is expected to be subject to the conditions as stated in the paragraph headed "Conditions of the Share Offer" below.

Allocation

Pursuant to the Placing, it is expected that the Placing Shares will be conditionally placed on behalf of our Company by the Placing Underwriters or through selling agents appointed by them. The Placing Shares will be selectively placed to selected professional, institutional and other private investors. Professional and institutional investors generally include brokers, dealers, companies (including fund managers) whose ordinary business involves dealing in shares and other securities and corporate entities which regularly invest in shares and other securities. Private investors applying through banks or other institutions who sought the Placing Shares in the Placing may also be allocated the Placing Shares.

Allocation of Placing Shares will be effected in accordance with the "book-building" process based on a number of factors, including the level and timing of demand, the total size of the relevant investor's invested assets or equity assets in relevant sector and whether or not it is expected that the relevant investor is likely to buy further Offer Shares, and/or hold or sell its Offer Shares, after the Listing. Such allocation is intended to result in a distribution of the Placing Shares on a basis which would lead to the establishment of a solid professional and institutional shareholder base to the benefit of our Company and our Shareholders as a whole. Investors to whom Placing Shares are offered will be required to undertake not to apply for Shares under the Public Offer.

Applications

Our Company, our Directors, the Sole Sponsor and Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) are required to take reasonable steps to identify and reject applications under the Public Offer from investors who receive Shares under the Placing, and to identify and reject indications of interest in the Placing from investors who receive Shares under the Public Offer.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

REALLOCATION OF THE OFFER SHARES BETWEEN THE PLACING AND THE PUBLIC OFFER

The allocation of the Offer Shares between the Placing and the Public Offer is subject to reallocation on the following basis:

- (I) Where the Placing Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed:
 - (a) if the Public Offer Shares are undersubscribed, the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) have the authority (but shall not be under any obligations) to reallocate all or any unsubscribed Public Offer Shares to the Placing, in such proportions as the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) deem appropriate;
 - (b) if the Public Offer Shares are not undersubscribed but the number of Offer Shares validly applied for under the Public Offer represents less than 15 times the number of the Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Public Offer, the Joint Lead Managers may at their sole discretion reallocate up to 25,000,000 Offer Shares to the Public Offer from the Placing, so that the total number of the Offer Shares available under the Public Offer will be increased to 50,000,000 Offer Shares, representing 20% of the number of the Offer Shares initially available under the Share Offer (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option);
 - (c) if the number of Offer Shares validly applied for under the Public Offer represents 15 times or more but less than 50 times the number of Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Public Offer, then 50,000,000 Offer Shares will be reallocated to the Public Offer from the Placing, so that the total number of Offer Shares available for subscription under the Public Offer will be increased to 75,000,000 Offer Shares, representing 30% of the number of the Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Share Offer (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option);
 - (d) if the number of Offer Shares validly applied for under the Public Offer represents 50 times or more but less than 100 times the number of Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Public Offer, then 75,000,000 Offer Shares will be reallocated to the Public Offer from the Placing, so that the total number of Offer Shares available for subscription under the Public Offer will be increased to 100,000,000 Offer Shares, representing 40% of the number of the Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Share Offer (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option); and
 - (e) if the number of Offer Shares validly applied for under the Public Offer represents 100 times or more the number of Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Public Offer, then 100,000,000 Offer Shares will be reallocated to the Public Offer from the Placing, so that the total number of Offer Shares available for subscription under the Public Offer will be increased to 125,000,000 Offer Shares, representing 50% of the number of the Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Share Offer (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option).

(II) Where the Placing Shares are undersubscribed:

- (a) if the Public Offer Shares are undersubscribed, the Share Offer will not proceed unless the Underwriters would subscribe or procure subscribers for their respective applicable proportions of the Offer Shares being offered which are not taken up under the Share Offer on the terms and conditions of this prospectus, the Application Forms and the Underwriting Agreements; and
- (b) if the Public Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed irrespective of the number of times the number of Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Public Offer, then up to 25,000,000 Offer Shares may be reallocated to the Public Offer from the Placing (as the Joint Lead Managers deem appropriate), so that the total number of the Offer Shares available under the Public Offer will be increased to 50,000,000 Offer Shares, representing 20% of the number of the Offer Shares initially available for subscription under the Share Offer (before any exercise of the Over-allotment Option).

In the event of a reallocation of Offer Shares from the Placing to the Public Offer in circumstances under paragraph (I)(b), (I)(c), (I)(d), (I)(e) and (II)(b) above, the additional Offer Shares reallocated to the Public Offer from the Placing will be allocated equally between pool A and pool B and the number of Offer Shares allocated to the Placing will be correspondingly reduced, in such number as the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) deems appropriate.

In the event of reallocation of Offer Shares between the Public Offer and the Placing in the circumstances where (i) the Placing Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed and the Public Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed by less than 15 times under paragraph (I)(b) above; or (ii) the Placing Shares are undersubscribed and the Public Offer Shares are fully subscribed or oversubscribed under paragraph (II)(b) above, the final Offer Price shall be fixed at the low-end of the indicative Offer Price range (i.e. HK$0.50 per Offer Share) stated in this prospectus in accordance with Guidance Letter HKEX-GL-91-18 issued by the Stock Exchange.

In addition, the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) may in its sole and absolute discretion reallocate Offer Shares from the Placing to the Public Offer to satisfy valid applications under the Public Offer. In accordance with Guidance Letter HKExGL91-18 issued by the Stock Exchange, if such reallocation is done other than pursuant to Practice Note 18 of the Listing Rules, the maximum total number of Offer Shares that may be reallocated to the Public Offer following such reallocation shall be not more than double the initial allocation to the Public Offer (i.e. 50,000,000 Offer Shares).

The Offer Shares to be offered in the Public Offer and the Placing may, in certain circumstances, be reallocated as between these offerings at the discretion of the Joint Lead Managers. If the Public Offer Shares are not fully subscribed, the Joint Lead Managers may have the discretion to reallocate to the Placing all or any unsubscribed Public Offer Shares in such numbers as they deem appropriate only if the Public Offer is not fully subscribed and the Placing is fully subscribed.

OVER-ALLOTMENT OPTION

Our Company is expected to grant to the Placing Underwriters the Over-allotment Option, exercisable at the sole discretion of the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and as the agent on behalf of the Placing Underwriters) at any time during the period from the Listing Date until 30 days after the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer to cover over-allocations in the Placing and/or the obligation of the Stabilising Manager to return securities borrowed under the Stock Borrowing Agreement. Pursuant to the Over-allotment Option, our Company may be required to allot and issue up to 37,500,000 additional new Shares, representing 15% of the number of Offer Shares initially available under the Share Offer, at the Offer Price.

If the Over-allotment Option is exercised in full, the additional 37,500,000 Shares will represent approximately 3.61% of our Company's enlarged share capital immediately after completion of the Share Offer, the Capitalisation Issue and the exercise in full of the Over-allotment Option (but without taking into account any Shares which may be issued upon the exercise of any options that may be granted under the Share Option Scheme).

Our Company will disclose in the announcement of the results of allocations and the basis of allocation of the Public Offer Shares whether, and to what extent, the Over-allotment Option has been exercised. In the event that the Over-allotment Option has not been exercised by the Joint Lead Managers on behalf of the Placing Underwriters, our Company will confirm in such announcement that the Over-allotment Option has lapsed and cannot be exercised at any future date.

STABILISATION

Stabilisation is a practice used by underwriters in some markets to facilitate the distribution of securities. To stabilise, the underwriters may bid for, or purchase, the newly issued securities in the secondary market, during a specified period of time, to retard and, if possible, prevent a decline in the initial offer prices of the securities. In Hong Kong and certain other jurisdictions, activity aimed at reducing the market price is prohibited, and the price at which stabilisation is effected is not permitted to exceed the offer price.

In connection with the Share Offer, Kingsway, as Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents, may, but are not obliged to, over-allocate Shares and/or effect any other transactions with a view to stabilising or supporting the market price of our Shares at a level higher than which might otherwise prevail in the open market, for a limited period. Such stabilising activity may include stock borrowing, making market purchases of Shares in the secondary market or selling Shares to liquidate a position held as a result of those purchases, as well as exercising the Over-allotment Option. Any such stabilising activity will be effected in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulatory requirements in Hong Kong on stabilisation including the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilising) Rules made under the SFO.

In Hong Kong, stabilising activities must be carried out in accordance with the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilising) Rules (Cap 571W). Stabilising actions permitted pursuant to the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilising) Rules include:

- (a) over-allocation for the purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price;

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

- (b) selling or agreeing to sell the Shares so as to establish a short position in them for the purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price of the Shares;
- (c) subscribing, or agreeing to subscribe, for the Shares pursuant to the Over-allotment Option in order to close out any position established under (a) or (b) above;
- (d) purchasing, or agreeing to purchase, the Shares for the sole purpose of preventing or minimizing any reduction in the market price of the Shares;
- (e) selling or agreeing to sell any of the Shares to liquidate a long position held as a result of those purchase; and
- (f) offering or attempting to do anything described in (b), (c), (d) and (e) above.

However, there is no obligation on the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents to conduct any such stabilising activity, which if commenced, will be done at the absolute discretion of the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents acting for it and in what the Stabilising Manager reasonably regards as the best interest of our Company; and may be discontinued at any time. The number of Shares that may be over-allocated will not exceed the number of Shares that may be issued under the Over-allotment Option, namely 37,500,000 Shares, which is 15% of the number of Shares initially available under the Share Offer.

Specifically, prospective applicants for and investors in the Offer Shares should note that as a result of effecting transactions to stabilise or maintain the market price of our Shares, the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents may maintain a long position in our Shares. The size of the long position, and the period for which the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents will maintain the long position is at the discretion of the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents and is uncertain. In the event that the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents liquidate this long position by making sales in the open market, this may lead to a decline in the market price of our Shares.

Stabilising activity by the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents acting for it is not permitted to support the price of our Shares for longer than the stabilising period, which begins on the day on which trading of our Shares commences on the Stock Exchange and ends on the 30th day after the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer. The stabilising period is expected to end on Sunday, 8 March 2020. As a result, demand for the Shares, and their market price, may fall after the end of the stabilising period.

These activities by the Stabilising Manager may stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of the Shares. As a result, the price of the Shares may be higher than the price that otherwise may exist in the open market.

Any stabilising activity taken by the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents may not necessarily result in the market price of our Shares staying at or above the Offer Price either during or after the stabilising period. Bids for or market purchases of our Shares by the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents may be made at a price at or below the Offer Price and therefore at or below the price paid for our Shares by investors.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

Our Company will ensure and procure that a public announcement in compliance with the Securities and Futures (Price Stabilising) Rules will be made within seven days of the expiration of the stabilising period.

In order to facilitate the settlement of over-allocations, the Stabilising Manager or its authorised agents may, among other means, purchase Shares in the secondary market, enter into stock borrowing arrangements with holders of Shares, exercise the Over-allotment Option, engage a combination of these means or otherwise as may be permitted under applicable laws. Any such secondary market purchases will be made in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

STOCK BORROWING AGREEMENT

The Stabilising Manager will enter into the Stock Borrowing Agreement with Man Chase, whereby, the Stabilising Manager, as stabilising manager or its authorised agents may borrow up to 37,500,000 Shares from Man Chase equivalent to the maximum number of additional Shares to offered upon full exercise of the Over-allotment Option, under the Stock Borrowing Agreement. The Stock Borrowing Agreement will not be subject to the restrictions of Rule 10.07(1)(a) of the Listing Rules provided that the requirements set forth in Rule 10.07(3) of the Listing Rules are to be complied with.

PRICING AND ALLOCATION

Pursuant to the Price Determination Agreement, pricing for the Offer Shares for the purpose of the Share Offer will be fixed on the Price Determination Date, which is expected to be on or around Monday, 10 February 2020, and in any event not later than 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, 11 February 2020, by agreement between the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company and the number of Offer Shares to be allocated under the Share Offer will be determined shortly thereafter.

The Offer Price will be not more than HK$0.60 per Offer Share and is expected to be not less than HK$0.50 per Offer Share unless otherwise announced, as further explained below. Applicants for Offer Shares under the Public Offer must pay, on application, the maximum Offer Price of HK$0.60 for each Public Offer Share (plus the brokerage of 1%, Stock Exchange trading fee of 0.005% and SFC transaction levy of 0.0027% payable on each Offer Share), amounting to a total of HK$6,060.46 per board lot of 10,000 Offer Shares. If the Offer Price is less than HK$0.60 per Public Offer Share, appropriate refund payments (including the brokerage, Stock Exchange trading fee and SFC transaction levy attributable to the surplus applicable monies, without any interest) will be made to wholly or partially successful applicants. Prospective investors should be aware that the Offer Price to be determined on the Price Determination Date may be, but is not expected to be, lower than the indicative Offer Price range stated in this prospectus.

If, for any reason, our Company and the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) are unable to reach agreement on the Offer Price at or before 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, 11 February 2020, the Share Offer will not proceed and will lapse.

For details, please refer to the section headed “How to apply for Public Offer Shares” of this prospectus.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

Change to the number of Offer Shares being offered and/or Offer Price range

The Joint Lead Managers will be soliciting from prospective investors indications of interest in acquiring the Offer Shares in the Placing. Prospective investors will be required to specify the number of Offer Shares under the Placing they would be prepared to acquire either at different prices or at a particular price. This process, known as “book-building”, is expected to continue up to, and to cease on or around, the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer. In such a case, our Company will, as soon as practicable following the decision to make such change, and in any event not later than the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer, cause there to be published on our Company’s website at www.hkfsfinance.com and the Stock Exchange’s website at www.hkexnews.hk an announcement of the change and will issue a supplemental prospectus updating investors of the change in the indicative Offer Price; extend the period under which the Public Offer was open for acceptance to allow potential investors sufficient time to consider their subscriptions or reconsider their submitted subscriptions; and potential investors who had applied for the Offer Shares will need to confirm their applications in accordance with the procedures set out in the announcement and all unconfirmed applications will not be valid. In such event, details of the arrangement will be announced by our Company as soon as practicable. Prospective investors of the Offer Shares should be aware that the Offer Price to be determined on the Price Determination Date may be, but is currently not expected to be, lower than the indicative Offer Price range stated in this prospectus. Upon issue of such an announcement, the revised Offer Price range will be final and conclusive and the Offer Price, if agreed upon with our Company, will be fixed within such revised Offer Price range. Such announcement will also include confirmation or revision, as appropriate, of the working capital statement, the Share Offer statistics, and any other financial information in this prospectus which may change as a result of any such change.

Before submitting applications for the Public Offer Shares, applicants should have regard to the possibility that any announcement of an extension or reduction in the indicative Offer Price range may not be made until the day which is the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer. Applicants who have submitted their applications for Public Offer Shares before such an announcement is made will be entitled to withdraw their applications unless positive confirmations from the applicants to proceed are received. In the absence of any such announcement being published in relation to a change in the indicative Offer Price range as stated in this prospectus on or before the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer, the Offer Price, if agreed upon by the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company, will under no circumstances be set outside the Offer Price range as stated in this prospectus.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

The Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) may, where they deem appropriate, based on the level of interest expressed by prospective investors during the book-building process in respect of the Placing, and with the consent of our Company, reduce the number of the Offer Shares being offered and/or the indicative Offer Price range below that stated in this prospectus at any time on or prior to the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer. In such a case, our Company shall cause to be published, as soon as practicable following the decision to make such reduction, and in any event not later than the morning of the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer:

- (a) an announcement of the reduction on the website of the Stock Exchange at www.hkexnews.hk and our Company's website at www.hkfsfinance.com. The announcement will include a confirmation or revision, as appropriate, of the working capital statement and the offering statistics and any other financial information in this prospectus which may change as a result of any such change; and
- (b) such supplemental offering documents as may be required by laws of any governmental authority to be published in such manner as the relevant laws or governmental authority may require as soon as practicable following the decision to make the change.

Upon issue of such announcement, the revised number of the Offer Shares and/or Offer Price range will be final and conclusive and the Offer Price, if agreed upon by the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company, will be fixed within such revised number of the Offer Shares and/or Offer Price range.

Before submitting applications for the Public Offer Shares, applicants should have regard to the possibility that any announcement of a reduction in the number of Offer Shares and/or the indicative Offer Price range may not be made until the last day for lodging applications under the Public Offer. In the absence of any such announcement published the number of Offer Shares and/or the Offer Price will not be reduced and the Offer Price, if agreed upon by our Company and the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters), will under no circumstances be set outside the indicative Offer Price range as stated in this prospectus.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE FINAL OFFER PRICE AND THE BASIS OF ALLOCATIONS

Announcement of the final Offer Price, the level of indication of interests in the Placing, the level of applications in the Public Offer, the basis of allocation of the Public Offer Shares and the results of allocations of the Public Offer is expected to be published on Tuesday, 18 February 2020 on the website of the Stock Exchange at www.hkexnews.hk and our Company's website at www.hkfsfinance.com.

UNDERWRITING

The Public Offer is fully underwritten by the Public Offer Underwriters under the terms of the Public Offer Underwriting Agreement, which is conditional on and subject to the Placing Underwriting Agreement having been executed and becoming unconditional and not having been terminated in accordance with its terms.

Our company expects to enter into the Placing Underwriting Agreement relating to the Placing on or around the Price Determination Date. These underwriting arrangements and the Underwriting Agreements are summarised in the section headed “Underwriting” of this prospectus.

CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

Acceptance of all applications for the Offer Shares is conditional upon, among others, the satisfaction of all of the following conditions:

- (a) the Listing Committee granting the approval of the Listing of, and permission to deal in, the Shares in issue and to be issued pursuant to the Capitalisation Issue and the Share Offer (including the additional Shares which may be allotted and issued upon the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and upon the exercise of any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme) and such approval not subsequently being withdrawn revoked prior to the Listing Date;
- (b) the execution and delivery of the Placing Underwriting Agreement on or about the Price Determination Date;
- (c) the obligations of the Underwriters under the Underwriting Agreements becoming and remaining unconditional (including, if relevant, as a result of a waiver of any condition(s)) and such obligations not being terminated in accordance with the terms of the Underwriting Agreements; and
- (d) the Offer Price having been agreed between the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) and our Company pursuant to the Price Determination Agreement, in each case on or before the dates and times specified in the Underwriting Agreements (unless and to the extent such conditions are validly waived on or before such dates and times) and, in any event, not later than the date which is 30 days after the date of this prospectus.

If, for any reason, the Offer Price is not agreed between us and the Joint Lead Managers (for themselves and on behalf of the Underwriters) on or around Monday, 10 February 2020 and in any event, no later than 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, 11 February 2020, the Share Offer will not proceed and will lapse.

The consummation of each of the Public Offer and the Placing is conditional upon, among other things, the other offering becoming unconditional and not having been terminated in accordance with its terms.

STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE SHARE OFFER

If the above conditions are not fulfilled or waived on or before the dates and times specified, the Share Offer will lapse and the Stock Exchange will be notified immediately. Notice of the lapse of the Share Offer will be published by our company on the Stock Exchange's website at www.hkexnews.hk and our Company's website at www.hkfsfinance.com on the next Business Day following such lapse. In the event of such lapse, all application monies will be returned to the applicants, without interest on the terms set out in the paragraph headed "12. Refund of application monies" under the section headed "How to apply for Public Offer Shares" in this prospectus. In the meantime, all application monies will be held in separate bank account(s) with the receiving bank or other bank(s) in Hong Kong licensed under the Banking Ordinance.

Directors' responsibility for the Historical Financial Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of Historical Financial Information that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 2 to the Historical Financial Information, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of Historical Financial Information that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Reporting accountants' responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Historical Financial Information and to report our opinion to you. We conducted our work in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Investment Circular Reporting Engagements 200 “Accountants' Reports on Historical Financial Information in Investment Circulars” issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the “HKICPA”). This standard requires that we comply with ethical standards and plan and perform our work to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Historical Financial Information is free from material misstatement.

Our work involved performing procedures to obtain evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the Historical Financial Information. The procedures selected depend on the reporting accountants' judgement, including the assessment of risks of material misstatement of the Historical Financial Information, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the reporting accountants consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of Historical Financial Information that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 2 to the Historical Financial Information in order to design procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Our work also included evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the Historical Financial Information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion the Historical Financial Information gives, for the purposes of the accountants' report, a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, of the Company's financial position as at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019 and of the Group's financial performance and cash flows for the Track Record Period in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 2 to the Historical Financial Information.

Review of stub period comparative financial information

We have reviewed the stub period comparative financial information of the Group which comprises the combined statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the combined statement of changes in equity and the combined statement of cash flows for the four months ended 31 July 2018 and other explanatory information (the "Stub Period Comparative Financial Information"). The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Stub Period Comparative Financial Information in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 2 to the Historical Financial Information. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the Stub Period Comparative Financial Information based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Review Engagements 2410 "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity" issued by the HKICPA. A review consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the Stub Period Comparative Financial Information, for the purposes of the accountants' report, is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the basis of preparation and presentation set out in Note 2 to the Historical Financial Information.

Report on matters under the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange and the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance

NOTES TO THE HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION1. GENERAL

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands under the Companies Law as an exempted company with limited liability on 7 June 2016. The addresses of the registered office and principal place of business of the Company is Flat 2705-6, 27/F, Tower One, Lippo Centre, 89 Queensway, Hong Kong. The Company's immediate and ultimate holding company is Man Chase Holdings Limited ("Man Chase"), a company incorporated in the British Virgin Islands ("BVI"), which is owned by Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai, who are independent from each other and who have always been the controlling shareholders of the Company and other entities comprising the Group.

The principal activities of the Group are the provision of securities dealing and brokerage services, placing and underwriting services, securities margin financing services and investment advisory services in Hong Kong.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF HISTORICAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Historical Financial Information has been prepared based on the accounting policies set out in Note 4 which conform with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA.

Prior to the Group Reorganisation, the Group's major operating subsidiary, Sinomax Securities was directly owned by Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai. In preparation for the listing of the Company's shares on the Stock Exchange, the Group underwent the following reorganisation steps which mainly involves interspersing investing holding companies between Sinomax Securities and its shareholders:

- (1) On 15 December 2015, Man Chase was incorporated in the BVI with limited liability. At the time of its incorporation, Man Chase was authorised to issue a maximum of 50,000 shares of a single class, each with a par value of US$1.00 each, of which 60 fully paid shares had been allotted and issued to Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and 40 fully paid shares had been allotted and issued to Ms. Yeung Lai Lai.
- (2) On 1 February 2016, Smart Domain was incorporated in the BVI with limited liability. At the time of its incorporation, Smart Domain was authorised to issue a maximum of 50,000 shares of a single class, each with a par value of US$1.00 each, of which 1 fully paid share had been allotted and issued to an initial subscriber. On 10 June 2016, such ordinary share was transferred to the Company and a further 99 fully paid shares had been allotted and issued to the Company.
- (3) On 7 June 2016, the Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability. At the time of its incorporation, the Company had an authorised share capital of HK$380,000 divided into 38,000,000 Shares of HK$0.01 each, of which one nil paid share was allotted and issued to the initial subscriber, which was transferred to Man Chase on the same date at nil paid. On 7 June 2016, 99 nil paid shares were further allotted and issued by the Company to Man Chase.
- (4) On 22 January 2020, Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai transferred the entire issued share capital of Sinomax Securities to Smart Domain (as a nominee of our Company) for the consideration of HK$228,797,000, which was satisfied by (i) the Company allotting and issuing 9,900 new Shares, all credited as fully paid, to Man Chase at the directions of Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai; and (ii) the crediting of 100 nil-paid Shares, which were registered in the name of Man Chase, as fully paid. The above transaction was completed on 22 January 2020.

Upon completion of the above steps, the Company was owned by Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai through Man Chase and the Company became the holding company of the companies now comprising the Group on 22 January 2020. The Group comprising the Company and its subsidiaries resulting from the Group Reorganisation have always been and continued to be controlled by Mr. Keng Lee Stephen and Ms. Yeung Lai Lai before and after the Group Reorganisation, and is therefore regarded as a continuing entity. Accordingly, the Historical Financial Information has been prepared on the basis as if the Company had always being the holding company of the Group.

The combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the combined statements of changes in equity and the combined statements of cash flows of the Group for the Track Record Period include the results, changes in equity and cash flows of the companies now comprising the Group as if the current group structure had been in existence throughout the Track Record Period, or from the respective date of incorporation of the relevant entity, where this is a shorter period.

The combined statements of financial position of the Group as at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019 have been prepared to present the assets and liabilities of the companies now comprising the Group as if the current group structure had been in existence as at those dates, taking into account their respective date of incorporation.

No statutory financial statements of the Company have been prepared since its date of incorporation as it is incorporated in the jurisdiction where there are no statutory audit requirements.

3. APPLICATION OF NEW AND REVISED HKFRSs

For the purposes of preparing and presenting the Historical Financial Information for the Track Record Period, except as described below, the Group has consistently applied all the HKFRSs which are effective for the Group's accounting period beginning on 1 April 2019 throughout the Track Record Period.

HKFRS 16 "Leases" replaces the previous standard HKAS 17 "Leases". The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019 and earlier application is permitted. The Group has elected to apply HKFRS 16 which has been applied consistently throughout the Track Record Period. The policy is described in Note 4.

Impact on changes in accounting policies

Transition and summary of effects arising from initial application of HKFRS 16

As a lessee

The Group has consistently applied HKFRS 16 throughout the Track Record Period since the date of initial application, 1 April 2016.

On transition, the Group has made the following adjustments upon application of HKFRS 16:

The Group recognised lease liabilities of HK$1,377,000 and right-of-use assets of HK$1,377,000 at 1 April 2016.

When recognising the lease liabilities for leases previously classified as operating leases, the Group has applied incremental borrowing rates of the relevant group entity at the date of initial application. The weighted average incremental borrowing rate applied is 5.125%.

	Lease liabilities HK$'000
Operating lease commitments as at 31 March 2016	1,416
Lease liabilities discounted at relevant incremental borrowing rates	(39)
Lease liabilities as at 1 April 2016	1,377

	Right-of-use assets HK$'000

HKFRS 9 “Financial Instruments”

The Group has adopted HKFRS 9 “Financial Instruments” since 1 April 2018. The Group has not restated financial information from 1 April 2016 to 31 March 2018 for financial instruments in the scope of HKFRS 9. The financial information from 1 April 2016 to 31 March 2018 related to the financial instruments is reported under Hong Kong Accounting Standard (“HKAS”) 39 “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement” and is not comparable to the information presented for the year ended 31 March 2019 and for the four months ended 31 July 2019. The impacts relate to the classification and measurement requirements are summarised as follows:

Details of the accounting policies are disclosed in Note 4.

Classification

At the date of initial application, the Group’s financial assets previously classified as loans and receivables including bank balances, deposits and accounts receivables continued to be measured at amortised cost. There is no change in measurement basis of the financial assets.

The Group has reassessed its investments in equity securities classified as held for trading under HKAS 39 as if the Group had purchased these investments at the date of initial application. Based on the facts and circumstances as at the date of initial application, HK$823,000 of the Group’s investments were held for trading and continued to be measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The financial liabilities of the Group continued to be classified as financial liabilities at amortised cost.

Impairment under expected credit losses ("ECL") model

The Group applies the HKFRS 9 simplified approach to measure ECL which uses a lifetime ECL for accounts receivable arising from placing and underwriting and investment advisory services. To measure the ECL, accounts receivable are assessed individually based on the Group's historical default rates or default rates by reference to the Probability of Default ("PD"), Loss Given Default ("LGD") over the expected life and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.

Loss allowances for accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities and other financial assets at amortised cost mainly comprise of bank balance and deposits are measured on 12-month ECL ("12m ECL") ("Stage 1") basis when there had been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, and certain accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities which are assessed and measured on lifetime ECL basis when the credit risk had increased significantly ("Stage 2") or assessed to be credit-impaired ("Stage 3") since initial recognition.

As at 1 April 2018, the management estimated that the additional credit loss allowance to be recognised is immaterial and accordingly, no adjustment was made against retained earnings as at 1 April 2018.

All loss allowances for accounts receivable as at 31 March 2018 are reconciled to the opening loss allowances as at 1 April 2018 as follows:

	Accounts receivable HK$'000
At 31 March 2018 – HKAS 39	146
Amounts written off (Note)	(146)
At 1 April 2018	–

Note: Amounts written off resulted from refinement of write-off policy on the initial application of HKFRS 9.

New and revised to HKFRS in issue but not yet effective

The Group has not early applied the following new and amendments to HKFRSs and interpretations ("new and revised HKFRSs") that have been issued at the date of this report but are not yet effective:

HKFRS 17	Insurance Contracts ³
Amendments to HKFRS 3	Definition of a Business ⁴
Amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28	Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture ²
Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKAS 8	Definition of Material ¹
Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7	Interest Rate Benchmark Reform ¹

¹ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020

³ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2021

In addition to the above new and amendments to HKFRSs, a revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting was issued in 2018. Its consequential amendments, the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards, will be effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

The directors of the Company anticipate that the application of the new and revised HKFRSs will have no material impact on the Group's financial position and financial performance in the foreseeable future.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Historical Financial Information has been prepared in accordance with accounting policies which conform with HKFRSs issued by HKICPA. In addition, the Historical Financial Information includes applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

The Historical Financial Information has been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies set out below. Historical cost is generally based on fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in the Historical Financial Information is determined on such a basis, except for measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as value in use in HKAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below:

Basis of combination

The Historical Financial Information incorporates the financial statements of the Company and companies controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when a Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassess whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Combination of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specially, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the combined statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date of the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intra-group assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on combination.

Revenue from contracts with customers

Under HKFRS 15, the Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when "control" of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs;
- the Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with HKFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group's unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to the same contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on output method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of direct measurements of the value of the goods or services transferred to the customer to date relative to the remaining goods or services promised under the contract, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are those costs that the Group incurs to obtain a contract with a customer that it would not have incurred if the contract had not been obtained.

The Group recognises such costs (including commission expenses) as an asset if it expects to recover these costs. The asset so recognised is subsequently charged to profit or loss at the point when the revenue relating to the relevant contracts is recognised in profit or loss.

The Group applies the practical expedient of expensing all incremental costs to obtain a contract if these costs would otherwise have been fully amortised to profit or loss within one year.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with HKFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial assets or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income which are derived from the Group's ordinary course of business are presented as revenue.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (upon application of HKFRS 9 in accordance with transitions in Note 3)

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVTOCI”):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”), except that at the date of initial application/initial recognition of a financial asset, the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of equity investment in other comprehensive income (“OCI”) if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combinations to which HKFRS 3 “Business Combinations” applies.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the “other gains and losses” line item.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

Amortised cost and interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired. For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.

Impairment of financial assets (upon application of HKFRS 9 with transitions in accordance with Note 3)

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets which are subject to impairment under HKFRS 9, including accounts receivable, deposits, bank balances. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12m ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for accounts receivable arising from placing and underwriting and investment advisory services. To measure the ECL, accounts receivable are assessed individually based on the Group's historical default rates or default rates by reference to the PD, LGD over the expected life and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due except for accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities where a shorter period of "past due" has been applied by the directors in view of the nature of business operation and practice in managing the credit risk, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a bank balances has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the bank balances are determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A bank balance is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers a bank balance to have low credit risk when it has a higher external credit-ratings assigned by the international credit-rating agencies.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers the event of default occurs when the information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

In respect of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due except for accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities where a shorter period of "past due" has been applied by the directors in view of the nature of business operation and practice in managing the credit risk, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- (e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or in the case of accounts receivable, when the amounts are over two years past due, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the PD, LGD (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the Exposure at Default ("EAD"). The assessment of the PD and LGD is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

The Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of accounts receivable where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (before application of HKFRS 9 on 1 April 2018)

The Group's financial assets are classified into financial assets at FVTPL and loans and receivables. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at the time of initial recognition.

Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as at FVTPL when the financial asset is held for trading or designated as at FVTPL.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

Financial assets at FVTPL are stated at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial assets and is included in the "other gains and losses" line item. Fair value is determined in the manner described in Note 36.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Subsequent to initial recognition, accounts receivable, deposits and bank balances and cash are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any identified impairment losses (see accounting policy on impairment of financial assets below).

Interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables where the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

Impairment of financial assets (before application of HKFRS 9 on 1 April 2018)

Financial assets, other than those at FVTPL are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of each reporting period. Financial assets are considered to be impaired where there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial assets, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been affected.

Objective evidence of impairment could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty; or
- breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial re-organisation.

For impairment assessment, each receivable is reviewed individually at the end of each month. The Group has a policy for determining the allowance for impairment based on the evaluation of ageing analysis of accounts and management's judgement, including the current creditworthiness, collateral, subsequent settlement and the past collection history of each client.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the impairment loss recognised is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of accounts receivable, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognised in profit or loss. When an accounts receivable is considered uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises it retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Debt and equity instruments issued by the Group are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue cost.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities including accounts payable, other payables, bank borrowings and amount due to related companies are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

The financial liabilities of the Group are all carried at amortised cost.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liability when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or they expire. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting

A financial asset and a financial liability is offset and the net amount presented in the combined statements of financial position when, and only when the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Intangible assetsIntangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses (see the accounting policy in respect of impairment of non-financial assets below).

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains and losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. Intangible asset with indefinite useful lives is tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that they may be impaired.

When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income immediately.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year/period. Taxable profit differs from “profit before taxation” as reported in the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group’s liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the combined financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relates to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Group intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies HKAS 12 Income Taxes requirements to the leasing transaction as a whole. Temporary differences relating to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are assessed on a net basis. Excess of depreciation on right-of-use assets over the lease payments for the principal portion of lease liabilities resulting in net deductible temporary differences.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated in the combined statements of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property and equipment less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and is recognised in profit or loss.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Lease

Definition of a lease

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

As a lessee

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group also applies practical expedient not to separate non-lease components from lease component, and instead account for the lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the recognition exemption for lease of low-value assets. Lease payments on leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Right-of-use assets

Except for leases of low value assets, the Group recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e. the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term is depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use asset is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets in “property and equipment”, the same line item as that within which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under HKAS 39/HKFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the Group recognises lease liability measured at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees;

- the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group; and
- payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate.

After the commencement date, the amount of lease liability is adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group remeasures the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review in which cases the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currency are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another HKFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees (such as wages, salaries and annual leave) after deducting any amount already paid.

Retirement benefits costs

Payments to the Mandatory Provident Fund Scheme are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

5. KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in Note 4, the directors of the Company are required to make estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets within the next financial year.

Estimated impairment loss on accounts receivable

Prior to the application of HKFRS 9, the Group periodically reviews its accounts receivable to assess whether impairment loss exist. In determining whether impairment loss should be recorded in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, the Group has individually evaluated its accounts receivable for impairment after taking into account the value of the underlying collateral of each borrower, and other information available of those borrowers in default of settlement to determine the net present value of expected future cash inflow. If the financial conditions of the clients of the Group were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make repayments, additional impairment loss may be required.

Since the adoption of HKFRS 9 on 1 April 2018, the management of the Group estimates the amount of impairment loss for ECL on accounts receivable based on the credit risk of accounts receivable. In applying the accounting requirements for measuring ECL, the management exercised significant judgements in determining criteria for significant increase in credit risk, selecting appropriate models and assumptions for the measurement of ECL.

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, the carrying amount of accounts receivable are HK$ 130,544,000, HK$128,783,000 and HK$204,687,000 and HK$236,503,000, net of allowance for doubtful debts of HK$146,000, HK$511,000, HK$nil and HK$nil respectively.

Estimated impairment of intangible asset

Determining whether intangible asset is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash flow projection to which intangible asset has been allocated. The value-in-use calculation requires the Group to estimate the future cash flows expected to generate in the cash flow projection and a suitable discount rate and growth rate in order to calculate the present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise. As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, the carrying value of intangible asset amounted to HK$2,735,000. Details of the recoverable amount calculation are disclosed in Note 19.

Performance obligations for contracts with customersBroking services

The Group provides broking services to customers on securities trading. Commission income is recognised at a point in time on the execution date of the trades at a certain percentage of the transaction value of the trades executed.

Placing and underwriting services

The Group provides underwriting, sub-underwriting and placing services to customers. Revenue is recognised at a point in time when the relevant underwriting, sub-underwriting and placing activities are completed. Payments are received in accordance to the completion of relevant underwriting, sub-underwriting and placing activities as specified in the agreement. The period from satisfaction of the performance obligation to receipt of consideration is usually within one year or less.

Investment advisory services

The Group provide investment advisory services by providing monthly investment advisory reports to customers and meet with the customers from time to time to discuss the investment portfolio. Under the agreement signed with the customers, the Group is entitled to the fixed monthly service fees. Based on the agreement, the customers can simultaneously receive and consume the investment advisory services provided by the Group. Accordingly, the revenue is recognised over time. Investment advisory service fee income is charged at a fixed amount per month for managing the investment portfolio of each client. The Group receives payment within a short period of time after satisfying its performance obligation under determined payment terms.

Handling and other services

The Group provides services in securities trading and customer's account handling. Handling and other services fee income are recognised when the transaction are executed and services are completed.

The Group provides custodian services for securities customer accounts. The customers simultaneously receives and consumes the benefit provided by the Group, hence the revenue is recognised as a performance obligation satisfied over time.

Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligation for contracts with customers

The Group applied the practical expedient for contracts with original expected duration less than one year, and did not disclose the aggregate amount of transaction price allocated to performance obligations of the broking services, placing and underwriting services and handling and other services that are unsatisfied (or partly unsatisfied). In addition, the Group applied the practical expedient by recognising revenue in the amount to which the Group has right to invoices. As permitted under HKFRS 15, the transaction price allocated to performance obligations of the investment advisory services is not disclosed.

7. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Group's operating segment is determined based on information reported to the executive directors of Sinomax Securities, being the chief operating decision makers ("CODM"), for the purpose of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance.

The Group's reportable and operating segments under HKFRS 8 are as follows:

- (a) the brokerage services segment comprises the provision of broking services in securities traded in Hong Kong and overseas markets;
- (b) the margin financing services segment comprises the provision of financing services to margin and cash clients;
- (c) the placing and underwriting services segment comprises the provision of underwriting, sub-underwriting and placing services; and
- (d) the investment advisory services segment comprises the provision of investment advisory services.

The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as the Group's accounting policies described in Note 4. Segment profit represents the profit earned by each segment without allocation of other income, other gains and losses, certain staff costs, certain finance costs, depreciation, listing expenses, other expenses and certain other operating expenses. No inter-segment revenues are charged among segments.

Hong Kong Profits Tax is calculated at 16.5% of the estimated assessable profit during the Track Record Period. In accordance with the 2016-17 Budget, 2017-18 Budget and 2018-19 Budget presented by the Financial Secretary of the Government of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China, it was proposed that the Hong Kong Profits Tax for the years of assessment 2016/2017, 2017/2018 and 2018/2019 be reduced by 75%, subject to a ceiling of HK$20,000, HK$30,000 and HK$20,000 per case in each of the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018 and 2019 respectively. A subsidiary of the Group operating in Hong Kong enjoyed such tax concessions.

On 21 March 2018, the Hong Kong Legislative Council passed The Inland Revenue (Amendment) (No. 7) Bill 2017 (the "Bill") which introduces the two-tiered profits tax rates regime. The Bill was signed into law on 28 March 2018 and was gazetted on the following day. Under the two-tiered profits tax rates regime, the first HK$2 million of profits of the qualifying group entity will be taxed at 8.25%, and profits above HK$2 million will be taxed at 16.5%. The profits of group entities not qualifying for the two-tiered profits tax rates regime will continue to be taxed at a flat rate of 16.5%.

The taxation for the Track Record Period can be reconciled to the profit before taxation per the combined statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as follows:

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, intangible asset represents a trading right in the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "SEHK"). Previously, the trading right was considered to have a definite estimated useful life and was amortised over its estimated useful life. Subsequently, the director performed a review of the accounting estimates and considered that such trading right has no foreseeable limit to the period over which the Group can use to generate net cash flows. As a result, prior to the Track Record Period, the trading rights was reconsidered by the management of the Group as having an indefinite useful life because it was expected to contribute to net cash inflows indefinitely. Therefore, the trading right ceased to be amortised, instead, it is tested for impairment annually and whenever there is an indication that it may be impaired.

As the trading right is not transferable, the recoverable amounts of the trading right held by the Group has been determined with reference to the recoverable amounts based on a value-in-use calculation. That calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a 5-year period and at a pre-tax discount rate of 13.84%, 13.34%, 12.19% and 11.54% and growth rate are 0%, 9%, 9% and 9% for the years ended 2017, 2018, 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019 respectively. The cash flows projections beyond the 5-year period are extrapolated using a steady 1% growth rate. A key assumption for the value-in-use calculation is the growth rate as 0%, 9%, 9% and 9% for the years ended 2017, 2018, 2019 and four months ended 31 July 2019 respectively, which is determined based on management's expectations for the market development.

The table below sets out the sensitivity analysis of the impact of variations in each of the key assumptions, namely the discount rate and the growth rate, on the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit, where the headroom represents the excess of the recoverable amount over the carrying amount of the trading right.

Headroom

10%	101,039	380,452	212,110	205,032

Management believes that any reasonably possible change in any of the assumptions would not cause the aggregate recoverable amount of the trading right to fall below the aggregate carrying amount of the trading right.

Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's major financial instruments include held-for-trading investments, accounts receivable, deposits, bank balances and cash, accounts payable, other payables and bank borrowings.

Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in the respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include credit risk, market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk) and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner.

Market risk

Market risk can be described as the risk of change in fair value of a financial instrument due to changes in interest rates, equity prices or foreign currency exchange rates.

(i) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fixed rate risk for lease liabilities. The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to accounts receivable from cash and margin clients, bank borrowings and bank balances and cash. The Group currently does not have an interest rate hedging policy. The directors monitor the Group's exposures on an ongoing basis and will consider hedging the interest rate should the need arises.

The Group's cash flow interest rate risk is mainly concentrated on the fluctuation of Hong Kong Prime Rate arising from the Group's variable interest rate instruments.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for accounts receivable from cash and margin clients, bank borrowings and bank balances at the end of the reporting period. The sensitivity analysis is prepared assuming the variable-rate financial instruments outstanding at the end of the reporting period were outstanding for the whole year/period.

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, if the interest rate had been 10 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's profit after taxation would increase by HK$188,000, HK$214,000, HK$169,000 and HK$52,000 or decrease by HK$90,000, HK$91,000, HK$137,000 and HK$46,000 respectively. Assets with interest below 10 basis points are excluded from 10 basis points downward movement.

A 10 basis points increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

(ii) Other price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through their held-for-trading investments. The Group's equity price risk is concentrated on equity instruments quoted on the Stock Exchange. The management manages the exposure by closely monitoring the portfolio of investments and imposing credit limits on individual trades.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to equity price risks at the reporting date. For sensitivity analysis purpose, the sensitivity rate at 20% is applied as a result of the volatile financial market.

If the price of the respective held-for-trading investments had been 20% higher/lower, and held other variables constant, the profit after taxation of the Group for the years ended 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019 would increase/decrease by HK$167,000, HK$137,000, HK$nil and HK$nil respectively, as a result of the changes in fair value of held-for-trading investments.

In management's opinion, the sensitivity analysis was unrepresentative of the inherent equity price risk as the year/period end exposure does not reflect the exposure during the year/period.

(iii) Currency risk

The currency risk exposure is not significant as most of the transactions and financial assets and liabilities of the Group are denominated in Hong Kong dollars, the functional currency of the entities comprising the Group. Accordingly, no sensitivity analysis has been presented on the currency risk.

Credit risk and impairment assessment

As at 31 March 2017, 2018, 2019 and 31 July 2019, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in the event of the counterparties' failure to perform their obligations as at the end of each reporting period in relation to each class of recognised financial assets is the carrying amount of those assets as stated in the statement of financial position.

In order to minimise the credit risk on accounts receivable, the management of the Group compile the credit and risk management policies, to approve credit limits and to determine any debt recovery action on those delinquent receivables. In addition, the management of the Group review the recoverable amount of accounts receivable and the receivables from margin clients are secured by client's pledged securities which are equity and debt securities listed in Hong Kong and overseas.

Margin calls are made when the trades of margin clients exceed their credit limits or a shortfall existed after taking into the account the securities collateral. Any such excess is required to be made good within the next trading day. Failure to meet margin calls may result in the liquidation of the client's position. The Group seeks to maintain strict control over its outstanding receivables. In this regard, the management of the Group consider that the Group's credit risk is significantly reduced.

The credit risk on bank balances is limited because the counterparties are with high credit-ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies.

The credit risk for accounts receivable from clearing house and brokers is considered as not high taking into account the good market reputations and high credit ratings of the counterparties.

The Group's internal credit risk grading assessment comprises the following categories:

Internal credit rating	Description	Accounts receivable arising from placing and underwriting and investment advisory services	Accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities	Other financial assets
Normal	The counterparty has a low risk of default and does not have any past-due amounts or have past-due amounts less than 30 days (accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities: have past-due amounts less than 10 days)	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	12-month ECL	12-month ECL
Special mention	There have been significant increases in credit risk since initial recognition through information developed internally or external resources or payments have been overdue for more than 30 days (accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities: have past-due amounts for over 10 days)	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – not credit-impaired
Sub-standard	There is evidence indicating the asset is credit-impaired or payment has been overdue for more than 90 days (accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities: have past-due amounts for over 30 days)	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired
Loss	There is evidence indicating that the debtor is in significant financial difficulty and the Group has little realistic prospect of recovery	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired	Lifetime ECL – credit-impaired

The identification of internal credit rating for all financial assets regularly reviewed by management of the Group to ensure relevant information about specific financial assets is updated.

The tables below detail the credit risk exposures of the Group's financial assets, which are subject to ECL assessment:

Notes:

1. These institutional banks have a low risk of default and there is no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. Accordingly, they are subject to 12-month ECL. The ECL is assessed by reference to the PD and LGD for the relevant credit rating grades published by international credit rating agencies, and adjusted for forward-looking factors that are available without undue cost or effort.
2. The ECL is assessed by reference to the PD and LGD of credit ratings published by international credit rating agencies over the expected life and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.
3. For accounts receivable arising from placing and underwriting and investment advisory services, the Group has applied the simplified approach in HKFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. The Group determines the lifetime ECL on these items individually based on the Group's historical default rates or by reference to the PD and LGD of credit ratings published by international credit rating agencies over the expected life and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates.
4. In respect of accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities, the Group considers that there is significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition and default indicator when the balance is more than 10 days past due. The PD and LGD over the expected life of the accounts receivable are estimated on an individual basis based on the Group's historical default and loss data and adjusted for forward-looking factors that are available without undue cost or effort. The management performs individual assessment for reviewing the value of collateral received from clients in determining the LGD. LGD of 0% is used when the realisable value of securities or collateral from clients is larger than the accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities.

For credit-impaired accounts receivable arising from the business of dealing in securities, the management performs individual assessment for each client by considering various factors, including the realisable value of securities or collateral from clients which are held by the Group and subsequent settlement.

The ECL impairment allowance determined for all the financial assets carried at amortised cost mentioned above is insignificant as the expected credit loss rates are approximately close to zero. Accordingly, no allowance for credit loss was recognised for the year ended 31 March 2019, four months ended 31 July 2019, as at 31 March 2019 and 31 July 2019.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows.

The following tables details the Group's and the Company's remaining contractual maturity for its financial liabilities and lease liabilities. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities and lease liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group and the Company can be required to pay.

The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

This note provides information about how the Group determines fair value of various financial assets and financial liabilities.

Fair value of the Group's financial assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis

Equity securities are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. The following table gives information about how the fair value of these financial assets are determined.

Financial assets	Fair value as at 31 March			As at 31	Fair value hierarchy	Valuation technique and key input
	2017	2018	2019	July 2019
	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000	HK$'000
Equity securities listed in Hong Kong	999	823	–	–	Level 1	Quoted prices in an active market

There were no transfers between Levels 1, 2 and 3 throughout the Track Record Period.

Fair value of Group's financial assets and liabilities that are measured at amortised costs

The directors consider that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded at amortised costs in the Historical Financial Information approximate their fair values. The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined in accordance with discounted cash flow analysis.

Financial assets and financial liabilities offsetting

The disclosures set out in the tables below include financial assets and financial liabilities that are subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement that covers similar financial instruments that are either:

- offset in the combined statements of financial position; or
- no offset in the combined statements of financial position as the offsetting criteria are not met.

Under the agreement of continuous net settlement made between Group and HKSCC, the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off the money obligations receivable and payable with HKSCC on the same settlement date and the Group intends to settle on a net basis.

In addition, the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off the accounts receivable and payable with its cash clients in the Group's brokerage business ("brokerage clients") that are due to be settled on the same date with reference to the settlement method set by HKSCC and the Group intends to settle these balances on a net basis.

Except for balances which are due to be settled on the same date which are being offset, amounts due from/to HKSCC and brokerage clients that are not to be settled on the same date, financial collateral including cash and securities received by the Group and deposit placed with HKSCC do not meet the criteria for offsetting in the combined statements of financial position since the right of set-off of the recognised amounts is only enforceable following an event of default.

COMPILATION OF UNAUDITED PRO FORMA FINANCIAL INFORMATION*To the Directors of Fu Shek Financial Holdings Limited

We have completed our assurance engagement to report on the compilation of unaudited pro forma financial information of Fu Shek Financial Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Group") by the directors of the Company (the "Directors") for illustrative purposes only. The unaudited pro forma financial information consists of the unaudited pro forma statement of adjusted combined net tangible assets as at 31 July 2019 and related notes as set out on pages II-1 to II-2 of Appendix II to the prospectus issued by the Company dated 31 January 2020 (the "Prospectus"). The applicable criteria on the basis of which the Directors have compiled the unaudited pro forma financial information are described on pages II-1 to II-2 of Appendix II to the Prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma financial information has been compiled by the Directors to illustrate the impact of the proposed listing of the Company's shares on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong by way of Share Offer (the "Proposed Listing") on the Group's financial position as at 31 July 2019 as if the Proposed Listing had taken place at 31 July 2019. As part of this process, information about the Group's financial position has been extracted by the Directors from the Group's historical financial information for each of the three years ended 31 March 2019 and the four months ended 31 July 2019, on which an accountants' report set out in Appendix I to the Prospectus has been published.

Directors' Responsibilities for the Unaudited Pro Forma Financial information

The Directors are responsible for compiling the unaudited pro forma financial information in accordance with paragraph 4.29 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the "Listing Rules") and with reference to Accounting Guideline 7 "Preparation of Pro Forma Financial information for Inclusion in Investment Circulars" ("AG 7") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the "HKICPA").

Our Independence and Quality Control

We have complied with the independence and other ethical requirements of the “Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants” issued by the HKICPA, which is founded on fundamental principles of integrity, objectivity, professional competence and due care, confidentiality and professional behavior.

Our firm applies Hong Kong Standard on Quality Control 1 “Quality Control for Firms that Perform Audits and Reviews of Financial Statements, and Other Assurance and Related Services Engagements” issued by the HKICPA and accordingly maintains a comprehensive system of quality control including documented policies and procedures regarding compliance with ethical requirements, professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion, as required by paragraph 4.29(7) of the Listing Rules, on the unaudited pro forma financial information and to report our opinion to you. We do not accept any responsibility for any reports previously given by us on any financial information used in the compilation of the unaudited pro forma financial information beyond that owed to those to whom those reports were addressed by us at the dates of their issue.

The purpose of unaudited pro forma financial information included in an investment circular is solely to illustrate the impact of a significant event or transaction on unadjusted financial information of the Group as if the event had occurred or the transaction had been undertaken at an earlier date selected for purposes of the illustration. Accordingly, we do not provide any assurance that the actual outcome of the event or transaction at 31 July 2019 would have been as presented.

A reasonable assurance engagement to report on whether the unaudited pro forma financial information has been properly compiled on the basis of the applicable criteria involves performing procedures to assess whether the applicable criteria used by the Directors in the compilation of the unaudited pro forma financial information provide a reasonable basis for presenting the significant effects directly attributable to the event or transaction, and to obtain sufficient appropriate evidence about whether:

- the related pro forma adjustments give appropriate effect to those criteria; and
- the unaudited pro forma financial information reflects the proper application of those adjustments to the unadjusted financial information.

The procedures selected depend on the reporting accountants' judgment, having regard to the reporting accountants' understanding of the nature of the Group, the event or transaction in respect of which the unaudited pro forma financial information has been compiled, and other relevant engagement circumstances.

The engagement also involves evaluating the overall presentation of the unaudited pro forma financial information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

- (c) the adjustments are appropriate for the purposes of the unaudited pro forma financial information as disclosed pursuant to paragraph 4.29(1) of the Listing Rules.

Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu
Certified Public Accountants
Hong Kong, 31 January 2020

Set out below is a summary of certain provisions of the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Company and of certain aspects of Cayman company law.

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability on 7 June, 2016 under the Companies Law, Cap 22 (Law 3 of 1961, as consolidated and revised) of the Cayman Islands (the “Companies Law”). The Company’s constitutional documents consist of its memorandum of association (the “Memorandum”) and its articles of association (the “Articles”).

1. MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

- (a) The Memorandum states, inter alia, that the liability of members of the Company is limited to the amount, if any, for the time being unpaid on the shares respectively held by them and that the objects for which the Company is established are unrestricted (including acting as an investment company), and that the Company shall have and be capable of exercising all the functions of a natural person of full capacity irrespective of any question of corporate benefit, as provided in section 27(2) of the Companies Law and in view of the fact that the Company is an exempted company that the Company will not trade in the Cayman Islands with any person, firm or corporation except in furtherance of the business of the Company carried on outside the Cayman Islands.
- (b) The Company may by special resolution alter its Memorandum with respect to any objects, powers or other matters specified therein.

2. ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

The Articles were conditionally adopted on 22 January 2020 with effect from the Listing Date. The following is a summary of certain provisions of the Articles:

(a) Shares

(i) Classes of shares

The share capital of the Company consists of ordinary shares.

(ii) Variation of rights of existing shares or classes of shares

Subject to the Companies Law, if at any time the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes of shares, all or any of the special rights attached to the shares or any class of shares may (unless otherwise provided for by the terms of issue of that class) be varied, modified or abrogated either with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than three fourths in nominal value of the issued shares of that class or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of that class. To every such separate general meeting the provisions of the Articles relating to general meetings will mutatis mutandis apply, but so that the necessary quorum (other than at an adjourned meeting) shall be two persons holding or representing by proxy not less than one third in nominal value of the issued shares of that class and at any adjourned meeting two holders present in person or by proxy (whatever the number of shares held by them) shall be a quorum. Every holder of shares of the class shall be entitled to one vote for every such share held by him.

Any special rights conferred upon the holders of any shares or class of shares shall not, unless otherwise expressly provided in the rights attaching to the terms of issue of such shares, be deemed to be varied by the creation or issue of further shares ranking pari passu therewith.

(iii) Alteration of capital

The Company may by ordinary resolution of its members:

- (i) increase its share capital by the creation of new shares;
- (ii) consolidate all or any of its capital into shares of larger amount than its existing shares;
- (iii) divide its shares into several classes and attach to such shares any preferential, deferred, qualified or special rights, privileges, conditions or restrictions as the Company in general meeting or as the directors may determine;
- (iv) sub-divide its shares or any of them into shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the Memorandum; or
- (v) cancel any shares which, at the date of passing of the resolution, have not been taken and diminish the amount of its capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled.

The Company may reduce its share capital or any capital redemption reserve or other undistributable reserve in any way by special resolution.

(iv) Transfer of shares

All transfers of shares may be effected by an instrument of transfer in the usual or common form or in a form prescribed by The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) or in such other form as the board may approve and which may be under hand or, if the transferor or transferee is a clearing house or its nominee(s), by hand or by machine imprinted signature or by such other manner of execution as the board may approve from time to time.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for so long as any shares are listed on the Stock Exchange, titles to such listed shares may be evidenced and transferred in accordance with the laws applicable to and the rules and regulations of the Stock Exchange that are or shall be applicable to such listed shares. The register of members in respect of its listed shares (whether the principal register or a branch register) may be kept by recording the particulars required by Section 40 of the Companies Law in a form otherwise than legible if such recording otherwise complies with the laws applicable to and the rules and regulations of the Stock Exchange that are or shall be applicable to such listed shares.

The instrument of transfer shall be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and the transferee provided that the board may dispense with the execution of the instrument of transfer by the transferee. The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of the share until the name of the transferee is entered in the register of members in respect of that share.

The board may, in its absolute discretion, at any time transfer any share upon the principal register to any branch register or any share on any branch register to the principal register or any other branch register.

The board may decline to recognise any instrument of transfer unless a fee (not exceeding the maximum sum as the Stock Exchange may determine to be payable) determined by the Directors is paid to the Company, the instrument of transfer is properly stamped (if applicable), it is in respect of only one class of share and is lodged at the relevant registration office or registered office or such other place at which the principal register is kept accompanied by the relevant share certificate(s) and such other evidence as the board may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer (and if the instrument of transfer is executed by some other person on his behalf, the authority of that person so to do).

The registration of transfers may be suspended and the register closed on giving notice by advertisement in any newspaper or by any other means in accordance with the requirements of the Stock Exchange, at such times and for such periods as the board may determine. The register of members must not be closed for periods exceeding in the whole thirty (30) days in any year.

Subject to the above, fully paid shares are free from any restriction on transfer and free of all liens in favour of the Company.

(v) Power of the Company to purchase its own shares

The Company is empowered by the Companies Law and the Articles to purchase its own shares subject to certain restrictions and the board may only exercise this power on behalf of the Company subject to any applicable requirements imposed from time to time by Stock Exchange.

Where the Company purchases for redemption a redeemable share, purchases not made through the market or by tender must be limited to a maximum price determined by the Company in general meeting. If purchases are by tender, tenders must be made available to all members alike.

(vi) Power of any subsidiary of the Company to own shares in the Company

There are no provisions in the Articles relating to ownership of shares in the Company by a subsidiary.

The board may accept the surrender for no consideration of any fully paid share.

(vii) Calls on shares and forfeiture of shares

The board may from time to time make such calls upon the members in respect of any monies unpaid on the shares held by them respectively (whether on account of the nominal value of the shares or by way of premium). A call may be made payable either in one lump sum or by installments. If the sum payable in respect of any call or instalment is not paid on or before the day appointed for payment thereof, the person or persons from whom the sum is due shall pay interest on the same at such rate not exceeding twenty per cent. (20%) per annum as the board may agree to accept from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of actual payment, but the board may waive payment of such interest wholly or in part. The board may, if it thinks fit, receive from any member willing to advance the same, either in money or money's worth, all or any part of the monies uncalled and unpaid or installments payable upon any shares held by him, and upon all or any of the monies so advanced the Company may pay interest at such rate (if any) as the board may decide.

If a member fails to pay any call on the day appointed for payment thereof, the board may serve not less than fourteen (14) clear days' notice on him requiring payment of so much of the call as is unpaid, together with any interest which may have accrued and which may still accrue up to the date of actual payment and stating that, in the event of non payment at or before the time appointed, the shares in respect of which the call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

If the requirements of any such notice are not complied with, any share in respect of which the notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before the payment required by the notice has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the board to that effect. Such forfeiture will include all dividends and bonuses declared in respect of the forfeited share and not actually paid before the forfeiture.

A person whose shares have been forfeited shall cease to be a member in respect of the forfeited shares but shall, notwithstanding, remain liable to pay to the Company all monies which, at the date of forfeiture, were payable by him to the Company in respect of the shares, together with (if the board shall in its discretion so require) interest thereon from the date of forfeiture until the date of actual payment at such rate not exceeding twenty per cent. (20%) per annum as the board determines.

(b) Directors

(i) Appointment, retirement and removal

At each annual general meeting, one third of the Directors for the time being (or if their number is not a multiple of three, then the number nearest to but not less than one third) shall retire from office by rotation provided that every Director shall be subject to retirement at an annual general meeting at least once every three years. The Directors to retire by rotation shall include any Director who wishes to retire and not offer himself for re-election. Any further Directors so to retire shall be those who have been longest in office since their last re election or appointment but as between persons who became or were last re elected Directors on the same day those to retire will (unless they otherwise agree among themselves) be determined by lot.

Neither a Director nor an alternate Director is required to hold any shares in the Company by way of qualification. Further, there are no provisions in the Articles relating to retirement of Directors upon reaching any age limit.

The Directors have the power to appoint any person as a Director either to fill a casual vacancy on the board or as an addition to the existing board. Any Director appointed to fill a casual vacancy shall hold office until the first general meeting of members after his appointment and be subject to re-election at such meeting and any Director appointed as an addition to the existing board shall hold office only until the next following annual general meeting of the Company and shall then be eligible for re-election.

A Director may be removed by an ordinary resolution of the Company before the expiration of his period of office (but without prejudice to any claim which such Director may have for damages for any breach of any contract between him and the Company) and members of the Company may by ordinary resolution appoint another in his place. Unless otherwise determined by the Company in general meeting, the number of Directors shall not be less than two. There is no maximum number of Directors.

The office of director shall be vacated if:

(aa) he resigns by notice in writing delivered to the Company;

- (bb) he becomes of unsound mind or dies;
- (cc) without special leave, he is absent from meetings of the board for six (6) consecutive months, and the board resolves that his office is vacated;
- (dd) he becomes bankrupt or has a receiving order made against him or suspends payment or compounds with his creditors;
- (ee) he is prohibited from being a director by law; or
- (ff) he ceases to be a director by virtue of any provision of law or is removed from office pursuant to the Articles.

The board may appoint one or more of its body to be managing director, joint managing director, or deputy managing director or to hold any other employment or executive office with the Company for such period and upon such terms as the board may determine and the board may revoke or terminate any of such appointments. The board may delegate any of its powers, authorities and discretions to committees consisting of such Director or Directors and other persons as the board thinks fit, and it may from time to time revoke such delegation or revoke the appointment of and discharge any such committees either wholly or in part, and either as to persons or purposes, but every committee so formed must, in the exercise of the powers, authorities and discretions so delegated, conform to any regulations that may from time to time be imposed upon it by the board.

(ii) Power to allot and issue shares and warrants

Subject to the provisions of the Companies Law and the Memorandum and Articles and to any special rights conferred on the holders of any shares or class of shares, any share may be issued (a) with or have attached thereto such rights, or such restrictions, whether with regard to dividend, voting, return of capital, or otherwise, as the Directors may determine), or (b) on terms that, at the option of the Company or the holder thereof, it is liable to be redeemed.

The board may issue warrants or convertible securities or securities of similar nature conferring the right upon the holders thereof to subscribe for any class of shares or securities in the capital of the Company on such terms as it may determine.

Subject to the provisions of the Companies Law and the Articles and, where applicable, the rules of Stock Exchange and without prejudice to any special rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any shares or any class of shares, all unissued shares in the Company are at the disposal of the board, which may offer, allot, grant options over or otherwise dispose of them to such persons, at such times, for such consideration and on such terms and conditions as it in its absolute discretion thinks fit, but so that no shares shall be issued at a discount to their nominal value.

Neither the Company nor the board is obliged, when making or granting any allotment of, offer of, option over or disposal of shares, to make, or make available, any such allotment, offer, option or shares to members or others with registered addresses in any particular territory or territories being a territory or territories where, in the absence of a registration statement or other special formalities, this would or might, in the opinion of the board, be unlawful or impracticable. Members affected as a result of the foregoing sentence shall not be, or be deemed to be, a separate class of members for any purpose whatsoever.

(iii) Power to dispose of the assets of the Company or any of its subsidiaries

There are no specific provisions in the Articles relating to the disposal of the assets of the Company or any of its subsidiaries. The Directors may, however, exercise all powers and do all acts and things which may be exercised or done or approved by the Company and which are not required by the Articles or the Companies Law to be exercised or done by the Company in general meeting.

(iv) Borrowing powers

The board may exercise all the powers of the Company to raise or borrow money, to mortgage or charge all or any part of the undertaking, property and assets and uncalled capital of the Company and, subject to the Companies Law, to issue debentures, bonds and other securities of the Company, whether outright or as collateral security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party.

(v) Remuneration

The ordinary remuneration of the Directors is to be determined by the Company in general meeting, such sum (unless otherwise directed by the resolution by which it is voted) to be divided amongst the Directors in such proportions and in such manner as the board may agree or, failing agreement, equally, except that any Director holding office for part only of the period in respect of which the remuneration is payable shall only rank in such division in proportion to the time during such period for which he held office. The Directors are also entitled to be prepaid or repaid all travelling, hotel and incidental expenses reasonably expected to be incurred or incurred by them in attending any board meetings, committee meetings or general meetings or separate meetings of any class of shares or of debentures of the Company or otherwise in connection with the discharge of their duties as Directors.

Any Director who, by request, goes or resides abroad for any purpose of the Company or who performs services which in the opinion of the board go beyond the ordinary duties of a Director may be paid such extra remuneration as the board may determine and such extra remuneration shall be in addition to or in substitution for any ordinary remuneration as a Director. An executive Director appointed to be a managing director, joint managing director, deputy managing director or other executive officer shall receive such remuneration and such other benefits and allowances as the board may from time to time decide. Such remuneration may be either in addition to or in lieu of his remuneration as a Director.

The board may establish or concur or join with other companies (being subsidiary companies of the Company or companies with which it is associated in business) in establishing and making contributions out of the Company's monies to any schemes or funds for providing pensions, sickness or compassionate allowances, life assurance or other benefits for employees (which expression as used in this and the following paragraph shall include any Director or ex Director who may hold or have held any executive office or any office of profit with the Company or any of its subsidiaries) and ex employees of the Company and their dependents or any class or classes of such persons.

The board may pay, enter into agreements to pay or make grants of revocable or irrevocable, and either subject or not subject to any terms or conditions, pensions or other benefits to employees and ex employees and their dependents, or to any of such persons, including pensions or benefits additional to those, if any, to which such employees or ex employees or their dependents are or may become entitled under any such scheme or fund as is mentioned in the previous paragraph. Any such pension or benefit may, as the board considers desirable, be granted to an employee either before and in anticipation of, or upon or at any time after, his actual retirement.

The board may resolve to capitalise all or any part of any amount for the time being standing to the credit of any reserve or fund (including a share premium account and the profit and loss account) whether or not the same is available for distribution by applying such sum in paying up unissued shares to be allotted to (i) employees (including directors) of the Company and/or its affiliates (meaning any individual, corporation, partnership, association, joint-stock company, trust, unincorporated association or other entity (other than the Company) that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with, the Company) upon exercise or vesting of any options or awards granted under any share incentive scheme or employee benefit scheme or other arrangement which relates to such persons that has been adopted or approved by the members in general meeting, or (ii) any trustee of any trust to whom shares are to be allotted and issued by the Company in connection with the operation of any share incentive scheme or employee benefit scheme or other arrangement which relates to such persons that has been adopted or approved by the members in general meeting.

(vi) Compensation or payments for loss of office

Pursuant to the Articles, payments to any Director or past Director of any sum by way of compensation for loss of office or as consideration for or in connection with his retirement from office (not being a payment to which the Director is contractually entitled) must be approved by the Company in general meeting.

(vii) Loans and provision of security for loans to Directors

The Company must not make any loan, directly or indirectly, to a Director or his close associate(s) if and to the extent it would be prohibited by the Companies Ordinance (Chapter 622 of the laws of Hong Kong) as if the Company were a company incorporated in Hong Kong.

(viii) Disclosure of interests in contracts with the Company or any of its subsidiaries

A Director may hold any other office or place of profit with the Company (except that of the auditor of the Company) in conjunction with his office of Director for such period and upon such terms as the board may determine, and may be paid such extra remuneration therefor in addition to any remuneration provided for by or pursuant to the Articles. A Director may be or become a director or other officer of, or otherwise interested in, any company promoted by the Company or any other company in which the Company may be interested, and shall not be liable to account to the Company or the members for any remuneration, profits or other benefits received by him as a director, officer or member of, or from his interest in, such other company. The board may also cause the voting power conferred by the shares in any other company held or owned by the Company to be exercised in such manner in all respects as it thinks fit, including the exercise thereof in favour of any resolution appointing the Directors or any of them to be directors or officers of such other company, or voting or providing for the payment of remuneration to the directors or officers of such other company.

No Director or proposed or intended Director shall be disqualified by his office from contracting with the Company, either with regard to his tenure of any office or place of profit or as vendor, purchaser or in any other manner whatsoever, nor shall any such contract or any other contract or arrangement in which any Director is in any way interested be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company or the members for any remuneration, profit or other benefits realised by any such contract or arrangement by reason of such Director holding that office or the fiduciary relationship thereby established. A Director who to his knowledge is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or arrangement or proposed contract or arrangement with the Company must declare the nature of his interest at the meeting of the board at which the question of entering into the contract or arrangement is first taken into consideration, if he knows his interest then exists, or in any other case, at the first meeting of the board after he knows that he is or has become so interested.

A Director shall not vote (nor be counted in the quorum) on any resolution of the board approving any contract or arrangement or other proposal in which he or any of his close associates is materially interested, but this prohibition does not apply to any of the following matters, namely:

- (aa) any contract or arrangement for giving to such Director or his close associate(s) any security or indemnity in respect of money lent by him or any of his close associates or obligations incurred or undertaken by him or any of his close associates at the request of or for the benefit of the Company or any of its subsidiaries;
- (bb) any contract or arrangement for the giving of any security or indemnity to a third party in respect of a debt or obligation of the Company or any of its subsidiaries for which the Director or his close associate(s) has himself/themselves assumed responsibility in whole or in part whether alone or jointly under a guarantee or indemnity or by the giving of security;
- (cc) any contract or arrangement concerning an offer of shares or debentures or other securities of or by the Company or any other company which the Company may promote or be interested in for subscription or purchase, where the Director or his close associate(s) is/are or is/are to be interested as a participant in the underwriting or sub underwriting of the offer;
- (dd) any contract or arrangement in which the Director or his close associate(s) is/are interested in the same manner as other holders of shares or debentures or other securities of the Company by virtue only of his/their interest in shares or debentures or other securities of the Company; or
- (ee) any proposal or arrangement concerning the adoption, modification or operation of a share option scheme, a pension fund or retirement, death, or disability benefits scheme or other arrangement which relates both to Directors, his close associates and employees of the Company or of any of its subsidiaries and does not provide in respect of any Director, or his close associate(s), as such any privilege or advantage not accorded generally to the class of persons to which such scheme or fund relates.

(c) Proceedings of the Board

The board may meet for the despatch of business, adjourn and otherwise regulate its meetings as it considers appropriate. Questions arising at any meeting shall be determined by a majority of votes. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman of the meeting shall have an additional or casting vote.

(d) Alterations to constitutional documents and the Company's name

The Articles may be rescinded, altered or amended by the Company in general meeting by special resolution. The Articles state that a special resolution shall be required to alter the provisions of the Memorandum, to amend the Articles or to change the name of the Company.

(e) Meetings of members*(i) Special and ordinary resolutions*

A special resolution of the Company must be passed by a majority of not less than three fourths of the votes cast by such members as, being entitled so to do, vote in person or, in the case of such members as are corporations, by their duly authorised representatives or, where proxies are allowed, by proxy at a general meeting of which notice has been duly given in accordance with the Articles.

Under the Companies Law, a copy of any special resolution must be forwarded to the Registrar of Companies in the Cayman Islands within fifteen (15) days of being passed.

An ordinary resolution is defined in the Articles to mean a resolution passed by a simple majority of the votes of such members of the Company as, being entitled to do so, vote in person or, in the case of corporations, by their duly authorised representatives or, where proxies are allowed, by proxy at a general meeting of which notice has been duly given in accordance with the Articles.

(ii) Voting rights and right to demand a poll

Subject to any special rights or restrictions as to voting for the time being attached to any shares, at any general meeting on a poll every member present in person or by proxy or, in the case of a member being a corporation, by its duly authorised representative shall have one vote for every fully paid share of which he is the holder but so that no amount paid up or credited as paid up on a share in advance of calls or installments is treated for the foregoing purposes as paid up on the share. A member entitled to more than one vote need not use all his votes or cast all the votes he uses in the same way.

At any general meeting a resolution put to the vote of the meeting is to be decided by way of a poll save that the chairman of the meeting may in good faith, allow a resolution which relates purely to a procedural or administrative matter to be voted on by a show of hands in which case every member present in person (or being a corporation, is present by a duly authorised representative), or by proxy(ies) shall have one vote provided that where more than one proxy is appointed by a member which is a clearing house (or its nominee(s)), each such proxy shall have one vote on a show of hands.

If a recognised clearing house (or its nominee(s)) is a member of the Company it may authorise such person or persons as it thinks fit to act as its representative(s) at any meeting of the Company or at any meeting of any class of members of the Company provided that, if more than one person is so authorised, the authorisation shall specify the number and class of shares in respect of which each such person is so authorised. A person authorised pursuant to this provision shall be deemed to have been duly authorised without further evidence of the facts and be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the recognised clearing house (or its nominee(s)) as if such person was the registered holder of the shares of the Company held by that clearing house (or its nominee(s)) including, where a show of hands is allowed, the right to vote individually on a show of hands.

Where the Company has any knowledge that any shareholder is, under the rules of the Stock Exchange, required to abstain from voting on any particular resolution of the Company or restricted to voting only for or only against any particular resolution of the Company, any votes cast by or on behalf of such shareholder in contravention of such requirement or restriction shall not be counted.

(iii) Annual general meetings

The Company must hold an annual general meeting of the Company every year within a period of not more than fifteen (15) months after the holding of the last preceding annual general meeting or a period of not more than eighteen (18) months from the date of adoption of the Articles, unless a longer period would not infringe the rules of the Stock Exchange.

(iv) Notices of meetings and business to be conducted

An annual general meeting must be called by notice of not less than twenty-one (21) clear days and not less than twenty (20) clear Business Days. All other general meetings must be called by notice of at least fourteen (14) clear days and not less than ten (10) clear Business Days. The notice is exclusive of the day on which it is served or deemed to be served and of the day for which it is given, and must specify the time and place of the meeting and particulars of resolutions to be considered at the meeting and, in the case of special business, the general nature of that business.

Extraordinary general meetings may be convened on the requisition of one or more shareholders holding, at the date of deposit of the requisition, not less than one-tenth of the paid up capital of the Company having the right of voting at general meetings. Such requisition shall be made in writing to the board or the secretary for the purpose of requiring an extraordinary general meeting to be called by the board for the transaction of any business specified in such requisition. Such meeting shall be held within 2 months after the deposit of such requisition. If within 21 days of such deposit, the board fails to proceed to convene such meeting, the requisitionist(s) himself/herself (themselves) may do so in the same manner, and all reasonable expenses incurred by the requisitionist(s) as a result of the failure of the board shall be reimbursed to the requisitionist(s) by the Company.

In addition, notice of every general meeting must be given to all members of the Company other than to such members as, under the provisions of the Articles or the terms of issue of the shares they hold, are not entitled to receive such notices from the Company, and also to, among others, the auditors for the time being of the Company.

Any notice to be given to or by any person pursuant to the Articles may be served on or delivered to any member of the Company personally, by post to such member's registered address or by advertisement in newspapers in accordance with the requirements of the Stock Exchange. Subject to compliance with Cayman Islands law and the rules of the Stock Exchange, notice may also be served or delivered by the Company to any member by electronic means.

All business that is transacted at an extraordinary general meeting and at an annual general meeting is deemed special, save that in the case of an annual general meeting, each of the following business is deemed an ordinary business:

- (aa) the declaration and sanctioning of dividends;
 - (bb) the consideration and adoption of the accounts and balance sheet and the reports of the directors and the auditors;
 - (cc) the election of directors in place of those retiring;
 - (dd) the appointment of auditors and other officers; and
 - (ee) the fixing of the remuneration of the directors and of the auditors.
- (v) Quorum for meetings and separate class meetings

No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present when the meeting proceeds to business, but the absence of a quorum shall not preclude the appointment of a chairman.

The quorum for a general meeting shall be two members present in person (or, in the case of a member being a corporation, by its duly authorised representative) or by proxy and entitled to vote. In respect of a separate class meeting (other than an adjourned meeting) convened to sanction the modification of class rights the necessary quorum shall be two persons holding or representing by proxy not less than one third in nominal value of the issued shares of that class.

(vi) Proxies

Any member of the Company entitled to attend and vote at a meeting of the Company is entitled to appoint another person as his proxy to attend and vote instead of him. A member who is the holder of two or more shares may appoint more than one proxy to represent him and vote on his behalf at a general meeting of the Company or at a class meeting. A proxy need not be a member of the Company and is entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of a member who is an individual and for whom he acts as proxy as such member could exercise. In addition, a proxy is entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of a member which is a corporation and for which he acts as proxy as such member could exercise as if it were an individual member. Votes may be given either personally (or, in the case of a member being a corporation, by its duly authorised representative) or by proxy.

(f) Accounts and audit

The board shall cause true accounts to be kept of the sums of money received and expended by the Company, and the matters in respect of which such receipt and expenditure take place, and of the property, assets, credits and liabilities of the Company and of all other matters required by the Companies Law or necessary to give a true and fair view of the Company's affairs and to explain its transactions.

The accounting records must be kept at the registered office or at such other place or places as the board decides and shall always be open to inspection by any Director. No member (other than a Director) shall have any right to inspect any accounting record or book or document of the Company except as conferred by law or authorised by the board or the Company in general meeting. However, an exempted company must make available at its registered office in electronic form or any other medium, copies of its books of account or parts thereof as may be required of it upon service of an order or notice by the Tax Information Authority pursuant to the Tax Information Authority Law of the Cayman Islands.

A copy of every balance sheet and profit and loss account (including every document required by law to be annexed thereto) which is to be laid before the Company at its general meeting, together with a printed copy of the Directors' report and a copy of the auditors' report, shall not less than twenty-one (21) days before the date of the meeting and at the same time as the notice of annual general meeting be sent to every person entitled to receive notices of general meetings of the Company under the provisions of the Articles; however, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, including the rules of the Stock Exchange, the Company may send to such persons summarised financial statements derived from the Company's annual accounts and the directors' report instead provided that any such person may by notice in writing served on the Company, demand that the Company sends to him, in addition to summarised financial statements, a complete printed copy of the Company's annual financial statement and the directors' report thereon.

At the annual general meeting or at a subsequent extraordinary general meeting in each year, the members shall appoint an auditor to audit the accounts of the Company and such auditor shall hold office until the next annual general meeting. Moreover, the members may, at any general meeting, by special resolution remove the auditor at any time before the expiration of his terms of office and shall by ordinary resolution at that meeting appoint another auditor for the remainder of his term. The remuneration of the auditors shall be fixed by the Company in general meeting or in such manner as the members may determine.

The financial statements of the Company shall be audited by the auditor in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards which may be those of a country or jurisdiction other than the Cayman Islands. The auditor shall make a written report thereon in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the report of the auditor must be submitted to the members in general meeting.

(g) Dividends and other methods of distribution

The Company in general meeting may declare dividends in any currency to be paid to the members but no dividend shall be declared in excess of the amount recommended by the board.

The Articles provide dividends may be declared and paid out of the profits of the Company, realised or unrealised, or from any reserve set aside from profits which the directors determine is no longer needed. With the sanction of an ordinary resolution dividends may also be declared and paid out of share premium account or any other fund or account which can be authorised for this purpose in accordance with the Companies Law.

Except in so far as the rights attaching to, or the terms of issue of, any share may otherwise provide, (i) all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid up on the shares in respect whereof the dividend is paid but no amount paid up on a share in advance of calls shall for this purpose be treated as paid up on the share and (ii) all dividends shall be apportioned and paid pro rata according to the amount paid up on the shares during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid. The Directors may deduct from any dividend or other monies payable to any member or in respect of any shares all sums of money (if any) presently payable by him to the Company on account of calls or otherwise.

Whenever the board or the Company in general meeting has resolved that a dividend be paid or declared on the share capital of the Company, the board may further resolve either (a) that such dividend be satisfied wholly or in part in the form of an allotment of shares credited as fully paid up, provided that the shareholders entitled thereto will be entitled to elect to receive such dividend (or part thereof) in cash in lieu of such allotment, or (b) that shareholders entitled to such dividend will be entitled to elect to receive an allotment of shares credited as fully paid up in lieu of the whole or such part of the dividend as the board may think fit.

The Company may also upon the recommendation of the board by an ordinary resolution resolve in respect of any one particular dividend of the Company that it may be satisfied wholly in the form of an allotment of shares credited as fully paid up without offering any right to shareholders to elect to receive such dividend in cash in lieu of such allotment.

Any dividend, interest or other sum payable in cash to the holder of shares may be paid by cheque or warrant sent through the post addressed to the holder at his registered address, or in the case of joint holders, addressed to the holder whose name stands first in the register of the Company in respect of the shares at his address as appearing in the register or addressed to such person and at such addresses as the holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every such cheque or warrant shall, unless the holder or joint holders otherwise direct, be made payable to the order of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the order of the holder whose name stands first on the register in respect of such shares, and shall be sent at his or their risk and payment of the cheque or warrant by the bank on which it is drawn shall constitute a good discharge to the Company. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends or other moneys payable or property distributable in respect of the shares held by such joint holders.

Whenever the board or the Company in general meeting has resolved that a dividend be paid or declared the board may further resolve that such dividend be satisfied wholly or in part by the distribution of specific assets of any kind.

All dividends or bonuses unclaimed for one year after having been declared may be invested or otherwise made use of by the board for the benefit of the Company until claimed and the Company shall not be constituted a trustee in respect thereof. All dividends or bonuses unclaimed for six years after having been declared may be forfeited by the board and shall revert to the Company.

No dividend or other monies payable by the Company on or in respect of any share shall bear interest against the Company.

(h) Inspection of corporate records

Pursuant to the Articles, the register and branch register of members shall be open to inspection for at least two (2) hours during business hours by members without charge, or by any other person upon a maximum payment of HK$2.50 or such lesser sum specified by the board, at the registered office or such other place at which the register is kept in accordance with the Companies Law or, upon a maximum payment of HK$1.00 or such lesser sum specified by the board, at the office where the branch register of members is kept, unless the register is closed in accordance with the Articles.

(i) Rights of minorities in relation to fraud or oppression

There are no provisions in the Articles relating to rights of minority shareholders in relation to fraud or oppression. However, certain remedies are available to shareholders of the Company under Cayman Islands law, as summarised in paragraph 3(f) of this Appendix.

(j) Procedures on liquidation

A resolution that the Company be wound up by the court or be wound up voluntarily shall be a special resolution.

Subject to any special rights, privileges or restrictions as to the distribution of available surplus assets on liquidation for the time being attached to any class or classes of shares:

- (i) if the Company is wound up and the assets available for distribution amongst the members of the Company shall be more than sufficient to repay the whole of the capital paid up at the commencement of the winding up, the excess shall be distributed pari passu amongst such members in proportion to the amount paid up on the shares held by them respectively; and
- (ii) if the Company is wound up and the assets available for distribution amongst the members as such shall be insufficient to repay the whole of the paid-up capital, such assets shall be distributed so that, as nearly as may be, the losses shall be borne by the members in proportion to the capital paid up, or which ought to have been paid up, at the commencement of the winding up on the shares held by them respectively.

If the Company is wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary or by the court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution and any other sanction required by the Companies Law divide among the members in specie or kind the whole or any part of the assets of the Company whether the assets shall consist of property of one kind or shall consist of properties of different kinds and the liquidator may, for such purpose, set such value as he deems fair upon any one or more class or classes of property to be divided as aforesaid and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the members or different classes of members. The liquidator may, with the like authority, vest any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit, but so that no contributory shall be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

(k) Subscription rights reserve

The Articles provide that to the extent that it is not prohibited by and is in compliance with the Companies Law, if warrants to subscribe for shares have been issued by the Company and the Company does any act or engages in any transaction which would result in the subscription price of such warrants being reduced below the par value of a share, a subscription rights reserve shall be established and applied in paying up the difference between the subscription price and the par value of a share on any exercise of the warrants.

3. CAYMAN ISLANDS COMPANY LAW

The Company is incorporated in the Cayman Islands subject to the Companies Law and, therefore, operates subject to Cayman Islands law. Set out below is a summary of certain provisions of Cayman company law, although this does not purport to contain all applicable qualifications and exceptions or to be a complete review of all matters of Cayman company law and taxation, which may differ from equivalent provisions in jurisdictions with which interested parties may be more familiar:

(a) Company operations

As an exempted company, the Company's operations must be conducted mainly outside the Cayman Islands. The Company is required to file an annual return each year with the Registrar of Companies of the Cayman Islands and pay a fee which is based on the amount of its authorised share capital.

(b) Share capital

The Companies Law provides that where a company issues shares at a premium, whether for cash or otherwise, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the value of the premiums on those shares shall be transferred to an account, to be called the "share premium account". At the option of a company, these provisions may not apply to premiums on shares of that company allotted pursuant to any arrangement in consideration of the acquisition or cancellation of shares in any other company and issued at a premium.

The Companies Law provides that the share premium account may be applied by the company subject to the provisions, if any, of its memorandum and articles of association in (a) paying distributions or dividends to members; (b) paying up unissued shares of the company to be issued to members as fully paid bonus shares; (c) the redemption and repurchase of shares (subject to the provisions of section 37 of the Companies Law); (d) writing-off the preliminary expenses of the company; and (e) writing-off the expenses of, or the commission paid or discount allowed on, any issue of shares or debentures of the company.

No distribution or dividend may be paid to members out of the share premium account unless immediately following the date on which the distribution or dividend is proposed to be paid, the company will be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

The Companies Law provides that, subject to confirmation by the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (the “Court”), a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles of association, by special resolution reduce its share capital in any way.

(c) Financial assistance to purchase shares of a company or its holding company

There is no statutory restriction in the Cayman Islands on the provision of financial assistance by a company to another person for the purchase of, or subscription for, its own or its holding company’s shares. Accordingly, a company may provide financial assistance if the directors of the company consider, in discharging their duties of care and acting in good faith, for a proper purpose and in the interests of the company, that such assistance can properly be given. Such assistance should be on an arm’s-length basis.

(d) Purchase of shares and warrants by a company and its subsidiaries

A company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles of association, issue shares which are to be redeemed or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the company or a shareholder and the Companies Law expressly provides that it shall be lawful for the rights attaching to any shares to be varied, subject to the provisions of the company’s articles of association, so as to provide that such shares are to be or are liable to be so redeemed. In addition, such a company may, if authorised to do so by its articles of association, purchase its own shares, including any redeemable shares. However, if the articles of association do not authorise the manner and terms of purchase, a company cannot purchase any of its own shares unless the manner and terms of purchase have first been authorised by an ordinary resolution of the company. At no time may a company redeem or purchase its shares unless they are fully paid. A company may not redeem or purchase any of its shares if, as a result of the redemption or purchase, there would no longer be any issued shares of the company other than shares held as treasury shares. A payment out of capital by a company for the redemption or purchase of its own shares is not lawful unless immediately following the date on which the payment is proposed to be made, the company shall be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

Shares purchased by a company is to be treated as cancelled unless, subject to the memorandum and articles of association of the company, the directors of the company resolve to hold such shares in the name of the company as treasury shares prior to the purchase. Where shares of a company are held as treasury shares, the company shall be entered in the register of members as holding those shares, however, notwithstanding the foregoing, the company is not be treated as a member for any purpose and must not exercise any right in respect of the treasury shares, and any purported exercise of such a right shall be void, and a treasury share must not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting of the company and must not be counted in determining the total number of issued shares at any given time, whether for the purposes of the company's articles of association or the Companies Law.

A company is not prohibited from purchasing and may purchase its own warrants subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the relevant warrant instrument or certificate. There is no requirement under Cayman Islands law that a company's memorandum or articles of association contain a specific provision enabling such purchases and the directors of a company may rely upon the general power contained in its memorandum of association to buy and sell and deal in personal property of all kinds.

Under Cayman Islands law, a subsidiary may hold shares in its holding company and, in certain circumstances, may acquire such shares.

(e) Dividends and distributions

The Companies Law permits, subject to a solvency test and the provisions, if any, of the company's memorandum and articles of association, the payment of dividends and distributions out of the share premium account. With the exception of the foregoing, there are no statutory provisions relating to the payment of dividends. Based upon English case law, which is regarded as persuasive in the Cayman Islands, dividends may be paid only out of profits.

No dividend may be declared or paid, and no other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) of the company's assets (including any distribution of assets to members on a winding up) may be made to the company, in respect of a treasury share.

(f) Protection of minorities and shareholders' suits

The Courts ordinarily would be expected to follow English case law precedents which permit a minority shareholder to commence a representative action against or derivative actions in the name of the company to challenge (a) an act which is ultra vires the company or illegal, (b) an act which constitutes a fraud against the minority and the wrongdoers are themselves in control of the company, and (c) an irregularity in the passing of a resolution which requires a qualified (or special) majority.

In the case of a company (not being a bank) having a share capital divided into shares, the Court may, on the application of members holding not less than one fifth of the shares of the company in issue, appoint an inspector to examine into the affairs of the company and to report thereon in such manner as the Court shall direct.

Any shareholder of a company may petition the Court which may make a winding up order if the Court is of the opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up or, as an alternative to a winding up order, (a) an order regulating the conduct of the company's affairs in the future, (b) an order requiring the company to refrain from doing or continuing an act complained of by the shareholder petitioner or to do an act which the shareholder petitioner has complained it has omitted to do, (c) an order authorising civil proceedings to be brought in the name and on behalf of the company by the shareholder petitioner on such terms as the Court may direct, or (d) an order providing for the purchase of the shares of any shareholders of the company by other shareholders or by the company itself and, in the case of a purchase by the company itself, a reduction of the company's capital accordingly.

Generally claims against a company by its shareholders must be based on the general laws of contract or tort applicable in the Cayman Islands or their individual rights as shareholders as established by the company's memorandum and articles of association.

(g) Disposal of assets

The Companies Law contains no specific restrictions on the power of directors to dispose of assets of a company. However, as a matter of general law, every officer of a company, which includes a director, managing director and secretary, in exercising his powers and discharging his duties must do so honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the company and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances.

(h) Accounting and auditing requirements

A company must cause proper books of account to be kept with respect to (i) all sums of money received and expended by the company and the matters in respect of which the receipt and expenditure takes place; (ii) all sales and purchases of goods by the company; and (iii) the assets and liabilities of the company.

Proper books of account shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs and to explain its transactions.

An exempted company must make available at its registered office in electronic form or any other medium, copies of its books of account or parts thereof as may be required of it upon service of an order or notice by the Tax Information Authority pursuant to the Tax Information Authority Law of the Cayman Islands.

(i) Exchange control

There are no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions in the Cayman Islands.

(j) Taxation

Pursuant to the Tax Concessions Law of the Cayman Islands, the Company has obtained an undertaking:

- (1) that no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciation shall apply to the Company or its operations; and
- (2) that the aforesaid tax or any tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall not be payable on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Company.

The undertaking for the Company is for a period of twenty years from 28 June 2016.

The Cayman Islands currently levy no taxes on individuals or corporations based upon profits, income, gains or appreciations and there is no taxation in the nature of inheritance tax or estate duty. There are no other taxes likely to be material to the Company levied by the Government of the Cayman Islands save for certain stamp duties which may be applicable, from time to time, on certain instruments executed in or brought within the jurisdiction of the Cayman Islands. The Cayman Islands are a party to a double tax treaty entered into with the United Kingdom in 2010 but otherwise is not party to any double tax treaties.

(k) Stamp duty on transfers

No stamp duty is payable in the Cayman Islands on transfers of shares of Cayman Islands companies except those which hold interests in land in the Cayman Islands.

(l) Loans to directors

There is no express provision in the Companies Law prohibiting the making of loans by a company to any of its directors.

(m) Inspection of corporate records

The notice of registered office is a matter of public record. A list of the names of the current directors and alternate directors (if applicable) is made available by the Registrar of Companies for inspection by any person on payment of a fee. The register of members is open to inspection by creditors and members.

Members of the Company have no general right under the Companies Law to inspect or obtain copies of the register of members or corporate records of the Company. They will, however, have such rights as may be set out in the Company's Articles.

(n) Register of members

An exempted company may maintain its principal register of members and any branch registers at such locations, whether within or without the Cayman Islands, as the directors may, from time to time, think fit. The register of members shall contain such particulars as required by Section 40 of the Companies Law. A branch register must be kept in the same manner in which a principal register is by the Companies Law required or permitted to be kept. The company shall cause to be kept at the place where the company's principal register is kept a duplicate of any branch register duly entered up from time to time.

There is no requirement under the Companies Law for an exempted company to make any returns of members to the Registrar of Companies of the Cayman Islands. The names and addresses of the members are, accordingly, not a matter of public record and are not available for public inspection. However, an exempted company shall make available at its registered office, in electronic form or any other medium, such register of members, including any branch register of members, as may be required of it upon service of an order or notice by the Tax Information Authority pursuant to the Tax Information Authority Law of the Cayman Islands.

(o) Register of Directors and Officers

The Company is required to maintain at its registered office a register of directors and officers which is not available for inspection by the public. A copy of such register must be filed with the Registrar of Companies in the Cayman Islands and any change must be notified to the Registrar within thirty (30) days of any change in such directors or officers.

(p) Register of Beneficial Ownership

An exempted company is required to maintain a beneficial ownership register at its registered office that records details of the persons who ultimately own or control, directly or indirectly, more than 25% of the equity interests or voting rights of the company or have rights to appoint or remove a majority of the directors of the company. The register of beneficial ownership is not a public document and is only accessible by a designated competent authority of the Cayman Islands. Such requirement does not, however, apply to an exempted company with its shares listed on an approved stock exchange, which includes the Stock Exchange. Accordingly, for so long as the Company is listed on the Stock Exchange, it is not required to maintain a register of beneficial ownership.

(q) Winding up

A company may be wound up (a) compulsorily by order of the Court, (b) voluntarily, or (c) under the supervision of the Court.

The Court has authority to order winding up in a number of specified circumstances including where the members of the company have passed a special resolution requiring the company to be wound up by the Court, or where the company is unable to pay its debts, or where it is, in the opinion of the Court, just and equitable to do so. Where a petition is presented by members of the company as contributories on the ground that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up, the Court has the jurisdiction to make certain other orders as an alternative to a winding-up order, such as making an order regulating the conduct of the company's affairs in the future, making an order authorising civil proceedings to be brought in the name and on behalf of the company by the petitioner on such terms as the Court may direct, or making an order providing for the purchase of the shares of any of the members of the company by other members or by the company itself.

A company (save with respect to a limited duration company) may be wound up voluntarily when the company so resolves by special resolution or when the company in general meeting resolves by ordinary resolution that it be wound up voluntarily because it is unable to pay its debts as they fall due. In the case of a voluntary winding up, such company is obliged to cease to carry on its business (except so far as it may be beneficial for its winding up) from the time of passing the resolution for voluntary winding up or upon the expiry of the period or the occurrence of the event referred to above.

For the purpose of conducting the proceedings in winding up a company and assisting the Court therein, there may be appointed an official liquidator or official liquidators; and the court may appoint to such office such person, either provisionally or otherwise, as it thinks fit, and if more persons than one are appointed to such office, the Court must declare whether any act required or authorised to be done by the official liquidator is to be done by all or any one or more of such persons. The Court may also determine whether any and what security is to be given by an official liquidator on his appointment; if no official liquidator is appointed, or during any vacancy in such office, all the property of the company shall be in the custody of the Court.

As soon as the affairs of the company are fully wound up, the liquidator must make a report and an account of the winding up, showing how the winding up has been conducted and how the property of the company has been disposed of, and thereupon call a general meeting of the company for the purposes of laying before it the account and giving an explanation thereof. This final general meeting must be called by at least 21 days' notice to each contributory in any manner authorised by the company's articles of association and published in the Gazette.

(r) Reconstructions

There are statutory provisions which facilitate reconstructions and amalgamations approved by a majority in number representing seventy-five per cent. (75%) in value of shareholders or class of shareholders or creditors, as the case may be, as are present at a meeting called for such purpose and thereafter sanctioned by the Court. Whilst a dissenting shareholder would have the right to express to the Court his view that the transaction for which approval is sought would not provide the shareholders with a fair value for their shares, the Court is unlikely to disapprove the transaction on that ground alone in the absence of evidence of fraud or bad faith on behalf of management.

(s) Take-overs

Where an offer is made by a company for the shares of another company and, within four (4) months of the offer, the holders of not less than ninety per cent. (90%) of the shares which are the subject of the offer accept, the offeror may at any time within two (2) months after the expiration of the said four (4) months, by notice in the prescribed manner require the dissenting shareholders to transfer their shares on the terms of the offer. A dissenting shareholder may apply to the Court within one (1) month of the notice objecting to the transfer. The burden is on the dissenting shareholder to show that the Court should exercise its discretion, which it will be unlikely to do unless there is evidence of fraud or bad faith or collusion as between the offeror and the holders of the shares who have accepted the offer as a means of unfairly forcing out minority shareholders.

(t) Indemnification

Cayman Islands law does not limit the extent to which a company's articles of association may provide for indemnification of officers and directors, except to the extent any such provision may be held by the Court to be contrary to public policy (e.g. for purporting to provide indemnification against the consequences of committing a crime).

(u) Economic Substance Requirements

Pursuant to the International Tax Cooperation (Economic Substance) Law, 2018 of the Cayman Islands ("ES Law") that came into force on 1 January 2019, a "relevant entity" is required to satisfy the economic substance test set out in the ES Law. A "relevant entity" includes an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands as is the Company; however, it does not include an entity that is tax resident outside the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, for so long as the Company is a tax resident outside the Cayman Islands, including in Hong Kong, it is not required to satisfy the economic substance test set out in the ES Law.

4. GENERAL

Conyers Dill & Pearman, the Company's special legal counsel on Cayman Islands law, have sent to the Company a letter of advice summarising certain aspects of Cayman Islands company law. This letter, together with a copy of the Companies Law, is available for inspection as referred to in the paragraph headed "Documents available for inspection" in Appendix V to this prospectus. Any person wishing to have a detailed summary of Cayman Islands company law or advice on the differences between it and the laws of any jurisdiction with which he is more familiar is recommended to seek independent legal advice.

Further information about our Company and our subsidiaries – 3. Written resolutions of our sole Shareholder dated 22 January 2020” in this Appendix, our Directors do not have any present intention to issue any part of the authorised but unissued share capital of our Company and, without the prior approval of our Shareholders at the general meeting, no issue of Shares will be made which would effectively alter the control of our Company.

7. Repurchase by our Company of its own securities

This section includes information relating to the repurchase by our Company of its Shares or securities, including information required by the Stock Exchange to be included in this prospectus concerning such repurchase.

(a) Relevant legal and regulatory requirements

(i) Shareholders' approval

All proposed repurchase of Shares (which must be fully paid up) by our Company must be approved in advance by an ordinary resolution of our Shareholders in a general meeting, either by way of general mandate or by specific approval of a particular transaction.

Note: Pursuant to the written resolutions passed by our sole Shareholder on 22 January 2020, a general unconditional mandate (the “Repurchase Mandate”) was granted to our Directors authorising them to exercise all powers of our Company to repurchase Shares on the Stock Exchange or on which the securities of our Company may be listed and which is recognised by the SFC and the Stock Exchange for this purpose, such number of Shares not exceeding 10% of the aggregate number of Shares in issue immediately following the completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue until the conclusion of the next annual general meeting of our Company but excluding any Shares to be issued upon the exercise of the Over-allotment Option or the exercise of any options that may be granted under the Share Option Scheme. The Repurchase Mandate shall remain in effect until whichever is the earliest of: (i) the conclusion of the next annual general meeting of our Company; (ii) the expiration of the period within which the next annual general meeting of our Company is required to be held by the Articles or other applicable laws of the Cayman Islands; or (iii) the time when the Repurchase Mandate is revoked or varied by the ordinary resolution by the Shareholders in general meeting.

(ii) Source of funds

Any repurchase of securities must be funded out of funds legally available for the purpose in accordance with the Memorandum and Articles, the Listing Rules and the applicable laws of the Cayman Islands. A listed company may not repurchase its own securities on the Stock Exchange for a consideration other than cash or for settlement otherwise than in accordance with the Listing Rules. Under the Companies Law, our Company may make repurchases out of our profit or share premium or out of the proceeds of a fresh issue of the Shares for the purpose of the repurchase. Any amount of premium payable on the purchase over the par value of the Shares to be repurchased must be out of profits of our Company or out of the share premium account of our Company. Subject to satisfaction of the solvency test prescribed by the Companies Law, a repurchase may also be made out of capital.

(iii) Trading restrictions

Our Company may repurchase up to 10% of the aggregate number of Shares in issue immediately following the completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (without taking into account any Shares which may be allotted and issued by our Company pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option or the exercise of any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme). Our Company may not issue or announce a proposed issue of Shares for a period of 30 days immediately following a repurchase of Shares without the prior approval of the Stock Exchange. Our Company is also prohibited from repurchasing Shares on the Stock Exchange if the repurchase would result in the number of listed Shares which are in the hands of the public falling below the minimum percentage required by the Stock Exchange. The broker appointed by our Company to effect a repurchase of Shares is required to disclose to the Stock Exchange any information with respect to a Share repurchase as the Stock Exchange may require.

In addition, our Company is prohibited from repurchasing its shares on the Stock Exchange if the purchase price is higher by 5% or more than the average closing market price for the five preceding trading days on which its shares were traded on the Stock Exchange.

(iv) Status of Shares repurchased

All Shares repurchased (whether on the Stock Exchange or otherwise and their listing) will be cancelled and the certificates for those Shares must be cancelled and destroyed. Under the Cayman Islands law, a company's shares repurchased may be treated as cancelled and the amount of the company's issued share capital shall be reduced by the aggregate par value of the shares repurchased accordingly although the authorised share capital of the company will not be reduced.

(v) Suspension of repurchase

Any repurchase of Shares is prohibited after inside information has come to our Company's knowledge, or development which may constitute inside information has occurred or has been the subject of a decision, until such time as the inside information has been made publicly available. In particular, during the period of one month immediately preceding the earlier of (i) the date of our Board meeting (as such date is first notified to the Stock Exchange in accordance with the Listing Rules) for the approval of the results of our Company for any year, half-year or quarter-year period or any other interim period (whether or not required under the Listing Rules); and (ii) the deadline for our Company to announce its results for any year, half-year or quarter-year period under the Listing Rules or any other interim period (whether or not required under the Listing Rules) and in each case ending on the date of the results announcement, our Company may not repurchase its securities on the Stock Exchange unless the circumstances are exceptional. In addition, the Stock Exchange reserves the right to prohibit repurchase of Shares on the Stock Exchange if our Company has breached the Listing Rules.

(vi) Reporting requirements

Certain information relating to repurchase of securities on the Stock Exchange or otherwise must be reported to the Stock Exchange no later than 30 minutes before the earlier of the commencement of the morning trading session or any pre-opening session on the Business Day following any day on which our Company makes a purchase of Shares. In addition, our Company's annual report is required to disclose details regarding repurchase of Shares made during the financial year, including the number of Shares repurchased each month (whether on the Stock Exchange or otherwise) and the purchase price per Share or the highest and lowest prices paid for all such repurchases, where relevant, and the aggregate prices paid. The directors' report is also required to contain reference to the repurchases made during the year and the directors' reasons for making such repurchases.

(vii) Core connected persons

According to the Listing Rules, our Company is prohibited from knowingly repurchasing securities on the Stock Exchange from a "core connected person", that is, a director, chief executive or substantial shareholder of such company or any of its subsidiaries or any of their close associates and a core connected person shall not knowingly sell his/her/its securities to our Company on the Stock Exchange.

(b) Reasons for repurchases

Our Directors believe that it is in the best interests of our Company and our Shareholders for our Directors to have a general authority from our Shareholders to enable our Company to repurchase Shares in the market. Such repurchases may, depending on market conditions and funding arrangements at the time, lead to an enhancement of the net asset value of our Company and/or earnings per Share and will only be made when our Directors believe that such repurchase will benefit our Company and our Shareholders as a whole.

(c) Funding of repurchase

In repurchasing Shares, our Company may only apply funds legally available for such purpose in accordance with the Memorandum and Articles, the Listing Rules and the applicable laws and regulations of the Cayman Islands.

On the basis of the current financial position of our Group as disclosed in this prospectus and taking into account the current working capital position of our Group, our Directors consider that, if the Repurchase Mandate were to be exercised in full, it might have a material adverse effect on the working capital and/or the gearing position of our Group as compared with the position disclosed in this prospectus. Our Directors do not propose to exercise the Repurchase Mandate to such an extent as would, in the circumstances, have a material adverse effect on the working capital requirements of our Group or the gearing levels which in the opinion of our Directors are from time to time appropriate for our Group.

(d) General

The exercise in full of the Repurchase Mandate, on the basis of 1,000,000,000 Shares in issue immediately after completion of the Share Offer and the Capitalisation Issue (without taking into account any Shares which may be allotted and issued by our Company pursuant to the exercise of the Over-allotment Option and any options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme), would result in up to 100,000,000 Shares being repurchased by our Company during the period in which the Repurchase Mandate remains in force, that is until the earliest of:

- (a) the conclusion of our Company's next annual general meeting;
- (b) the expiration of the period within which our Company's next annual general meeting is required to be held by any applicable laws of the Cayman Islands or the Articles; or
- (c) it is varied or revoked by an ordinary resolution of our Shareholders in general meeting.

None of our Directors nor, to the best of their knowledge, information and belief having made all reasonable enquiries, any of their associates currently intends to sell any Shares to our Company or our subsidiaries.

Our Directors have undertaken to the Stock Exchange that, so far as the same may be applicable, they will exercise the Repurchase Mandate in accordance with the Listing Rules and the applicable laws and regulations from time to time in force in the Cayman Islands.

If, as a result of a repurchase of Shares, a Shareholder's proportionate interest in the voting rights of our Company increases, such increase will be treated as an acquisition for the purpose of the Takeovers Code. Accordingly, a Shareholder or a group of Shareholders acting in concert could obtain or consolidate control of our Company and become obliged to make a mandatory offer in accordance with rule 26 of the Takeovers Code. Save as aforesaid, our Directors are not presently aware of any consequences which would arise under the Takeovers Code as a consequence of any repurchase pursuant to the Repurchase Mandate immediately after the Listing.

Our Directors will not exercise the Repurchase Mandate if the repurchase would result in the number of Shares which are in the hands of the public falling below 25% of the total number of Shares in issue (or such other percentage as may be prescribed as the minimum public shareholding under the Listing Rules).

No core connected person (as defined in the Listing Rules) has notified our Company that he/she/it has a present intention to sell Shares to our Company, or has undertaken not to do so if the Repurchase Mandate is exercised.

The Shares to be issued and allotted upon the exercise of an option shall be subject to the Memorandum and the Articles of Association for the time being in force and shall rank pari passu in all respects with the fully-paid Shares in issue of our Company as at the date of allotment and issue ("Exercise Date"), and will entitle the holders to participate in all dividends or other distributions paid or made on or after the Exercise Date other than any dividend or other distribution previously declared or recommended or resolved to be paid or made if the record date therefor shall be before the Exercise Date.

For the avoidance of doubt, such period of extension (if any) shall be granted within and in any event ended before the expiration of the period of one month following the date of his/her cessation to be an employee of our Group.

(xiii) Rights on death

Where the grantee of an outstanding option dies before exercising the option in full or at all, and none of the events specified in (xxi)(e) which would be a ground for termination of his/her employment or engagement arises, the option may be exercised in full or in part (to the extent not already exercised) by his/her personal representative(s) within 12 months following the date of his/her death or such longer period as our Board may at its absolute discretion determine from the date of death to exercise the option up to the entitlement of such grantee as at the date of death (to the extent which has become exercisable and not already exercised).

(xiv) Rights on a general offer

In the event of a general or partial offer (whether by way of take-over offer, share buy-back offer or scheme of arrangement or otherwise in like manner) being made to all the holders of Shares, or all such holders other than the offeror and/or any person controlled by the offeror and/or any person acting in association or concert with the offeror, and if such offer becomes or is declared unconditional, a grantee shall be entitled to exercise his/her/its option (to the extent not already exercised) to its full extent or to the extent specified in the grantee’s notice to our Company in exercise of his/her/its option within one month after the date on which the offer becomes or is declared unconditional.

(xv) Rights on winding-up

In the event that a notice is given by our Company to our Shareholders to convene a general meeting for the purposes of considering and, if thought fit, approving a resolution to voluntarily wind-up our Company, our Company shall, on the same date as or soon after it despatches such notice to each Shareholder, give notice thereof to all grantees (together with a notice of existence of this provision) and thereupon, each grantee (or his/her personal representative(s)) shall, subject to the provisions of all applicable laws, be entitled to exercise all or any of his/her/its options (to the extent which has become exercisable and not already exercised) at any time not later than two Business Days prior to the proposed general meeting of our Company, by giving notice in writing to our Company, accompanied by a remittance for the full amount of the aggregate exercise price for the Shares in respect of which the notice is given, whereupon our Company shall as soon as possible and, in any event, no later than the Business Day immediately prior to the date of the proposed general meeting referred to above, allot and issue the relevant Shares to the grantee credited as fully paid, which Shares shall rank pari passu with all other Shares in issue on the date prior to the passing of the resolution to wind-up our Company to participate in the distribution of assets of the company available in liquidation.

(xvi) Rights on scheme of arrangement

In the event of a general or partial offer by way of scheme of arrangement is made to all the holders of Shares and has been approved by the necessary number of holders of Shares at the requisite meetings, the grantee (or his/her personal representative(s)) may thereafter (but only until such time as shall be notified by our Company, after which it shall lapse) exercise the option (to the extent which has become exercisable and not already exercised) to its full extent or to the extent specified in the grantee's notice to our Company at any time thereafter and the record date for entitlements under the scheme of arrangement.

(xvii) Rights on compromise or arrangement between our Company and our creditors

In the event of a compromise or arrangement between our Company and our creditors (or any class of them) or between our Company and our Shareholders (or any class of them) in connection with a scheme for the reconstruction or amalgamation of our Company, our Company shall give notice thereof to all grantees on the same day as it gives notice of the meeting to our Shareholders or creditors to consider such a compromise or arrangement, and thereupon any grantee (or his/her personal representative(s)) may by notice in writing to our Company accompanied by the remittance of the subscription price in respect of the relevant option (such notice to be received by our Company not later than two Business Days before the proposed meeting) exercise any of his/her/its options (to the extent which has become exercisable and not already exercised) whether in full or in part, but the exercise of an option as aforesaid shall be conditional upon such compromise or arrangement being sanctioned by the court of competent jurisdiction and becoming effective. Our Company shall as soon as possible and in any event no later than the Business Day immediately prior to the date of the proposed meeting referred to above, allot and issue such number of Shares to the grantee which may fall to be issued on such exercise credited as fully paid and register the grantee as holder of such Shares. Upon such compromise or arrangement becoming effective, all options shall lapse except insofar as previously exercised under the Share Option Scheme. Our Company may require the grantee (or his/her personal representative(s)) to transfer or otherwise deal with the Shares issued as a result of the exercise of options in these circumstances so as to place the grantee in the same position as nearly as would have been the case had such Shares been subject to such compromise or arrangement.

(xviii) Reorganisation of capital structure

In the event of any alteration in the capital structure of our Company whilst any option has been granted and remains exercisable, whether by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, rights issue, consolidation, subdivision or reduction of the share capital of our Company (other than an issue of shares as consideration in respect of a transaction), the company shall (if applicable) make corresponding alterations (if any), in accordance with the Listing Rules and any applicable guidance/interpretation of the Listing Rules issued by the Stock Exchange from time to time (including but not limited to the supplementary guidance issued on 5 September 2005), to:

- (1) the number and/or nominal amount of Shares subject to the options already granted so far as they remain exercisable; and/or
- (2) the subscription price; and/or
- (3) the maximum number of Shares referred to in sub-paragraphs (iii) and (iv) above provided that:
 - (aa) no such alteration shall be made in respect of an issue of Shares or other securities by our Company as consideration in a transaction;
 - (bb) any such alterations must be made so that each grantee is given the same proportion of the equity capital of our Company as that to which he/she/it was previously entitled;
 - (cc) no such alterations shall be made which would result in the subscription price for a Share being less than its nominal value; and
 - (dd) any such alterations, save those made on a capitalisation issue, shall be confirmed by an independent financial adviser or the auditors in writing to the Directors, to be in their opinion fair and reasonable, as satisfying the requirements of provisions referred to in sub-paragraphs (bb) and (cc) above.

(xix) Cancellation of options

Our Board may, with the consent of the relevant grantee, at any time at its absolute discretion cancel any option granted but not exercised. Where our Company cancels options and offers new options to the same option holder, the offer of such new options may only be made under the Share Option Scheme with available options (to the extent not yet granted and excluding the cancelled options) within the Scheme Mandate Limit approved by the shareholders.

(xx) Termination of the Share Option Scheme

Our Company, by resolution in general meeting, or our Board may at any time terminate the operation of the Share Option Scheme and in such event no further option will be offered but in all other respects the provisions of the Share Option Scheme shall remain in full force and effect. Options granted prior to such termination and not then exercised shall continue to be valid and exercisable in accordance with the Share Option Scheme and the Listing Rules.

(xxi) Rights are personal to grantee

An option shall be personal to the grantee and shall not be assignable nor transferable, and no grantee shall in any way sell, transfer, charge, mortgage, encumber or create any interest (whether legal or beneficial) in favour of any third party over or in relation to any option or enter into any agreement to do so. Any breach of the foregoing by the grantee shall entitle our Company to cancel any option or part thereof granted to such grantee (to the extent not already exercised) without incurring any liability on the part of our Company.

(xxii) Lapse of option

An option shall lapse automatically and not be exercisable (to the extent not already exercised) on the earliest of:

- (a) the expiry of the Option Period (subject to the provision referred to in sub-paragraph (xx));
- (b) the expiry of the periods referred to in sub-paragraphs (xii), (xiii) or (xvii), where applicable;
- (c) subject to the court of competent jurisdiction not making an order prohibiting the offeror from acquiring the remaining Shares in the offer, the expiry of the period referred to in sub-paragraph (xiv);
- (d) subject to the scheme of arrangement becoming effective, the expiry of the period referred to in sub-paragraph (xvi);

2. Present status of the Share Option Scheme

(i) Approval and adoption of the rules of the Share Option Scheme

The rules of the Share Option Scheme were approved and adopted by our Company on 22 January 2020.

(ii) Approval of the Stock Exchange required

The Share Option Scheme is conditional, among other matters, on the Stock Exchange granting the listing of, and permission to deal in, such number of Shares to be issued pursuant to the exercise of the options under the Share Option Scheme up to the 10% of the Shares in issue as at the Listing Date.

(iii) Application for listing

Application has been made to the Stock Exchange for the listing of, and permission to deal in, the Shares to be issued pursuant to the exercise of options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme. The total number of Shares in respect of which options may be granted under the Share Option Scheme and any other share option schemes of our Company shall not exceed 100,000,000 Shares, being 10% of the total number of Shares in issue as at the Listing Date, unless our Company obtains the approval of our Shareholders in general meeting for renewing the said 10% limit under the Share Option Scheme provided that options lapsed in accordance with the terms of the Share Option Scheme or any other share option schemes of our Company will not be counted for the purpose of calculating the 10% limit mentioned above.

(iv) Grant of option

As at the Latest Practicable Date, no options have been granted or agreed to be granted under the Share Option Scheme.

(v) Value of options

Our Directors consider it inappropriate to disclose the value of options which may be granted under the Share Option Scheme as if they had been granted as at the Latest Practicable Date. Any such valuation will have to be made on the basis of certain option pricing model or other methodology, which depends on various assumptions including the exercise price, the exercise period, interest rate, expected volatility and other variables. As no options have been granted, certain variables are not available for calculating the value of options. Our Directors believe that any calculation of the value of options as at the Latest Practicable Date based on a number of speculative assumptions would not be meaningful and would be misleading to investors.
